OF INTEREST TO THE PEOPLE.

A NATIONAL SCANDAL.

Our Executives Dominated By Wall Street Influence—For 20 Years Gold Gamblers and Bond Syndicates Have Ruled.

The dealers in money are naturally in conflict with the dealers in every other kind of property.

They manipulate legislation in all countries in such a manner as to increase the value of money by lessening its volume. This cheapens the value of all other kinds of property. The boldest stroke ever made in this direction was the conspiracy which demoted silver.

Until then uncoined silver was worth just as much as the dollars into which it could be coined, and our silver dollars, because of their weight, were at a premium of 3 per cent all over the world.

The price of silver withstood the shock of demoralization in Germany and in the United States, and only commenced to decline when the mints of France were closed against it. This was only 22 years ago.

Great Britain demoted silver more than 80 years ago.

Silver coinage would have been restored in the United States in 1876 but for the old legislative trick of appointing a commission to investigate the subject. The splendid report of that commission in 1877 prepared by its chairman, the Hon.
John P. Jones of Nevada, opened the great debate which broke down all opposition in congress and would have resulted in the restoration of the free coinage of silver, but for another Wall street trick. This was the substitute of the purchase and coinage of a limited amount of silver instead of its unlimited coinage.

Congress would have fully restored silver at any time from 1879 until 1897 but for the baleful influence of Wall street, which dominated the executive. It has been the scandal of the period that the gold gamblers and the bond-selling syndicates of Wall street and their European associates have been introuched in the White House during the last 20 years. They have been the real power, while our presidents have merely been their instruments.

Party organizations have been play-things in their hands, and the people have been amused with discussions of the tariff and election laws and everything else except the one question in which they were most interested.

The quarrel between the Republican stalwarts of New York and the Republican half-breeds of Ohio made the election of Cleveland possible in 1884. He commenced his war against silver in a published letter a month before his inauguration. His ridiculous tariff letter of 1887 insured Republican success the following year, and Benjamin Harrison succeeded him as the representative of Wall street in the White House. Mr. Harrison's administration was perfectly faithful to its gold standard masters, but was only able to stem the flood in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver by the enactment of the Sherman purchase act, which doubled the amount of silver to be purchased monthly by the government.

In 1892 protection ran mad, and the Carnegie riots at Homestead again swept the Republican party from power and returned Mr. Cleveland. His nomination was bought outright by his gold trust principles, and his election was merely a demonstration of the popular wrath against the Harrison administration.

Installed a second time in the White House, he and the Republican servants of his Wall street masters co-operated together in the repeal of the Sherman purchase act. The distress brought upon the country by this crowning outrage resulted, as we know, in an uprising of the Democratic masses, his own virtual expulsion from his party by its national convention and the election of a Republican president by the notorious use of money and the general resort to intimidation of voters by many of the great corporations by which they were employed.

The spring elections throughout the western central states have given proof of the weakness of the Republican party when left to its own resources by the millionaires. In Chicago the Democracy have triumphed with the banner of free silver coinage at the masthead. So in Detroit. In Ohio the city elections plainly show that the Republicans have lost their hold on the state and foreshadow a triumph of the allied forces of bimetalism next November.

Let us not be diverted in the months to come from the one great issue—the restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of silver equally with gold at the ratio of 16 to 1 without consultation with any other nation. Our enemies refuse to meet us in a fair discussion on this great subject, but let us press it home upon them.

The contractionists offer us the bribe of an inflated bank currency.
Irredeemable bank notes for borrowers, but gold coin for lenders.
Let us teach them that it is not inflation we want, but only the restoration of the volume of money which they struck down. We want no "elastic" currency issued by the banks without any cost to themselves, but we want the sound money of gold and silver, and legal tender government notes redeemable in either at the government's pleasure.

Let the Republicans do the talking on the subject of the tariff and let them bring on prosperity by increased taxation and continued contraction if they can. But those who are not interested in upholding Wall street plans and policies will resume and continue the discussion of the money question and will make war upon the contractionists, by whose policy the country is being strangled.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Portland Dispatch: Bradstreet's, like all the trade journals, chatter of "the forces of conservatism and order," and is very much alarmed lest the gold Democrats get saucy and refuse to play on the Republican cellar door next time. It says: "There is real danger in a situation where men who have deserted party lines for a patriotic purpose feel that there has been a breach of trust as far as they are concerned." It is sad in deed.
But the same cohesive power will bind the two next time. Hanna will fix that.

S. F. Star: The supreme court is again on record for the monopolists, Harlan dissenting, in the Bell telephone case. A year or two ago it looked as if this monopoly was about to be set upon; but with "millions in it," the court has decided that the trickery of the company in delaying the issue of the microphone patent, applied for in 1880, until 1891, is not against the law, because there was no direct proof of collusion and fraud. Of course, there must have been such, and the effect is to give them an exclusive right for fourteen years from 1891, instead of from 1880.

S. F. Star: It was a starving, disemployed man, hunting work vainly for several weeks, who saved so many lives at the great Paris fair.
Exposure, hunger and injuries then made him mad, but he will probably recover. Tramps have more than once averted catastrophes on railroads; and the men hounded by Cleveland, Pullman & Co. are among the most heroic of our nation, rarely hesitating to face certain death to save their passengers. We have the wrong people on top.

