The new school seats arrived per steamer Jennie last Wednesday. Our furniture dealer, J. A. Jacobson, returned from a business trip to San Francisco last Friday. He had been absent a long while, chiefly owing to the unsettled condition of business matters occasioned by the Klondike craze. The Eugene Register says: The Rev. E. A. Ross revival meetings that have been in progress during the past three weeks at the M. E. church, came to a close with last evening's service. Rev. Ross left on today's local for Tangent, and after a week's rest will commence revival meetings at Junction. During his stay in this city the evangelist made many warm friends and some enemies, as prophesied in his first service here. One hundred and forty, including some prominent citizens and county officials, were converted during the meetings. Fifty-four persons united with the M. E. church yesterday, while the large majority of the balance will soon unite with the other churches of the city.

The new school seats and desks—of beautiful bird's-eye maple tops, backs and seats, artistic iron frames, safety ink-wells, book shelves, etc.—were furnished complete at some little over half the cost of the wooden ones occupying the old building, with the additional advantage of being uniform, strong, up-to-date, comfortable, healthful and very handsome. Besides, they are out of the regular line of cussing and discussing by fault-finders, for they will hardly be paid for by taxation, but by the efforts of the children and youth of the town themselves, as they go along, improving themselves while they are doing it, and sharing the honor of improving their school facilities and comforts.

Miles Lammy and Frank Willard returned last Friday from the San Joaquin valley, California, whither they had gone to spend the winter, at least, and longer, "all else being equal." They return well satisfied with Coos county and climate, and give a rather dark prospect for the ranchers in the San Joaquin valley. The latter are not hopeful from the present outlook for the future harvest, while the nights have been unusually frosty.

The necessary force is at hand and the Johnson mill (late Morris Bro's) above town will start up tomorrow morning. This is good news, and the way Mr. Johnson has pushed the work of enlargement and improvement proclaims him "the right man in the right place" and as thoroughly understanding his business. Other advancement is in prospect, we learn. It is in contemplation to put in electric lights and run night and day. If this is done, our city—including business houses, halls, churches and hotels—might utilize the service and introduce several lamps.

The Trinity (Cal.) Journal mentions the marriage at that place on Thursday, Jan. 28, of W. J. Lichty of that place, to our Miss E. M. Wood (Miss Beth, as she is best known to us); daughter of our townsman Uncle Jack Wood. The HERALD heartily joins in congratulations, with the hope that our young friend has united with a husband worthy of her.

The compliments of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Finnen (nee Miss Josie Hudson) were received at this sanctum yesterday, in the way of nice wedding cake. The wedding ceremony took place Saturday evening last at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hudson, Rev. W. B. Smith, officiating. The HERALD joins in congratulations, and thanks the bride and groom for kind remembrance.

G. F. Bontell and Charles Collier were the really faithful ones in the work of setting up and placing the new desks and seats at the primary school, devoting most of two days at the work, voluntarily. M. Kroll, T. A. Walker, Prof. Hawkins and J. S. McEwen helped, what they could, while Miss Bentley, the teacher, was almost constantly at hand. The first named and Miss Bentley deserve special thanks.

C. M. Reddish, the affable and good-looking agent of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, made us a business visit yesterday and selected the HERALD as its advertising medium in this section with the shrewdness and discretion that a hawk would choose a Plymouth Rock cocker over a mole or sparrow. Mr. R. has also selected an agency for the sale of the DeWitt proprietary medicines here. These will appear in due time.

H. Hamby, an inmate of the county infirmary, died on the 2d inst., of paralysis, and was buried the following day, services being conducted by Rev. W. B. Smith. Deceased had been a long-time citizen of Coos county and had worked at points on the bay and on this river many years, being well and favorably known. He was first stricken with paralysis some two years ago, while at work for the railroad company at the yards at Marshfield, from which he never fully recovered. He was aged 61 years.

Temperance Legion Entertainment.

The Loyal Temperance Legion at this place gave an entertainment at the Christian church last Saturday night. The attendance was good, considering the stormy weather, and the program specially interesting, while the ladies of the W. C. T. U. had prepared bountifully of delicious refreshments, chiefly of cake and coffee, and served a host of patrons. The program consisted of the following: Song by the choir—"Muster the Children;" marching song by the legion, with drum and banners—"Temperance Boys and Girls Are We;" legion's salute, giving the national motto, rallying cry, etc.; recitation by Grace Smith—"The Drunkard's Child;" recitation by Leta Barrows—"A Few Years Hence;" recitation by Lottie Bontell—"Dressing My Dolly, Mary Ann;" male quartet—"The Dram Shop on the King's Highway;" recitation by Lydia Simmons—"I Have no Fears;" recitation by Kennett Lawrence—"The Spider and His Web;" essay by Earl Elliott—"Man—His Proverbial Ill Luck and Continual Foolishness;" song by the legion—"Our Glasses Upside Down;" recitation, representing the states—Maine by May Wickham, Kansas by Lillian Martin, North and South Dakota by Phoebe Simmons and Rilla Dunham, in concert, and Rhode Island by Gladys Gage; song by choir—"Prohibition Music All Around."

The banners were very handsome, the lettering being the artistic work of N. W. Leneve, our sign-writer, appropriate for the legion. One banner contained the name of the legion and its company letter, and the other four mottoes and rallying cry.

The receipts were $12.90, to be divided between the legion and W. C. T. U. for literature and other expenses. Mrs. Good is leader and managed the exercises of the legion.
