OF INTEREST TO THE PEOPLE.

A Year of Prosperity.

November 4, 1896.
Prosperity now in sight;
People howling with delight;
Flags a-flying, fireworks burned;
Still, the good times are adjourned.

March 4, 1897.
Prosperity right at hand;
Hanna's in front with a band;
Speeches long by all concerned;
Still, the good times are adjourned.

April 4, 1897.
Prosperity surely now;
Special session, big pow-wow;
Tariff in he House is churned;
Still, the good times are adjourned.

May 4, 1897.
Prosperity here at last;
Senate has it, blow a blast;
All old schedules now are spurned;
Still, the good times are adjourned.

July 4, 1897.
Prosperity surely—nit!
Trusts put their big feet on it;
People say: "Well, I'll be durned!"
Hanna laughs, when it's adjourned.

November 4, 1897.
Prosperity not in sight;
Buckeyes voting all their might;
Hanna's sorry now he blundered—
Good times due in 1900!
—Cecil Leslie, in Cleveland Recorder.

THE PREFERENTIAL PLAN

For Nominating Candidates—How to Ballot and Get the People's Choice.

In nominating candidates by ballot, by the preferential plan, the voter should make the

" 2 " " " 2d "
" 3 " " " 3d "
" 4 " " " 4th "
" 5 " " " 5th "

and so on, if there be more than five candidates for the office, until he has designated his preference for each candidate on the ballot, as per sample below:

County Clerk.		Sheriff.
R. Roe	4	S. Small	3
John Doe	6	J. D. Driver	5
P. Jones	2	O. Scott	1
S. Dives	3	Peter Cooper	4
F. Pool	1	T. Devine	2
T. Darwin	5

The tallysheet should be prepared and the tally kept as follows, to wit:

County Clerk.
R Roe	4	5	4	6	3	6	5	3	5	6—47
John Doe,	6	6	3	5	2	4	3	2	6	5—42
P Jones	2	1	2	1	1	5	6	1	3	4—26
S Dives	3	2	6	3	4	2	4	5	4	2—35
F Pool	1	3	5	4	5	3	1	6	2	3—33
T Darwin,	5	4	1	2	6	1	2	4	1	1—27

Using the figure representing the choice of the voter in talleying. Should any voter fail to designate his preference for each candidate on the ticket, those not designated shall be counted and tallied as last choice; that is, the figure representing the number of candidates for that office shall be counted for such candidate. The voters of each precinct shall choose three judges and two clerks, who shall conduct the election in a similar manner to that of conducting a general election, and when the votes are all cast the judges shall call off as follows: R. Roe 4, John Doe 6, P. Jones 2, S. Dives 3, F. Pool 1, T. Darwin 5, etc; and the clerks shall write the figures as called off in the column to the right of the candidate's name, as above shown. When all the votes have been tallied the clerks shall foot up each candidate's column of figures and announce the results. One talleysheet shall be securely wrapped up with the ballots cast and sent to the county convention. The county convention shall take the footings of the various precincts for each candidate, respectively, and the one having the smallest total footing for any office shall be the regular nominee of the party. In case of a tie, the convention shall proceed to examine the tickets, ascertain who has received the most No. 1, that is first choice votes, and declare him the nominee.

It will readily be observed that the smaller the footing the nearer the first choice the candidate is, as a column of 3s and 6s foot up faster than 1s and 4s. Whenever this plan is understood—and it is certainly not hard to understand—it will be universally endorsed, as it is the only way to get the real choice of the majority of the voters.

ALPHA.

Cleveland Recorder: When hereafter we are told that certain professors say this or that or the other, we shall want to know who endows colleges in which they manage to keep their jobs—in other words, what plutocrat is their master. This action of the trustees of Brown University discredits the utterances on economic questions of all professors in colleges that are endowed by the rich. The public is not likely to repose much confidence in the intellectual probity of school masters who teach the round system or the flat system, according to the preference of the trustees.

Goldwin Smith; No Christian who knows the gospel can possibly believe that it warrants him in living uselessly by the sweat of another man's brow.

Debs is Right This Time.

The Bee cannot be suspected of any leaning toward E. V. Debs. It has always held that he has done incalculable injury to the cause of labor, and that he is today about the worst counselor the laboring men could possibly have.

At the same time, this paper must admit that the mine-owners of West Virginia have adopted the very best method to make him popular and strong—yea, almost invincible. The attempt to crush in his person the constitutional right of every American citizen to free speech was not only criminal; it will prove to be—a greater sin in the eyes of those who gave it birth—a piece of idiotic stupidity.

