Sacramento Bee (Rep.): Is the wave of prosperity here? The five-cent barber-shop has struck the town.

Oregonian: Prior to convening of the senate the members passed a half hour in exchanging greetings. Mr. Hanna, of Ohio, was given a cordial reception by his Republican colleagues.

Grants Pass News: A reading room would be a good thing for Grants Pass; but a home reading circle will make better men and women than any public affair. Young boys who have parents worthy of the name never need a public resort.

Roseburg Review: Sylvester Pennoyer's scheming to secure control of the Democratic organization of the state must be frustrated. He has not the confidence of the rank and file of either the Democratic or Populists and defeat would be certain next June under his leadership.

The Bible story of the fall has been often quoted to the discredit of Eve's sex, but the Rev. M. Guy Pearse, of Kansas City, says the devil did not give the apple to the man, but to the woman, because he knew that the man would have eaten it all himself, but that the woman would go halves.

The New Orleans Picayune has found out that eastern quail and European skylarks were introduced into Oregon and Idaho some time ago, and are doing remarkably well. "This," the Picayune says, "will enable Portland bloods to have quail on toast when they go sykylarking."

The venerable Italian statesman, Crispi, the ablest man of Italy since the death of Cavour, is charged with bankwrecking, with sale of decorations and titles, with guilty knowledge that his wife had been one of the beneficiaries to the amount of $2,000,000 of the frauds which wrecked the banks of Naples, Rome

Mr. McKinley, it seems, is now pressed to issue a supplementary message to explain to Spain that he does not attack her honor in his annual message. This is owing to a misunderstanding of his party adherents, who have been throwing up their hats and asserting that it ment just what his platform directed, "a vigorous foreign policy."

The weakness of the life sentence for murder has been again illustrated in Michigan. Edward Rogers was sent to the penitentiary in 1891 under a life sentence for the murder of a woman in Saginaw. He has now been pardoned by Governor Pingree after serving only six years. There is no question as to his guilt; the pardon has been granted for sentimental reasons.

The Oregon state penitentiary had 338 criminal wards on hand Friday, 2d inst, at 4 o'clock p. m., and all were able to do such work as was assigned them, and eat heartily all the provisions supplied them. Sixteen new convicts were registered at the penitentiary during November and thirteen were regularly discharged and one killed. The regular expirations of time for December will number sever.

Junction City Times: When the people living out of town want anything they turn to their paper and look up the advertisement that has what they want, instead of coming to town and going to half a dozen stores before they can get what they want. Our farmers are too busy to spend their time hunting up some one to do their business with. The business man who wishes to have a share of their trade must come half way.

At a recent banquet of the New Haven chamber of commerce, Governor Cooke denied the old story that Connecticut once flooded the market with wooden nutmegs. "If we are not mistaken," says the New Haven Register, "this is the first time any official attempt has been made to relieve the state of this undesirable reputation, and if it is properly followed up will doubtless assume the proportions of a public service."

Chicago, Dec. 28.—General Alger, secretary of war, is lying critically ill at his residence, from an acute attack of grip with typhoid symptoms. It is only within the last few hours that his condition became such as to warn his family.

Sheriff Johnson of Mendocino county, Cal., has absconded with $6000, tax money, which he had collected and not accounted for.

MERRY MASQUERADERS.

A Grand Ball Given by the Woodmen New Year's Eve.

The masquerade given in this place New Year's eve is admittedly the largest and most successful entertainment ever given in Coquille City. Its attendance was the largest—the utmost capacity of the hall—and was the most brilliant, enjoyable and popular assemblage ever given here. The gallant Woodmen spared no pains to receive and entertain all who would come and warrant them kindly attention and hospitality. The committee of arrangements, on reception, and floor managers were all attention to minister to the friends and visitors in every demand for comfort and pleasures. By 9 o'clock the house was crowded to excess, so many pleasure seekers coming from Myrtle Point and intervening points, from the North Fork, Beaver Hill and everywhere. Many of these, too, were among the masqueraders, adding to the spectacle and the enjoyments of all present.

Leach's orchestra furnished the music, and this, too, excelled all former efforts, was heartily enjoyed and favorably commented on.

