OF INTEREST TO THE PEOPLE.

The Voice of the Time.

Day unto day utters speech!
Be wise, O ye nations, and hear What yesterday telleth today; What today to the morrow will preach!
A change cometh over our sphere,
And the Old goeth down to decay!
A new light has dawned on the darkness of yore, And men shall be slaves and oppressors no more!

Hark to the throbbing of thought In the breast of the wakening world!
Over land, over sea it hath come!
The serf that was yesterday bought, Today his defiance hurled—No more in his slavish dumb—And tomorrow will break from the fetters that bind And lift a bold arm for the rights of mankind!

Hark to the voice of the time!
The multitude think for themselves, And weigh their condition, each one;
The drudge has a spirit sublime:
And whether he hammers or delves, He reads when his labor is done,
And learned though he groans under penury's ban, That freedom to think is the birthright of man.

But yesterday thought was confined;
To breathe it was peril or death,
And it sank on the breast where it rose;
Now, free as the midsummer wind, It sports its adventurous breath,
And round the wide universe goes;
The mist and the cloud from its pathway are curled And glimpses of glory illumine the world!

The voice of opinion has grown;
'Twas yesterday changeful and weak, Like the voice of a boy ere his prime;
Today it has taken the tone Of an orator worthy to speak, Who knows the demand of his time,
And tomorrow will sound in oppression's cold ear Like the tramp of the seraph to startle our sphere!

Be wise, oh, ye rulers of earth,
And close not your eyes to his voice, Nor allow it to warn you in vain; True freedom of yesterday's birth Will march on its way and rejoice, And never be conquered again!
The day hath a tongue, ay, the hours utter speech!
Wise, wise will ye be if ye learn what they teach!

BROADSIDE SHOTS.

Questions Suggested by Bryan's Speeches.

The Kind of Firing That Will Sink the Republican Ship Next Year.
The Party of Honors in a Bad Box—Gold
Cannot Win.

1. The United States adopted bimetallism in 1873 and continued it until 1878—eighty-one years—during which time no party ever condemned bimetallism in a national convention.
Has any other financial policy been so universally commended?
2. The United States adopted the gold standard in 1873, without any national party asking to have the change made.
Has congress ever made any other change approaching this in importance without the people demanding it through some party?
3. The gold standard was maintained in the United States from 1873 to 1896, during which time no party commended it in a national convention.
Has the United States ever endured any other policy for so long a time without some party defending the policy?
4. The law repealing the purchasing clause of the Sherman law declared it to be the policy of the United States to continue the use of both gold and silver as standard money, and further declared that the efforts of the government should be steadily directed to the establishment of a safe system of bimetallism.
Why should the government direct its efforts toward the establishment of any kind of bimetallism if the gold standard is satisfactory to the people of the United States?
5. When, in 1896, the bolting Democrats indorsed the gold standard they polled less than 1 per cent of the votes of the United States and carried only one precinct in the union—a precinct in which there were only six votes—and the bolting Democrats only polled three out of the six.
Was any financial policy ever more completely repudiated?
6. The bolting Democrats, when members of the Chicago convention of 1896, joined in a minority report declaring in favor of international bimetallism.
Were the bolting Democrats bi-metallists at Chicago, or did they try to practice fraud upon the rest of the convention?
7. The Republican party had never declared the gold standard to be a blessing to the United States.
In 1892 the Republicans at Minneapolis declared that the American people from tradition and interest favored bimetallism.
Have the traditions or the interests of the American people changed since 1892?

8. In 1896 the Republican party promised to promote international bimetallism and Mr. McKinley, in his letter of acceptance, pledged himself to carry out that promise.
If the gold standard has been a benefit to the United States, why should the Republican party try to abandon it and substitute the double standard by international agreement?

