Before the law was written down with parchment or with pen; Before the law made citizens, the moral law made men.
Law stands for human rights, but when it fails those rights to give, Then let law die, my brother, but let human beings live. —Rev. Miller Hazeman.

STOCKWELL'S BAD BOY
Boy Completely Knocks the Intrinsic Idea Out.
Pa, what is money?
Why gold is money, my son.
Ma's ring is gold, is it money?
No; gold has to be sent to the mint and be coined first, and then it is money.
What is a mint?
It's a great big building where they take gold and melt it into bars, and then they stamp it.

What do they stamp it for?
Oh, I mean they have a machine that prints five dollars, ten dollars or twenty dollars.
Is it money before they print it?
What makes you ask such foolish questions? Don't bother me.
But pa, I want to know. Everybody is talking about money, and I want to find out.
Well, let me see; I never thought about it before. No, I guess it isn't money before they print on it.
Then does the printing make the money? You said that gold wasn't money; and printing wasn't money; then what is money? If the money isn't in the gold nor in the printing, where is it?
I'll be hanged if I know. I'll have to look this up.
But there is such a thing as money, is there not?
Why, of course there is. There, now, what have you got your hand in my pocket for?
I want to see what you've got in your pocket book. Say, what's this?
That's a greenback.
Is that money?
Yes.
Then a piece of paper with something printed on it is money.
Y-e-s, I s-u-p-p-o-s-e s-o.
Well, is it the paper or the printing that makes it money?
It is the printing.
But awhile ago you said that just printing can't be money.
Neither can it be.
But if the money is not in the paper nor in the printing, where is it?
Now do stop; you'll drive me crazy.

What does intrinsic mean? I see the New York papers say the intrinsic value of the metals in a dollar must be a dollar.
Why, ah, intrinsic means actual value, it means that the material in a dollar must be worth a dollar before it is made a dollar.
You mean, pa, that it must be worth a dollar before it is made into a dollar, as it is after?
Yes, that's it.
Is that what they call an honest dollar?
Yes, my son, and that's the kind of money I believe in.
Don't you believe in any other kind, pa?
No, sir, I don't.
How big would the "honest money plan" make a silver dollar, now, pa?
Why, at present prices of silver it would be about three and one-fourth inches in diameter. I tell you my son, no cart-wheel dollars for me.
You believe in greenbacks, don't you, pa?
Oh, yes, of course I do.
How much was that paper in that greenback of yours worth before it was printed into a five dollar bill?
Why, ah—say, I'm busy.
Pa, I'm seeking information.
Oh, well, about a cent, I suppose; now run away, I'm very busy.
[Boy goes out.]
That's a close call for me. How the deuce is this; a five dollar bill, the best in the world, made of a cent's worth of paper, and my papers all urging me to howl for an honest dollar. My God, here he comes again—Say pa, how big would that greenback of yours be on your intrinsic plan?

Oh, run off, now; that's a good boy.
I don't want to be a good boy, I'd rather be a smart one. Say, pa, it would be five hundred times as big as it is, a regular blanket sheet, as it were.
Well, run off now, I've got the headache.
Pa, there is only seven cents worth of copper in a hundred cents, and only 14 cents worth of material in 20 nickels. If this honest money plan that the money-lenders are trying to fasten upon the country prevails, pennies ought to be seven inches in diameter and nickels about three and one-half inches. As it is they are dishonest. Any government that makes dishonest things is dishonest, and a dishonest government ought to be overthrown.
My son, that's anarchy; and—No, pa, that's logic. Either you must drop that idiotic, absurd intrinsic value idea, or else a hundred dollar greenback should be as big as a barnlot.
Why, how ridiculous—Ridiculous, pa; it's a—ned foolishness. Why, if these fools destroy silver, where will you get gold to pay that $100 you owe? There isn't $20 in this township.
Why, I don't know; I hadn't thought much about it. I—Isn't it a fact, pa, that you have let these bought-and-paid-for newspapers do your thinking for you?
If you have got a think-shop why not use it a little? If you swallow the reason they give you for the low prices of wheat, wool and cotton you ought to have a guardian and—[Grabs for boy.]
I'll intrinsic you—
[Boy slips out.]
(Old man soliloquizes) "Think-shop, 50-cent wheat, intrinsic value, 15-cent wool, honest dollar, $1000 mortgage, 7-cent cotton, three-and-one-quarter inch dollars, Jews, sheriff sale, John Sherman—hell and damnation! I give it up."
[Enters boy.]
Pa, I know what money is.
How did you find out?
Bill Smith told me. He found it in a big law book. He says the United States supreme court decided what money was a long time ago.
Well, what was it?
Bill says that the court said, "Money is not a substance. It is a printed legal decree." Not a substance! A legal decree! That beats me. Now run away. You can go fishing or swimming or anywhere else if you won't ask me any more questions.

