OF INTEREST TO THE PEOPLE.

The Empty Dinner Pail.
W. L. LINNEY, BAYVIEW CREEK, MICH.
As I sit here idly dreaming of the happy time that's gone,
Not a dollar in my pocket, and the winter coming on;
The thing that breaks me up the most, and makes me feel so small, Is the sight of that old dinner pail hanging on the wall.
I've carried that old dinner pail for nine long years, or more,
And it never saw me out of work or destitute before;
For with shops and factories running and the best of wages paid, A prospectus lot of fellows were the dinner pail brigade.
But you see we wasn't satisfied, though it seems so mighty strange, And we said we thought the country would be better for change.
We rallied about free silver, and we bowed about free trade,
So we voted for McKinley, did the dinner
pail brigade.
Well, a change is what we wanted, and we got it, too, you see;
For prospering closed the shops and left us up-to-date in the city.
The banks suspended payment and we lost our little all.
Now our dinner pails are empty and hanging on the wall.
We're dependent now on charity for the bread above our head; We've seen our wives and little ones go hungry to their bed.
But we've plenty time for thinking and see it isn't strange, For we voted for McKinley, just to have a little change.

CONGRESSMAN MAGUIRE Boldly Attacks Government by Injunction, as a Lawyer and Statesman.
Tucker Hall in Alameda was well filled last evening on the occasion of Congressman Maguire's address on "Government by Injunction." His remarks were, in part, as follows:
"I yield to no man in my respect for the judiciary when honestly acting within the scope of its legiti-mate authority, and no man is more ready to give it full credit and support. But just in proportion to that respect do I abhor and oppose corruption and usurpation on the part of the judiciary. I am here tonight to protest against, and to denounce, the usurpation of legislative functions by certain federal judges, who, in tramping upon the liberties of American citizens, have wilfully violated the first and thirteenth amendments to the federal constitution. By edicts which they call "injunctions" they have made laws compelling men to remain in involuntary servitude as in the case of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, in which Judge Jenkins made it a crime punishable by imprisonment for men to quit work, and forbidding men to speak their opinions, as in the same case and in more flagrant cases recently in West Virginia.
"An act of congress in the language of any of these injunctions would be unconstitutional because in violation of the very letter of the constitution. Where then is the source of the judicial authority exercised in these injunctions?
Have these judges—mere appointees of the people's other servants—power to make laws that congress is forbidden to make? No! It is usurpation palpable and treasonable.
It is the basest and most dangerous kind of treason, because it is the use of powers entrusted by the people to undermine and destroy the liberties of the people and its insiduous-ness hides its treasonable purpose.
"The limits of judicial power are fixed and clearly defined by the federal constitution and the people must compel their observance. If not, the encroachments of an appointed judiciary will soon destroy government by the people and by the people's elected lawmakers.
"How can this be done? By compelling congress to impeach and remove from office every judge who refuses to respect the provisions of the constitution against involuntary servitude and against abridging the freedom of speech. Let it once be understood that the party in control of congress will be swept from power whenever it fails to impeach and remove a judge guilty of such usurpation, and the usurpation will cease, the judiciary will stop legislating against liberty and in the performance of its true function will enjoy the respect and confidence of the people."
At the conclusion of the address the speaker was thanked by a rising vote.—Examiner.

SINGLE-TAX THEORIES.
All Revenues Raised by Tax on Land Values at Fairhope, Ala.
Fairhope, Ala., Aug. 20.—In a recent number of your paper appeared a very interesting article from Prescott, Ariz., about the partial application of the "single tax" theory, which is being made in that city. Your correspondent was mistaken, however, in assuming that Prescott is the only place in the world applying this theory to a much fuller degree than Prescott for nearly three years. All the local revenues are raised by a tax on land values exclusive of improvements. No other taxes of any kind are levied upon the property or persons of its members by the community and it even assumes the payment out of the fund derived from land rents of the taxes levied by the county and state on their personal property and improvements.
Equal suffrage and the initiative and referendum are also in operation here, together with public performance of public service—the most important now being a wharf which was built and is operated by the community.
This is also applying to some extent a Populistic financial idea.
The community issues for expenses of its public service its non-inter-bearing certificates in convenient denominations, which it in turn receives for land rents and the use of the public services. These certificates circulate to a considerable extent in lieu of money, in local transactions. It is contemplated eventually to operate all public services without any direct charge, collecting the cost in the increased land values which are sure to result, just as elevators are run free in office buildings.
One effect claimed for the single tax is already apparent here. It is the elimination of land speculation.
There being no profit in the mere holding of land, no one cares to hold a foot more than he needs for use, or has reasonable anticipation he will want to use. Other desirable effects are expected to appear as population and land values increase.
Yours truly,
E. B. GASTON.

