The steamer Coquille River reached this place from San Francisco last Friday morning, fairly well loaded with freight for this valley and having 9 passengers. Coal mining operations at Riverton have taken on a new lease of life and energy. The mismanagement or something has thrown the Bandon Block Coal Co's interests into other hands, and we have reason to believe that Peter Loggie and Robert Marsden will push the enterprise to success. Additionally to this, Messrs. Peterson, McCormac & Foster have organized and will open the Kight vein, beginning this week. This is a 6-foot vein of the best coal yet found in the neighborhood, and with such practical coal mining experts as Peterson and McCormac at the lead must prove a success and source of profit to all. We wish them unbounded prosperity.

Don't think because you are sick and nothing seems to give you relief that you can't be cured.

There must be a cure for you somewhere.

If your doctor can't cure you, perhaps he has mistaken the cause. Everybody is liable to make a mistake sometimes.

A crowd of boys, despite personal warnings, have been congregating about the school building since school closed and indulged in throwing clods and other missiles at the swallows' nests under the eaves and have succeeded in breaking four lights of glass. Now, we shall see if they will come up with the cost of the glass and replacing them, since they so boldly asserted their responsibility for any damage they might do, or will they permit it to be taken into court and pay the damages, fine and costs? The parties are known and the school board may take the latter view of it only, because so persistently and wilfully done.

Body of a Drowned Man Found.

The body of a drowned man was found on the beach Sunday by Luther Tension, near the mouth of Whisky Run and the black sand mines. Papers were found on the person of the corpse, portions of which were deciphered and disclosed the identity of the person. He was a Columbian river fisherman with first or given name to Jesse, but the last name was not plain nor satisfactorily made out. He delivered his last fish at the cannery May 18th last. He was evidently drowned on the Columbia and was washed down the coast on an outer current, for the inner current goes north. Several fishermen were drowned there a few weeks ago, and, in fact, are almost daily, while these memoranda would indicate that he belonged in that locality. No fisherman has been drowned here that is known, nor any one else, for that matter, in a long while.

Deceased was well dressed, and had $2.50 in money, a silver watch and pocketknife in his pockets. A Fisherman's Union card, for Astoria F. P. U., No. 100, was found also. The remains were buried in the sand hills on the beach, near where the remains were found.
