The HERALD is prepared to do all kinds of book and job printing in the best manner and at reasonable prices. Our job work speaks for itself, coming, as it does, from the hands of a practical job printer.

Our saddle and harness makers, F. Long and son, are about to close out their business here and at Myrtle Point and move to Cottage Grove. We regret to lose them, but business interests call them elsewhere.

Louis H. Hazard, deputy county clerk, will take an outing, starting the latter part of this week. It is well merited. Louis has been closely at business for months, late and early, and is a clever, obliging, popular young man.

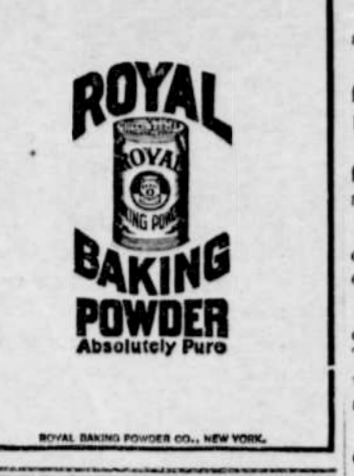

Miss May Vanderburg, the charming daughter of Hon. W. S. Vanderburg of Marshfield, visited at Myrtle Point several days recently and is now a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stanley in this city. The HERALD sanctum had a pleasant call.

Miss Tracy, who will give free cooking lectures at the Oregon Industrial Exposition at Portland, September 22 to October 22, is spoken of by good housewives as a most excellent practical expert on cooking, and they say they learned very much from her lectures.

The "enlarged picture" man is doing our town at a lively rate. He is making delivery of work formerly solicited, and has some striking likenesses, one lady's being so life-like that her nose turned up at us as we inspected it. The picture of a man raised its hand to its chin to feel for its whiskers.

Ex-Judge Martin L. Pipes, well known to many of our people as district judge in this district not long since, did some business recently for Lincoln county and, says the Albany Democrat, "only charged $950 for his services." Well, he had been one of the kind to tell the people that prosperity was here—that business was good and wages high.

C. C. Price came up last Friday from Riverton to take charge of and run the shingle machine at the shingle mill. Quite a boom is already full of bolts, and it was thought the machinery would be set running by today.

E. C. Blanks, of Lewisville, Texas, writes that one box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was worth $50 to him. It cured his piles of ten years standing. He advises others to try it. It also cures eczema, skin diseases and obstinate sores. R. S. Knowlton.

A. P. Maey, brother-in-law of Dr. Moore, came in with the doctor from Dayton, Oregon, last Thursday. They came in "on wheels," and owing to the excessive heat in the valley were the worse of the wear. However, they got along fairly well, and found the weather so much pleasanter and more bracing here. He will visit a few days.

The sessions of the W. C. T. U. county convention will be held at the Methodist church, beginning tomorrow (Wednesday) night. (See program on 4th page.) The night sessions will be especially interesting to the general public. Thursday night is set for the "Gray Medal Contest," which will be a literary treat, participated in by several of our brightest ladies, residents of different portions of the county.

D. H. Canagbell, M. W. McCormac and Archie Banton (and we believe R. M. Banton) have leased the Ferry mine at Riverton and will operate the same. In connection with this, we learn that W. A. King, formerly in some way connected with the railroad here, but for some months past in San Francisco, and who some three months since canvassed this section with a view to putting a boat on between this river and San Francisco, has completed arrangements for establishing his boat line, to which end he has contracted with the above-named lessees of the Ferry coal mine to buy their output on board their steamer, thus guaranteeing a return load. This contract runs four years, and will guarantee a steamer of good capacity, with good passenger accommodations, and regular and quick trips. A boat of 9 or 10 knots is promised, which is better than any hitherto employed. Such a boat, run to win the confidence and patronage of our people and in the hands of capable and obliging managers will be a paying investment and soon command an increased service.

