OUR FUTURE FINANCIAL LEGISLATION.
The Late Election Placed it in the Hands of the Bankers and Their Promoters.

ED. HERALD: The result of the recent elections has placed everything into the hands of the Republican party and now the international bimetalism is laid aside as not intended to be of any further use than to catch suckers; and currency legislation is now about the only thing to engross the minds of the new house and senate. That the banks are to dictate the nature of currency legislation goes without question.

The nature of the different measures that have been proposed is not my object to discuss further than to notice some of the obstacles, as stated by the Oregonian of Nov. 19, that would naturally be in the way of the McCleary plan in its present form. Two of them are stated as being, "Absence of profit on circulation based on the new 'reserve notes,' and doubtful dependence on ability of banks to control gold movements through manipulation of discount rates."

Of course, any form of currency that the bankers could not be making a profit on is not to be thought of for a moment, and any failure of the banks being able to fully control gold would be just awful. But what I wish to most particularly notice is this statement, made in the same article of the Oregonian: "Something must be done to secure the gold standard against the perils of future elections." The gold standard must be made secure at all hazards, even though after a fair trial it was found to be unsatisfactory and the people by an overwhelming vote should decide they did not longer want it; and it must be made secure, as the future voter is not supposed to know what is best for him; that is, unless he continues to vote for the gold standard.

It is very hard to tell just what form of bill they will get through, but we are led to suppose that it will be in the form of a contract that must run its specified time, regardless of how obnoxious it might become, or what burdens it might impose, "Be it enacted," could have any bearing upon it. I do not propose to even guess at the wording of the bill, but it will be in such a shape that the courts will finally interpret it about as the common people would interpret the following:

This indenture witnesseth: That the congress of the United States of America, parties of the first part, for and in consideration of the privilege of paying interest on all money used in all the business transactions among the common people, the fact whereof is hereby acknowledged, have bargained, sold and confirmed unto the bankers of America, parties of the second part, all their right, title, interest and authority to issue currency, which is to be used among the people in common business transactions as money; and the coinage of gold, the money which is to be used in the redemption of all other money, is to be subject to restriction by the parties of the second part, in case of their being unable to "control its movements through manipulation of discount rates."

We, the congress of the United States of America, parties of the first part, do hereby covenant with the bankers of America, parties of the second part, that we are seized in fee of the rights herein transferred, and that we have right to sell and dispose of the same; and that we will warrant and defend the same unto parties of the second part, their heirs and assigns for the period of fifty years from this the first day of April, A. D. 1899, until the first day of April, A. D. 1949, "against the perils of future elections" and "ill-informed and demagogic congressmen." (See Oregonian of Nov. 5th.) Signed, sealed and delivered this the first day of April, A. D. 1899.

The flax industry is more worthy of a bounty law than the sugar-beet business. The flax business is not in the hands of a trust. . . . The price of sugar has recently been advanced enough to give the growers of sugar beets more than a dollar a ton. Will they get it?

Swindled the Government Out of Nearly a Million.

St. Paul, Nov. 20.—This afternoon the jury in the case of J. H. Southell, on trial charged with forging forged government time checks, returned a verdict of guilty. The swindle is said to have amounted to $770,000.

MORMONS IN OREGON.
They are Colonizing in Eastern Portions of the State.

Pendleton, Or., Nov. 15.—W. M. Pierce, a prominent attorney here, owner with other Pierce of extensive tracts of lands in the Grande Ronde valley, Union county, has closed a deal with representatives of the Mormon leaders for the sale for $10,000 of a half section of sugar beet land near La Grande. Besides this purchase the Mormons bought 500 acres near the Pierce tract for $15,000 and other realty making their total expenditures $40,000. Already they have plotted the land, surveyed a street through the center of the entire tract, and divided the land into forty-acre lots. A Mormon family will be placed on each forty-acre tract. Next spring the Mormons will put up a large department store and settle a colony of Later Day Saints.

Already the Mormons have extensive holdings in the Blue Mountains in eastern Oregon, having purchased many miles of placer mining ground and some quartz properties.

The parties making the deal with Pierce propose to gain a firm footing for Mormonism in eastern Oregon. All deeds of sale to the Mormons contain clauses binding the purchasers to carry out the contracts with the beet sugar factory to raise sugar beets for four or five years.

HOTEL FIRE AT SAN FRANCISCO.
Baldwin Hotel Destroyed—800 People in the House at the time.

