COMPOUNDING FELONY.

One of the recent sensations of New York is the suit in court against George Gould to recover on a check for $40,000, by Mrs. Zella Nicolaus Ruman, which check she said George Gould refused to recognize and denied giving. Mrs. Ruman is a beautiful woman of doubtful character, with whom a number of swell society men have had scandalous relations.
 If the woman should press this suit a first-class scandal would stir Gotham to its depths, and criminal relations would be shown up in court in which all these particular swells would be implicated. Even men from Chicago were summoned to appear in court and testify in a case, which would place them in a very unpleasant situation to say the least. Mr. Gould immediately summoned one of his great legal lights, a man who is supposed to know the law and is sworn to uphold it and strive to maintain the integrity of the government, and this brilliant representative of all that is pure, patriotic and noble in the legal profession deliberately proceeded to plan for the commission of one of the most execrable crimes known to the penal code in the interest of his client, that of compounding a felony, in compromising with the woman by the payment to her of a large sum of money and the attorney's corrupt fee, and thus keeping this crime against the public well from being exposed and punished.
 It is to be supposed that this shining apostle of Blackstone(?) would so manage the proceedings that the crime could not easily be proven, but the fact remains that the lawyer and his client deliberately planned one crime to cover up another. And what is worse, the whole eastern press publishes flaming accounts of this bit of criminal jugglery by these members of the "400," and not a single one of them that has come to our notice has a word to say editorially condemnatory of the proceeding. In fact it is treated as a matter of course, a clever joke, by all these great papers that we have seen. Is it not time that great papers like the New York World and Tribune, and such as the Call and Examiner on this coast, and scores of others which have assumed the office of public educators and the defense of right against wrong and of justice against fraud and oppression, should use all the force of their tremendous influence to render such flagrant disregard of law on the part of the wealthy classes obnoxious, rather than flaunting it before the public without a word of criticism?

INFLUENCE OF THE PRESS.

In a recent communication, written to the Bandon Recorder by Capt. J. J. Winnant, the last he ever wrote, and copied last week in the Herald, the following significant language occurs: "Try and urge the people to make an effort, as newspapers can do a good deal in a matter like this."
 Few persons realize either the influence that a live paper can exert, or the power of an energetic, public-spirited individual in a town or community for good. As an instance of both take the case of Bandon. Two men are largely responsible for her present growth and prosperity. One man flooded the papers with information in connection with the county at large and Bandon in particular. The other, though quiet and unobtrusive, could see an opportunity when it presented, and had the business sagacity and public spirit to make the most of it for his own and the public advantage. If Coquille City is to build up, and become the center of business that she has the opportunity of doing, printer's ink must be used liberally, and this must be seconded by the individual effort of such of our busness men as are not completely swallowed up in the routine of their own daily affairs that they are unable to see over the fence, or look a day in the future. The Herald will do its part—will our business men, or will they not, do theirs?

The editor of a Missouri paper says that the world is to come to an end in December, and exhorts merchants to advertise so as not to be losers by having large stocks on hand when the final moment arrives. It also says that it will be to the advantage of subscribers to pay up, clear their consciences and secure the influence of the papers when Gabriel blows his trumpet in the morning.

The Herald is under obligations to Hon. J. H. Mitchell, U. S. senator, for public documents sent us from Washington. Mr. Mitchell is Oregon's silver senator, and delivered one of the ablest silver speeches it was our privilege to read during the great silver debate at the extra session of congress.

In the Durrant case Judge Murphy has refused a new trial, and remanded the prisoner to San Quentin prison to await his execution. The case will be appealed to the supreme court, but it is not believed that any change will be made in the decision of the lower court.

Congressional Notes.

The following measures introduced in congress thus early in the session may serve as an index to what is coming:
 Washington, Dec. 5.—The first bill introduced was one by Senator Mills, of Texas, for the coinage of silver in the treasury.
 The bill introduced by Chandler, of New Hampshire, for the coinage of silver at the ratio of 15 1/2 to 1, the bill to become operative when England, Germany and France pass similar laws, was listened to with great attention by members of the senate.