Mrs. R. E. Buck, Mrs. W. S. Perry and W. J. Fairman were chosen as the committee to award the prizes, one each to the best gentleman and lady representations. The result of award was: Mrs. Al Hite of Bandon received a handsome and well-merited prize, representing a bat; and Mrs. Ed. Rackleff splendidly played the role of a Woodman and received the gentleman's prize.

There were 90-odd maskers and fully as many more who took part in the dances, while the crowd of spectators was three or four times as many more. The grand march was a maze of evolutions and attractive display, and was conducted by R. E. Buck and Miss Ella. We could not do justice in mentioning the characters, for the crowd was too great to be interviewed, and with the exception of a few whom we shall name—aside of the prize-winners—we content ourselves with the statement that all so creditably performed their parts and behaved so well that their presence was most agreeable and welcome. Misses Mary Nosler and Belle Jackson looked well and went to considerable pains in preparation of their costumes as representatives of the "Portland Rope Factory." Their costumes were both odd and handsome. The Indian and his squaw—Novie Little and Jessie Beyers—were clever, looking and acting well. "Two Little Girls in Blue"—were good; "Daisy Belle" was Mrs. McDonald; "THE HERALD" was represented charmingly and uniquely by Miss Ciara Gage (our thanks, Miss Clara); the clown was Is Nosler; Tug Wilson, as a negro, scored a point. Several visiting ladies and gentlemen acted well and looked well, but we could give them no interview and did not know them.

The managing committeemen were ubiquitous and courteous. They served as doorkeepers, also, and turned into the Woodmen's fund these sums, severally, as the gross receipts of the ball: John Simmons, $74.75; Wm. Rose, $21.50; J. W. Leneve, $5; George Robinson, $8; R. S. Knowlton, $18. Total, $126.75.

The Woodmen are to be congratulated for this so creditable and successful an effort of providing a social event.

I. O. O. F. Installation.

J. S. Lawrence, D. D. G. M. of District No. 51, installed the officers of Coquille Lodge, No. 53, I. O. O. F., on Saturday evening, Jan. 1, 1898, as follows: J. A. Seed, N. G.; J. J. Stanley, V. G.; J. S. Lawrence, secretary; S. P. C. Johnson, treasurer; C. W. White, warden; John Nasburg, I. G.; B. E. Nosler, conductor; B. F. Collier, R. S. N. G.; Clyde A. Gage, R. S. N. G.; Wm. Rohm, R. S. V. G.; Chas. Adams, L. S. V. G.; M. T. Clinton, R. S. S.; G. W. Leneve, L. S. S.

The Coquille Coal Co. will deliver coal at any point in town at $3 per ton. J. W. Leneve is agent and will fill your order.

A special meeting of the Coquille Dairymen's Union is called to be held in this city on Saturday, 15th inst. See notice.

NOTICE.—All kinds of engine and machinery work for steamboats, sawmills, etc., done in the best manner. Will be found at Lyons' mill; or can be addressed at this place. J. C. Wilson, machinist.

Melted cheese is called "Welch rabbit" in the same sense of popular humor that designates bull frogs as "Dutch nightingales," pork and beans as "Boston woodcock," and codfish as a "Cape Cod turkey."

Mrs. Elitch, of Denver, drives about the city in a light wagon, drawn by an ostrich. She is the only woman in the world who owns a zoological garden.

UPPER-RIVER DEPARTMENT.

Myrtle Point and the Upper-Coquille and What is Going on There.

Uncle Harvey Lewellen is quite ill at this writing (Sunday).

We are promised a wedding to report about the 15th of January.

The little son of A. McMickle is still very low, yet manfully wrestling with typhoid.

Some people do not care so much about what they really are, as to what they make people believe they are.

The little steamer Ralph has taken a vacation, being no longer on a regular run since the expiration of the milk contract the last of the old year.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Braden are in deep mourning over the loss of Fido, a pet poodle, which was crushed to death under a wagon wheel on the famous Cribben's hill on last Saturday.

Attorney Sinclair of your city is a frequent visitor to our burg of late, however his visits are usually as that of the ministering angel, strewing flowers in the path of the unfortunate.

