KILLED HIS FRIEND.

Crime Committed by a Young Man While Drunk—The Judge's Remark on His Downfall.

At the last term of Eighth judicial court of Colorado one Hugh McDougal was convicted of the murder of Frank Wagoner. The Boulder Camera prints the text of the remarks of Judge Boughton in pronouncing sentence. Here it is in part:

"It is a very painful duty which I have to perform in passing sentence upon you. It is a sad case, one that is surrounded by many extenuating circumstances, and it is a great responsibility I assume in sending a young man like you to the penitentiary. You have been convicted by a jury of your fellow citizens of Boulder county of killing in a drunken frenzy a boon companion, a man who had been known to be one of your best friends. I think that the jury properly considered the evidence, and that it justified your conviction, and whatever we may think about the circumstances surrounding this case, a human life has been taken, a crime committed, the highest that is known to human law.

"No penance on your part can atone for it, for the life can never be restored. Frank Wagoner cannot be brought to life by any penance which you may endure. That is past. The crime was committed during a drunken orgy on Thanksgiving day, indulged in by yourself, the deceased and other companions, some of whom testified on the stand against you. While drunkenness is no excuse for the commission of crime, legal or moral, it is a fact which may justly be taken into consideration by the court in mitigation of your sentence. You killed your friend without any intention of committing that crime; of that I am satisfied. You were crazed by drink and rendered practically irresponsible for what you did. It was done under the influence of rum, which causes 75 per cent of the crimes committed in this country.

"You are not the only one who has suffered from this curse. The scars left by this fell destroyer are seen on every hand. It has left its mark upon nearly every family, and I can fully appreciate your situation. The only wonder to me is, not that so much crime is committed through the influence of this vile poison, but that more men do not commit murder while under its influence. You have suffered from the commission of this crime, and you will suffer as long as you live. If the facts were otherwise, it would brand you as a man destitute of all feeling and the instincts of common humanity. You feel the terrible results of this unfortunate occurrence in your sober moments as much as anybody. You feel that if you were released you would never take another drink, but would lead a sober, industrious life hereafter, but I know you cannot do it.

"When you are turned loose upon these streets you are surrounded by constant temptations and you cannot escape them; the doors of these mantraps and licensed dens of infamy are wide open at every corner inviting you to enter. This business is protected by the law of the land; you should be protected in your helpless condition by the same laws, but unfortunately are not. No man unaided, after drunkenness becomes so thoroughly seated a disease as it is in your case, can overcome it. Good intentions cannot save you. You are in the inexorable grasp of the most deadly and all-pervading disease which afflicts mankind and you cannot resist it, surrounded as you are by the elegant facilities for a relapse furnished you by the laws of a Christian land; and were you discharged, under the circumstances I have described, you might commit a worse crime than the one for which you now have to suffer.

Several are already planning for the masquerade New Year's eve, and selecting characters to represent. It will be a night of great enjoyment.

A. E. Kilpatrick, of Fillmore, Cal., had the misfortune to have his leg caught between a cart and a stone and badly bruised. Ordinarily he would have been laid up for two or three weeks, but says: "After using one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm I began to feel better, and in three days was entirely well. The peculiar soothing qualities which Chamberlain's Pain Balm possesses I have never noticed in any other liniment. I take pleasure in recommending it." This liniment is also of great value for rheumatism and lame back. For sale by Dr. S. L. Leneve, druggist.

The members of the Christian church at this place and many friends are more than pleased with their new organ, a handsome oak-cased Story & Clark organ, from Chicago. Sherman, Clay & Co., dealers in San Francisco, was the firm dealt with, and they acted so honorably and fairly with the congregation that the latter cannot cease to speak their praises of that firm's kindness, promptness and fair-dealing. It proves to be a higher-priced, handsomer and better instrument than the committee had bargained for, at the same terms, and gives entire satisfaction as a church organ.

The Bandon woolen mills made another large shipment of goods on Friday last.

Capt. Polhemus, superintendent of government works, came over from Marshfield on Wednesday's train on his way to Bandon.

Prepare yourself for the play Christmas eve, at Masonic Hall. The Star Comedy Co. will give you a rare evening's entertainment.