Gallinger, of New Hampshire, introduced a resolution declaring it as the sense of the senate that it was unwise and inexpedient to retire greenbacks.
 Mitchell, of Oregon, introduced a resolution, which was agreed to, calling on the secretary of the treasury to inform the senate why the construction of the public building at Portland, Or., for which an appropriation was made by the last congress, was not proceeded with.

Call, of Florida, addressed the senate in advocacy of his resolution for the recognition of the beligerent Cuban insurgents, and for strict neutrality by the United States in the war.
 "This government," said Call emphatically, "is responsible for many outrages that have been committed. The attitude of this government by not recognizing the revolutionists as beligerents in our ports and territory is maintaining today the power of Spain in the island of Cuba."

A Notable Trademark Decision.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 28.—Special Judge Romano Bunn, U. S. circuit judge for the Western District of Wisconsin, has decided for defendants in the case of the Sterling Remedy Co., proprietors of "No-to-Bac," against the Eureka Chemical & Mfg. Co., proprietors of "Baco-Curo." Suit was brought by the former April 3d last, asking $20,000 damages and an injunction restraining defendant from using the name "Baco-Curo," from advertising the same and from using boxes, racks, etc., which it was claimed were infringements upon those used by "No-to-Bac." Judge Bunn decides for defendants on the ground that no marked similarity exists, that no infringement has been made and that "Baco-Curo" by its injunction, "Don't Stop Tobacco," shows itself to be entirely distinct from "No-to-Bac," in that the latter requires the patient to cease using tobacco when commencing the remedy. By the terms of the order the complainant's bill is dismissed and costs are taxed in favor of defendant. The case has excited especial interest inasmuch as it is the first of like character ever heard in the Wisconsin federal courts and the decision, it is believed, will govern in all similar cases, Judge Bunn being noted as an able jurist both in Wisconsin and elsewhere.

Notice to Policy-Holders.

I will substitute North America policies for paid-up State (Salem) policies, and allow the unearned premium credit on new policies. The North America has a $3,000,000 paid-up capital and is 103 years old. It went through the great Chicago fire in 1871, paying $2,000,000 of losses; later it paid $1,000,000 in the Boston fire. Time tried and fire tested.

If you want fresh, new drugs and prescriptions carefully compounded call at the Pharmacy.

Miss Fern Orcutt, a prominent teacher of Douglas county, has been employed to teach the school at Gravel Ford, this county.

George Stauff, of Marshfield, who has been visiting his brother at Arago for some days, was in town on last Monday on his way home.

County Judge Henry Schroeder, accompanied by D. E. Stitt, county commissioner, visited the poor farm on last Monday. They are on a tour of inspection.

Young Sam Johnson left yesterday on a visit to San Francisco. He thought he was entitled to "a day off," and made arrangements accordingly to visit the city.

The Bandon woolen mills made another big shipment of goods this week by way of this place and the bay. This is the largest lot that has passed through Coquille for many days. We are pleased to note the prosperity of the Bandon mills.

The Herald acknowledges a very pleasant call from County Commissioner D. E. Stitt, of Bandon, on last Monday. Mr. Stitt is also editor and proprietor of the Bandon Recorder, and it is always a pleasure to meet one of the craft.

UPPER - RIVER DEPARTMENT.

Myrtle Point and the Upper-Coquille, and What is Going on There.

The G. A. R. post of this place will give an entertainment and grand ball at Opera hall in this place Feb. 22, 1896.

Levi Gant, one of our staunch farmers who is not generally very rugged, looks quite fresh and well this winter, which is pleasing to his many friends.

Christmas goods all over town at about half the prices usually asked. Perhaps this is the result of the Wilson bill; we now want Bill Wilson or some other smart Alex to introduce a William that can bring us money to buy Christmas goods.

Our city dads are the most generous souls on earth. They order work on our streets and tax the adjoining property-owners for the job. Bills are presented at the next meeting of the board and paid out of the city funds, and the tax is never paid.