San Francisco, Nov. 23.—At 2:35 this morning the Baldwin hotel caught fire and has been entirely destroyed. There were 800 people, guests and employes, in the hotel when the fire broke out and a number of these people are thought to have lost their lives. Manager A. J. White is one victim, but before he gave up his life the gallant fellow saved the lives of three women. The fire is said to have started in the kitchen, and worked its way up through a flue to the sixth floor, and before first alarm was sent in the flames had gained great headway. The cost of the hotel including the ground and furniture was $3,000,000. The building was the Baldwin theatre. The street floor was occupied by the hotel offices, barroom and numerous stores. The Baldwin theatre was entirely demolished.

Catholic Clergy Paid by the U. S. Government.

San Juan, de Porto Rico, Nov. 22.—Monsignor Valdez, the Spanish bishop of Porto Rico, has resigned the diocese, alleging that it is impossible for him to serve any other country than Spain. The local clergy were paid by the United States for last September, but no more money is forthcoming, and he is generally believed that Bishop Valdez resigned for this reason. Now that government support is removed, the future of the Church of Rome in Porto Rico will depend entirely upon voluntary contributions.

Knights of Labor.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—At today's meeting of the Knights of Labor, John W. Parsons, of New York, was elected general master workman by a close vote over the present master workman, Henry H. Hicks, who is also a New Yorker. J. D. Schomburg, of Baltimore, was selected as a member of the general executive board in the place of Henry Bertock, Muncie, Ind. Boston was chosen as the place for next year's convention. All the other general officers were re-elected.

The assembly decided to recommend the repeal of government by injunction, the prohibition of the employment of children under 10 years of age, the prohibition of watering stock by a railroad or corporation, the establishment of postal savings banks, government control of railroads, issuance of greenbacks by the government direct, election of United States senators by the people's vote, election of president by popular vote, and the initiative and referendum.

Iloilo Has Fallen.

Manila, Nov. 20.—Reports have reached here to the effect that Iloilo, capital of the island of Panay, has fallen into the hands of the Filipino insurgents. The cruiser Charleston and the gunboat Concord have been sent to Iloilo to investigate as to the truth of the reports.

The American military police made an attempt to arrest three disorderly Filipinos last night, and a fight ensued. Sergeant Price, of the Minnesota regiment, was killed, and three other soldiers—Mayer, Montgomery and Hoyt—were wounded. One Filipino was killed and others arrested.

What could not be accomplished off Santiago has been accomplished at Manila, viz., the saving of the sunken Spanish warships. The cruises Isla de Cuba and Isla de Luzon, which were sunk during the battle of Manila bay, have been floated and docked at Cavite.

Patrons of Husbandry.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 16.—The 32d annual meeting of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, assembled here today. Master Aaron Jones, of Indianapolis, presided. Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, Kansas, Indiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Washington and Wisconsin are represented.

Jabel Robinson, master of the Dominion Grange, Canada, compared the order in Canada with that in the United States to the advantage of the latter. The master in his address recommended that the order continue its efforts to have enacted the postal savings bank law, the national pure food law, amendments to the anti-trust laws, laws to prevent gambling in margins and futures, and prevent the owners, lessees and managers of public warehouses from buying grain on their own accounts and storing the same in warehouses controlled by them, to prevent the mixing of lower and higher grade grain, for the election, for the election of United States senators by popular vote, so secure the speedy construction of the Nicaragua canal by the United States, and the appropriation of $1,000,000 per year to further extend the free delivery of mails in the rural districts.

Oregon Beet Sugar.

La Grande, Or., Nov. 15.—The Oregon Sugar Company banked their first in their furnaces on November 12, and the first sugar campaign for the state of Oregon was finished, after an actual run of 40 days and nights. As the crop this season is only one-third, the factory consequently could only run one-third the time it will hereafter. There is no disguising the fact that few if any growers this season made a profit, and many have lost heavily. The beet industry this season has been a loss to all directly connected with it. The Oregon Sugar Company, while they don't say much about it, are heavy losers. While they manufactured 1,500,000 pounds of sugar they should have made 5,000,000 pounds. Their loss is apparent. Their $475,000 will now stand idle for 12 months.

The November New Time is a most attractive number. A beautifully illustrated article on "Life in the Russian Colony" is from the pen of Herbert N. Casson. The magazine contains the first chapter of a delightful satire, "How I became a Millionaire," by Mark Pullaffler, a capitalist until now unknown to fame. The cartoons, editorials, general information concerning the reform movement and selected matter make up a grand issue of this famous magazine. If you are not already a subscriber to The New Time send The Herald a dollar for an annual subscription and we will forward it for you. For $2.10 we will send The New Time and The Herald for one year. You must not fail to read this great magazine.