In striking at Debs the circuit court of Marion county, West Virginia, struck at the rights of every freeman in the land; aimed a blow at the liberty of thought and freedom of speech granted to the individual, which are guaranteed by the constitution, and that guarantee sealed by the blood of the heroes of the land.

To deny Debs his right is to deny it to every other American citizen, to spit upon the essence of the Declaration of Independence, and to trample upon the vital principles of the constitution.

No true American, with red blood in his veins, can stand idly by and not protest against this shameful invasion of the rights of freemen by the courts.

No American, with enough Americanism in him to fit him for citizenship, will fail to applaud these words even though they were uttered by E. V. Debs, a man whom generally we cannot but denounce:

"This injunction restrains me from walking on any of the highways leading to the mines of the Mononagh Coal and Coke Company. It is most sweeping, and none other can be compared to it. This injunction annihilates the right of peaceable assemblages, and effectually suppresses free speech. If it is sustained, and I have no doubt it will be, it sweeps away all constitutional safeguards, and delivers us, bound, hand and foot, to corporation capital.

"I hold the injunction and the judge who issued it in supreme contempt. If I have occasion to raise my voice in behalf of the famishing miners in Jackson's jurisdiction, I propose to do so, or at least make an attempt to, regardless of this infamous injunction.

"The farce of this proceeding is that the injunction is issued by a judge. It ought to come direct from the coal operators, and at least hypocrisy would not intensify the infamy of the proceedings."

Debs is right.

The circuit court of Marion county, West Virginia, did not so much attack him, as it perpetrated an outrage on the sacred rights of American citizenship.

The trusts should beware lest they invoke such gag law once too often. Surely they who sow the wind of such assaults upon the constitution will be the first to reap the whirlwind in blood if the throttling of Liberty begets widespread anarchy. —Sacramento Bee.

The Real Anarchists.

ED. HERALD: The promoters of anarchy may be found in that class which is continually absorbing the rights of the people. Step by step, they are insidious in criminality; disguising their rascality with the glass of necessity, and clothing it in a fictitious legal garb. In their actions we find the foundation of revolution, and we rehearse the lesson taught by the French Reign of Terror. The action of corrupt federal judges, who issue unlawful injunctions against the constitutional right of all the people to hold meetings and discuss their grievances to engage in labor and to quit employment at pleasure, teaches us that the time is approaching when it will become necessary for the people to disobey those tyrants and to assert their God-given right to freedom. A few scoundrelly, plutocratic agents are now invested with the ermine of justice; they recognize no right of the common people, and lie when they take the oath of office. Cromwell was said to have advanced the cause of the common people, and to have elevated England to a high plane of distinction; yet a pamphlet was printed by his enemies which stated that, "to kill him was no murder." Are we approaching a stage, when the removal of tyrants will be considered a necessity?

STAR KEY.

Republicans have no other uses for the state than to have it act as a collection agency, and to keep on hand a well-drilled and ever-ready posse to carefully and promptly "protect" corporations in their raids on the people.

We Could do Without Them.

After a long list of good things, in the way of machinery locomotion, etc., that we didn't have eighty years ago, The Rajah, in the Cincinnati Chronicle, specifies quite a number of bad things we didn't have, as follows:

No trusts.

No laws against trusts to make law ridiculous because of non-enforcement.

No mills and factories standing idle that trusts might fatten.

No laws against tramps and no tramps.

No Pullman employes starving while the stock paid 12 per cent dividends, and no Pullman's daughter to get $10,000 a year for putting no names no one can pronounce.

No thirty-story buildings, and no asylums for the insane that it would tire you to walk around.

No man worth $200,000,000, and no newspaper recording suicides under one-line headings.

No paresis and no appendicitis, and no gold standard.

But there were men who had the backbone to declare and reiterate their independence of any other nation on earth.

He continues:

"Eighty years ago there lived in Philedelphia a man whose name had passed into a proverb of the day. When people wished to speak of immense wealth they used to say: "As rich as Girard." Less considerably than sixty years ago that proverb was current; but it is obsolete now, for two reasons. Stephen Girard was only worth $7,000,000, and that amount wouldn't buy white chips in the game of today; and besides he stipulated in his will that no Christian minister should ever enter Girard College, an educational institution which he endowed for the benefit of humanity. For these reasons his name is never mentioned in circles that are strictly respectable, although the parsons have no hesitancy in disregarding his wish and forcing their way into the temple that he hoped to keep sacred the days that are to come and to the abolition of the government of the living by the dead."

Served With Their Own Sauce.