The county seat question is being discussed and there has been several sites selected for the courthouse. It is confidently expected by some that Myrtle Point will have the county seat, and may (?) get it on the first ballot. Quite a number of Marshfield people have property in our beautiful city and of course that will help us to get the seat of justice located here.

A mock trial will be held at the Temperance League rooms in the academy building Wednesday evening of this week. Our two brilliant young attorneys, L. A. Roberts and G. M. Short, will be the legal lights of the occasion, while L. L. Burtenshaw, a disciple of Blackstone of much renown, will preside as judge. Some boys will be arrested for disturbing the peace, and no doubt they will quail under the stern gaze of the judge and officer, whom we presume will be Z. Taylor Johnson, formerly associated with Judge J. N. Phillips, who now stands at the head of the California bar.

The boys of G company O. N. G. were out on the 8th inst. for their regular inspection and they made a very good appearance. Col. C. T. Blumenrother was present and during his inspection one could see at a glance that he was well versed in the manual of arms and the military tactics in general. Over two-thirds of the time of their enlistment is now past and the boys are discussing already whether or not they will re-enlist. Since the late dispatches indicate a possibility of a war with England there is no doubt but that the separate battalion will be kept up and it will probably have an opportunity to shed human gore before their military duty.

Fishtrap Fulminations.

Every one is making preparations for the coming holidays. Mr. Wilson has been seriously ill of late but is slowly recovering. The entertainment given in the Willowdale church at this place was a decided success.

A joint debate will take place in Fishtrap schoolhouse on the 21st inst., between the debating society of the Roy district and the home club. An enervating time is anticipated.

The boys of Happy Camp deserve special praise for the manner in which they have cared for the sick in this neighborhood, while many persons who advocate philanthropy have remained at home to enjoy their night's repose.

A CORRESPONDENT.

Geo. W. Jenkins, editor of the Santa Maria "Times," Cal., in speaking of the various ailments of children said: "When my children have croup there is but one patent medicine that I ever use, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It possesses some medical properties that relieve the little sufferers immediately. It is, in my opinion, the best cough medicine in the market." If this remedy is freely given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is also an ideal remedy for whooping cough. There is no danger in giving it to children, as it contains nothing injurious. For sale by Dr. S. L. Leneve, druggist.

Herman Howell, who rents Uncle R. O. Kirkpatrick's ranch at Angora, has been lucky at getting rid of bears lately in his neighborhood. Week before last he caught a large bear, from which he extracted 7 gallons of oil from one half of the carcass. He then caught a young bear two or three days later, and Wednesday of last week killed a fine fellow. Uncle Kirkpatrick received part of the latter, and kindly shared with ye editor. The principal living of brim in that neighborhood now is huckleberries, which are very plentiful.

The schooners Antelope and Coquille crossed in over the Bandon bar on Sunday last. Both came in in good condition and had not suffered from storms on their way up. Johnson Bro's have a lot of flour on the Free Trade, which was awaiting a chance to come in.

The board of trade of this place are getting matters in shape to lead in some important enterprises here in the near future.

J. K. P. Elliott was elected by Col. Jewell Post, No. 53, G. A. R. of this place, at their meeting Saturday evening, as commander for the ensuing year.

Dr. J. K. Reader, a former physician of this place who recently moved to Ashland, says he has great confidence in the future of Myrtle Point and the Coquille valley in general.

Hermann & Brown have established a free delivery system in town. Anyone purchasing goods of them get it delivered anywhere in town free of charge. This will be a great convenience during the winter.

Our city dads concluded to grade one of our main streets at their last meeting, and the boss commenced the work last week, but growlers headed the enterprise off. Some of the council held a meeting by a duck pond when out hunting and nullified the city ordinance referred to.

Those knowing themselves to be indebted to the publisher of the 1st West Oregonian are notified that it is time to pay up and stand a chance for a hope in Heaven. The preacher said the other evening that "a lazy and stung man could not get religion." So don't be too lazy and stingy to pay your just bill to the publisher.

