Before the law was written down with parchment or with pen; Before the law made citizens, the moral law made men.

What makes this crisis in the land? Depression rests on every hand. Laughs at McKinley, winks at Bland—The dollar.

What binds up labor with a yoke, But free the dancier with a stroke, Then changed and left the people broke? The dollar.

What causes man to mourn and weep, And Cleveland extra sessions hold, And millionaires and bankers hold? The dollar.

How France Maintains Her Gold Reserve. To maintain our gold reserve the United States treasury officials claim they must give the holder of securities the option of the kind of coin he shall receive in payment.

Incidentally, to show how much better off the United States is than France, the advocates of the gold standard state that the national per capita debt of France is $200, while ours is only $20.

Statistics show that France buys 16 per cent more goods than she sells, that is, her imports are 16 per cent more than her exports.

With this enormous per capita debt and the balance of trade against her, how then is it possible for her to keep gold in her treasury?

She does it by taking exactly the opposite course taken by the United States treasury officials, i. e., retaining the option of payment.

The Record Review says: France has about $800,000,000 of gold and $700,000,000 of silver.

When coin is demanded of the Bank of France, for export, it pays 5 per cent in gold and 95 per cent in silver.

Consequently there is never any such thing as depleting France's gold reserve, as she exercises the right to pay gold or silver as she pleases.

If the secretary of the treasury had been sensible, there never would have been any necessity for issuing the $165,000,000 of bonds issued by this administration.

Here it is. Philosophers have traced to their primary and universal cause these periodical calamities which blast the happiness and desolate the homes of half the people of the civilized world once in every decade.

That cause is the constantly recurring pressure of ground rent, as a factor in the distribution of wealth against the profits of capital and the wages of labor.

Gentlemen forget that our splendid and inexhaustible natural resources are all monopolized, and that nine-tenths of our people are obliged to pay tribute to less than half of the other tenth for the privilege of living in this country.

The small percentage of land monopolists who own this country exercise an absolute despotism over the masses of the people of this country, and fix the conditions upon which they shall live.

The census of 1890 shows, approximately, that the land of this great country is owned by about 10 per cent of our people; that about three-fourths of that 10 per cent own no land but their homes, upon which there is an aggregate mortgage indebtedness of $6,000,000,000.

The present crisis will bring about the foreclosure of thousands of these mortgages, and will largely reduce the percentage of landowners in this country.

Hon. Jas. G. Maguire, Democratic member of congress from California.

S F Star: Many persons who make no claim to be lawyers know more law and would make better judges than half those on the bench.

Wagg (N. S. W.) Worker: A church in New Zealand scoops in £200,000 a year in ground rents—all for the glory of the Nazarene who hadn't where to lay his head.

Redlands Citograph: Twelve of the best writers that the goldbugs could buy have all written books in answer to "Coin's Financial School," and yet the latter sells by the thousand and is read by many thousands, while the books of the twelve goldbugs can hardly be given away and are read only by cuckoo newspaper writers in order to get material to print on the silver question.

S. F. Star: Two able Populist professors of the university of Chicago have recently been discharged for their outspoken denunciation of the Chicago Gas Trust's methods.

That concern makes gas at a cost of 30 cents a thousand feet, and sells it for $1.25. The trust is one of John D. Rockefeller's aliases—like our S. P. aliases; and Rockefeller founded the university out of money obtained swindling the public—as Stanford did his university.

Fruits and Nuts in Lane. D. W. Coolidge has apricots, white figs, chestnuts, almonds, English walnuts and butternuts on his fruit ranch south of Eugene, all of which are doing well.

The chestnut trees, though only 7 years of age, will yield a good crop this year. Mr. Coolidge thinks this country is well adapted to chestnut-raising.

Almonds also do exceedingly well there. Late frosts seldom ever catch them.

Oakland Selected a Populist. Oakland, Cal., July 16.—Chief of Police Schaffer has been removed and Charles E. Lloyd, a real estate dealer by occupation and a Populist in politics, has been elected in his place.

Schaffer was given until August 1st to enable him to settle up the affairs of his office, and then Lloyd is to take charge.

Mayor Davis voted against the resolution to remove Schaffer, but it had no bearing on the result, as the others united against him.

Civilization consists in putting on stiff collars and two layers of clothes in summer instead of a towel.

On some of the maps Sherman county doesn't look quite large enough upon which to turn a six-horse team. She produced one-sixth of the big wheat crop of this state last year, however, and has a few surprises in store for next fall.

Keep your eyes on Sherman county. Grants Pass Courier: Many residents of southern Oregon have been benefitted by Dr. Bybee's "sand cure." It consists of a teaspoonful of common sand taken after meals for stomach trouble.

One patient, well known in this city, declared that he had a quart of sand in his body before he began getting better, but he is well now. He was nearly dead.

Roseburg Review: Finlay McNeill, of Portland, has a letter in Sunday's Sun in reference to the new federal building that contains a startling statement. He says: "The general opinion is that the department of public works, under President Harrison, was duped or overreached when the site was selected and $150,000 or $160,000 paid for it. Possibly it can be sold now for $20,000 or $30,000."