Miss Belle Rapert, of Bandon, who has spent several months in California for her health, came over from the bay on last Wednesday on her way home. She is looking and feeling much better than when she went away. The HERALD acknowledges a pleasant call from her and her brother, Frank Rapert.

Deafness Cannot be Cured. by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

MARBLE WORKS AT HOME.
An Agency in Coquille—A Chance to Buy Tablets or Monuments.

The publishers of the HERALD have accepted an agency for the Coo's Bay Marble Works of C. W. Paterson at Marshfield. Mr. Paterson is one of the finest mechanics in his line on the Pacific coast, and guarantees all his work to give satisfaction. His prices are lower than those of the Willamette valley shops for the same class of work, and yet agents for foreign marble workers are in the habit of running through this country and taking orders for their work, thus taking the money out of the county that ought to be retained here for such goods. Patronize home institutions, and men who work and live here and are responsible for their contracts. The HERALD management joins Mr. Paterson in guaranteeing every job done by him to be satisfactory and in accordance with designs. Mr. Paterson is also a gentleman to deal with, as the HERALD can testify from former business relations with him.

Call at the HERALD office and see specimens of marble, photographic views of slabs, monuments, etc. We will also have on exhibition at our office samples of Mr. Paterson's work in the near future. In the meantime persons wishing work in this line will do well to call at the HERALD office and consult with us.

Saved Her Life.

Mrs. C. J. WOODRUM, of Wortham, Texas, saved the life of her child by the use of AYER'S Cherry Pectoral. "One of my children had Croup. The case was attended by our physician, and was supposed to be well under control. One night I was startled by the child's hard breathing, and on going to it found it strangled. It was nearly ceased to breathe. Realizing that the child's alarming condition had become possible in spite of the medicines given, I resorted to such remedies as would be of an avail. Having part of a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses, at short intervals, and anxiously waited results. From the moment the Pectoral was given, the child's breathing grew easier, and in a short time, she was able to breathe naturally. The child is alive and well to-day, and I do not hesitate to say that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved her life."

Another Free Offer.

The long winter evenings can be very profitably devoted to reading, but there are some things that we must read the year round. One of these is a local paper: the best in the county is before you—the HERALD. Another is a good home paper of general circulation, such as "Womankind," for instance, which comes once a month filled with the best things for a busy housewife. We are able by special arrangements with the publishers, to offer "Womankind" free for a year to every paid-in-advance subscriber to our paper, and are glad to do so, for we are convinced that no home paper in America contains more of practical value to women. Bright stories, clever poems, the latest fashions, news of woman's work everywhere, articles on "Motherhood," "Cultivation of Flowers," a woman's parliament for the discussion of matters of interest, are a few of the bright features of "Womankind."

To the head of the house we offer on the same terms "Farm News," an agricultural paper, edited by a practical farmer (Miller Purvis, Esq., late state lecturer of the Ohio Farmer's Alliance), and filled each month with suggestions from able correspondents, that make it an absolute necessity to every wide awake farmer. This paper is yours for the asking, provided you are a subscriber to our paper. Remember every paid-in-advance subscriber to the HERALD is entitled to his choice in either of these papers. Tell your neighbors about this offer. A sample copy of both papers may be obtained by addressing the Hosterman Publishing Co., Springfield, Ohio. Come in and pay a year in advance to the HERALD and get one of these attractive papers free.

G. A. R. NOTICE.

We take this opportunity of informing our subscribers that the new Commissioner of Pensions has been appointed. He is an old soldier, and we believe that soldiers and their heirs will receive justice at his hands. We do not anticipate that there will be any radical changes in the administration of pension affairs under the new regime.

We would advise, however, that U. S. soldiers, sailors, and their heirs, take steps to make application at once, if they have not already done so, in order to secure the benefit of the early filing of their claims in case there should be any future pension legislation. Such legislation is seldom retroactive. Therefore it is of great importance that applications be filed in the department at the earliest possible date.

If U. S. soldiers, sailors or their widows, children or parents, desire information in regard to pension matters, they should write to THE PASSES CLAIMS COMPANY, at Washington, D. C., and they will prepare and send the necessary application, if they find them entitled under the numerous laws enacted for their benefit. Address,
