

THE LABOR EXCHANGE.

Hard Times.

What is "hard times," anyway? Is it a lack of money? If you were on a desert island with a million dollars and no food, no clothing and no shelter, you would see hard times, wouldn't you? But if you had these and no money you would be comparatively well fixed, wouldn't you? Then the trouble lies not in the fact that the people have no money, but that they have not the necessities and comforts of life.

Money is or should be only a convenient method of exchange of the products of labor, instead of being looked upon as the great desideratum of life. What causes hard times? Here are millions of acres of idle land—millions of acres of idle machinery—millions of raw products and millions of idle men willing and anxious to finish that raw material and exchange the products of their labor with each other. Why can they not do this? Simply because private capital—a mineral which labor has produced and which has accumulated in the hands of idlers—owns the land and the machines and requires such a large percentage of the products of labor that labor can buy a very small proportion of what it creates.

If the consumption of potatoes was ten bushels to the man per year and the yield one hundred to the man per year and the yield one hundred bushels to the acre, and a owned all the available ground, there would be no need for a hire ten men to raise potatoes. B alone would raise one hundred bushels, keeping ten bushels for his labor and giving a ninety bushels for rent. A, though a monopolist, could use only ten bushels for himself, hence eighty bushels must be taken from the other nine men have nothing with which to buy. They must go hungry, although A has many acres of idle ground which it does not pay him to cultivate because there is an overproduction(?) of potatoes. But if the other nine men together with A's renter should say: "Here, we are tired of this. We will take your ground giving you checks which we will re-redeem in potatoes at the rate of ten bushels per year for ten years, and after that if you want potatoes you must raise them yourself," they would each of them need to work but a little over one-tenth of an acre for that period of time and but one-tenth thereafter to fully compensate A and supply their wants. This is merely an illustration from a snapposition basis, of course. There is nothing so strange about it as there are millions of farmers in this country who work from 80 to 160 acres of ground per year, who raise much more than enough food to abundantly supply the whole population of this country, and yet who not only skip their tables and wear the coarsest clothing, but who are apparently not self-sustaining—since the great majority of them are in debt.—Exchange.

A Labor Exchange is about to be organized at Marshfield, and we know of no place in the county where one could be run to better advantage. Readers of the HERALD on the bay, who are friendly to the people's interests and the general prosperity, should call at C. Howe's Racket Store and add their names. Information as to the workings of the Labor Exchange will soon be at hand. Read our Labor Exchange column from week to week.

Island Empire: The men who set around and complain of being unable to obtain employment and in the next breath laugh at the thought of the Labor Exchange movement being able to accomplish any good, reminds us of a man in a burning building, seeing a ladder raised and means to save his life at hand, turns around and sitting down in the dense smoke says: "there is no use, I might fall off the ladder before I reached the ground."

Accountant: Remember, Labor Exchange stands for employment first, and quick exchange and consumption of products. We be brethren, we be. Our object is to help one another to get what we each desire, and get it honestly by labor. We are going to insist on taking home and consuming some of the good things which we produce. "If this be treason make the most of it."

Accountant: The history of nearly every Branch is that of a hard struggle to gain a foothold, nearly always followed by unlooked for success. Don't hesitate, but manfully tackle—remember it's a groundhog case—since some unprincipled miscreant has side-tracked the long looked for train of "prosperity."

Labor Exchange Guide: Gold and silver can be made in unlimited quantities; greenbacks can be photographed in colors; diamonds made from yellow pebbles. What will the plutocrats do for something exclusive and precious to use for money?

Why pay a fancy price, including the traveling agent's commission and profits, for a sewing machine, when the HERALD can furnish you as good and handsome a machine, warranted for 10 years, at one fourth the cost? Don't do it.

Mrs. Lilly Cox and Mrs. Matheny came up from Beaver Hill last Wednesday, the former to spend a fortnight with her parents and friends here. She brought that wonderful baby with her—its first visit to its grandparents and great-grandfathers on both sides.

The HERALD is authorized to offer a sewing machine that is equal to the best and less than one-third the cost of others to the public. The "Improved New High-Arm Arlington" is offered on a 30-day trial, and is warranted for 10 years. Read our advertisement, on last page.

Some people who don't get the HERALD, because the times are so close, pay 20 or 25 years' subscription to the agent of a sewing machine company. We can save you this, and furnish you as good or a better machine, guaranteed for 10 years, at the manufacturers' price. Try it, and see.

Read Mrs. S. S. Barklow's testimonial about the Arlington sewing machine she received through the HERALD. We have ordered another for other parties, and how long we shall be able to supply a first-class sewing machine for $18.50, we do not know; some prefer to pay $65 and $75 to "protect" home industries, so-called.

