Portland Dispatch: The Guard and Register of Eugene are having a controversy as to whether Mr. J. W. Hamilton, judge elect, is a gold or silver Democrat. It is entirely immaterial. He will make one of the best judges the district ever had. That is all a judge should be.

Oregonian: Here is another example of the pre-eminence of college sports over statesmanship: Ex-Governor Fifer, of Illinois, was introduced at the Williams college commencement as the father of the only man in the college who had scored anything in a football game during the year, and as such he was cordially received.

Roseburg Review, June 27th: Jacob F. Fenton, a late private in Co. M, 5th regular N. Y. heavy artillery volunteers, died at the Soldiers' Home yesterday. He was 58 years old and was born in Pennsylvania. He entered the Home May 29, 1898, from Marion county. The funeral was held at the Home this morning at 10 o'clock.

The people of Polk county are liable to have a little county-seat war in the near future. The courthouse at Dallas was destroyed by fire a few weeks ago, and the people of Independence, 10 miles away, think now is the time to strike while the iron is hot, and the question of building a permanent courthouse is trembling in the balance.

Governor-elect Geer is in the city, spending a few days to getaway from the numerous place-hunters who persisted in making life burdensome at his farm home in Marion county.

Portland Evening Telegram: Largest salmon in the world! This is one of the Oregon exhibits at the Omaha fair. Saturday, per Pacific Express Company, was shipped to Superintendent Dosch a monster royal chinook, weighing 83 pounds. Even in Oregon, where the largest salmon run, this specimen would be a monster. It was sent in a frozen cake of ice that weighed almost half a ton. The fish was caught near Astoria. Other exhibits sent lately include black soil from various sections, with animals, native birds, grain, black sand with pure gold flour, ore, grasses, grains, timber, etc.

A late Examiner mentions a painful injury received by Mrs. Col. Evan Miles at the Presidio by a fall. Mrs. M. still resides at the Presidio at her husband's quarters, he having lately shipped with his regiment—the 1st U. S., Gen. Shafter's regiment up to date of the latter's promotion—to Manila. Col. Miles is an old acquaintance and comrade of the editor of the HERALD, having enlisted in the same section nearly the same time in Pennsylvania, in 1861, and was then promoted into the regular service, in Fitz John Porter's division, with two other of our schoolmates. We made Gen. (then colonel) Shafter's acquaintance at Nashville, in 1865, when he was in command of the 24th U. S. infantry (colored), and the writer of this was chief of patrol of that city, special detail, on the staff of Gen. John F. Miller, a 1st lieutenant in the 78th Pennsylvania, re-enlistment. These times revive old scenes and remembrances. Brigadier-General E. C. Mason, a regular officer and acquaintance during the late war, died at his home in Ohio a few weeks ago. He had been retired but a short while and had been a gallant officer.

HOW TO USE THE NEW STAMP.

All Classes Buying Stamps and Obtaining Instruction for the New Law.

Bakers, railroad men, shippers and merchants are enmeshed in a maze of difficulties trying to figure out just how the new war tax is made applicable to their special business. It goes into effect tomorrow. All day long a crowd representing the classes mentioned surged before the wicket in the United States internal revenue office, buying stamps, asking questions and obtaining instructions. Collector Dunne was kept so busy that he was harder to get within talking distance than to approach the czar of Russia.

Some of the banks are issuing circulars to their customers in order to avoid friction. The Merchants' National has sent out a number with the following provisions to serve as a guide:

"All persons signing a check, draft or instrument of like nature, which does not bear a 2-cent stamp, shall be subject to $100 fine. A fine of not less than $50 nor more than $500 or imprisonment is provided for failure of persons to sign their initials to such documents, together with the date of use.

"A revenue stamp of 2 cents is required upon all bank checks, drafts or certificates of deposit, not drawing interest, or order for any sums of money, drawn upon or issued by any bank trust company, corporation, person or firm at sight or demand. Bills of exchange, drafts, certificates of deposit drawing interest or order for the payment of any sum of money otherwise than at note, and each renewal of the same, for a sum not exceeding $100 require a stamp of 2 cents, and for each additional $100 2 cents.

"Banks paying checks or any instruments referred to in the act, which do not bear the required stamp, are subject to severe penalty. You are, therefore, requested to see that they are in order before presentation, to avoid the inconvenience of their dishonor. None such will be admitted through the clearing-house unless properly stamped."

The following schedule will prove of use to business men:

One cent on bills of lading (domestic.)

Ten cents on bills of lading (foreign.)

Fifty cents on bonds of indemnity.

Ten cents on proxies.

Twenty-five cents on power of attorney.

Twenty-five cents on protests.

Twenty-five cents on warehouse receipts.

One-half of 1 per cent on insurance premiums.

Twenty-five cents on mortgages or pledges from $1000 to $1500, and 25 cents for each additional $500.

Canyon City, Or., June 29.—The Great Northern mine is still yielding up her hidden treasure. On the pay chute in Tunnell No 3, one man took out $2300 in gold nuggets and wire gold in less than 20 minutes, or $115 per minute. Mr. C. L. Hasbrouck, a druggist at Mendon, Mich., says all of the good testimonials that have been published by the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy could be duplicated in that town. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

All postmasters who issue money orders have been officially notified that on and after July 1, 1898, and until further notice, a special war tax of two cents must be added to the fee for every domestic money order issued. No additional charge is made on international money orders.