Drink and the gang drinks with you, swear off and you get it alone, for the barroom bum who drinks your rum, has a queenchest thirst of his own. Feast and your friends are many; fast and they cut you dead; they'll not get mad if you treat them bad, as long as their stomachs are fed. Steal if you get a million, for then you can furnish bail; it's the big thief who gets out on leave, but the little one goes to jail.

Chicago Tribune: The new portable Maxim gun, a small, innocent-looking affair weighing but 45 pounds, bids fair to revolutionize modern methods of war. Its muzzle can be moved out by the bearer in all directions, and it will fire 600 bullets a minute, sending them through 40 inches of oak. It is estimated that an army of 10,000 men equipped with this death-dealing terror would be equal to an army of 1,000,000 men with the present weapons.

Mr. Busman—I have just been summoned for jury duty; how can I get off? Lawyer—Oh, just let them see that you know how much two and two make, and they'll excuse you in a jiffy.

Pass—And of which variety is your wife, the elopement or the self-assertive? A lady—She is both. When she wears a new dress or a new bonnet, she generally begins in the dinging-via role; if that doesn't bring the money, then she changes to the self-assertive; and—well she invariably gets the dress or the bonnet.

PATENTS NOTICE TO INVENTORS.

There was never a time in the history of our country when the demand for inventions and improvements in the arts and sciences general was so great as now. The conveniences of mankind in the factory and workshop, the household, on the farm, and in official life, require continual accessions to the apparatuses and implements of each in order to save labor, time and expense. The political change in the administration of government does not affect the progress of the American inventor, who being on the alert and ready to perceive the existing deficiencies, does not permit the affairs of the government to deter him from quickly conceiving the remedy to overcome existing discrepancies. Too great care cannot be exercised in choosing a competent and skillful attorney to prepare and prosecute an application for patent. Valuable interests have been lost and destroyed in innumerable instances by the employment of incompetent counsel, and especially in this advice applicable to those who adopt the "No patent, no pay" system. Inventors who entrust their business to this class of attorneys do so at imminent risk, as the breadth and strength of the patent is never considered in view of a quick endeavor to get an allowance and obtain the fee then due. THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, John Wedburn, General Manager, 618 F Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., representing a large number of important daily and weekly papers, as well as general periodicals of the country, was instituted to protect its patrons from the unsafe methods heretofore employed in this line of business. The said company is prepared to take charge of all patent business entrusted to it for reasonable fees, and prepares and prosecutes applications generally, including mechanical inventions, design patents, trade-marks, labels, copyrights, interferences, infringements, validity reports, and gives special attention to rejected cases. It is also prepared to enter into competition with any firm in securing foreign patents.

It may not be generally known that the common black butter bean will bear continuously through the season if the pods are all picked as soon as they are large enough to use. If any are allowed to ripen, the plant has fulfilled its mission and will die.

In Russia if a man marries an heiress he gets no chance to own her money. There is no marriage settlement; she controls her property throughout her life. This financial independence of the wife has conduced greatly to happy marriages. It is believed that among the well-to-do people in Russia there are more happy marriages than in most other countries.

Dynamite for pliedriving has been lately successfully used when it was necessary to drive deeper than could be done without great expense by the ordinary means. The piles were cut square and capped with a wrought iron plate about 15 inches in diameter and 4 1/2 inches thick. In the center of this plate was placed a cake of dynamite 6 inches in diameter and about 2 1/2 of an inch thick. It was wrapped in parchment paper, covered with clay and ignited. The effect of the explosion was equal to five blows from a 1500 pound hammer falling from a height of 10 feet. The iron plates resisted from 20 to 24 explosions.

P. O. Box 463, Washington, D. C. Honorably discharged soldiers and sailors who served ninety days, or over, in the late war are entitled, if now partially or wholly disabled for ordinary manual labor, whether disability was caused by service or not, and regardless of their pecuniary circumstances, WIDOWS of such soldiers and sailors are entitled (if not remarried) whether soldier's death was due to army service or not, if now dependent upon their own labor for support. Widows not dependent upon their own labor are entitled if the soldier's death was due to service.

CHILDREN are entitled (if under 16 years) in almost all cases where there was no widow, or she has since died or remarried. It makes no difference whether soldier served or died in late war or in regular army or navy. Soldiers of the late war, pensioned under one law, may apply for higher rates under other laws, without losing any rights. Thousands of soldiers drawing from $3 to $10 per month under the old law are entitled to higher rates under new law, not only on account of disabilities for which now pensioned, but also for others, whether due to service or not. Soldiers and sailors disabled in line of duty in regular army or navy since the war are also entitled, whether discharged for disability or not. Survivors, and their widows, of the Black Hawk, Creek Cherokee, and Seminole or Florida Indian wars of 1832 to 1842, are entitled under a recent act. MEXICAN WAR SOLDIERS and their widows also entitled, if 62 years of age or disabled or dependent. Old claims completed and settlement obtained, whether pension has been granted under later laws or not. Rejected claim re-opened and settlement secured, if rejection improper or illegal. Certificates of service and discharge obtained for soldiers and sailors of the late war who have lost their original papers. Send for laws and information. No charge for advice.
