

THE LABOR EXCHANGE.

The Labor Exchange and Labor.

The Labor Exchange exalts, glorifies labor. Its motto is "In labor we trust; by labor we live." It aims to give to labor all that it produces. It furnishes employment for idle labor, stimulates labor in its immediate vicinity, thus proving itself a true champion of home industry, starts up idle factories and workshops, and builds new industries. The Labor Exchange, when it becomes universal, will place labor upon the footing where it naturally belongs.—Labor Exchange.

What is Labor?

"Labor," said Franklin, "if you need it not for food, you do for physic."

In the ideas of some labor is disreputable. The workers should make all efforts to raise it from the low position into which it has been thrust and make it respected. Let us assert, with the good men of the twelfth century, whose shoestrings their descendants of today are unworthy to unloose: "Laborare est orare"—To labor is to pray; and to say with the poet:

Work for thy bread, be it ever so slowly; Churn a flower; be it ever so lowly; Labor! For labor is noble and holy. And let the brave deeds be thy prayer to thy God.

Adam Smith: The products of labor constitute the natural recompense or wages of labor.

Bentham: In the order of history labor precedes capital; from land and labor everything proceeds.

Karl Marx: The value of a product is determined by the quantity of value constituting labor contained in it.

Denver Republican: It is no doubt true that in many cases capital gets a larger share of the earnings of an industry than it is entitled to according to a perfectly just basis of distribution.

Abraham Lincoln: Labor is prior to and independent of capital. Capital is only the fruit of labor, and could never have existed if labor had not first existed. Labor is the superior of capital and deserves much the higher consideration.

Henry George: Labor is the producer of all wealth—this is a self-evident truth. Why is it then that all over the civilized world the laboring man is the poor man? If work produces wealth, how is it that the workingman enjoys the least wealth, and they that enjoy the most are everywhere those who do not produce? The reason that labor does not get its just due is that labor is robbed.

No-To-Bac for Fifty Cents. Guaranteed tobacco habit cure, makes weak men strong, blood pure. 50c, 81. All druggists.

Labor Exchange Guide: Only children, imbeciles and weaklings need protection. Labor needs no protection. Labor is so strong, skilful, full of the energy of creative power. To behold labor whining for protection is a sight sad to see.

Labor Exchange Guide: Labor is the Samson of humanity. But he is a captive. He is made to believe that it is a virtue not to use his strength to gain his own freedom. He is loaded with burdens, blinded with sophistries and robbed of his natural sustenance. He is an imprisoned king who knows not how to gain his own. Without justice, he must perform beg for favors.

The Situation, the plan of campaign for the Labor Exchange forces, and for all reforms which aim at certain and prompt success in the contest against the money oligarchy, is now out in circular form, and can be had at 50 cents per hundred! Send at once, before the edition is exhausted, and place each copy in good hands. Address "The Labor Exchange," Independence, Mo.

Toledo Union: Wm. Ruether, the Ohio commissioner of labor statistics, has issued an interesting report on the condition of the mining industry. "The use of machinery has almost entirely supplanted pick mining in the territory generally known as the Hocking district. Practically all the coal mined in Hocking county is done by machinery, while three-fourths of that produced in Athens and over half of that in Perry is obtained by the same method. In Athens county the miners average seventy cents a day; in Hocking sixty-seven cents a day. It is also stated in so many words that the miners are shamefully bled by truck stores and exorbitant rental charges, and the young men are leaving the districts. Chattel slavery was never so bad as this."

On account of failing health, one of the finest ranches in the state must be sold at once. Call at the Herald office, or on James Doughty, Lampy creek, this county.

The Roseburg Review, of 10th inst., says: Micelli Bro's have secured the contract to furnish 400,000 brick for the new Coos county courthouse at Coquille City, the contractor being H. Snook, of Salem. They will go to Coquille within a few days to make arrangements to begin work there, and will take with them several of their old hands from this place.

O. C. Oihus and Asle Wold, of Sherman, South Dakota, have been visiting our fellow-citizen J. A. Jacobson the past week, starting on their return home last Friday. The Herald had a pleasant call and an order for the "Old Reliable" to be a visitor and keep them posted on matters here. They came at the right time to judge of our section and climatic conditions—the worst time of the year—but so favorably impressed have they been that they expect to return and make their home with us in the near future. They would be good and progressive citizens, and we would welcome them.