Capital Journal: The federal injunction does not seem to have materially affected the great coal strike. Government by injunction in an extreme urgency may be justified as a last resort to protect life and property, but it cannot be dependent upon to solve problems growing out of social conditions.
The rights of labor and capital, the adjustment necessary between employer and employed form the backbone controversy of the age and will probably never be perfectly adjusted. The line of progress lies in mutual concessions and a friendly humane interest of each class in the welfare and success of the other.
Accountant: A prominent contractor of Oregon City was enthusiastically telling a fellow citizen how fast business was picking up and, a few minutes later, when a man who had been listening to the good news stepped up and asked him to settle an account, which he had owed for a long time, he paralyzed the man by announcing that he could not get any money and was never so hard up before in his life. This, too, in spite of the fact that he has a strong pull on the county.

Mark Hanna Letter.
Just now a letter written by him in 1890 is giving Mark Hanna a world of trouble. At that time David K. Watson was attorney general of Ohio and had brought suit to annul the charter of the Standard Oil Trust for disregarding the laws of the state. In sore distress the trust appealed to many prominent men to help them out by inducing Mr. Watson to withdraw the suit. Mr. Hanna took up their cause and wrote a letter to the attorney general, in which he pleaded with him not to attack organized capital. He said:
"I have always considered you in the line of political promotion," and then went on to intimate that unless the suit against the Standard Co. was withdrawn, Watson would be the object of vengeance by the corporation and its friends forever after.
As if to clinch his threat and argument, Hanna wrote:
"You have been in politics long enough to know that no man in public office owes the public anything." Mr. Watson was indignant at the attempt to influence him and showed this letter and several others of similar import to other parties.
He has been promised an appointment by President McKinley and the letters will not be made public, but the fact of their contents being known is bothering Mr. Hanna.
He is afraid of the effect upon the voters of Ohio next fall of such sentiments as he expressed in his campaign in behalf of the trusts in 1890.

Extract from River and Harbor Act Approved September 19, 1890.

Sections 6, 9, 10, 11, and 12 of the river and harbor act of August 7, 1889, were amended and re-enacted so as to read as follows:
* * * * *
Sec. 6. That it shall not be lawful to cast, throw, empty, or unload, or cause, suffer, or procure to be cast, thrown, emptied, or unloaded, either from or out of any ship, vessel, lighter, barge, boat, or other craft, or from the shore, pier, wharf, furnace, manufacturing establishment, or mill of any kind whatever, rubbish, wreck, filth, slabs, edgings, sawdust, slag, cinders, ashes, refuse, or other waste of any kind, into any port, road, roadstead, harbor, haven, or navigable waters of the United States which shall tend to impede or obstruct navigation, or to deposit or place or cause, suffer, or procure to be deposited or placed, any ballast, stone, slate, gravel, earth, rubbish, wreck, filth, slabs, edgings, sawdust, or other waste in any place or situation on the bank of any navigable waters where the same shall be liable to be washed into such navigable water, either by ordinary or high tides, or by storms or floods, or otherwise, whereby navigation shall or may be impeded or obstructed: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall extend to the casting out, unloading, or throwing of any ship or vessel, lighter, barge, boat, or other craft, any stones, rocks, lime, or other materials used, or to be used, in or toward the building, repairing, or keeping in repair any quay, pier, wharf, weir, bridge, building, or other work lawfully erected or to be erected on the banks or sides of any port, harbor, haven, channel or navigable river, or to the casting out, unloading, or depositing of any material excavated for the improvement of navigable waters, into such places and in such manner as may be deemed by the United States officer supervising said improvement most judicious and practicable and for the best interests of such improvements, or to prevent the depositing of any substance above mentioned under a permit from the secretary of war, which he is hereby authorized to grant, for any place designated by him where navigation will not be obstructed thereby.
* * * * *
Sec. 9. That it shall not be lawful for any person or persons to take possession of or make use for any exclusive purpose, or build upon, alter, deface, destroy, injure, obstruct, or in any other manner impair the usefulness of any seawall, bulkhead, jetty, dike, levee, wharf, pier, or other work built by the United States in whole or in part, for the preservation and improvement of any of its navigable waters, or to prevent floods, or as boundary marks, tide-gauges, surveying-stations, buoys, or other established marks, nor remove for ballast or other purposes any stone or other material composing such works.
Sec. 10. That the creation of any obstruction, not affirmatively authorized by law, to the navigable capacity of any waters, in respect of which the United States has jurisdiction, is hereby prohibited. The continuance of any such obstruction, except bridges, piers, docks and wharves, and similar structures erected for business purposes, whether heretofore or hereafter created, shall constitute an offense, and each week's continuance of any such obstruction shall be deemed a separate offense. Every person and every corporation which shall be guilty of creating or continuing any such unlawful obstruction in this act mentioned, or who shall violate the provisions of the last four preceding sections of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment (in the case of a natural person) not exceeding one year, or by both such punishments, in the discretion of the court, the creating or continuing of any unlawful obstruction in this act mentioned may be prevented and such obstruction may be caused to be removed by the injunction of any circuit court exercising jurisdiction in any district in which such obstruction may be threatened or may exist; and proper proceedings in equity to this end may be instituted under the direction of the attorney-general of the United States.
Sec. 11. That it shall be the duty of officers and agents having the supervision, on the part of the United States, of the works in progress for the preservation and improvement of said navigable waters, and, in their absence, of the United States collectors of customs and other revenue officers to enforce the provisions of this act by giving information to the district attorney in which any violation of any provi-tion of this act shall have been committed: Provided, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to Torch Lake, Houghton county, Michigan.

