

Col. James A. Sexton, of Chicago, Ill., was elected commander-in-chief of the National G. A. R. at its encampment at Cincinnati on the 8th inst. Col. Sexton was in several battles and twice wounded. In 1865 he was assigned to the staff of General A. J. Smith, of the Sixth regular corps, and in that capacity acted as provost marshal of the city of Nashville, headquarters of the Cumberland, General George H. Thomas commanding, and Capt. Lovejoy, of the 181st Ohio regiment as chief of patrol. Col. Sexton was succeeded as provost marshal by Lieut.-Col. H. W. Torbett, of the 78th Pennsylvania, in March, 1865, and Capt. Lovejoy by Lieut. J. S. McEwen of the same regiment as chief of patrol, at the same date, both serving in those responsible duties till after the close of the war and mustered out in October, 1865. These, too, were mustered out under special orders and promotion to the next higher office by brevet.

Orange Picnic.

Arago, Sept. 19.—The oak grove at Judge Schroeder's at this place is one of the most delightful picnic grounds to be found in the county—so concludes your correspondent. There are not too many trees, yet they shade the spacious ground and make it the place for rest, luncheon, or any of the pleasures that picnicers seek, and in this grove last Saturday assembled the Grangers of Arago, Myrtle Point and Coquille City to the tune of about 175 patrons and matrons, old and young. They came by land and by water, in carriages, buggies, wagons and boats, and a happy crowd they certainly were.

Arago Grange was represented by about 75 members, all of whom wore the beautiful badge of the Grange, and the officers of the insignia of their respective offices. Members from other lodges wore badges or bouquets.

In about the center of this fine grove was the grand stand, neatly trimmed with bunting. A centerpiece on the front of the stand was a collection of all manner of fruits, placed in a large fruit stand, and this was surrounded by all sorts of vegetables, on a bed of grass and clover tastefully arranged; below was a sheaf of wheat and draped on the sides with peavines. Other decorations on the stand were growing corn, bunches of barley and oats, green beans on vines, etc., all of which were symmetrically arranged and garnished with apples. In the center of the stand was a bunch of flowers. In front of the stand were benches. A lemonade stand, nicely decorated, was also conveniently placed, where water, lemonade and fruit were dispensed, as wanted. A novel feature was a large wash-boiler full of hot corn, thoughtfully provided by Judge Schroeder. Everything and everybody were in fine shape and good humor, and all went off well—the reading, the address, the music and all. Especially good was Judge Schroeder's address. He is master of Arago Grange, and every one pronounced his speech masterful, well suited to the occasion, to the place and the times in general. It certainly was well worth listening to, and by his permission the HERALD will publish it in full in next week's issue, and we know it will be a treat to all its readers, whether grangers or not.

The following was the program of the day:

Obituary.

John Johnson, whose death was noticed in the Herald of the 6th inst., was born in the state of Tennessee Sept. 4, 1803, and departed this life Sept. 5, 1898.

He came to Oregon with his parents when a young man and was married to Miss Elizabeth Coon in 1833.

To this union were born 5 children, all of whom are left with his wife to mourn his loss.

In 1890 Mr. Johnson was baptized by the writer, upon a profession of his faith in Christ. He lived a consistent Christian life, always cheerful and willing to testify as to his faith and trust. At his request I was to officiate at his funeral. He selected several songs and requested them to be sung at his funeral. He often told me that he felt sad to leave his relatives and friends who were unsaved. He was loved and respected by all who knew him. Almost the entire community was present at his funeral.

His funeral was held at the residence of his wife on Monday, Sept. 5, 1898, at 10 o'clock. The services were conducted by the writer. Burial was in the Coos County cemetery.

A CRITICAL TIME

During the Battle of Santiago.

Sick or Well, a Rush Night and Day.

The Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba Were All Heroes.

