

THE LABOR EXCHANGE.

Frances Willard: We have been for a long time trying to make people prosperous by making them temperate. It is time to make them prosperous by making them temperate.

L. E. Guide: The commercial age will as surely pass away as did the ages of savagery, barbarism and feudalism. Co-operation will be the next step in the evolution of the perfect state.

Labor Exchange Guide: Conventional morality may land the individual in a palace of ease instead of a prison, yet his pathway there may be strewn with broken hearts, crushed hopes and saddened lives of their.

L. E. Guide: Labor might be made a cheerful exercise that no man would care to evade; ill paid drudgery such as labor nearly always is under present conditions, will always be shirked when possible. Labor might become dignified, drudgery never.

L. E. Guide: Some day when people are wiser and have become forever free from the domination of monopoly, they will regard the Labor Exchange idea as embodying every vital principle of economics, and its practice will become universal over the earth.

L. E. Guide: The common needs, aspirations and desires of humanity would draw men together in close associations, without the exercise of outside force, had not monopoly set them to scrambling ferociously with one another for the few crumbs that remain free.

L. E. Guide: The Labor Exchange is a practical effort to establish the principle of equitable exchange of labor's products, a principle that every economic student acknowledges is a correct one, and one that must sooner or later be adopted by all societies or civilizations is a failure.

A good friend residing in Delta county writes that out of 1407 registered voters in his district 608 refused to vote, and "by so doing gave the upholders of our degenerate system full sway."

L. E. Guide: Bradstreet's and Dun's reviews of trade, two of the leading apostles of this age of commercial piracy, have been rather less sanguine of late regarding the return of prosperity.

The New Dispensation: The Israelites did not raise an army and conquer the Egyptians, did they? They had neither arms, money, courage nor brains, but they were forced out of Egypt.

Among the wise maxims which we wrote in our copy books, there is none more valuable and none more neglected in practice than this: "Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today."

James Russell Lowell: My God! when I read o'er the bitter lives of men whose eager hearts were quite too great to beat beneath the cramped mode of the day, and see them mocked by the world which their hard toil will make the common birthright of the age to come.

"It is reported that at the recent reform convention in Chicago a delegate, while discussing the Hazleton shooting affair became excited and called upon labor to arm itself with swords, guns, etc.

The Ralph J. Long, a Coquille schooner, was run into by the steamer Point Arena, at the sea wall, San Francisco, on Thursday, 20th and her stern was considerably damaged.

Curry County Party Committees.

The following gentlemen compose the Curry county central committee of the three political parties:

REPUBLICAN. P. Hickey, chairman, Gold Beach; W. T. White, Cheto, secretary; A. R. Zumwalt, Sixes (left county); J. A. Haines, Eckley; W. Sutton, Port Orford; Chas. Wakeman, Ophir; David Carey, Wedderburn; W. H. Crook, Pistol River; H. C. Ransom, Mountain; James Moore, Big Bend; T. W. Billings, Mule Creek, (removed from county).

DEMOCRATIC. R. A. Allen, chairman, Wedderburn; J. S. Averill, secretary, Gold Beach; Frank Langlois, Floras Creek; J. F. Cox, Eckley; Louis Ferrer, Sixes; L. P. Johnson, Port Orford; R. A. POPULIST. J. H. Upton, chairman, Floras Creek (Langlois P. O.); E. Dodge, secretary, Ophir; F. A. Friend, Port Orford; G. D. Elgin, Eckley; W. A. Rumley, Ophir; Thos. Van Pelt, Cheto.

Coos Bay News. The pension of Arthur Bridges has been increased from $3 to $12. Steamers here are being loaded to their fullest capacity. The Empire was drawing 164 feet when she crossed out Friday.

J. S. Jones, who has been on the sick list for some time, left Saturday for Tehama, Cal. Two of his sisters reside there, whom he has not seen for 25 years.

R. A. Graham's coal mine, on the Isthmus, is being opened as rapidly as possible. Necessary buildings for employees are being erected, and the outlook, generally, is very favorable.

The removal of the Blanchard and Chikot again leaves Coos bay without any shipping facilities to Portland. Probably when the Klondike rush is over there will be some kind of an antiquated craft put on the route.