Governor Black, of New York, uses no liquor and does not serve any to his guests. This arouses the antipathy of the liquor men. The Wine and Spirit Gazette says that in view of Governor Black's offensive teetotalism he could never be re-elected, and adds: "This is no Prohibition state, by any means. Its governor therefore has no right to make thus conspicuous his puritanical notions. Governor Black is to be pitied for denying himself one of God's blessings and condemned for denying it to others." So it has even come to the point where a man in public life is not to be permitted to regulate the affairs of his own household, has it? Suppose the governor doesn't like the stuff; must he drink it to please the dealers? Suppose that his sole objection to liquor is that its use injures the health, must he yet drink it and give it to others contrary to his best judgment?

Does the governor smoke? If he does, is it pipes, or cigars, or cigarettes? If he doesn't smoke, it is now time for the tobacco men to voice their protest. If he does smoke, but prefers a pipe, the cigar men should murmur and call him a niggardly old rascal. Perhaps he is coloring a meerschaum. If so, the makers of clay pipes and corncobs have a grievance; let them be heard; he is discriminating against them. Does he eat pie and serve it on his table? Or has he a puritanicdl prejudice against pastry? Let the bakers arise and as one man condemn him; he is injuring their trade. The very men who cry out against the "invasion of personal liberty" when laws to regulate the liquor traffic are proposed are first to seek to regulate the proposed affairs of other men. Governor Black never conceded to them any such privilege, and will probably not change his habits simply to gratify them.—Del Norte Record.

The long-standing fight between Fulton, Ills., and Rock Island for the location of the headquarters of the Modern Woodmen of America culminated Friday in a hand-to-hand fight between scores of partisans of the respective towns, in which a number of persons were seriously injured. Head Attorney Johnson has been placed under arrest for inciting a riot. The last convention at Milwaukee voted to move headquarters to Rock Island where the people offered to give the order a permanent building, and this action has caused all the trouble.

A medical journal makes some display of an article entitled: "How to treat drunkards." Why treat them at all? The "treating habit" is said to be responsible for drunkards.

ARRESTED FOR COUNTERFEITING.

Peculiar Crimes Which Attack the Public Health and Pocket-book.

Isaac Platt and Otto Doerlam are at present held to bail at Chicago, Ill., in the unusually high sum of $10,500, after staying for some time in jail in default of sureties, on a charge of counterfeiting Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. The sum in which the District Attorney demanded bail shows the importance which the tribunals attach to the offense of counterfeiting the medicine of the people. The condemnation at Syracuse, N. Y., recently, of the counterfeiter Dr. Marquisee, to a term in states prison, is another instance of the same view.

The courts in these cases held that a medicine having the confidence of the people to an extent which can tempt to dishonest imitation has attained an importance which renders the substitution for it of unreliable and unauthorized compounds an offense of a very serious nature, against which the people have a right to be protected. The proceedings in court suggested that the people would not have gotten into the way of relying upon a definite medicine for the cure of their ailments without good cause. Therefore, counterfeiting such a remedy is not an offense against the manufacturers of the genuine goods alone, but against the public. It is an offense against the manufacturers because it robs them of the fruit of their enterprise in making known the merit of their product and their expenditures in advertising them, for which large sums are paid to the newspapers daily. But it is an offense also against the people—a public offense, for unless the confidence of the public in a genuine product has been justly earned, it would be folly advertising it. Hence the substitution of counterfeits is an offense against the commonwealth, and (as the courts have held), righteously punishable by imprisonment and heavy fine.

It was shown that it is the importance of a medicine that creates temptation to this crime; no one counterfeits a poor medicine. It is a gratifying fact that fraud, to the extent of straight counterfeiting, is very rare; the druggists of the country are too honorable a class of men to involve themselves in such dubious methods, and the people are right in protecting themselves by obtaining their medicines from trustworthy dealers, and by taking pains to have the genuineness of their purchase placed beyond doubt by seeing the correct, advertised name (as for instance, the full, unabbreviated title, like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People) engraved on the package they buy. The public now-a-days refuses to listen to the sort of talk occasionally offered to the unwary about "something else just as good," which always means "fake" medicine gotten up to deceive people whom an unscrupulous dealer thinks foolish enough to believe such pretense. Fortunately, Dr. Marquisee was arrested before he had sold a single box of his counterfeit pills, and the Chicago gang were caught after they had been at work for four days, and all the spurious pills were seized and withdrawn from the market.

THE NEW TIME.

Remarkable Success of the New and Invaluable Reform Magazine.

