Now comes the most shameful part of the whole shameful story.

The commission appointed by the president has no standing in law. It cannot subpoens a witness, adtary statements, without recourse if the statements are untrue. The value of the commission's investi-gations is forecast by the interview with one of its members, who gave it as his opinion—the opinion being fully formed before the investiga-tion had begun—that the soldiers died of homesickness.

A Pioneer's Danger.

THE FEARFUL STRUGGLE OF AN EARLY

How One of the Early Farmers in Michigan Overcame a Serious Difficulty—His Life of Hardships.

Frank Long who lives near Lennon, Mich., is one of the pioneer farmers of Venice township, Shiawasee county, and by his industry and thrift in which many hardships were ended dured, he now has one of the best farms in that section.

He tells an interesting story of when his life was in danger during his pioneer days.

He says:

"About November 1, 1894, on starting to get up from the dinner table, I was taken with a pain in my back, and found myself unable to move. The pain increased and spread over my entire body. I was obliged to take to my bed. The physician who was immediately summoned pronounced my case muscular rheumatism accompanied by lumbago. He gave me remedies and injected morphine into my arm to ease the pain.

"My disease, however, gradually became worse until I thought that death would be a welcome release from my sufferings. I could not sleep but would lie awake all night and rub my leg.

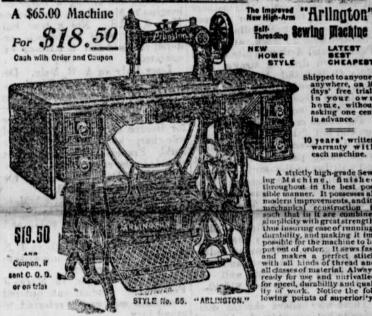

"This continued for about four months. Besides my regular physician I also consulted another doctor but he gave me noe couragement and said his medicine could do me an ogood.

"I was finally induced through reading some accounts in the newspapers regarding the wonderful cures wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, to try them which I did as a last resort.