Rev. H. H. Buckner, of Marshfield, visited his father, Rev. Dr. N. S. Buckner and family, of Bandon, last week, returning Thursday. Rev. Dr. Buckner has been in failing health for some time and thought of resigning his present post and going to the valley, but we are pleased to state that a change for the better has taken place and he will remain at Bandon, for the present at least.

The burden of labor is constantly being lightened by new inventions, but nothing new has yet been discovered to brighten the hours of labor, and make life worth living like Simmons Liver Regulator does. It's the King of Liver Medicines. A sluggish liver depresses one's spirits and causes languor, besides upsetting the whole system. But Simmons Liver Regulator tones up and strengthens the body.

CHEAP, CHEAPER, CHEAPEST.

No merchants, nowadays, would dare to ask big prices unless you would credit which means "uncertainty of pay," maybe. They sell goods cheap, but there are others who sell cheaper, and still others who sell cheapest. The Berlin Store is not one of those cheapest stores, however, understand; it is the "Only Cheapest"!!!!!!

The "boy editor" of this city and correspondent of the Myrtle Point Enterprise is not authorized to advertise our courthouse cut for sale. It was ordered and made for the HERALD, at the time that "distracting litigation" was going on, but not of sufficient importance to cause us to "countermand the order," and is therefore the property of the HERALD. It is not for sale; neither is the editor. We did not pretend to advocate the location of the county seat at Coquille City and then vote for a known enemy to that question, who favored a division of the county in case the people spoke; neither did we harbor for "Bryan and free silver," and then vote for one of half-a-dozen sound-money Democrats, so-called, in the county and county committee duties, and who either directly or indirectly supported McKinley for president. No, thank you; we can attend to our own affairs and always be found where principle and duty lead.

(Marshfield Sun.) James Watson, of Marshfield, passed the necessary examination at Salem this week, and will return home a full-fledged lawyer. The schooner Encore was successfully launched at North Bend last Saturday. The launch was witnessed by an aggregation of people from all points on the bay. The Coos Bay Canning company was organized Monday by electing the following directors: J. B. Harslett, Harry Graves, Wm. H. Smith, John W. Cruse and H. Sengstacken. Fifty-three law students took the examinations for admission to the bar before the supreme court today. Two of the number are women. Tomorrow the Marshfield Graded and High School will hold its First Annual Commencement Exercises in Gdd Fellows' hall. The class of graduates consists of Maggie Anderson, Jottie Watson, Gussie Smith and Archie Palzer. In the evening the closing exercises of the school will be given.

The model for another schooner, with a carrying capacity of 1,000,000 feet of lumber, has been sent to Captain Simpson at San Francisco, for his approval, and it is probable that work on the same will commence shortly. Captain Simpson will arrive on the bay next week on business connected with the building of the new vessel.

A runaway team came dashing down A street, Tuesday, without any driver, and for a moment it looked as though the frightened animals and wagon would bring up in the bay, but the horses evidently changed their minds suddenly and came to a halt with their heads extended over the water and their fore feet on the outer stringer of the wharf. How is this for a close call?

Speaking of pioneers, we had a chat with Bob Starkey, with reference to the length of time that he has been on the Pacific coast. He tells us that the present year makes the period of his sojourn in this incomparable climate 49 years. He antedates the 49ers, having arrived in San Francisco, California, from Norfolk, Virginia, on board the U. S. sloop of war, St. Mary's, 22 guns, in 1848. Drifting along the coast in the lumber business, he came to Port Orford in 1862, and afterwards in 1863 engaged in lightering coal for Messrs. Flanagan & Mann, at the Newport coal mine, this county. He promised to give us, at a future date, a few remarks about San Francisco and vicinity in those early days. Bob speaks highly of this climate, and asserts that he is a living embodiment of its healthfulness.

J. H. S. Kimball & Co. to ship his coal. The steamer Moro will be kept on this route, and the Albion will be used when needed, and Mr. Timon was informed that, if necessary, a new vessel, adapted to the Coquille bar and river, the model of which has already been made, would be constructed for this trade.

Mrs. M. D. Jenkins was gored severely, in the left thigh, Monday morning, by a cow. Mr. Jenkins was milking a cow which had a young calf, and Mrs. Jenkins, who was on the opposite side of the cow, began to fondle the calf when the cow became enraged and attacked her. The cow was one that they had milked for a year or two, and was not considered at all vicious. Mr. Jenkins had considerable trouble in driving the cow off. The flesh was torn for five or six inches and to a depth of about three-fourths of an inch.

