

COQUILLE CITY W. C. T. U.
The Methodist church, south, every Friday, at 3 o'clock p. m. All interested in the work are invited to attend.

From the National W. C. T. U. Bulletin.
From Miss Willard's London Address.

The martyrdom of women under existing laws is their actual canonization. The saints of these days are the saints of the shop, who fight with greater heroism than the soldiers of Balacava, that they may not become the sinners of the streets.

We need to say temperance was the cause of poverty; now we have completed the circle of truth by saying poverty causes temperance, and that the underpaid, underfed, undersheltered wage-earning teetotaler deserves a thousand times more credit than the teetotaler who is well paid, well fed and well sheltered.

The virginal heart of woman asserts itself in every friendless girl who, against the awful odds, arms herself with an honorable bread winning weapon and spends her life in hopeless toil, often at five shillings a week, when, if she would listen to the whispered temptation that assails her at every opportunity, she might live in idleness and amid the surroundings of comfort if not of luxury.

It is more than short-sighted folly; it is unpardonable stubbornness, not to say criminal apathy, in us as temperance workers if we do not clasp hands of intelligent and earnest sympathy with the wage-worker and the unemployed. We must lengthen our cords and strengthen our stakes until they reach so far over into the camp of our bread-earning brethren that ours shall be forevermore two "camps allied" in thought and purpose to bring in the better day.

We must be able to see that the eight hours' law is a temperance measure, a parity measure, a gospel measure, and nothing less, for by means of the eight hours' law one-third more men and women now unemployed can find standing room in the bread-winning battalions, where they can fight for a free and independent life and a well-ordered home. The living wage means not only that the wage earner shall live, but he shall do well.

The test of civilization is the estimate of woman.—G. W. Curtis.

The supporters of the new government in England are very much chagrined at the return to parliament of Sir Wilfrid Lawson, the radical temperance member.

The Supreme Council of the Catholic Benevolent Legion, the strongest and most influential organization of Catholics, has ostracized retail liquor dealers by excluding them in future from membership in the society.
Governor Morrill of Kansas has asked the police commissioners of Wichita to resign. This action is thought to be the result of a persistent and vigorous effort on the part of the Good Citizenship League to have the commissioners removed.

Nervous Shock.

E. W. JOY COMPANY—Gentlemen: This is the first time I have attempted to write for three years. Have been too nervous and weak that I have laid in bed most of the time.

A friend who had taken your Sarsaparilla sent me two bottles. The second one is most gone, and I have gained twenty pounds, and surely feel a new woman; I was pale, thin, no ambition. Had given up, as I had tried so many remedies and doctors, but found no benefit. If you care to publish this you have my consent. (Signed)
MRS. A. C. TILMAN,

LOCAL ITEMS.

Rev. J. S. McCain of Bandon was one of the speakers on Labor Day at Marshfield.

Sheriff Gage passed through this place on business up the North Fork last Wednesday.

Mr. Wilkins is again at work in his gallery and anxious to make photographs for farm produce.

If our readers will clip the coupon offering premiums, in another column, they will find the promise carried out to the letter.

Our old friend, W. Colvin, left the editor a small box of nice apples last week, for "munching" between paragraphs. Thanks.

A. O. Whelan dumped a couple of baskets of fine vegetables—string beans, cabbage, etc.—at our residence last week, for which we return thanks.

The band gave a serenade last Thursday night to Prof. T. J. Godfrey and bride, rendering several choice numbers, as evidence of friendship and good wishes.

Entertainment and fair of the W. R. C. September 28th. Nice program and pleasant time. Many articles will be for sale. Admission, 10 cents, including lunch.

John R. Stillwell of Portland has been making a brief visit to his parents, leaving last Thursday for his duties in a mission of the Salvation Army at the former place.

G. F. Whitaker, an employe of Mr. Bullard's, at Arago, last Thursday cut his foot with an ax, while cutting wood, and severed an artery. Dr. Culin was summoned and promptly set matters right.

We neglected to thank some kind friend at Marshfield, in last issue, for a copy of the Chicago Saturday Blade containing that correspondence about Coquille City as "An Unlucky Oregon Town," etc. We thank him now.

Bishop Morris returned unexpectedly to this place from Port Orford last Thursday in a hurry for Ashland, Or., where he had to be by Sunday. A new minister had reached that point in his diocese, and the bishop's presence was summoned and the time short, hence his change of route and haste.

Mrs. S. A. Kell, of Pomona, Cal., had the bad luck to sprain her ankle. "I tried several liniments," she says, "but was not cured until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. That remedy cured me and I take pleasure in recommending it and testifying to its efficacy." This medicine is also of great value for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the chest, pleurisy and all deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by Dr. S. L. Leneve, druggist.

The Salem Statesman, of the 3d inst., makes this statement:

"SILK COCOONS.
"Prof. Kanematz, of the silk experiment station at Coquille, Coos county, has forwarded to the Statesman specimens of cocoons raised there. They are of extraordinary size and of a whitish-yellow color. Along with them came three raised at Hubbard in this county, two being of a similar hue and the other a greenish-white; they are somewhat smaller. There are also specimens from Osceola, Nebraska, and Akron, Ohio, of much inferior quality and size to those raised here."