S. F. Star: A musician of this city—old, poor and capable—last week offered to sell his body to raise money to pay rent. He afterwards withdrew the offer at the instance of his wife. Here is a lifelong struggle with society's enemy—landlordism.

Thousands commit suicide stances, to placate that idol, infinitely worse than any "graven image" that was ever worshipped.

S. F. Star: "Will Mr. Alger allow himself to be used?" asks the Examiner, referring to the secretary's obstructions to the San Pedro harbor work. Why ask such a silly question, when it is obvious that he has already been used, and is hand-in-glove with C. P. Huntington?

A fund is being raised in Portland for a $15,000 palatial home for Archbishop Grosz, in honor of his silver episcopal jubilee, which will occur in April of next year.

Joe Danlop, the notorious Chicago editor, is now in the Joliet penitentiary, where he will serve a two-years sentence. Of the copies of his paper which violated the United States laws, Judge Grosscup, the trial judge, trenchantly said: "They were no more mail-able than germs of yellow fever."

The senate has passed a joint resolution, the object of which is to permit the war department to contract for dredging work at Coos bay, instead of building a dredge as now required by statute.
It is to be inferred that the house will concur as soon as it takes up general legislation.

tan is the greatest diplomat in the

The Picket Guard.

"All quiet along the Potomac," they say, Except now and then a stray picket Is shot as he walks on his beat to and fro By a rifleman hid in the thicket."

"By nothing, a private or two now and then Will not count in the news of the battle;
Not an officer lost—only one of the men, Meaning out all alone the death rattle."

All quiet along the Potomac tonight, Where the soldiers lie peacefully dreaming, Their tents in the rays of the clear autumn moon,
Or the light of the watch-fires are gleaming; A tremulous sigh, as the gentle night wind Through the forest leaves softly is creeping, While stars up above, with their glittering eyes, Keep guard, for the army is sleeping.

There's only the sound of the lone sentry's tread, As he tramps from the rock to the fountain,
And thinks of the two in the low trundle bed, Far away in the cot on the mountain.
His musket falls slack, and his face dark and grim, Grows gentle with memories tender, As he mutters a prayer for the children asleep—For their mother, may heaven defend her.

The moon seems to shine just as brightly as then,
That night when the love yet unspoken, Leaped up to his lips, when low murmured vows Were pledged to be ever unbroken; Then drawing his sleeves roughly over his face, He dashes off tears that are welling,
And gathers his gun closer up to its place,
As if to keep down the heart swelling.

He passes the fountain, the blasted pine tree,
The footstep is lagging and weary, Yet onward he goes through the broad belt of light, Toward the shade of the forest so dreary.
Hark! Was it the night-wind that rustled the leaves, Was it moonlight so wondrously flashing?
It looked like a rifle—"Ha! Mary, good-bye!"
And the life-blood was ebbing and plashing.

All quiet along the Potomac tonight,
No sound save the rush of the river, While soft falls the dew on the face of the dead—
The picket's off duty forever.

IN BEHALF OF SILVER.

Senator Stewart Will Present an Amendment to the Tariff Bill.

Washington, May 18.—The gal-eries of the senate were filled when the session opened at noon, although Morgan's Cuban resolution was not in order until 2 o'clock.

Stewart of Nevada gave notice of an amendment he would offer to the tariff bill, providing that there shall be at all times a reserve fund in the treasury of $50,000,000; that whenever the available balance shall exceed $50,000,000 it shall be the duty of the secretary of the treasury to invest the surplus in United States bonds, and that when less than $50,000,000 is in the treasury, he shall issue legal tender non-interest bearing notes to make up the deficiency; that such notes be made payable out of any surplus over $50,000,000; that if insufficient coin to meet the coin obligations of the United States shall come into the treasury through ordinary sources of revenue, the secretary shall exchange silver certificates for the coin which is in the treasury for their redemption; that conversion of silver certificates shall discharge the coin obligations of the United States, and that it shall be the duty of the secretary of the treasury to coin sufficient silver bullion purchased under the law of July 14, 1890, to supply all deficiencies in the supply of coin (under these provisions), to meet and discharge all coin obligations presented.

The Morgan Cuban resolution was taken up at 2 o'clock. Maso of Illinois spoke in its support.
He read President McKinley's message to prove that a state of war exists in Cuba.

"If there is no war there ought to be one with us," he said, "Americans in Cuba should be defended with bayonets as well as with bread."

Portland Welcome: The "railroad commissioners" have met and made their very valuable periodical report. They traveled over certain roads, drawn by at engine propelled by steam, on steel rails laid on wooden ties, some of which are nearly new. They crossed several bridges—at great personal risk—and arrived safely at the great city of Salem.

Sheridan Sun: Max Pracht, the noisy jassax from Ashland, who went east for the appointment of marshal of Alaska, is said to be walking on his under lip.

Max Pracht is not so fat.
He didn't want any lean.
He spoke of this and he spoke of that,
But the president couldn't be seen.