Their Heroic Efforts in Getting Ammunition and Rations to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. Butler, of pack-train No. 3, writing from Santiago, De Cuba, on July 23d, says: "We all had diarrhoea in more or less violent form, and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor, for it was a case of rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations, but thanks to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, we were able to keep at work and keep our health; in fact, I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was the indirect savior of our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrade and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine for our pack-train before we left Tampa, and I know in four cases it absolutely saved life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

Coming Events.

Oregon Industrial Exposition, Portland, September 22 to October 22.

Oregon state fair, Salem, September 22-30.

J. C. Johnson, of Salem, has received a brief dispatch from C. V. Johnson, announcing the collapse and wreck, on Tuesday evening last at 9 o'clock, of the warehouse of the Johnson-Phillips Milling Co., at Seio. The telegram supplied no details of the disaster further than that the building contained 25,000 bushels of grain when it fell.

An Aurora doctor removed two splinters, each half a foot long, from under a woman's scalp a few days ago. The woman fell backward against a door jamb, and the splinters followed the curve of the skull.

While an Aurora woman was singing a chicken a few nights since, wind carried a piece of the burning paper to a hop-picker's tent. The tent was consumed in a second. Loss, $30.

The great railroad war of the past two months is ended at last, and all western roads now agree to restore old rates September 21st—tomorrow.

Five to 7 inches of snow fell on the 9th in eastern Colorado, northwestern Kansas and southwestern Nebraska.

Extremely Weak

Deficient Blood Causes Loss of Appetite and Final Break Down—Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

"I lost my appetite and about all I lived on was lead lemonade. My strength was all gone. I was so weak I could hardly cross the floor. At last I was taken very sick. One physician told me my blood was all gone and he gave me medicine but it did not help me. I had pretty much lost all faith in medicines, but thought I would get one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and try it. After taking that bottle I was much better, and so I got two more bottles and after taking them I was well, but to be sure of it, I kept on taking Hood's Sarsaparilla until I had used in all five bottles. It has done unspeakable good to me and I wish all my suffering sisters would try it." MRS. A. EVENSEN, Wedderburn, Oregon.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier. Sold by all druggists. Price, $1; six for $5.

Hood's Pills are tasteless, mild, effective. All druggists, 25c.

Soldier's Letter from Honolulu.

S. F. Sheppard, of this place, who belongs to company M, Second regiment U. S. vol. engineers, is at Honolulu and writes to his wife an interesting letter descriptive of their trip from San Francisco and of the natives and the islands. He goes into details of the location and sizes of the several islands, population of each and climate, etc., and then severally, as a total. We copy the following:

"The climate is a good deal like late spring weather in the east—rather warm, but not oppressive. The nights are cool, but not at all cool or chilly.

"The native men are well built, and the women are rather nice looking. The men—most of them—are easy going and not inclined to exert themselves until they get down to their last dollar, and are easily managed. The women seem to have more pride and independence, and while the men willingly submit to annexation, the women publicly resent it by wearing a small native flag (draped) on their hats—which means, 'We mourn our flag.'

"It is a mistake to think that the natives were in favor of annexation—for they were not. There is only about a half dozen of them that have taken the oath of allegiance, and the militia was disbanded on that account. At the flag-raising there was not a native woman present.

"Tropical fruits are plenty and cheap. Part of our drill is battling for the packers, and we are supposed to take a bath once each day.

"The news carried yesterday that peace was declared, and it was very welcome news, for since the men found out that they were not to go to Manila, they want to be discharged—that is, the most of them.

"You may see in some of the papers that we were not properly treated on the voyage over, and the fact is, that we did have a kick coming, but compared with the treatment of the men on all the other transports we fared very well.

"The first work of the engineers will begin soon now, and will consist of laying cables connecting the islands, building barracks and laying foundations for the fortifications."

Friend Sheppard's letter was dated August 20th.

Gordon, of Georgia. The latter, however, has positively declined.

Serious Condition at Santiago.

New York, Sept. 13.—A dispatch to the Herald from Santiago says: Five men of the Fifth regulars have died since their arrival here, 40 per cent of the regiment being on the sick report from malarial fever. Illness among all the troops is increasing.