Col. T. C. Land, an old, respected and popular citizen of our county, took his departure from his home at Rural last week for his old home in Wilkes county, North Carolina. The old gentleman is growing feeble, partly from ill health contracted in the late war and from wounds received, and having roughed it here for so many years—though he had acquired a pleasant home, healthful and valuable, in the Rural community—he longed for the scenes of his boyhood and youth, and the friends of yore, and set himself some months since to arrange for this trip. Friend Land served in a North Carolina regiment during the war, and was in all or most of the battles on the peninsula, in front of Richmond, as a confederate soldier at the same time that the writer of this was in the same battles on the union side. Our regiments were in constant battle array for several successive months and frequently collided in skirmish, on picket and in battle, during which he suffered privations and wounds from which he has never fully recovered. We regret friend Land's declining health, and hope he may realize to the full all the pleasure and happiness he had pictured for himself on his return to his old home. God bless him.

The Chief Burgess of Milesburg Pa., says DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the best pills he ever used in his family during forty years of housekeeping. They cure constipation, sick headache and stomach and liver troubles. Small in size but great in results. R. S. Knowlton.

Const Mail: The following persons purchased tickets for San Francisco at the Marshfield agency of the steamer Arcata: W. B. King, Mrs. Schiller, H. H. McPherson, Mr. Gilbert, John Curran, Mrs. J. Curran, C. Wimer, Jack Fox, H. Watson, Steve Curran, Jas. Leith, West Williams, Jas Gundy, H. Stout.

Our townsman John J. (Jack) Fox and Charley Wimer left for Benicia, Cal., last Wednesday. They have secured situations on the Baker & Harlan Agricultural Works. The HERALD wishes them good luck. They are both top-notch young men, temperate, industrious, intelligent and healthy and cannot fail to give satisfaction in all they undertake.

Const Mail: In this week's Sun, the editor bemoans the fact that a Chinaman, On Kee, has opened a store in Marshfield, and still, for more than a year he has been carrying the same Chinaman's ad in his paper. Be consistent, don't advertise the fact of Chinese being in business here and perhaps they will quit. At any rate don't take their money and then abuse them.

John W. McCulloch, an old resident of Empire, died suddenly at that place last Wednesday morning. A stroke of apoplexy, or breaking of a blood vessel, both, have been stated to have been the cause. The death was very sudden. Mr. McCulloch, we learn, was a widower, but has three daughters there, two of whom are married. Deceased was the uncle of our Mrs. Mynatt and Miss Nellie McCulloch, who had just left here by conveyance for a visit at their father's, J. C. McCulloch, at Olla. A message by telephone of the sad event reached here about the hour these ladies had reached their destination. Mr. McCulloch was a good citizen and highly esteemed by his neighbors. He was 60 years of age, past.

With an early adjustment of the Beaver Hill Co. and railroad litigation, by giving them into the hands of their rightful owners, those whose wealth so largely developed them, those properties with the additional re-enforcement by an immense coal lands purchase by the Spreckles and the extension of their railroad to South bay and at an early day to Roseburg, will greatly enhance their value, make them serviceable and popular, benefiting our whole country, blot out British colonial lines, raise Old Glory and annex to Coos county territorial government almost the equal in wealth of products and population as the island of Porto Rico, for which our general government is spending millions of dollars of money, and preparing to sacrifice the lives of many brave men.

Roseburg Review: Rev. E. A. Ross, the well-known evangelist, preached in the M. E. church, south, in this city Monday. He had just arrived from the east with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey, of Kentucky. The party left here for Coos county Monday morning.

Presiding Elder W. B. Smith, of the Methodist church, south, of this place, informs us that Rev. Ross is not now sent out nor endorsed by the M. E. church, south, being wholly independent of that organization, from which he voluntarily withdrew and is responsible only to himself. Of course the fact is Mr. Ross will be endorsed by a great many people, and he will lose little if any popularity where he is known, for real "evangelistic" work can best—in fact only—be done, many good people think, by unhampered, free, unselfish preaching of the gospel, sans dogmatism or sectarian forms and ceremonies, which are the causes of divisions.

