Indigestive poisons are the bane of the dyspeptic's life. When sick, see if your sickness is caused by indigestive poisons.

Given in this place last Saturday night, was equal to, if not the best, given in Coquille City.

The program was very pleasing, varied and attractive, notwithstanding two or three numbers were dispensed with owing to sickness, or other cause, notably Prof. and Mrs. Nicholson's musical selection.

The program additional to the overture by the orchestra was as follows: Instrumental duet—mandolin and guitar—Misses Rita Sinclair and Edna Lorenz; recitation by Irene Leneve; Alphabetical exercise by young people, led off by Miss Lucy March; recitation by May Wickham; vocal duet by Misses Zetta Messer and Mand Nosler; recitation, "The Modern Cain," Miss Keely; vocal solo by Aaron Wilson; recitation by Leta Barrows; recitation by Lee Anna Gage; solo, "I'm Going to Run Away"—Leta Eula Price; recitation by Emma Sherwood; recitation by Vivian Gage; vocal trio by Misses Mary, Birdie and Minnie Nosler; dialogue—Nettie Jenkins and Dollie Skeels; recitation by Miss Effie Collier; comic song by W. S. Perry; concluding with a farce—"The Bobtown School."

All of the numbers were unusually well given and enthusiastically received. Little Eula Price was a special favorite, being encored and heartily applauded. Others were well appreciated, but we can hardly make a distinctive mention, as all were so well given.

Except for some unnecessary noise at the back part of the house, the entertainment was a grand success and well appreciated by the public. The sum received, after hall rent is paid, is about $40.

Officers, too, refuse to go out and make arrests, for the penalty is so light that it costs so much more to prosecute and convict than the penalty amounts to, and this fact does not deter the "pelters" from going ahead and destroying the game for their present gain.

The legislature should provide more stringent measures than are now in force for the punishment of these law-breakers.
