A Message from Minnesota.

BEMIDJI, Minn., Oct. 10, 1897.

ED. HERALD: As some of the readers of the HERALD may possibly be interested as to my whereabouts, to those I will say, take a map of Minnesota and find Lake Bemidji, in the eastern central part of Beltrami county. On the west shore of this lake, where the Mississippi flows into it, is situated the beautiful village of Bemidji, the county seat of Beltrami county, and directly on the air-line route of the St. N. P. R., from Duluth to the Pacific coast, which will be built in the near future. Directly east from the village, about two miles on the south shore of the lake, is my homestead, and where I am writing this. To any of my old friends who should chance to come this way I will say, my latch-string hangs on the outside.

I understand that R. H. Rosa of the lower Coquille river is somewhere in this vicinity, and I shall try to find him before he leaves again for Oregon. He is one of the pine estimators on the Red Lake reserve, so I understand.

Well, there has two dollars, worth of prosperity finally come my way, and there are numerous ways for it to be used, but I have decided that the HERALD has the oldest claim, so here goes. Inclosed find postoffice money order for $2 for which please give me credit on subscription to the HERALD. Respectfully,

D. W. STEVENS.

Resolutions of Thanks.

At a stated communication of Beulah Chapter, No. 6, O. E. S., held Oct. 8, 1897, the following resolutions were adopted:

"1st. That a vote of thanks of Beulah Chapter be tendered the committee on entertainment, for the liberal amount of money raised and turned into the Chapter.

"2d. That a vote of thanks of Beulah Chapter be tendered to all of those who are not members of the Chapter, for their valuable assistance rendered in getting up and carrying out of the program at the said entertainment.

"3d. That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Chapter, and that they be published in the HERALD and Bulletin."

I wish personally to thank the editors of the above named papers for their valuable assistance in so freely and extensively advertising the said entertainment.

NORA A. GOOD, Secretery.

WAGNER BRINGS SUIT.

To Determine His or Compson's Right to Be on the Oregon R. R. Commission.

Portland, Or., Oct. 18.—A. I. Wagner, of Salem, who was appointed railroad commissioner by Governor Lord on August 20th last in place of H. B. Compson, has commenced suit in the state circuit court, to have determined whether he or Compson is legally entitled to hold the office.

While the present action is brought only in the interest of Wagner, it will, doubtless, indirectly bring forward the question of the right of the other two commissioners to remain in office.

Attorney J. C. Moreland, counsel for General Compson, will file a demurrer to the complaint, and, it is understood, a pro forma decision will be declared by the court, sustaining the demurrer and dismissing the suit. The plaintiff will at once appeal to the supreme court and ask to have the case advanced on the file calendar for a hearing at the earliest possible moment.

An accident occurred at the farm of Thomas Harris, a few miles south of Vale, last week, by which the young daughter of Mr. Harris may become a cripple for life. A large heap of rubbish and sage brush was burned in the yard, and soon after a man named Wm. Sevey came to the ranch with a load of peaches, and the little girl ran out to get some of them. The wagon having stopped close to the scene of the fire, the child ran into what seemed to be a bed of dead ashes, but which proved to be living coals, and in these she sank ankle deep, and either through fright or pain, stood there until Mr. Sevey jumped from his wagon and lifted the child from her perilous position. Both feet were so badly burned that the flesh dropped from them, and it was feared that it would be necessary to amputate them.

A postal card has been received by us from Bandon on the matter of the Chinese locating at this place, mention of which was made in last week's HERALD, but being anonymous is denied publication. The sentiment is all right, so far as being anti-Chinese is concerned, but blame attaches elsewhere more than against the Chinaman for seeking business here.

A FEARFUL ACCIDENT.

A Hack with Five Persons Goes Over a Deep Grade.

Mrs. Judge Nosler Killed, the Judge Fatally Injured and Three Others Seriously Hurt.

Yesterday morning ex-County Judge J. H. Nosler secured a hack and team from his sons'—the Nosler Bro's—livery stable to drive to Norway, about 6 miles above this place, to visit Mr. Moomaw's and bring home some apples. Occupants of the hack on this pleasure trip and visit were Judge and Mrs. Nosler, aged people, Mrs. Bird Nosler (daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. N. and daughter of Mr. Moomaw of Norway, whom they had visited) and her baby, aged about 3 months, and Miss Myrtle Brinker, a young lady whom Judge and Mrs. Nosler had raised. The trip up had passed safely and most enjoyably to all and the happy party was returning in the evening, when at a heavy grade on the road near Mr. Devereux's place, about a mile this side of Norway, a wagon driven by one Dave Baker of North Fork in charge met them and an effort made to pass. The road was very narrow and the declivity on the outside very deep, rocky and steep, precipitous for about 20 feet just next to the road and then sloping somewhat to a depth of about 15 feet more, and a wire fence and rocks below. This was not the side the hack was obliged to take, and one of the horses becoming restless and nervous from the passing vehicle, the judge tightened the lines on his team and they backed over the grade, team and all whirling over and over till lodged in the fence and on the level land and rocks below, about 30 or 35 feet. Young Mrs. Nosler and her baby having miraculously escaped serious or painful injury, she looked about for help. Miss Brinker also extricated herself, although painfully hurt, and was helpless toward giving assistance. Judge Nosler recovered sufficiently to reach his wife, but found her dead. Young Mrs. Nosler made her way to Section Boss Strahan and hands, who took the handcar to the spot and brought the judge and Miss Brinker home, while others took charge of Mrs. Nosler's body and the wreck. One of the horses was thought to have been killed, but got on his feet afterward.