9. As soon as Mr. McKinley was elected he asked congress for authority to appoint a commission to visit Europe and secure the aid of the leading commercial nations of Europe in abandoning the gold standard.
If the gold standard is a blessing why did Mr. McKinley send a commission to Europe to get rid of it?
10. A Republican congress, by an almost unanimous vote, appropriated $100,000 to pay the expenses of the monetary commission.
If the gold standard is the standard of civilization, why did the Republican party spend $100,000 in trying to get rid of it?
11. The French government expressed a willingness to restore bimetallism by international agreement and joined our commissioners in asking England's co-operation.
If the gold standard has been a blessing to France, why is France willing to abandon its gold standard and substitute international bimetallism?
12. Within three years the German reichstag has adopted a resolution declaring in favor of international bimetallism.
If the gold standard has been a blessing to Germany why was the popular branch of the German assembly willing to abandon the gold standard and substitute international bimetallism?
13. The gold standard has been indorsed by bankers, financiers and chambers of commerce, but it had never been indorsed by the producers of wealth in any nation in the world.
Will the Republicans say that the producers of wealth do not know what is good for them, or should only financiers be consulted in monetary legislation?
14. The monetary commission remained in England for three months, and the press dispatches reported that the commissioners were confident of obtaining some concession from England.
On the 22d day of last September the bankers of London joined in a unanimous protest against bimetallism and the English government has now refused to make the concession for which our commissioners asked.
Does this not support our contention that the gold standard is advocated by the capitalistic classes of the world?
15. The Republican party, in its platform of 1896, after pledging itself to international bimetallism, declared that the gold standard must be maintained until the leading commercial nations joined in international bimetallism.

Is it well to thus allow the leading commercial nations of Europe to dictate the financial policy of the United States?—The Union Dispatch.

MATTHEW'S RESOLUTION OF 1873.
Obligations of the United States Payable in Silver Dollars.

Whereas, by the act entitled "An act to strengthen the public credit," approved March 16, 1869, it was provided and declared that the faith of the United States was thereby solemnly pledged to the payment, in coin or its equivalent, of all the interest bearing obligations of the United States, except in cases where the law authorizing the issue of such obligations had expressly provided that the same might be paid in lawful money or other currency than gold and silver; and,
Whereas, all the bonds of the United States authorized to be issued by the act entitled "An act to authorize the refunding of the national debt," approved July 14, 1870, by the terms of said act were declared to be redeemable in coin of the then present standard value, bearing interest payable semi-annually in such coin; and, Whereas, all bonds of the United States authorized to be issued under the act entitled "An act to provide for the resumption of specie payments," approved July 14, 1875, are required to be of the description of bonds of the United States described in the said act of congress approved July 14, 1870, entitled "An act to authorize the refunding of the national debt," and, Whereas, at the date of the passage of said act of congress last aforesaid, to-wit, the 14th day of July, 1870, the coin of the United States of standard value of that date included silver dollars of the weight of 412 2/3 grains each, declared by the act approved January 18, 1837, entitled "An act supplementary to the act entitled 'An act establishing a mint and regulating the coins of the United States,'" to be a legal tender of payment according to their nominal value for any sums whatever; therefore, Resolved, That the senate (the house of representatives concurring therein) that all bonds issued by the United States, issued or authorized to be issued under the said act of congress herein before recited, are payable, principal and interest, at the option of the government of the United States, in silver dollars of the coinage of the United States, containing 412 2/3 grains each of standard silver; and that to restore to its coinage such silver coins as a legal tender in payment of said bonds, principal and interest, is not in violation of the public faith nor in derogation of the rights of the public creditor.—Congressional Record, volume 7, part 1, Forty-fifth congress, second session, page 564.

Among those in the senate recorded in the affirmative on the passage of the resolution which found the names of Allison, Cameron and Jones. The senator from Missouri (Mr. Cockrell) and the senator from Tennessee (Mr. Harris) were paired in favor of the resolution.
In the house of representatives the resolution was concurred in as a whole, the preamble and the resolution being voted upon at the same time, by one vote, and the resolution and preamble were concurred in by the house of representatives on the 28th of January, 1878, by a vote of 189 to 79. Among those voting for that resolution were, William Mc-Kinley, John G. Carlisle, ex-secretary of the treasury; Roger C. Mills, William M. Springer, and ex-secretary of the treasury, Charles Foster, of Ohio. There we have the president of the United States and two ex-secretaries of the treasury declaring that the obligations of the United States are payable in silver coin.—The Silver Knight.

