THE LABOR EXCHANGE.

More Than a Wedge.

The Labor Exchange has been called an entering wedge—an opening by which the people might find the way out of the present chaos of bad conditions, into an era of freedom, justice and happiness. The idea thus expressed is that upon reaching that haven, the system might be dropped for better arrangements. This may be true, for we cannot foresee what new necessities may come to us in the future. But with our present light, it appears to us that the Labor Exchange is something more than an "entering wedge". It has within it the elements of endurance; it possesses nothing that unfits for the freest and most prosperous kind of a society. In the first place it provides for equity in exchange of labor's product—the fundamental principles of such a society. Next, it is purely voluntary. It does not interfere with the existence of other organizations of a just nature. Again, it is co-operative, leading to fraternity, yet does not force co-operation on any one who does not believe in it. It leaves plenty of room for those who prefer individual to co-operative effort It is sufficiently united in its organization as a whole, for convenience in regulating any necessary business arrangements, and for the fostering of brotherliness among its members; yet each branch is free enough to satisfy the most zealous advocate of individual liberty. Its organization is such that the most gigantic enterprise, such as railroad building, could be managed successfully. The organization of so large a body of people as belongs to a great nation like the United States, under one head to which every one must bow, whether willing or not, must be fraught with danger, no matter how well planned. There must always be more or less of corruption, despotism, unfairness. But the simple Labor Exchange, which provides a mere center of communication and instruction, while it leaves each branch free to work in its own way, forces no one into its ranks and interferes with no other organization, seems to us the ideal plan of a just and happy society. It is local, self-government, pure and simple. It is more than a wedge—it is a pattern.—Labor Exchange Guide.

Room for the Disinherited.

Fifteen thousand unemployed men are said to be rapidly moving westward over the Kansas plains. They will join the other thousands in like condition in Colorado and overrun the state like a cloud of locusts. What shall be done with these unfortunates? Imprison them? Ship them out of the state? Brand them as dangerous criminals? These are the remedies proposed alike by the politicians and the frightened rabble. But these men are human. They are inteligent. Many of them are skilled craftsmen. They want employment. Colorado has boundless resources; farms which need cultivating; mines which should be developed. There is abundant room in this state for one thousand times the number of this army of unemployed. The rugged mountains, the broad hills, the fertile valleys invite them. And yet, for want of a little common sense, a little humanity, these unfortunate beings will be treated like a plague; suppressed while they remain, gotten rid of as soon as possible. This because a few other men, made greedy by a former fear of want, have monopolized the bounties of nature and fenced in all that is necessary to enable those wealth-producers to enrich themselves and this community. What intolleranble folly! When will the people Ge the light?—Labor Exchange guide.

Labor Exchange Guide: During the recent hot spell in the east the very poor have been the worst sufferers. Deprived of the bare comforts, forced to herd in miserable hovels without proper ventilation, pestered with vermin, subjected to foul odors, their condition is at all times terrible; but human imagination can scarcely conjure up the awful horrors of their condition during such a visitation of heat. O, this accursed system of greed and cruelty! What crimes are being committed under the cloak and by the sanction of society! If there are such gentle things as angels, they must needs weep out their eyes for the woes of humanity.

Accountant: Some opponents of the Labor Exchange are peddling their little stock of falsehoods and malice wherever they can find a listener. One of the assertions used by this class of knaves and political demagogues is that the Labor Exchange "is opposed to the use of government money." This is false. On the other hand, it is the lack of government money, and the consequent stagnation of business, that makes our system necessary. We propose to abolish interest and credit by providing a medium of exchange equal to the demands of business.

Economy is something that everybody tries to practice, and yet just a little oversight will sometimes rob the most frugal and thrifty family of a year's savings. You want to do as J. P. Colonel John T. Crisp, of Missouri, ran against a boastful foreigner who emitted verbal diagrams of what the British navy would do to this country in event of war. "We wouldn't do a thing to you," responded the Missouri colonel, "but before England's navy had ours whipped our fellows would have tunneled the Atlantic ocean and marched into London on horseback." At this point the conversation lagged.

The North Fork Methodist Church Property.

ED. HERALD—Dear Sir: As the U. B. church (or some of its members) on the North Fork who have been using our church have circulated the report that it was not deeded to the M. E. church, south, I wish to give a portion of the deed on record in the clerk's office which will settle the question, as follows:

J. B. Fox and wife to Board of Trustees of Coquille Circuit M.E. Church, South, of Coos County, Or.	Deed dated Dec. 3, 1893, Consideration $1.

Without giving description will say, the amount of land is one acre, more or less. The following clause is inserted in the deed:

"In trust, that said premises shall be held, kept, maintained and disposed of as a place of divine worship, for the use of the ministry and membership of the Methodist Episcopal church, south; subject to the discipline, usage, and ministerial appointments of said church, as from time to time authorized and declared by the general conference of said church, and the annual conference within whose bounds the said premises are situate."