THE UNIT OF VALUE.
What the Ex-Governor of New Mexico Has to Say on the Subject.
New York, July 9.—Hon. L. Bradford Prince, for years governor of New Mexico, is in the city. In an interview he said:
"A couple of months ago there was a great discussion in Chicago as to what was the unit of value under the original coinage act of 1792, which embodied the views of Washington, Hamilton and Jefferson. They made large bets on the subject, some contending that the unit was in silver and some in gold, and finally the matter was referred at one of the clubs to Judge Vincent, who rendered a decision which was no sooner made than it was controverted.
"The joke is this, that the people of Chicago never thought of looking at the coin itself to see whether it had anything to say on the subject. Now here," said the governor, "taking out of his pocket two finely preserved specimens of our early coinage, 'here are two silver dollars, one of 1795 and one of 1802.
On the obverse of each is the word 'liberty' and the date; on the reverse, 'United States of America.' Now look at the edge where the milling is placed on more modern coins and what do you see? 'One dollar, or unit of 100 cents.'
"If the Chicago brethren had only thought of going to the coin itself as a witness, they would have seen in a moment that the silver dollar was the unit by its very substance. You know the silver dollar never varied in weight in the United States from the foundation of the government to the demonetization in 1873, when it was worth $1.03 in gold dollars. When the change in ratio was made in 1854, it was the gold coin that was altered, not the silver dollar. The latter was always the immutable standard of value till struck down by the monopolists who desired a dishonest, constantly increasing single standard, in 1873.

"When the unit question comes up again, just remember to look at the coin itself."

A Plain Statement.

but with no relief, until I began taking S. L. R."—Wm. Schultz.

Hon. Neal Dow, aged 91 years, the prohibitionist, addressed the National Christian Endeavor Convention at Boston, Saturday, 13th inst.
Matthew Boulton and James Watt's Soho foundry at Birmingham, where Watt worked out his idea of the steam engine, after an existence of 133 years is now idle, and will soon be broken up and dismantled. At one time it employed 4000 men, but its business died away, and when it closed its doors it had only 400.

Mr. Wanamaker has increased his life insurance to the remarkable aggregate of $2,000,000. He is certainly the most heavily insured man in America, and possibly in the world. John B. Stetson, of Philadelphia, has policies on his life for $750,000, and Hamilton Dianon for $600,000. Chanancy M. Depew is said to be insured for $500,000.

The splendid gathering of the clans which last week drew great audiences in London day after day to hear women talk of temperance and philanthropy cannot but awaken enthusiasm among those who have only read the reports as they appeared in our daily papers. Says Harper's Bazar, Frances E. Willard, whose brain overworked and tact consummated this overwhelming demonstration, belongs to us, and all American women are proud of her as their representative. We like to feel that so fair and gracious a womanhood has flowered on our soil; that this wise, judicious and able daughter of New England and the west stands to the world for what American influences can do in molding and making a serene, noble and most winning lady. We hold others in high esteem, and are not slow to recognize charm, eloquence and merit in the women who rally round Miss Willard—such women as Lady Henry Somerset, Mrs. Josephine Butler, Antoinette Stirling, the Countess of Aberdeen, Miss Ackerman, the Countess of Carlisle and Mrs.
Leavitt. But we sum everything up in a word when we laurel Frances Willard as a woman in whom heart, head and hand work together, and work to purpose for the uplifting of men and the benefit and blessing of her period. "To serve the present age" has been the keynote of Miss Willard's life as teacher, orator and organizer, and not the least noteworthy feature in her career is the sweetness and modesty, the quiet womanliness which she has never lost.