A. McMickle, our city market man, has had his residence moved onto the lots recently purchased by him of Levi Gant on Spruce and 5th streets. G. C. Carl and S. E. Decker, the house-movers, did the work.

Several of our young folks attended the Woodmen's ball in your town on New Year's eve, and are loud in their praise of the occasion and have many kind words for the W. of W. and the Coquille City people in general.

A. H. Black & Co. informed us while visiting their commodious department recently, that they are receiving about 500 lbs. of butter weekly, this being the lowest mark reached during the year. (This creamery runs the year round). They still have a few carloads of apples yet on hand which, when shipped, will complete the shipment of about 7000 boxes handled by this firm during the season.

Mrs. Chas. Lavine and little son Edward are visiting with relatives and friends on the lower river.

The young folks enjoyed another social dance in Dixon's hall on Saturday evening. These parties are always a success.

Mrs. C. Lockwood and little daughter Beulah went over to the bay by Friday's train to meet the New Year and visit with their many friends in Bay county.

W. O. Corbin came over from the mines Saturday last and spent a few days in town. He reports the miners all in good spirits and expecting to reap a rich harvest of gold nuggets during the winter.

Ralph Knight left for Roseburg Monday after spending the holidays among his many friends in this vicinity. He has almost entirely recovered from the injuries received from a club in the hands of Jumbo in Roseburg recently.

Died—Near Myrtle Point, on Saturday, January 1, 1898, Miss Edna, the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Houser, after an illness of about three months. Miss Edna was a bright little girl, and one possessed of that kind and loving disposition that commands the admiration, love and esteem of all her playmates. It can be truthfully said that she was an universal favorite of young and old alike. The family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in this their sad bereavement.

The holidays being over, it is time for us to realize that the new year is here and with it comes new cares and new burdens, requiring more energy and renewed ambitions. In the present as in the past thousands are being crushed under the heavy wheels of competition, guided by avarice and greed; and so long as our social circle is composed of competing elements, each trying to supercede and pull the other down, just so long will unequal conditions exist, and just so long will the new year fail to be a happy one to all.

G. A. R. and W. R. C. Installations.

Gen. Lytle Post, No. 27, G. A. R., and W. R. C. No. 9, held a joint installation last night at Masonic hall—public to all old soldiers and their families. The audience was considerable, and the ladies of the Relief Corps had prepared bountifully of good things for a luncheon. During the installation exercises, and the following officers were inducted into office: B. H. Haskin, post commander; Jacob Croy, J. V.; (L. Harlocker, S. V., failed to be present); D. P. Strang, chaplain; W. H. Nosler, O. D.; John Goodman, O. G.; J. Quick, adjutant; W. E. McDuffee, Q. M.

At the conclusion of the above, Comrade Quick officiated for the W. R. C. and installed the following officers: Mrs. W. Hite, president; Mrs. Elliott, S. V.; Mrs. W. Drane, J. V.; Mrs. George Martin, treasurer; Mrs. Stine, chaplain; Mrs. Harrington, secretary; Miss Lucia Nichols, conductress; Mrs. Sheppard, guard; Miss Irene Leneve, assistant guard.

The ladies conducted their ritual exercises in good form, the conductress especially being prompt and efficient.

[Bandon Recorder.]

The steamer Moro still lies on the beach south of the breakwater. Her machinery has been removed except the donkey engine. She has considerable sand in her hold and looks somewhat weather-worn and wave beaten, but otherwise not much worse than she did three or four days after going ashore.

The G. A. R. ball Christmas night was a success and quite well attended. Besides clearing all expenses, the post has a surplus to add to the building fund which has been accumulating for some time. Thomas L. Stitt, representing a fisherman, received the gentlemen's prize, a celuloid collar and cuff box, and Mrs. Al Hite received the ladies' prize, a nice album. Mrs. Hite represented a bat.

On our great winter festival, Christmas day, the mean temperature, was fifty-four degrees, and on July 4th, our great summer festival, it was sixty, the difference between the two seasons on those memorable dates being only six degrees. On July 20th, it was only fifty-four degrees, the same that it was here on Christmas day. From the foregoing it will be seen, that for equability of clime—and equability of clime is the unfailing test of a health resort—we have no compeer, not only in the whole of the United States, nor anywhere else that we ever read or heard of.