Mrs. Nosler's remains were brought home about 7 o'clock last evening and the hour of 3 p. m. today set for burial. Mrs. Matilda E. Nosler was born in Putman county, Indiana, Nov. 26, 1832 Her marriage to the judge took place in 1850, so that the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary seemed but a little way off when this most fearful visitation so suddenly came upon them and called her hence. Her wounds were all over her person—her head, body and lower limbs being bruised and crushed in a fearful manner.

Judge Nosler seems to have struck in the wire fence, being cut and torn very much as well as bruised. His left shoulder is dislocated. The judge was also born in Putman county, Indiana, March 17, 1831, being now in his 66th year. The judge put in a restless night and is in a serious condition.

Miss Myrtle Brinker suffered the dislocation of her left shoulder and some bad bruises, but we believe no other broken bones nor serious hurts. We have already noted above that the younger Mrs. Nosler and her baby escaped serious injury.

The hack was badly broken up, and the team more or less hurt.

Mrs. Lyons and W. S. Perry, the latter as business manager of the Lyons estate, returned last Friday from San Francisco, whither they had been in the interest of business affairs of the estate. In a brief interview with Mr. Perry yesterday, he assured us that the estate's affairs in the city were in good shape and business demands all that could be expected. Mr. Perry also informed us that the business here would proceed without interruption. This will be good news to all our citizens, and we anticipate through Mr. Perry's conservative and skillful management that the mill and mercantile business here will be mutually profitable to the owners and popular with the public.

Our item last week relative to the covenience to attorneys and litigants from other portions of the county by locating the county seat in the middle of the county has been misinterpreted. It did not specifically refer to the advantage Mr. Bartenshaw of Myrtle Point would have over Mr. Seaman of Empire City—we used the argument in a general sense.

Engine No. 2 of the C. B.-R. railroad started out again yesterday after a course of repairs from serious damage in a wreck a few weeks ago.

We were in error in announcing Rev. Mr. Stine's appointment at Bandon for last Sunday; it will be next Sunday.

Quite a number of our people attended the meeting and picnic dinner on Catching creek Sunday.

J. J. Baker went out to his ranch in Curry county Monday, where he will spend a few days arranging things for the winter.

Quite a number of our boys enjoyed the social dance at Mrs. Harman's, near Lee, Saturday evening, and report a very pleasant time.

S. C. Braden and wife came home from Roseburg last Monday, where they had been attending the district fair. Dick reports a very quiet time.

George Guerin, jr., of Eckley, came in from the mines Monday bringing about $700 in gold dust, the result of a couple of months' work. He said that on Sunday a week he took out $100.

E. A. Dodge's baby is quite sick at this writing.

A. H. Moore and wife are spending a few days in town visiting with their many friends.

D. A. Huling and wife, who went to the mines last week, returned Sunday bringing quite an assortment of rock from which assays will be made. They report much activity in the mining district, with a promising outlook for the winter.

Attorney T. J. Graene attended court in your town last Friday, and says that it is the expression of the greater portion of those in attendance that Coquille City is the place for the county seat.

Mrs. G. H. Guerin of Eckley returned Saturday from a 3-months' visit to the scenes of her girlhood days in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. She reports having had a very enjoyable trip.

Rev. Blair, the Presbyterian minister, being absent, the morning service at the Presbyterian church was conducted by Mrs. Dr. Roberds, and in the evening by the Christian Endeavor society.

C. W. Hunt, of the firm of Hunt, Hatch & Co, commission merchants of Oakland, Cal., is in this vicinity interviewing our farmers and merchants and will probably handle much of the present fruit and potato crop, also some other farm products.

H. B. Steward and Chas. Schroeder, who have been replacing the wing or drift protection to the Myrtle Point bridge (at private contract), completed their work Monday, the improvement being anchored with many tons of stone. It is believed it will this time remain in place.

Too much cannot be said in favor of the river improvement work as laid out by the engineers and constructed by Noble & Saunders this season, a pretty thorough description of the work having been given through this department in the HERALD heretofore. The benefit to be derived is inestimable; when in the early spring one could scarcely pass the shoal in a rowboat, the river steamers now pass at almost extreme low water, and by the force of the winter currents the sand will be scoured out and a permanent channel secured. The fact that the work reaches less than one half of the distance obstructed by the shoal is regretted by the whole valley, which should unite in one voice and ask that it be resumed as soon as possible. The snagging is a feature of no little importance. While much good has already been accomplished, there are still many snags that endanger navigation and should be removed, many of which are found on the lower river and do damage to sea-going vessels. The work was under the supervision of F. R. Archer, who is a thoroughly competent man and faithful to his trust.