Questions, Questions, Questions!
If everybody were just, would anybody need to be kind? This question naturally rises from the Five-Minute Sermon in Every Where for July. Is Naples a good place to visit in the summer? Every Where answers the question, by taking its readers there, on one of its famous "Lightning Tours," and ascending with them to the very top of the volcano Vesuvius. Is there any use of taking cold? The Health Civil Service Examination Department of our paper answers that question, promptly and accurately. Did you ever run away to a swimming? If so, the illustrated poem of WILL CARLETON (who edits this bright journal), and writes for every page of it) will bring back each step of the way, and every splash of the cool water. Send fifty cents, and you will get the most original of papers for a year. Or mail ten cents in stamps or specie, for sample copies, agent's outfit, and instructions how to make "big money."

NEURALGIA cured by Dr. Miles' PAIN PILLS. "One cent a dose. At all druggists.

Reader, did you ever take SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR? The "KING OF LIVER MEDICINES." Everybody needs take a liver remedy. It is a sluggish or diseased liver that impairs digestion and causes constipation, when the waste that should be carried off remains in the body and poisons the whole system.
That dull, heavy feeling is due to a torpid liver. Biliousness, Headache, Malaria and Indigestion are all liver diseases. Keep the liver active by an occasional dose of Simmons' Liver Regulator and you'll get rid of these troubles, and give tone to the whole system. For a laxative Simmons' Liver Regulator is BETTER THAN PILLS. It does not gripe, nor weaken, but greatly refreshes and strengthens.

New Orleans Times-Democrat (Dem.): That all debts have been doubled by the demonetization of silver, the consequent accretion in value of gold, and the fall in the prices of all products, every person, and especially every farmer, in the country knows. It takes twice as many pounds of cotton or sugar, nearly twice as many bushels of wheat, to pay the interest and principal of the debt; and it takes twice as many hours of labor.

The friends of McLaughlin, the convicted New York police hoodler, are using all means to see that he is sent to some prison in the state other than Sing Sing. They declare that there is every reason to fear that he will there meet with violence at the hands of the many thieves who were sent up during his long term as a detective. It is alleged, however, that this is not the reason, but that he dreads the sneers and taunts that will be hurled at him by the men who were arrested through his efforts. Mc-Laughlin was always very rough with men whom he arrested, and the thoughts of marching in lock step with these very fellows sends a cold chill down his back.

PATENTS
NOTICE TO INVENTORS.
There was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences generally was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and workshop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the apparatus and implements of the art in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiencies, does not permit the affairs of the government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skillful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent.
Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially is this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who entrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at immense risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedderburn, General Manager, 618 F street, N. W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the unsafe methods heretofore employed in this line of business. The said company is prepared to take charge of all patent business entrusted to it for reasonable fees, and prepares and prosecutes applications generally, including mechanical inventions, design

P. O. Box 463, Washington, D. C.
Honorable discharged soldiers and sailors who served ninety days, or over, in the late war are entitled, if now partially or wholly disabled for ordinary manual labor, whether disability was caused by service or not, and regardless of their pecuniary circumstances, WIDOWS of such soldiers and sailors are entitled (if not remarried) whether soldier's death was due to army service or not, if now dependent upon their own labor for support. Widows not dependent upon their own labor are entitled if the soldier's death was due to service.
CHILDREN are entitled (if under 16 years) in almost all cases where there was no widow, or she has since died or remarried.
PARENTS are entitled if soldier left neither widow nor child, provided soldier died in service, or from effects of service, and they are now dependent upon their own labor for support. It makes no difference whether soldier served or died in late war or in regular army or navy.
Soldiers of the late war, pensioned under one law, may apply for higher rates under other laws, without losing any rights.
Thousands of soldiers drawing from $2 to $10 per month under the old law are entitled to higher rates under new law, not only on account of disabilities for which now pensioned, but also for others, whether due to service or not.
Soldiers and sailors disabled in line of duty in regular army or navy since the war are also entitled, whether discharged for disability or not.
Survivors, and their widows, of the Black Hawk, Creek, Cherokee, and Seminole or Florida Indian wars of 1812 to 1842 are entitled under a recent act.
MEXICAN WAR SOLDIERS and their widows also entitled, if 62 years of age or disabled or dependent.
Old claims completed and settlement obtained, whether pension has been granted under later laws or not.
Rejected claim reopened and settlement secured, if rejection improper or illegal.
Certificates of service and discharge obtained for soldiers and sailors of the late war who have lost their original papers.