Sec. 12. That section 12 of the river and harbor act of August 11, 1888, be amended and re-enacted so as to read as follows: Where it is made manifest to the secretary of war that the establishment of harbor-lines is essential to the preservation and protection of harbors, he may, and is hereby authorized, to cause such lines to be established, beyond which no piers, wharves, bulk-heads or other works shall be extended or deposits made, except under such regulations as may be prescribed from time to time by him; and any person who shall willfully violate the provisions of this section, or any rule or regulation made by the secretary of war in pursuance of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor,
$1000, or imprisonment not exceeding one year, at the discretion of the court for each offense.

Governor Rogers and the Price of Wheat.
Astoria, Or., Aug. 29.—Governor J. R. Rogers, of Washington, and wife, with Henry J. Snively, Evan Stalter, W. M. Ridpath and Ernest Meister, of the state board of control, arrived here this morning, on a little outing and will go to Vancouver to inspect the state institutions Monday. They will then proceed to Walla Walla and Spokane. Governor Rogers said to a reporter today:
"Wheat is a good thing now, and I don't believe for the farmers. I do not believe, however, the farmers will ever pay off their mortgages by their present profits. I have raised wheat myself. I don't believe the reports from Kansas and other states that farmers are paying off mortgages. It is bunkum.
Mortgages once placed on farms stay there. Land changes hands and companies get the farms, and a tenancy system is sooner or later established."

Attacked by Moonshiners.
Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 30.—Two deputy United States marshals arrested two seriously wounded and two more missing as a result of an attack upon a posse of officers by a gang of desperate moonshiners in Searcy county. The dead are:
B. F. Taylor, of Searcy county, and Joe Dodson, of Stone county. The wounded men are the Kenrow brothers. The names of the missing men were not given, but they are supposed to be deputy sheriffs of Searcy county.

A Campaign Against the Weak.
Chicago, Aug. 30.—Maudie Woy-nard Noel, a young Chicago woman, herself beautiful and in perfect health, has begun a campaign which has for its aim the physical of all the weak, whether physically or mentally incapable. She would relentlessly kill them by a painless death if possible, and holds that the end would justify the means, for it would benefit the human race.

A Sufferer Relieved.

A Tale of Suffering and Subsequent Relief.

From the Press, Columbus, Ohio.
One of the many persons in Columbus, Ohio, who have been benefited by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is Miss Jennie McKinley, of 50 South Centre street. Miss McKinley is well and favorably known, especially in educational circles, as she has been for a number of years a faithful and progressive school teacher.
For some time she has been very ill and the suffering and torture endured by her for months have been unusually severe.
The tale of her sufferings and the subsequent relief and final cure which she derived from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, aroused considerable agitation among her many friends and others.
A reporter was detailed to obtain a reliable account of this marvelous case, and when he called he found Miss McKinley at her comfortable and cozy home where she cheerfully complied with his request. She said: "The first indication that I had that anything was radically wrong with me was about three years ago. I suffered the most excruciating pains in different parts of my body and was almost crazed at times. My sleep was disturbed by horrible dreams and I had begun to waste away to almost a shadow. To add to my troubles, my head malady assumed a catarrhal turn and I was soon a victim to that horrible as well as distressing disease—Absolute no-holes to put Physician who gave me some kind of a neutrum and I was foolish enough to imagine that it benefited me. I followed the advice of the physician but noticed no perceptible improvement in my condition and was about to despair of ever becoming a strong and well woman again.
"Some of my lady friends were calling on me one afternoon and before them I happened to mention my troubles, when one of them recommended that I try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I had never had any faith in medicine of that kind and paid but little attention to the suggestion.
It was not long after this, however, that I again heard the pills highly recommended by several persons, and then it was that I decided to give them a trial and purchased one box of the pills. I soon began to notice an improvement in my condition and before the whole box had been taken my health was so much improved that I was about ready to begin singing the praises of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.
"I was not yet thoroughly convinced and decided to wait a while before growing enthusiastic over the result, and had begun on the second box before I was confident that I had at last found a medicine to meet the requirements of my case. I discontinued my calls to the physician and began to take them alone since I am now as well and strong as I ever was in my life; an entirely new life and nature felt better in my body. I eat regularly and sleep like a baby. No more are my members haunted with fearful dreams and when I retire at night I go to sleep at once. I regard Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People as my salvation, and I would recommend them to all ladies troubled as I was. The pills are more than what is claimed for them and anyone giving them a trial will soon come to the same conclusion regarding their merits that I have."
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore stagnant nerves. They are sold in boxes (over one dozen by the dozen or hundred) at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or directly by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.