Geo. Quigley, late of Newport, drops us a line from Nevada City, Cal. His health is good, but he doesn't like the place, and expects to return to Coos bay in the not far distant future.

L. E. Guide: Bradstreet's and Dun's reviews of trade, two of the leading apostles of this age of commercial piracy, have been rather less sanguine of late regarding the return of prosperity.

The Washington correspondent of the Oregonian says, that the river and harbor committee of the house, has favorably reported upon the senate resolution authorizing the engineer department to remove the mud bars, commonly called the hog's back, in Coos bay. The work is to be done by contract. This resolution will undoubtedly pass the house in a very short time, as it is generally favored by the committee, and has been signed by the chairman.

Johnie and the Teacher.

At a school not a hundred miles from Weatherly one of the directors is a clergyman. He sent word that he, with the other directors, would visit the school last Friday. The teacher, a young lady, was desirous of making a good impression, so she drilled the children carefully as to just what to say on the occasion of the visit.

Ho for Klondike.

MYRTLE POINT, Jan. 15, 1898. ED. HERALD: W. H. BROWN, S. C. Giles, George Mullin, Wm. Page, Ed Page, Rev. John Bonewitz and Rev. Vandyke, besides the regular crew of the Ralph, pulled out for the Myrtle Point dock last Wednesday for the purpose of visiting Bandon-by-the-Sea and to complete arrangements to build a schooner with the view of sailing to the shivering but rich region of the Yukon.

The morning was somewhat chilly, as the fog accumulated during the night was settling down upon the valley; however, it was evident that the party would have a fair day when "Old Sol" should show his shining face at a later hour. The crowd was soon joyously gliding down the placid Coquille, and no doubt some of them were discussing the possible opportunities for acquiring great wealth during the next twelve months owing to the initiatory step now being taken.

The appointed hour came and in her flurry the teacher failed to notice that the first boy was absent. She walked over and asked, "Johnnie, who made you?" "Adam," was the reply. "No! No! Johnnie; God made you." "No he didn't. The boy God made stayed at home today."

It is the wish of the committee that every part and every interest of the entire state shall be represented in this book. You are respectfully requested to prepare, or cause to be prepared, as soon as possible, an article showing fully and accurately the resources of your county, as nearly as may be, under the following heads:

Agriculture; fruit culture; sheep raising; cattle and other live stock; dairying; lumbering; flouring; other manufacturing; fisheries; mines, minerals and stones; timber; water-power; transportation facilities (kinds and extent).

You are not limited to the points enumerated. These are merely suggested, and you are earnestly requested to include any other resources of your county which, in your judgment, is worthy of attention. The following information is also desired:

Population of the county; number of acres cultivated; number of acres uncultivated, but fit for cultivation; average price of farm lands; value of property as shown by the tax roll of 1897.

In connection with the foregoing, please prepare, or have prepared, an article descriptive of the county seat, or the principal town, giving its population, business enterprises, churches, schools, and briefly, all matters about which an intending home buyer would probably inquire.

The committee would like to mention every town in your county, but to do so would make the book too large. A good idea of all the other towns of the county can be formed after reading a description of the principal one.

The Board of Agriculture desire this book to be a standard of accurate information concerning the resources, possibilities and development of the state, and of the enterprise and progress of its people. It is hoped and believed that the citizens, through their county courts, boards of trade and city councils will take hold of the work in earnest and do all possible to attain this object.

This matter should be in the hands of the printer as soon as possible. It will require some time to print the large edition contemplated, so I hope you will proceed with all the haste consistent with the nature of the work to be done.

When ready send the manuscript to me at Woodlawn (Portland), Or. Yours very respectfully, J. T. GREGG, Compiler for the Committee.

[NOTE.—We are authorized to state that Judge Schroeder will forward copies of the above letter to parties interested, as mills, creameries, mine owners, etc., and ask them to furnish the statistics wanted. He will then compile them for the use of the State Board of Agriculture, which has in charge the publication of "The Resources of Oregon," to be issued at an early day. All parties receiving these requests should be prompt in answering, and thus avoid unnecessary delay or the rejection of the work. The board is anxious to have the matter prepared early to do good.—Ed. HERALD.]