It is enough for those using the building of another church (as is proper and right with permssion) to disrespect the organizations and authority of the church owning the the building; but when they begin to take charge and deny the rightful owners it is wrong.

Religion does nothing but that which is strictly honest. Supposing them to be sincere, but ignorant of the real fact of the case, I submit this as information.

Respectfully,

W. B. SMITH.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Science of the 19th Century looks on with amazement at the most remarkable record of cures ever known in the World's history.

5 DROPS

Hundreds of thousands of Sufferers cured without a single failure by "FIVE DROPS."

Though so universally used and tested did you ever hear anyone speak ill of this great remedy? No, you never did and never will, for if taken as directed and in the proper quantity "5 Drops" cannot fail to cure any of the diseases for which it is recommended. What it has already done to relieve the suffering is told in thousands of letters of grateful praise.

Mr. J. P. Limeburner, widely known for many years as the special representative of the Populists and Free Silver Press of the United States, has kindly forwarded the following letter for publication:

Jan. 25, 1897.

DEAR SIRS—I am anxious for the sake of the suffering and out of gratitude to you to give my personal endorsement of your wonderful remedy. On the 9th of January, 1897, I was in Washington and was suddenly seized with an aggravated case of inflammatory rheumatism; so severe and painful was the attack that within 24 hours my left arm was paralyzed and I was only able to dress with assistance. I secured a bottle of 5 DROPS and took a dose that night, rubbing some on externally as directed. The following morning I was surprised to find myself immensely relieved, and continuing treatment woke the second morning cured. My arm was absolutely free from pain, and all swelling and stiffness had disappeared. The quickness and completeness of my cure was remarkable. I have known for over a year of the great curative properties of your medicine and have several friends who have been cured by it of Neuralgia, Catarrh and Asthma. Wishing you every success and trusting that those similarly afflicted will at least give this remedy a trial. Sincerely yours J. P. LIMEBURNER,

Bureau of Populist and Reform Papers. Old Stock Exchange Building, Chicago, Ill.

CURES THE INCURABLE.

DEAR SIRS:—I would like to thank you for your great remedy, "5 DROPS," and tell you what it has done for me. I had Rheumatism in every joint and in the heart, and I had Catarrh of the head for 20 years, I was so poorly that I lost the use of my legs and arms, and could not move without pain. I was so crippled, that I had done but little work for seven years, and our family physician, a good doctor, told me that my Rheumatism and Catarrh were incurable, and I believed him. But now, after using "5 DROPS" only two months, I can truly say I have not felt so well for seven years. This medicine does more than is claimed for it At this time my Catarrh is much better, and I have scarcely any Rheumatism at all and the heart weakness and pain are gone. My hearing is now good and my eyesight is much better I have gained more than 10 pounds of flesh and can do a full day's work. It is the best medicine I ever saw to give a mother who has a young child, for it has the same effect on the child as on the mother. It wards off Croup and cures the hives of the child and causes sweet and refreshing sleep to both young and old

Yours respectfully, WM. M. KELLEMS,
Jan. 29, 1896. Siberia, Perry Co., Ind.

We received the following letter from Mr. J. J. Wilson of Omaha, Ill. Mr. Wilson has been for many years an invalid, and reading the above letter which was published, wrote Mr. Kellems, asking if his endorsement was genuine, and received this reply, which he forwarded us.

MR. J. J WILSON.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of recent date at hand, the testimonial you speak of is genuine. The company who manufactures and sells "5 Drops" published my testimonial just as I gave it to them and every word of it is true, and I could swear to it and prove it by many witnesses. The company did not ask me for this letter. I sent it to them last January for publication in order that poor sufferers, incurable as I once was, and as you are, might be cured Get "5 Drops" and use it and it will cure you as it has cured me. I have received many letters like yours, and it is a pleasure to me to answer all who write. Tell all your neighbors what I have written about "5 Drops." I know how to sympathize with those who are afflicted, for though I suffered so long, it is now 8 months since I have felt any pain.

Dr. S. W Kellems, my brother, uses "5 Drops" in his practice, and joins me in endorsing this great remedy. He says for a case like yours it is a positive cure.

Sept. 21, 1896. MR. W. M. AND DR. S. W. KELLEMS.

If you have not sufficient confidence after reading these letters to send for a large bottle, send for a sample bottle, which contains sufficient medicine to convince you of its merit. This wonderful curative gives almost instant relief and is a permanent cure for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Backache, Asthma, Hay Fever, Catarrh, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Nervous and Neuralgic Headaches, Heart Weakness, Toothache, Earache, Croup, "La Grippe," Malaria, Creeping Numbness, Bronchitis and Kindred Diseases.

"FIVE DROPS" is the name and dose. Large bottles (300 doses), $1.00. Six bottles for $5.00. Sample bottle prepaid by mail 25c. Not sold by druggists, but only by us and our agents. Agents appointed in new territory.