A story is going the rounds of a man who tried the experiment of mixing sawdust with his chicken feed. The results were so satisfactory that he discontinued the use of meal altogether and fed his chickens entirely on sawdust. Soon after adopting the scheme he set a hen with fifteen eggs. She brought off thirteen chicks. Twelve of them had wooden legs and the thirteenth was a woodpecker.

Capital Journal: The Oregonian is having one spell after another, as it says, Governor Tanner of Illinois is violating the constitution. Strange, he looks to distant lands to find such small errors. Right here in Oregon, only fifty miles from Portland, legislators fairly fall over one another to get to vote for laws that are unconstitutional. Even a man who recently took official oath to support that same constitution, and was elected to the highest office the people of Oregon had to give away, descended from a high seat to champion the passage of such a law. It looks like the unconstitutional acts of some people and the silver planks in many state platforms will yet cause it to do something desperate.

Yuma Sentinel: We live in a land of high mountains, high collars and high taxes, low wages, low neck dresses and low wages, big crooked rivers and big crooked statesmen, big lakes, big drinks, big pumpkins, big men with pumpkin heads, silver streams that gush in the mountains and pious politicians who gamble in the night, roaring catarrhs and roaring orators, fast trains, fast horses, fast young men, roses that bloom the year round and beautiful girls with rosebud mouths, sharp lawyers, sharp financiers and sharp teed shoes, noisy children, fertile plains that lie like a sheet of water and thousands of newspapers that lie like thunder.

Gen. Merritt expects a renewal of hostilities with Spain. He says: "If Spain refuses to accede to our demands it will show that she has secured substantial hope of assistance of European intervention. Should Germany take hold of this matter England will follow suit, and then I look for France to put her finger in the pie."

The treasury officials are exercised over the official warning that has come to them from the authorities in Canada that several cases of pronounced leprosy have successfully eluded the American inspectors and crossed the line into the United States.

Reinhold Sadler (Dem.) has been elected governor of Nevada, by a majority of about 15 votes over McMillan (Rep). The silver party has elected 30 legislators in Nevada of the total 40, which insures the return of Stewart to the senate.

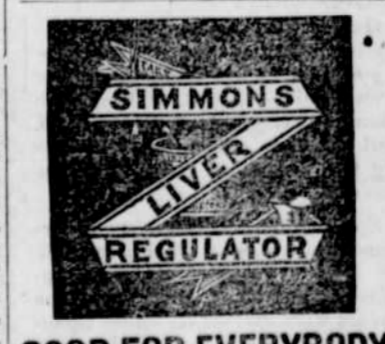

The fact that Uncle Sam and John Bull were seen together on the same float in the Lord Maror's show in London is no sign that they have definitely clasped allied hands across the wave. It may have been only a holiday case of half-seas over.

Exchange: A first-rate way to kill a newspaper is: Let your subscription go, it's only a dollar or two, the publisher don't need it. If he asks for it, get just as mad as you can, and tell him to stop the paper, you never read it anyway. Then go and borrow your neighbor's. If the editor comes for news, always be busy; make him think your time is worth $1000 a minute. When he wants you to advertise, or get some job work done, tell him you don't need to advertise, everybody knows you, and that you don't need any printed stationary, it is too expensive, you can use a rubber stamp. Never drop in to see the editor unless you want a free complimentary notice, or a lengthy obituary for a deceased relative. Never recommend your paper; when you speak of it say, "Oh yes, we have a little sheet here, but it don't amount to very much." Keep this up a year or two and you will have a dead newspaper and a dead town.

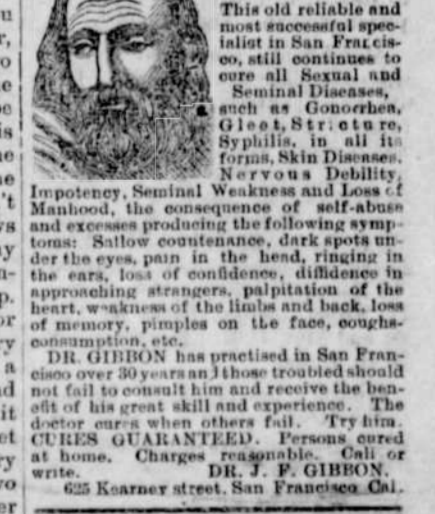

One of the grounds for a divorce in the case of Parkes vs. Parkes, in Marion county, is that the husband called his wife "a d—d butterfly," and yet according to her allegations in the complaint she had to cut and carry her own wood, besides taking care of two young children.
