Scheme to Wreck a Railroad

HONEST MONEY MEN MANIPULATE SANTA FE STOCKS

Drag in the Courts and Try to Plunder Investors Under a Law that Was Never Enacted.

Topeka Kas., November 15.—The true inwardness of the recent application and appointment of a receiver for the Santa Fe road in the district court of Jefferson county has leaked out.

From them it is learned that the suit was, from its inception, a scheme to bear the stocks and bonds of the company and make a lot of money for the men who stood in with the "play."

Partial revival of confidence in the country followed. Santa Fe securities went up and when it was telegraphed broadcast that a receiver had been appointed for the road there was such a boom all along the line that speculators paid no attention to the published reports of the receivership and the "play" out here in Kansas had no effect.

A Kansas City man of financial worth and of good standing, declares that a few days before the action was brought at Oskaloosa a well known insurance and speculative lawyer of Topeka called on him at Kansas City with a proposition that he go in with certain Topeka, Oskaloosa and Holton men and make half a million dollars.

The Kansas City man doubted that a judge could be found in Kansas who would appoint a receiver without notice to the company.

It is not improbable that the receivership case may be summarily dismissed within a few days by Attorney-General Dawes of Kansas.

Until it is Settled Right.

However the battle is ended, Though proudly the victor comes With fluttering flags and grating nags And echoing roll of drums;

Let those who have failed take courage, Though the enemy seems to have won; And crushed by the power of gold! Keep on with your weary battle.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF RAILROADS.

The "Examiner" Credits the Populists With Being in the Advance on a Practicable Line and Cites Authorities.

It is curious to see how many of the ideas which conservative citizens of the United States regard as the insignia of rampant Populism are parts of the commonplaces of life in other parts of the world.

The income tax, for instance, is the backbone of the financial systems of England, Prussia and other countries, and Professor Pichn of the State University, in his recent work on public finance, says that "the hopes of reformers all center in it."

Lieutenant-Colonel Henry C. Stanley, the chief engineer of the Queensland railway system, has just been giving New Yorkers some information about the workings of government operation in that colony.

"Not in the slightest degree. The whole railway business of Australia is done under a strict system of civil service that makes corruption next to impossible.

When it has been timidly suggested that the United States might own at least some of its railroads to advantage, the reckless innovators have been crushed under the question whether they wished to see all the conductors and brakemen in the country fighting for their jobs at every election.

S. F. Star: Let a poor woman "take" a loaf of bread to feed her starving children, or an old blanket to give warmth to their shivering bodies and it is called theft; but let a rich "lady" take for wraps and costly jewels and it is simply kleptomaniac. See the difference?

WORK OF THE COMBINES AND TRUSTS.

Admit They Throttled an Enterprise and Robbed the Public of $7,000,000—One Judge Found to Condemn It.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 12.—The case of Lewis C. Bramkamp of Cincinnati against the American Wire Nail company, the Indiana Wire Fence company and a dozen other individuals and corporations throughout the country, alleged to compose the wire nail trust, came up before United States Judge Baker in chambers today.

The plaintiff is a manufacturer of wire nails of Cincinnati, who alleges that he entered into contract with an Anderson, Ind., firm for forty-two wire nail machines. He alleges that the wire nail trust, by money and threats, caused the Anderson company to violate the contract and prevented him from securing machines elsewhere, thus ruining his business.

The defendants today admitted that the allegations of the bill are true, but asserted a lack of jurisdiction on the part of the court, which the latter overruled.

In an informal opinion Judge Baker hit hard at trusts. He said: "The trust described is an unlawful combination and conspiracy to raise the price of goods and to interfere with the manufacture of wire machinery, and is in direct violation of an act of congress, of good morals and of the public weal."

The New York Twentieth Century claims that Cleveland is worth over $5,000,000 all made in Wall street. The "Presidential clique" thereof is composed of Belmont (Rothschild's agent), J. Edward Simmons (head of the Clearing House Association), F. L. Stetson (in charge of Cleveland's investments), and William C. Whitney.

Cleveland's holdings in New York City alone, as specified in detail, but incomplete, figure up $1,690,000, besides which he is interested in Brooklyn gas, and the consolidated gas companies in that city are backed by Standard Oil.

When it has been timidly suggested that the United States might own at least some of its railroads to advantage, the reckless innovators have been crushed under the question whether they wished to see all the conductors and brakemen in the country fighting for their jobs at every election.

E. J. Kaiser, of Ashland, has filed a suit in the justice court for Ashland against W. M. Colvig, M. F. Eggleston, Robert Taylor, A. N. Solias and S. H. Holt, composing the Bryan union executive campaign committee of Jackson county, to recover $36.75, alleged to be due for labor and services rendered during the months of September and October, in publishing a newspaper certain matter furnished by the defendants, and in circulating the same, and in printing handbills and posters, "all of the reasonable value of $36.75."

Horticulturists and Dairymen.

Special courses for Horticulturists and Dairymen will be given at the State Agricultural College, beginning the second Monday of January, 1897, and continuing four weeks.

The course in Horticulture will include special studies and lectures on Plant Breeding, Fungus Diseases, Fruit Drying, and general cultivation, by Prof. U. P. Hedrick.

Lectures on Fruit Drying and Chemistry of Fruits and Soils will be given by Prof. G. W. Shaw.

Lectures on Insect Pests and General Entomology by Prof. A. B. Cordley.

COURSE IN DAIRYING. Lectures upon Breeds of Dairy Stock, Grasses and Forage Plants, and Stock feeding, by Prof. H. T. French.

These courses are provided for the practical Dairymen and Horticulturists who are desirous of taking advantage of the facilities offered by the agricultural college.

A complete program will be furnished upon application.

A Republican exchange says: One of the most interesting of the collection of women orators engaged by the Popocrats was Miss Eugenie Cook, the pride and idol of the Maryland Populists.

She has been giving the farming districts of her state some of her radical views on the questions of the day. Her voice is sweet but powerful, and she has the free-silver ideas all in form for most attractive presentation to the public.

Rural Northwest: Prof. F. L. Washburn, who while connected with the Oregon Agricultural College and Experiment Station was a frequent and welcome contributor to the Rural Northwest, recently supervised the planting of a load of eastern oysters in Oregon waters.

The Pacific distillery of Grants, Sherman county, which has been shut down for over a year, will resume again, owing to McKinley's election, says its manager.

SLEEPLESSNESS AND NERVE EXHAUSTION

PRODUCED BY INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM.

Two Cases in Gladwin County, Mich., Cited to Prove the fact that Nerve Debility can be Treated with a Nerve Food Successfully.

DO NOT USE A STIMULANT, USE A NERVE FOOD.

From the Courier-Herald, Saginaw, Mich.

In the long list of diseases that human flesh is heir to, none perhaps are more painful than inflammatory rheumatism and its attendant ills. The sufferer lies racked by pains that seem unbearable and many times even death itself would be a relief.

Recently, while a representative of the Courier-Herald was at the thriving village of Gladwin, Gladwin County, he heard of a case of this nature and that it had yielded to a short treatment with a celebrated remedy, the name of which has become a household word in every hamlet, village and city in the land.

Finally, one day in reading a newspaper, he encountered an item in regard to a case somewhat similar to his own, and read with great interest of the means by which it had been cured.

Then, at a time when the most serious consequences were threatened, she was induced to try a remarkable remedy that had cured one of her friends and after a short time a happy restoration of her terrible illness was assured.

She said that he was afraid to meet her, but it was not that. Her father always accompanies her on her trips, and he regards her as another Joan of Arc.