A pleasing song service was given at the Christian church last Sunday night. There was a good attendance, and the program consisted of several very pretty gospel songs, interspersed with brief scripture readings and a prayer or two. If the song service is to be continued, another interesting and edifying feature or two will be added, thus affording fortnightly religious exercises of especially entertaining character during the Sunday evenings of the winter.

The HERALD goes into more homes in Coos county than any other paper in the county and continues to grow in favor. Merchants who want to solicit trade should invite our readers to deal with them; tell them what they can do in the way of goods and prices.

An apple tree in W. S. Perry's yard is both a curiosity and thing of beauty. It looks like an immense rosebush, covered with red roses. The limbs are all bowed over props, filled from trunk to extremity with beautiful red apples.

[Marshfield Sun.]

The attendance at the Marshfield public school has increased to 292.

Wm. Phillips, the machinist, met with a serious fall in Empire City one evening last week. While his injuries are quite severe it is hoped he will soon recover.

There is some talk of having the fishing season, which closes the last of the month, extended to the 20th of November. It has been done in other localities and there is no reason why Coos bay fishermen should not enjoy the same privilege.

Our townsman, D. B. Keating, was an old-time friend of General Neal Dow, and the news of the latter's death grieved him very much. In 1832 Mr. Keating, as an apprentice, drove the first rivet in the first boiler that was ever built in Portland, Maine. The boiler was made for Mr. Dow, who was a tanner at that time.

Feud in Curry County.

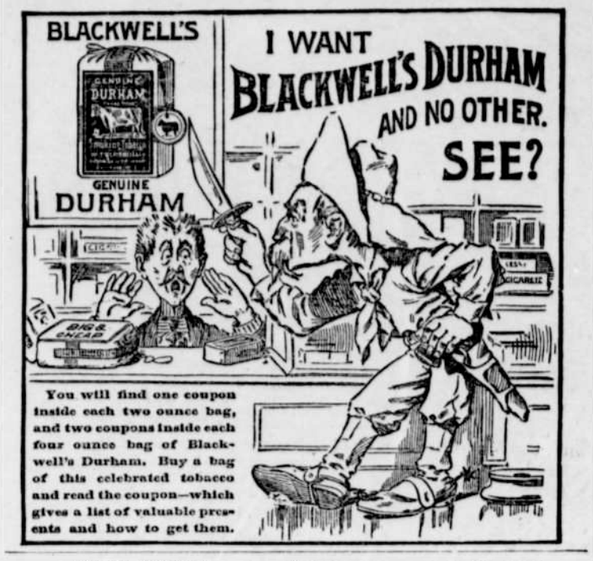
Crescent City, Cal., Oct. 15.—At Chetco, in Curry county, Or., a feud which had manifested itself in small quarrels for several months, has broken out with fresh fury, and two men have narrowly escaped with their lives. Chetco is near the boundary line of Del Norte county, California. Something like five years ago an attempt was made to boom the town, and the Coolidges and the Van Pelts, residents of the town, disagreed over property rights. The boom was a failure, but the family feud has continued ever since.

Last Thursday some persons engaged in fishing in the bay near the town were fired upon from a window of a stone building, and several persons on the street were made to seek shelter from flying bullets. The house of E. C. Hughes, in which were women and children, was struck by five bullets, one of which passed through an organ.

At a meeting of citizens held to investigate the matter Al Coolidge and W. A. Smith were charged with the shooting, and by the sense of the meeting held as common outlaws. On Wednesday, E. C. Hughes was shot in the hip, and Albert Snodgrass sustained the loss of part of an ear. They were fishing at the mouth of the Chetco, when they were fired on by persons hidden on a hill not far distant. Further serious trouble is feared.



[Bandon Recorder.]

J. W. Leneve, wife and child, of Coquille City, were in town last night on their way to visit relatives in Curry county.

Luther Randleman and family, and Summer Davidson, left today for California. They went by way of Marshfield and will go by steamer.

Paul Johnson took passage on the schooner Eureka last Friday for San Francisco. He will go to Fort Bragg and work for H. R. Reed on the new steamer the J. S. Kimball Co. is building for the Coquille river trade.

Henry Rhoner was down Sunday from the fishing station and reported a good catch for last week. Rhoner and Bedillion had about 260 barrels of salmon salted down at that time and they expect to catch enough more to reach 400 barrels. The fishermen generally are meeting with success.

C. D. McClure, who had been here regulating the fog signal and fixing the cistern under the engine room at the light station, finished his work and on Monday morning left for Cape Arago where he has some improvement to look after. He will soon go to North Head, at the mouth of the Columbia, to put in the light at the station being built at that place.

WANTED.—TRUSTWORTHY AND active gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible established house in state of Oregon. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y, Chicago.