After considerable speculation it got out that the remains were part of an old skull and cross-bones used by the A. P.'s in their initiatory ceremonies.

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, CATARRH, ASTHMA, HEADACHE

Hundreds of thousands of Sufferers cured without a single failure by "FIVE DROPS."

Though so universally used and tested did you ever hear anyone speak ill of this great remedy? No, you never did and never will, for if taken as directed and in the proper quantity "Five Drops" cannot fail to cure any of the diseases for which it is recommended. What it has already done to relieve the suffering is told in thousands of letters of grateful praise.

Mr. J. P. Lindeburner, widely known for many years as the special representative of the Populist Press of the United States, has kindly furnished the following letter for publication: Jan. 25, 1897. DEAR SIRS—I am anxious for the sake of the suffering and out of gratitude to you to give my personal endorsement of your wonderful remedy. On the 24th of January, 1897, I was in Washington and was suddenly seized with an aggravated case of indigestion, rheumatism, so severe and painful was the attack that within 24 hours my left arm was paralyzed and I was only able to dress with assistance. I secured a bottle of FIVE DROPS and took a dose that night, rubbing some on externally as directed. The following morning I was surprised to find myself immensely relieved, and continuing treatment woke the second morning cured. My arm was absolutely free from pain, and all swelling and stiffness had disappeared. The quickness and completeness of my cure was remarkable. I have not returned over a year of the most active professional life, and have several friends who have been cured by this remedy. Catarrh and Asthma, and all other ailments, and trusting that those similarly afflicted will all give this remedy a trial. Sincerely yours, J. P. LINDEBURNER, Bureau of Populist and Reform Papers, Old Stock Exchange Building, Chicago, Ill.

CURES THE INCURABLE. DEAR SIRS—I would like to thank you for your great remedy, "DROPS," and tell you what it has done for me. I had rheumatism in every joint and in the spine, and I had Catarrh of the head for 30 years. I was so poorly that I lost the use of my legs and arms, and could not move without pain. I was so crippled, that I had done some little work for several years, and our family physician, a good doctor, told me that my rheumatism and Catarrh were incurable, and I believed him. But now, after using "DROPS" only two months, I can truly say I have not felt so well since I was a child. I have gained more than is claimed for it. At this time my Catarrh is much better, and I have scarcely any rheumatism at all, and my joints are strong and pain are gone. I have gained more than is claimed for it. I have gained more than 10 pounds of flesh and can do a full day's work. It is the best medicine I ever saw to give a mother who has a young child, for it has the same effect on the child as on the mother. It works off Catarrh and cures the lives of the child and causes sweet and refreshing sleep to both young and old. Yours respectfully, W. M. KELLEMS, Silicia, Perry Co., Ind. Jan. 25, 1897.

We received the following letter from Mr. J. J. Wilson of Omaha, Ill., Mr. Wilson has been for many years an invalid and reading the above letter who had published several times, Kellems, asking if his endorsement was genuine, and received this reply, which is forwarded, MR. J. J. WILSON. DEAR SIR—Your letter of recent date at hand, the testimonial you speak of is genuine. The company who manufactures and sells "DROPS" published my testimonial just as I gave it to them and every word of it is true, and I could swear to it and prove it by many witnesses. The company did not ask me for this letter. I sent it to them last January for publication in order that poor sufferers, incurable as I once was, and as you are, might be cured. Get "DROPS" and use it and it will cure you as it has cured me. I have received many letters like yours, and it is a pleasure to me to answer all who write. Tell all your neighbors what I know "DROPS" is. I know "DROPS" is the best medicine I have ever seen, and I am satisfied, for though I suffered so long, it is now 30 months since I have felt any pain. Dr. S. W. Kellems, and brother, uses "DROPS" in his practice, and joins me in endorsing this great remedy. He says for a case like yours it is a positive cure. Sincerely yours, W. M. AND DR. S. W. KELLEMS, Sept. 21, 1896.

If you have not sufficient confidence after reading these letters to send for a large bottle, send for a sample bottle, which contains sufficient medicine to convince you of its merit. This wonderful curative gives almost instant relief and is a permanent cure for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Backache, Asthma, Hay Fever, Catarrh, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Nerve and Neuritic Headaches, Heart Weakness, Toothache, Earache, Croup, "La Grippe," Malaria, Creeping Numbness, Bronchitis and Kindred Diseases. "FIVE DROPS" is the name and dose. Large bottles (50 doses), $1.00. Six bottles for $5.00. Same bottle for $1.00, sold by druggists, but only by us and our agents. Agents appointed in new territory.