Uncle Provit Dean was taken down very sick Sunday, at his home above town, and his brother, Uncle Robert, who had just got fixed to take a rest with a portion of the family in camp at the beach, was summoned to be with him. The old gentleman was moved to town and quartered with Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Dean. He has asthma and is threatened with heart failure. He rested better last night.

The fare for round-trip ticket from Marshfield to Myrtle Point will be $1.40; from Coquille City, 50 cents.

Agents will sell the usual form of excursion tickets, good only on the trains of the 15th.

The bands will make connections with the train at Coquille City, morning and evening, to accommodate the lower river pioneers and friends.

J. HENRY SCHROEDER, President.

Sheriff Gage returned last Friday from his trip to Dillards, where he had gone to get Mrs. G. and the children, who had been visiting Jrandma Kent and other relatives and friends for some time, and whose experience in a runaway accident was so thrilling and yet so miraculous that only slight injury was inflicted to any of them. They reached Gravel Ford Friday morning, where Mrs. Gage and most of the children stopped off to spend a few days at camping, Sheriff Gage returning home and having baby Bonnie with him. Bonnie had been the worst hurt in the accident, having had a shoulder dislocated and received some bruises and scratches. Mrs. Gage and the other children got home yesterday.

Sheriff Gage housed at his official hotel one "Indian Charlie"—Charley Taylor—yesterday, charged with murderous assault on a squaw near Prosper last Friday. He was drunk, went to Indian Ned's home, near Prosper, and finding no one at home but the old squaw and her daughter, he proceeded to lord it over them and beat them badly with a piece of batting. Later he was arrested and taken before Justice Barrows at Bandon and held for trial. He tells the sheriff, in his penitent moments—"Whisky did it." However, that does not heal the wounds he inflicted on innocent persons, nor say that he did not know what whisky would do and avoid it.

County Superintendent Bunch has selected Myrtle Point as the place for holding the teachers' institute—date not yet set. State Superintendent-elect Ackerman will certainly be present, and other prominent educators of the state. The good citizens of Myrtle Point moved in the matter of having the institute held there, and will more than fulfill any pledges made for entertainment and promoting the success of the occasion.

A Serious and Painful Accident.

Last Tuesday another of those fearful and distressing accidents, now seemingly contagious in the country from contact with teams, occurred at the home of Comrade B. H. Haskin, near Fairview, in which his daughter, Mrs. Andrew Hall, was the victim and suffered painful and distressing bodily injury. Mrs. Hall owns a pony and cow or two, for which she was herself housing hay. Her father, Mr. Haskin, had cut the hay, and the daughter had cured it and at time of this accident was hauling it in. At a point of approach to the barn she had to back the team so far that the horses became stubborn and unmanageable. She took the lines in her hand, and in starting the team, they turned suddenly and the wagon toppled over upon her, crushing her to the earth, and then continued to drag the wagon, with Mrs. Hall under it. They dragged her several yards. A younger sister reaching her believed her to be dead and so went and notified the father. By the time he arrived, Mrs. Hall had recovered from her faint, extricated herself and started home, but on being met by the father fainted again and had to be carried home. Dr. Culin of this city was summoned and soon covered the distance on his wheel. Luckily, we understand, he found no bones had been broken, but the lady had been fearfully lacerated and toru, and it looked like her injuries might be fatal. Mr. Haskin was in town Thursday and reported the patient doing fairly well, and later word is to the effect that she will recover.

John Gammill of the bay came over yesterday. He extended his trip to the lower river on business. The fact that John's eyes protruded more than usual was explained by his looking something out for the early return of Mrs. G., who has been visiting her old home at Easton, Pennsylvania, for some weeks.

B. R. Perkins, a pleasant gentleman and acquaintance of several of our citizens, who lives at Yoncolla, was in this place last Wednesday and is visiting the several communities of our county in the interest of the Settlement nurseries. He is meeting with good trade.