GEORGE BENETT, V. O.

St. Louis Republic: Probably the most valuable featrre of Secretary Gage's currency plan is that it has shown the country at large the administration's utter disregard of the pledges contained in the St. Louis platform.

Durrant Again Doomed.

San Francisco, Dec. 28.—Late this afternoon the supreme court, after having heard the matter argued in chambers, denied the application of the attorneys for W. H. T. Durrant, the condemned murderer of Blanch Lamont, for a writ of probable cause. It was contended youths erred in two ways, that judge for the execution of their client within less than sixty days from the date on which he was recommitted to the warden at San Quentin prison. The supreme court, however, after hearing all the points relied upon for reversal, denied the petition.

Browne—Were you ever hypnotized? Towne—No; but I've often been present when my wife made up her mind.

"Oscar is awfully vain." "Isn't he, though? Somebody told him he had a completion like a baby, and now he eats infant's food three times a day."

Mrs. Gabbleton—I am told that Mrs. Hennypeck has lost all hold on her husband. Old Broadhead—Yes; I've noticed that he has shaved off his chin whiskers.

Attorney—Have you formed or expressed any opinion concerning this case? Venireman—All I've said about it is, I'd like to make $2 a day settin' on jury.

His last words: "His last words were of you." The prodigal son-in-law tried to feel as solemn as he looked. "Might I inquire what they were?" "You might. He said that if he could only get one more good kick at you he would die happy."

Take Notice.

Coquille City, Jan. 1, 1898.—On and after this date prices for Horseshoeing at Wilson & Field's will be as follows:

"My daughter, when recovering from an attack of fever, was a great sufferer from pain in the hips," writes Louden Grover, of Sardis, Ky. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is also a certain cure for rheumatism. Sold by R. S. Knowlton.

A Tory Irishman Held Up.

MARSHFIELD, Dec. 31, 1897.

ED. HERALD: In the Coast Mail of December 25th it has quoted thus: "It was stated in debate, in the British parliament, by Mr. Campbell Bannerman, that the famous Cameron Highlanders, whose pibroch rose wild and high at Waterloo, is now filled with East Londoners, and is really, therefore, a regiment of cockneys disguised as mountaineers; and Lord Beresford became very tired of the Scotch racket over the gay, gallant Gordons, the men from the banks of the Dee and Don, so he went to the war office and discovered that the Gordon Highlanders, who stormed the heights of Dhorgai, were mainly Irishmen, and that even the famous piper who played 'Cock-o'-the North,' savage and shrill, after being shot through both legs, was an Irishman, who said, 'arrah, be aisy.'"

Mr. Editor, just allow me a small space to nail that slander on my beloved countrymen. The editor of the Coast Mail is just as fully aware as the writer of this note that the British army is composed of English, Scotch, Irish and Welsh regiments, with the rank and file of each recruited in their respective countries. Now, supposing an Irishman wanted to join the colors of the Gordon Highlanders, he would have to claim at least that he was born in Scotland, which I am sure no self-respecting Irishman would do. There is too much love of country in him for that, therefore the editor of the Coast Mail, maybe unwittingly, does his countrymen an injustice.

In all the wars that Britain has engaged in since ever I can remember, Highlanders are always accorded the post of honor; i. e., in the very front of the battle. They seem to be the superstructure of the whole British army, which it is built upon, and this is what makes my Lord Beresford and other light calibre tired and jealous. Lord Beresford is one of those harmless cranks of the George Francis Train pattern, whom nobody takes as serious. Both believe, of course, they are uncrowned kings.

The other part of the yarn is too ridiculous to discuss. Just imagine in your mind's eye a knock-kneed, spindle-shanked cockney standing in the ranks dressed in Highland costume! Why, man, he would be like a scare-crow in a potato field. The editor of the Coast Mail will tell us next that his countrymen fought the battle of Bannockburn!

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said
This is my own, my native land."

SCOT.

Putting a screen in the saloon door, to me seems confession that he is ashamed of the business.