Astoria Budget: The revived corpse of the schooner General Siglin, which furnished one of the most sensational sea stories of 1897, will leave the sound within a few days on a voyage to Copper river, carrying passengers and freight. The Siglin is practically a new vessel, having been thoroughly overhauled and entirely refitted. The General Siglin was wrecked in May, 1897, in the North Pacific ocean, and all aboard were lost. She was sighted 110 miles east of Queen Charlotte island by the steamer Willard Ainsworth. There was no sign of life aboard the water-logged craft, but lashed in the davits with a clammy hand on the wheel and eyes that stared into vacancy, was a dead man. No other form was seen. The boats were gone. The mystery of that dead man has never since been cleared.

A Good Letter—From the Clerk of the Circuit Court. FERNANDINA, Fla., Feb. 28, 1896. MR. J. GEORGE SCHUBER, Druggist, City—Dear George: Please send a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I would not feel easy if I knew there was none of this valuable Remedy in the house. I have given it a fair test and consider it one of the very best remedies for croup that I have ever found. One dose has always been sufficient, although I use it freely. Any cold my children contract yields very readily to this medicine. I can conscientiously recommend it for croup and colds in children.

Yours respectfully, GEO. E. WOLFF. Sold by R. S. Knowlton.

Communicated. ED. HERALD: "Out of this own mouth shall thou be condemned." On the 24 day of February the convention of the state league of Republicans met in Portland and proceeded to condemn the tactics of their own honest (?) money members in the following manner: "EVENING SESSION. "Reassembling at 7:30 o'clock in the evening the credentials committee announced that it was ready to report. Johnson, of Linn, read the report, which showed that 2018 delegates were entitled to seats. It was prefaced with the following: "In view of the loose provisions of the League constitution, in regard to ascertaining the qualifications of delegates or the number of members actually upon the rolls of the clubs, upon which representation is claimed, we are compelled to report that the following delegates have prima facie rights to seats in this convention. Your committee feels that it must call the attention of the convention to the apparent stuffing of the rolls of the clubs for the sole purpose of representation, especially in Multnomah county, by which that county has a representation about double that formerly claimed, and that it deems that it is unjust to the clubs of the outside counties to come with a genuine representation and have it offset by paper clubs and fictitious membership in Multnomah county. "It therefore recommends that such amendments of the league constitution be adopted as shall confine the representation in league conventions to clubs regularly organized to do Republican work, whose membership shall have been filed with the secretary of the league. The delegates were divided as follows: "First district, 133 clubs and 756 delegates. "Second district, 126 clubs and 1262 delegates—delegates from Multnomah county, 969. "Johnson moved the adoption of the report as read, but a number of motions intervened to throw out the vote of Multnomah county on account of fraud. Wallace McCamant (anti-Mitchell) named four clubs which he said had no right to seats in the convention. "W. T. Hume (Mitchell) called attention to the McKinley and Hobart league of Portland, from which McCamant was a delegate, and declared that it had no standing as a club, and ought not to be represented in the convention. Hume admitted that the rolls of the clubs had been stuffed, and said that he did not care if the entire Multnomah delegation, consisting of nearly 1,000 names, was thrown out. The difficulty was finally settled by the adoption of the report of the credentials committee, which seated all the delegates. "Who can fail to see from this common report that their reputed membership is false; that their methods of doing business stuff of rotten Republican style, snuffing their club rolls in the same manner that they stuffed the ballot boxes the last presidential election. "The last modern an honest Republican want to convince him of the corruption of the manipulators of the once grand old Republican party; but now, alas, the Hannaized hoodlums usurpers of the will of the majority, ever seeking and usually succeeding in thwarting majority rule. "In the address of C. B. Moore he gives the administration credit for the famine in other countries, but advanced the cereal prices, but charges the south up with the reduction made in the wages of the New England operators of the cotton mills and, no doubt, later on he will credit the administration with the advanced shipping, mercantile and labor interests, caused by the great rush to the Alaska gold fields, and charge Bryan, the Populists and the Almighty with the dire distress that will reign in that frigid region.
