PROCEEDINGS OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE FROM DAY TO DAY.

Further Doings of the Legislative Solons. Senate Piling Up Needless Expenses.

AN ADDRESS TO THE PUBLIC. Salem, Or., Jan. 19.—At a caucus of the People's party members held at the state house last night the following was adopted and signed by all who were present.

THE ADDRESS. Salem, Or., January 18, 1897. To the People's party of Oregon: The undersigned, your members elect of the legislative assembly, ask your loyal support and that of all good citizens in our contest for such an organization of the house as we believe will result in economical and remedial legislation that will make an honest vote and a fair count possible in Oregon.

We are requesting for a fair organization of the house in order to make possible the passage of the Bingham registration bill, the Holt judges of election bill, and an amendment to the constitution providing for direct law-making by the people by means of the Initiative and Referendum, in its optional form.

We are assured by eminent lawyers that the Bingham registration bill is constitutional and likely to be effective.

The Holt bill allows the county central committees of each of the three principal political parties to designate one judge of election in each precinct, and the committees of the two principal parties to each name one clerk of election in each precinct.

The Initiative and Referendum need no explanation to Oregonians.

These measures we believe to be all important in obtaining honest elections and control by the people of law making in Oregon and thereby preserving our liberties.

The situation is this: Last June the Republican party elected 38 members of the house of representatives. Only 23 of this number have agreed to act together in organizing the house. Part of the remaining ten Republican members support Mr. Bourne and part do not support any candidate.

The Populist and Democratic members are staying out until such time as the Republican majority may agree upon a candidate of their own for speaker, or until a sufficient number of them unite with us to assure Bourne's election, which we believe will enable us to obtain the measures herein named.

So long as the Republicans are thus divided and it is possible that we may, by preventing organization, finally elect Mr. Bourne and probably obtain the legislation before mentioned, we feel it to be our duty to the people of Oregon to stay out, wages or no wages.

With this knowledge of the facts we feel that we are entitled to your support for ourselves and our allies.

HOUSE DEADLOCK REMAINS. Salem, Jan. 20.—The morning session of the senate was a brief one, lasting only 30 minutes. Fourteen bills were read a second time and referred to their appropriate committees.

Four new bills were introduced as follows: Smith, fixing compensation of the clerk of the supreme court at $3000 per annum and abolishing his fees, and providing that the secretary of state and the state treasurer remit 75 per cent of their fees to the state treasury; Dawson, defining the terms land and real property for the purpose of taxation; Gesner, providing for the construction of a macadam road by convict labor from the asylum to the asylum farm and appropriating the amount of $6000 therefor; Harmon, establishing free public libraries and reading-rooms.

The senate then adjourned. Salem, Jan. 20.—The house met at 10 o'clock, and the rollcall showed 34 members present. There was no incident of any kind whatever during the session, and at 11:30 the house took a recess until 2 o'clock.

MORE DOINGS IN THE SENATE. Salem, Or., Jan. 21.—The senate was called to order at the usual hour by President Simon.

Three petitions for the passage of an act prohibiting the sale of cigarettes were read and referred. A resolution requesting the opinion of the attorney general as to whether the salaries of district and county officers can be reduced during their term of office; referred. A resolution requesting the secretary of state to deliver to the senate a joint resolution for the proposed woman suffrage amendment to the constitution passed by the last legislature; adopted.

Bills were introduced as follows: Carter, by request, to regulate manufacture and sale of commercial fertilizer; Driver, to provide for inspection of all private and public hospitals, etc.; Driver, to prevent wearing by teachers in public schools of any religious insignia, dress, mark or emblem. Adjourned.

A Word to Our Mis-Representative.

W. H. Nosler, in his letter from Salem to the Bulletin, says that if the Populists stand upon the record they are making, "they will never carry Coos county again."

The Populists of Coos county are entirely willing to stand upon the record made by any true and honest Populist, but this does not include the record being made by Mr. Nosler.

And further, we would much prefer defeat in fair, open warfare, than to be sold at the hands of a traitor to his party as we seem to have been by our representative this year.

COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE, Coos County People's Party.

Salem Capital Journal: When Justice Moore went upon the speaker's stand Thursday to swear in the members of the Benson faction, Speaker Davis informed him that this was an illegal proceeding not recognized by the temporary organization, which was acting under the state constitution. Judge Moore replied: "I understand the situation and am not passing on the legality of the proceedings in any form." He had official notice by Speaker Davis and recognized his statement.

United States senators elected Monday, 18th inst.: Geo. G. Vest (Dem.), Missouri; C. W. Fairbanks (Rep.), Indiana; J. W. Gallinger (Rep.), New Hampshire; Henry M. Teller, Colorado, who received almost the unanimous vote regardless of party; Thomas Platt (Rep.), New York. The Democrats in the latter state cast a complimentary vote for David B. Hill, although several Democratic members refused to abide by the caucus decision.

Capital Journal: "A road bonding bill" is one of the bills on the program advocated by the Mitchell papers. See the Statesman. It would deprive a majority of Oregon farmers of their homes inside of ten years and turnish bond speculators and bicyclists fine roads for pleasure rides.

Portland Telegram (Dem.-Rep.): No organization of the house means no senatorial election. Is it any wonder that a party by the name of Mitchell is willing to fly in the face of all common reason and parliamentary precedent in order to get the deadlock broken?

Attacks are being made upon the national military home management at Dayton, Ohio, because the veterans are fed 200,000 pounds of oleomargarine yearly, whereas Ohio penitentiary convicts are provided with country butter.

The saloon bond of Ben Woldt, of Corvallis, has been declared forfeited, the result of Woldt having sold liquor to minors. He only recently paid his license of $250. He was also fined $25. He will try to recover $200 of the $250.

"The House Deadlock"—what it means—is explained on 1st page in an article copied from the Capital Journal from a Republican standpoint. Read it.

The state senate now in session at Salem, consisting of 30 members, overwhelmingly Republican, has already appointed 56 clerks at $3 per day.

Several counties have held meetings and sent endorsements of the action of the Populists, Democrats and Republicans who have refused to be whipped into line so that an organization of the house at Salem can be effected to perpetrate partisan legislation and boss rule over the people. There are 10 Republicans in the list, including Judge Riddle of Douglas county, while Judge Geo. H. Williams of Portland, Secretary of State Kincaid, and it is said, Gov. Lord and many others sustain the deadlock.

Judge (to prospective jurymen)— "Have you any conceived ideas, sir, in regard to this case?" Prospective Jurymen—"Well, I think—" Judge—"Stop, sir; stop right there! You are disqualified for the duties of a jurymen." Tommy—I wonder why the words is spelled in such funny ways? Jimmy—"Cause they was made in the first place by the schoolteachers, and they made 'em that way so's they would have to be hired to teach how to spell 'em."