Oscar Nosler, of the livery firm of J. H. & Oscar Nosler, met with an accident Tuesday night of last week, which barely escaped seriousness. He had driven some parties to Myrtle Point and was returning at midnight. It was very dark, and in making a short turn in the road just this side of the North Fork crossing, the vehicle made a lurch as if going down an embankment and the driver was thrown forward and down under the horses' heels. The team did not frighten much, and although separating from the hack, did not kick nor run away, the weight of the driver holding them, while he was helpless and quite unconscious from his fall. After awhile, however, Mr. Nosler recovered sufficiently to come home with his team, leaving the hack, which had an axle broken. He was all right the next day again, and brought home the hack for repairs.

The Baptist minister, Rev. Mr. Wells, announces the usual weekly prayer-meeting of that congregation on Friday nights, at the Methodist church.

Gen. Rawlins, of the black-sand mines at Randolph, was a prominent figure at the G. A. R. encampment last week. He made two entertaining addresses during the encampment, being a fluent speaker and having a store-house of experience. We had the pleasure of meeting Comrade Rawlins on his return home last Wednesday. His service in the army was from Massachusetts.

Coos Bay News: Labor Day was fittingly observed in Marshfield. A procession was formed on Front street at 1 p. m., under command of H. W. Dunham and headed by the Liberty and Marshfield bands, marched to the Myrtle street grounds, where Gen. Siglin and Mr. McCain delivered addresses, the sentiments expressed in which were heartily endorsed by the large audience. The original poem, read by Thomas Beckman, was well received.

THERE IS A WAY

That Seemeth Good, But the End Thereof is Death.

It seems that young Stemler, one of the men hung by Lynchers at Yreka, had but recently been a student at Corvallis. He was yet but a boy. The Corvallis Times has this to say of him and his fate: "Garland Stemler is dead. Six months ago a student in the heyday of youth and health and hope, he died an ignominious death Sunday at the end of the lyncher's rope. Instead of continued honorable life among guileless companions, he went out of the world in company with murderers, denied even the customary honor of fair trial by a jury of his peers. His life is a broken column covered with blood and odium, a shock to human kind who see it, an enduring and horrible nightmare to his family. Rare is there so black an ending of a 19-year's life.

"When Stemler came to the forks of the road he took the wrong track. Instead of going straight ahead, giving close attention to his studies, respect to his seniors and due consideration to the rights and wishes of others, he turned aside to disturb public worship, to chase young girls, and to court attention by ungentlemanly and disconcerting acts. Like many other young men, he chose to be a 'smart aleck,' and he played the role too well. In the Yreka jail cell, when the mob was battering down the doors to lead him out to his fate, he saw, too late, that he had traveled the wrong road. He may have been innocent of the crime laid to his door; if so, there is all the more reason for his career to strike terror to other young men prone to cultivate rough and bad companionship, and to warn them that there is danger ahead.

"Mothers should tell to their boy the terrible story of Garland Stemler's wretched fate. His agonizing cry at the last fearful moment, 'Tell my mother that I am innocent,' should ring always in the ears of our boys, and teach them that, guilty or innocent, all men are judged by the company they keep."

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses of 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials Address: F. J. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

M. Hamerly, a well-known business man of Hillsboro, Va., sends this testimony to the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla: "Several years ago, I had a sore throat, which was a sore which led to erysipelas. My sufferings were extreme, my leg, from the knee to the ankle, being a solid sore, which began to extend to other parts of the body. After trying various remedies, I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished the first bottle, I experienced great relief; the second bottle effected a complete cure."

Another Free Offer.

The long winter evenings can be very profitably devoted to reading, but there are some things that we must read the year round. One of these is a local paper: the best in the county is before you—the Herald. Another is a good home paper of general circulation, such as "Womankind," for instance, which comes once a month filled with the best things for a busy housewife. We are able by special arrangements with the publishers, to offer "Womankind" free for a year to every paid-in-advance subscriber to our paper, and are glad to do so, for we are convinced that no home paper in America contains more of practical value to women. Bright stories, clever poems, the latest fashions, news of woman's work everywhere, articles on "Motherhood," "Cultivation of Flowers," a woman's parliament for the discussion of matters of interest, are a few of the bright features of "Womankind."

To the head of the house we offer on the same terms "Farm News," an agricultural paper, edited by a practical farmer (Miller Purvis, esq., late state lecturer of the Ohio Farmer's Alliance), and filled each month with suggestions from able correspondents, that make it an absolute necessity to every wide awake farmer. This paper is yours for the asking, provided you are a subscriber to our paper.

Remember every paid-in-advance subscriber to the Herald is entitled to his choice in either of these papers. Tell your neighbors about this offer. A sample copy of both papers may be obtained by addressing the Hostenman Publishing Co., Springfield, Ohio.
Come in and pay a year in advance to the Herald and get one of these attractive papers free.

G. A. R. NOTICE.
We take this opportunity of informing our subscribers that the new Commissioner of Pensions has been appointed. He is an old soldier, and we believe that soldiers and their heirs will receive justice at his hands. We do not anticipate that there will be any radical changes in the administration of pension affairs under the new regime.

We would advise, however, that U. S. soldiers, sailors, and their heirs, take steps to make application at once, if they have not already done so, in order to secure the benefit of the early filing of their claims in case there should be any future pension legislation. Such legislation is seldom retroactive. Therefore it is of great importance that applications be filed in the department at the earliest possible date.

If U. S. soldiers, sailors or their widows, children or parents, desire information in regard to pension matters, they should write to THE PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, at Washington, D. C., and they will prepare and send the necessary application, if they find them entitled under the numerous laws enacted for their benefit. Address: PRESS CLAIMS COMPANY, P. O. PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS.
Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.
With the view of protecting inventors from a worthless or careless attorney, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.
If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