S. F. Star: A Chinese woman, who cost her "owner" $100, was "stolen" recently at Fresno. She was "caught" and restored to her "owner"—just as a horse or a dog might be. The public officials assisted in the "capture." Who says "chattel slavery" does not still exist?
Only a Chinese woman, to be sure, but a woman just the same. Yet, in the eyes of the law, not a woman, but property. Down with, and damn, such law.

culation of 50,000, and is now recognized as the greatest reform magazine in the world. We club with it ing the special December number

Now for Postal Savings Banks.

Senator William E. Mason and congressman William Lorimer will introduce the Chicago Record's postal savings bank bill in the senate and the house of representatives, respectively. Senator Mason is a member of the committee on postoffices and postroads, while Congressman Lorimer is a member of the same committee of the house of representatives. It is the intention of these members of congress to introduce the bill at the earliest possible opportunity and, as Senator Mason says, to have a postal savings bank law on the statutes before the end of the session. Both Senator Mason and Mr. Lorimer are believers in postal savings banks, as are the majority of the Illinois delegation. Postal savings banks have been discussed widely by the members of congress, and it is expected that there will be several measures introduced in both the house and the senate. The western members especially are supporting the idea, and, while some of the eastern members are opposing it, the measure has many friends in that section. One hears almost as much talk about the postal savings bank legislation in the corridors of the hotels and in the places where the members congregate as he does about the currency, Cuba, Hawaii, and civil-service reform.—Chicago Record.

GOOD POINT, WELL TAKEN.

In Favor of the Oregon Game Laws—An Interesting Issue Wisely Disposed Of.

Portland, Dec. 13.—The refusal of the Southern Pacific Company to ship deer hides consigned by the Southern Oregon Park Packing Company at Medford, to Kahn Bro's, at Portland, has been sustained by Judge Shattuck. Today the suit of the firm against the railroad company was dismissed, and the costs taxed to the plaintiff. Kahn Bro's sued to recover $80.50, alleging that the Southern Pacific Company had declined to bring to this city two boxes containing 322 pounds of deer skins, shipped about September 24. The Southern Pacific Company as a defense, set up that the statute of this state forbids the killing of deer, moose, elk, or mountain sheep, for skins, between the months of December and August, unless the skins are intended for use of the carcass as food. Acting upon the advice of the fish and game protector and attorney-general, the company directed its agents in Oregon, in November, 1896, not to accept for shipment, hides or skins of these animals. The company was informed that possession by persons, of the hides, was prima facie evidence of a violation of the law, and the company was not permitted to receive and ship hides, where the deer were killed for the purpose of securing the skins.

The defendant asserted that the shipment to Kahn Bro's was declared to the agent at Medford falsely marked as furs, and when it was ascertained that the boxes contained deer hides, they were returned back to the consignors. The defendant averred that it did not know and had no means of knowing if the deer were killed from which the hides were taken.
Plaintiff demurred to this answer, as not constituting a valid defense, and Judge Shattuck overruled the demurrer, which ended the case.

"compelling a wife to work in a that if women marry that kind of ing and saw wood."

more than this: SIMMONS' LIVER REGU-

Malaria, Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick-Headache and Constipation, and rid of that worn-out and debilitated feeling.
These are all caused by a sluggish Liver.

Fifty Thousand Circulation—Wonderful Suc- cess of "The New Time."

The New Time continues its attack on Carroll L. Wright's labor statistics in the December number of that wide-awake reform magazine.
H. L. Bliss asserts that the Commissioner of Statistics has deliberately misrepresented the facts, and asserts that Col. Wright has expounded figures which he has officially declared to be incomparable and that there is no actual basis for the claim that wages have increased since 1880.
Justice Walter Clark of the supreme court of North Carolina, contributes a spirited article entitled, "If Christ Should Come to Earth To-Day, Who Would Receive Him and Who Would Crucify Him?" Governor John R.
Rogers, of Washington, has a scholarly article on "Fundamental Propositions," and the magazine is filled with first-class material. Richard Lithicum, who has been termed the "American Kipling," is in its best vein in "A Silver Heel's Christmas Gift," which is well illustrated by Artist Marks.

The New Time will begin the new year with a circulation exceeding 50,000. In less than a year it has won its way into popular favor and its editors demonstrated that a reform magazine can be made a success.
No one who pretends to keep abreast of the thought of the day can be without The New Time, and it is an educational work of a value beyond computation.