IMPORTANT TO COOS COUNTY.

Publication of the Resources of Oregon by the State Board of Agriculture.

WOODLAWN (Portland), Or., Jan. 19, 1898. To the County Judge and Coos County Commissioners, Coos County, Oregon.—GENTLEMEN: A great number of people from all parts of the United States and possibly from other countries, have gone, are now going and will, in the near future, go to Alaska.

Many of them have passed, and will pass through Oregon, on their way, and it is believed that when they know our natural resources and their present state of development, many substantial men will make Oregon their terminus. It is fair to presume that most of those who go to Alaska will return seeking investments and homes.

Hoping to secure to this state a substantial share of these investments, and to furnish homes upon her ample domain to those desiring them, the State Board of Agriculture, at its annual meeting in November, 1897, decided to publish and distribute a book in which should be set forth plainly, accurately, and as fully as possible, the resources of Oregon.

Frank C. Baker, A. J. Johnson, and J. H. Albert, members of said board, were appointed a committee to take immediate charge of the work. The committee employed J. T. Gregg to collate and compile the requisite information.

It is the wish of the committee that every part and every interest of the entire state shall be represented in this book. You are respectfully requested to prepare, or cause to be prepared, as soon as possible, an article showing fully and accurately the resources of your county, as nearly as may be, under the following heads:

Mr. J. P. Linsbarger, widely known for many years as the special representative of the Populists and Free Silver Press of the United States, has kindly forwarded the following letter for publication:

DEAR SIR:—I am anxious for the sake of the suffering and out of gratitude to you to give my personal endorsement of your wonderful remedy. On the 6th of January, 1897, I was in Washington and was suddenly seized with an aggravated case of inflammatory rheumatism; so severe and painful was the attack that within 24 hours my left arm was paralyzed and I was only able to dress with assistance. I secured a bottle of 5 DROPS and took a dose that night, rubbing some on externally as directed, and continuing treatment twice the second morning dose. My arm was absolutely free from pain, and all swelling and stiffness disappeared. The quickness and completeness of my cure was remarkable. I have known for over a year of the great curative properties of your medicine and have several friends who have been cured by it of Neuralgia, Catarrh, and Rheumatism. I wish you every success and trust that those similarly afflicted will at least give this remedy a trial. SINCERELY YOURS, J. P. LINSBARGER, Editor of Populist and Reform Papers, Old Stock Exchange Building, Chicago, Ill.

DEAR SIR:—I would like to thank you for your great remedy, "5 DROPS," and tell you what it has done for me. I had Rheumatism in every joint and in the heart, and I had Catarrh of the head for 30 years. I was so poorly that I lost the use of my legs and arms, and could not move without pain. I was so crippled, that I had done but little work for seven years, and our family physician, a good doctor, told me that my Rheumatism and Catarrh were incurable. I believed him, but now, after using 5 DROPS only two months, I can truly say I have not felt so well for seven years. This medicine does more than is claimed for it. At this time my Catarrh is much better, and my hearing is now good, and my eyesight is much better. I have gained more than 10 pounds of flesh and can do a full day's work. It is the best medicine I ever saw to give a mother who has nursed for it has the same effect on the child as on the mother. It wards off Croup and cures the lives of the child and causes sleep to both young and old. W. M. KELLEMS, Siberia, Ferry Co., Ind. Jan. 29, 1898.

We received the following letter from Mr. J. T. Wilson of Omaha, Neb. Mr. Wilson has been here many years, an invalid, and reading the above letter which was forwarded, wrote Mr. Kellems, asking if his endorsement was genuine, and received this reply, which he published.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of recent date at hand, the testimonial you speak of is genuine. I leave it to them and every word of it is true, and I could swear to it and prove it by my own witness. The company did not ask me for this letter. I sent it to them last January for publication and to certify that I was cured. I have used 5 DROPS only two months, and I can truly say I have not felt so well for seven years. This medicine does more than is claimed for it. At this time my Catarrh is much better, and my hearing is now good, and my eyesight is much better. I have gained more than 10 pounds of flesh and can do a full day's work.