Great Strike in the East.

New York, May 18.—There was no excitement manifested at the headquarters of the striking tailors, William Cohen, business agent of the Brotherhood of Tailors, said:

"In this city, Brooklyn and Newark, 18,000 men and women are on a strike. The strike affects the entire clothing manufacturing trade. The reason for the strike is the failure of the contractors to live up to an agreement made more than a year ago."

Cohen said Progressive Tailors' Union, No. 11, which will meet soon, will probably order a strike.
This union numbers 20,000 who make the better class of ready made garments. The cutters, who have a separate organization, will soon be forced into idleness.

It was said that the Pantsmakers' Union, No. 1, numbering 4000, will join the strikers.

The Bell Company Wins.

Washington, May 14.—The Bell Telephone Company has won the case brought against it by the United States to annul the last Berliner patent. This decision has the effect of continuing the control of the telephone by the Bell company for 17 years from the date of the last patent, which was granted in 1891.

Mr. Astor's Generosity.

New York, May 18.—A special to the Journal from London says: It is reported that the anonymous philanthropist who contributed £25,000 to the fund proposed by the Princess of Wales to feed the starving on the occasion of the queen's jubilee, is William Waldorf Astor.

California's Splitter.

San Francisco, May 15.—W. D.
Bradbury, the aged capitalist, who was fined recently for expediting in a street-car, is again arrested charged with the same offense. He insists upon his right to expecto-rate in a car, and announces his intention of carrying the case to the supreme court, if necessary.

Wages Reduced

Marlborough, Mass., May 14.— The S. H. Howe Shoe Company, operating four factories and employing 1500 hands, today announced that a reduction of 10 per cent in wages would be put into operation next week. It is not thought there will be a strike.

The Bozeman (Mont.) Chronicle tells of a Montana legislator, who, when some corrections in spelling and grammar in his bill were called to his attention by the committee, said: "Why, you fellows have mutilated it!" It was the same statesman who said, in addressing a committee of which he was a member: "The muddy slough of politics was the boulder upon which the law was split in twain, and fell in a thousand pieces from the pedro of justice. Let us, then, gear up our lions, that we can go forth with a clear head."

While a young lady in New York was bending over a washtub, the other day, a corset steel broke, pierced her heart and killed her.
This sort of accident is very rare; for the reason that young ladies do not bend over washtubs, and when they do there is nothing but hoops on the tub and no corsets on the lady.

A strictly high-grade Sewing Machine, finished throughout in a simple, yet most possible manner. It possesses all modern improvements, and its mechanical construction is such that it is a combined simple and strong machine, thus insuring ease of running, durability, and making it impossible for the machine to be put out of order. It sews fast and makes a perfect stitch with all kinds of thread and all classes of material. Always ready for use and unrivaled for speed, durability and quality of work. Notice the following points of superiority:

The Head of the "Arlington" swings on patent socket hinges, firmly held down by a thumb screw. Strong, substantial, most handsome in design, and beautifully ornamented in gold.
Bed plate has rounded corners and is inlaid or counterpane, making it flush with top of table.
Highest Arm—Space under the article from 12 inches high and 3 inches long, and admits the largest sizes and sizes. It is self-threading—Absolutely no holes to put thread through except eye of needle. Shuttle is a cylinder, open on end, entirely self-threading, easy to put in or take out; bobbin holds a large amount of thread. Stitch Regulator is on the end of the machine, beneath the bobbin winder, and has a scale showing the number of stitches to the inch, and can be changed from 8 to 24 stitches to the inch. Feed is double and extends on both sides of needle; never fails to take goods through; never stops at seams; movement is positive; no springs to break and get out of order; can be raised and lowered at will. Automatic Bobbin—When filling the bobbin automatically and perfectly smooth without locking the thread. Machine does not run while winding bobbins. Light Running—Machine is easy to run, does not fatigue the operator, makes little noise and sews rapidly. Stitches in a double lock stitch, the same on both sides, will not unravel, and can be changed without stopping the machine. Tension is a flat spring tension, and will adjust from 2 to 100 speed cotton without changing. Never gets out of order.
The Needle is a straight, self-setting needle, flat on one side, and cannot be put in wrong. Needle Bar is made of case-hardened steel, with all cup at the bottom to prevent oil from getting on the goods. Adjustable Bearings—All bearings are case-hardened steel, and are held in place with a screw driver. All lost motion can be taken up, and the machine will last a lifetime.
Attachments—Each machine is furnished with necessary tools and accessories, and in addition we furnish an extra set of attachments in a velvet lined metal box, free of charge, as follows: One ruffler and gatherer, one slider, one shirring plate, one set of four hemmers, different widths up to 3/4 of an inch, one tucker, one under trailer, one short or attachment foot, and one thread center. Woodwork of finest quality oak or walnut, Gothic cover and drawers, nickel-plated rings on drawers, dress case, a wheel, and device for reducing belt.

Don't pay prices for sewing machines. Buy direct from manufacturers and dealers' profits our great offer. We are offering a special wholesale price, but only to those who in order to introduce this high-grade sewing machine, we make a special