The 20,000 edition of July New Time, the new Chicago magazine, was exhausted in less than a week and its publishers have not been able to keep up with the demand for this able reform monthly. The signal success of The New Time is evidence that the people are at least awake to the necessity of speedy relief from existing social and industrial conditions.

The August New Time contains a wealth of contributions on timely subjects from a score of the best economic writers in America, Eugene V. Debs in an article on "The Social Democracy," declared that "within twelve months its national representatives will have formulated a national political platform." This the first authoritative anouncement of a plan which may change the political man of the country. T. E. Watson, of Georgia, contributed a spirited article which will attract much attention. The Hon. Jerry Simpson handles Speaker Reed without gloves under the caption of "The Despot of House." Among the other contributors to this splendid number of The New Times are Prof. Frank Parsons, Helen Campbell, Bolton Hall, Will Allen Dromgoole, William Ordway Partridge, Ernest H. Crosby, Eltweed Pomeroy, Lucinda B. Chandler, Hon. Booker T. Washington, Rev. Herbert N. Cassor, Prof. E. W. Bemis, George H. Shibley and William Matthews Handy. Frederick Upham Adams presents the fifth chapter of his famous satire, A Corrected School History of the United States, and Mr. B. O. Flower gives some new facts in relation to postal savings banks. This is a remarkable table of contents for a ten cent magazine. The New Time is published by Charles H. Kerr & Company,--56 Fifth Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The HERALD and this splendid new reform magazine one year for only $2.50.

Common Cause: "If I had my way," said a McKinley man of this neighborhood the other day, "I would load a lot of cannon with vitriol and blow it into the Bryan meetings that are stirring up discontent." And the laws of the country permit such simple fools as this one to go at large, prating of anarchists!

The Improved New High-Arm Self-Threading "Arlington" Sewing Machine
NEW HOME STYLE — LATEST BEST CHEAPEST

$19.50 AND Coupon, if sent C. O. D. or on trial

STYLE No. 35. "ARLINGTON."

Shipped to anyone, anywhere, on 10 days' free trial, in your own home, without asking one cent in advance.

10 years' written warranty with each machine.

A strictly high-grade Sewing Machine, finished throughout in the best possible manner. It possesses all modern improvements, and its mechanical construction is such that in it are combined simplicity with great strength, thus insuring ease of running, durability, and making it impossible for the machine to be put out of order. It sews fast and makes a perfect stitch with all kinds of thread and all classes of material. Always ready for use and unrivalled for speed, durability and quality of work. Notice the following points of superiority:

The Head of the "Arlington" swings on patent socket hinges, firmly held down by a thumb screw. Strong, substantial, neat and handsome in design, and beautifully ornamented in gold. Bed plate has rounded corners and is inlaid or countersunk, making it flush with top of table. Highest Arm—Long Arm—Self-Threading. Absolutely no holes to put thread through except eye of needle. Shuttle is cylinder, open on end, entirely self-threading, easy to put in or take out; bobbin holds a large amount of thread. Stitch Regulator is on the bed of the machine, beneath the bobbin winder, and has a scale showing the number of stitches to the inch, and can be changed from 8 to 32 stitches to the inch. Feed is double and extends on both sides of needle; never fails to take goods through; never stops at seams; movement is positive; no springs to break and get out of order; can be raised and lowered at will. Automatic Bobbin Winder—For filling the bobbin automatically and perfectly smooth without holding the thread. Machine does not run while winding bobbin. Light Running—Machine is easy to run, does not fatigue the operator, makes little noise and sews rapidly. Stitch is a double lock stitch, the same on both sides, will not ravel, and can be changed without stopping the machine. Tension is a flat spring tension, and will admit thread from 8 to 150 spool cotton without changing. Never gets out of order. The Needle is a straight, self-setting needle, flat on one side, and cannot be put in wrong. Needle Bar is round, made of case-hardened steel, with oil cup at the bottom to prevent oil from getting on the goods. Adjustable Bearings—All bearings are case-hardened steel and easily adjusted with a screw driver. All foot motion can be taken up, and the machine will last a lifetime. Attachments—Each machine is furnished with necessary tools and accessories, and in addition we furnish an extra set of attachments in a velvet lined metal box, free of charge, as follows: One ruffler and gatherer, one binder, one shirring plate, one set of four hemmers, different widths up to ¾ of an inch, one tucker, one under braider, one slide, one shoe or attachment foot, and one thread cutter. Woodwork of finest quality oak or walnut, gothic cover and drawers, nickel-plated rings to drawers, dress guards to wheel, and device for replacing belt.