As the Divilbiss quartz mill will be sold this week at public sale by Sheriff Gage, much speculation is indulged in as to who will be the highest bidder. T. J. Green, esq., has been mentioned as a formidable rival in purchasing the plant, and it would give good satisfaction to many of Mr. G's acquaintances if he would secure the prize and become wealthy.

A. H. Black & Co., one of our enterprising mercantile establishments, have arranged so that they have helped the farmers of this locality very much during the last season, by purchasing their dairy product and working it over into first-class, gilt-edged butter. All that is required of his patrons was to produce nice, clean butter with the buttermilk simply drained out by hanging it up in nice, clean muslin over night and then promptly bring it to his manufactory, where it is worked over by an improved process and cast into two-pound rolls. The farmer was paid liberally for his product and the firm received their profit by the result of the good name the butter soon received and the advanced price over common articles of that kind.

Makes the Blood Pure

This is the secret of the cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this: "I am glad to write that I am now in perfect health and it is all because Hood's Sarsaparilla made my blood pure. My health broke down with troubles peculiar to women, my nervous system was shattered and I had to take my bed. The physician said there was little hope for me. A neighbor told of wonderful cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla and I decided to try it. When I had taken 3 bottles, I could sit up and now I am perfectly well and strong."

Hood's Sarsaparilla has done all this for me. Mrs. C. F. Fadenitz, La Platte City, Colorado.

Hood's Pills cure habitual constipation. Price 25c. per box.

Empire Cityisms.

Dec. 7.—Doctor Cook smiled upon us last week.

John Ten Brook, the obliging clerk in Flanagan's market, is very low with some kind of trouble with the bowels. Dr. Tower is in attendance and hopes to have his patient around in a week or two.

Mrs. Dr. Cook met with a serious accident on Thanksgiving day. She fell down stairs, striking on her back, just below the shoulder blades, across the edge of a stair step. The jar seemed to have affected the heart and she lay in a very dangerous condition for two or three days, but is now recovering rapidly.

The "old" new town board will qualify next Monday night. Rumor says there will be quite a scramble for the marshalship, which office is filled by appointment by the board.

The bad weather has rather put a quietus on street improvements. Not many towns can boast of so good a financial condition as Empire, as we have no indebtedness whatever and about $1200 in the treasury.

There is talk of organizing a "singing skew" here next week under the tutelage of Prof. Somebody, whose name we have not yet learned. KRANK.

Bandon's Budget.

Bandon, Dec. 6.—Culver & Hall have moved into L. W. Record's building across the street from Yager's hardware store.

Mr. Rosa has closed down his mill for the present. Too much rain and mud does not go well with saw milling.

Five schooners were towed out to sea last Monday by the tug Triumph. This breaks all previous records for Bandon.

The government works at this place will close down today, and owing to the rain the boys will be glad that the job is ended. Messrs. Jacobson & Nicum have done a good job in protecting the jetty. It is the first time since the works started that the piling has had enough rock to make it safe. The old jetty was made safe, and about 100 ft. of new built, which is a good showing. We can also see an improvement to the bar, which appears deeper and shorter.

The Bandon lyceum gave quite an interesting program last Friday night.

The woolen mills have received a lot of new machinery this week, so look out for employment for several more hands. Well, the more the better we say.

Rev. Wm. Wells and Rev. Mr. Day of Eugene, are holding a series of meetings here.

What is the matter with building a new ocean steamer for the Coquille river, now that the Banderille is played out? We are sore in need of a steamer.

The steamer Dispatch is on her regular beat again. The people were more scared than the boat was hurt.

Mr. Loggie has just completed a mantel for J. W. Hamilton of Roseburg that is a beauty to behold. It is made of myrtle and is composed of 102 members. The work shows fine workmanship and shows up our Coos county myrtle wood in good shape. It is valued at $200.

Several of our towns people are laid up with colds, or grippes.

The M. E. church people had two lots given to them by Elbert Dyer. They will soon begin to erect a house of worship on the same. RAMBLER.
