Ordinance No. 41. An ordinance authorizing quarantine and prescribing penalties for violations of quarantine regulations when established or ordered.

The town of Coquille City does ordain as follows: Section 1. The marshal of the town of Coquille City shall at any time, when directed in writing by the health inspector or board of health or the board of trustees of said town, order and establish regular isolation or domestic quarantine of all persons in said town suffering from any contagious disease, and also those who have been exposed to and liable to contract the same, and he shall put up a flag, or notice where the same can be plainly seen or on any building under quarantine by his order, under this ordinance.

Section 2. That during the prevalence of any contagious disease in said town, the marshal of said town shall when directed by the health officer or board of health of said town and the board of trustees of said town, prohibit any and all public meetings in said town and close all schools and if deemed necessary to forbid all persons under the age of 18 years from running on the streets of said town.

Section 3. That any person who shall tear down the flag or sign put up by the marshal of said town or by the health officer or under their direction, to designate quarantine of any house in said town, except by permission of said health officer or marshal, or shall disregard the quarantine and orders of the health officer or marshal in relation to a quarantine in said town shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction of the same shall be punished by a fine of not less than five ($5) dollars nor more than twenty ($20) dollars or by imprisonment in the town jail not more than 20 days.

Section 4. Any person violating the above ordinance by calling a public meeting or attending the same after being notified that said meeting and all public meetings have been prohibited shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction of the same shall be punished by a fine of not less than five ($5) dollars nor more than twenty ($20) dollars or by imprisonment in the town jail not more than 20 days.

(For the Coquille City Herald.) Our Lovely Streets.

'Tis spring, the trees begin to leave, And O, how sweet to sit at eve And watch, from out our open door, The rippling street that flows before.

Along its banks, these moon-light nights, The festive frog our ear delights; By day he basks amid the ooze, On ship-wrecked truck and over-shoes.

Out there, near that abandoned trunk, Is where our baby-carriage sunk, And where that oil-can floats around, Is where poor little Fido roams.

Those two things out in that pool Are the ears of Peter Jackson's mule; If you should dive, you'd find his load Down in the bottom of the road.

Old Dobbin walks the muddy street Upon his belly—not on his feet. Send for the doctor, we all feel, When he rides to McQuinty on his wheel.

Along its slimy, muddy side, Where Tommy makes his toy-boat glide—No, the fever Tommy caught at school, He could not get it near that pool.

Mid slum and ooze, while fevers reign, Our wise duds sit and do ordain: That if we die we cannot get, Alas, the clergy's benefit. —GOOD ROADS.

Tickets to the masquerade on April 5th, one dollar. Ladies free. Farmers down the coast are receiving all kinds of farm machinery daily, preparing for active spring work.

Capt. Vale Perry is making soundings in the river channel in the interest of the steamer Townsend. He will thoroughly locate all obstructions and place buoys at those points, and determine the deepest and best channel.

Considerable talk is in circulation and it is reported that there will be at least two more steamers soon plying between here and San Francisco. It is also said a steamer of small draught, with a carrying capacity of 250 tons, will be built especially to run into this river.

The Barbara Herster brought a good cargo in last Saturday and took out a full load of matchwood Monday. The Townsend brought in a fair cargo and six passengers and took out a good cargo and six passengers, Wednesday morning.

Fairview Items.

Fairview, March 25.—Reports say that Mr. Wilson, of the upper North Fork, has lost some twelve head of cattle, also that Mr. Johnson, of the same section, has lost a few head. I have not heard of any loss of any kind of stock in this neighborhood.

There was only about 4 inches of snow here during the late storm. Peach trees are just beginning to bloom, and if the weather remains favorable from now on there will surely be a crop.

O. B. Hollenbeck has rented the J. D. Benham place. Some people argue that the roads can't be worked to advantage while they are muddy. We invite such persons, and especially the road supervisor of Coquille district, to come over on the east side of the Bullock mountain and see some work lately done by our supervisor, G. W. Norris, and be convinced that the only time to repair bad places caused by wet weather springs is while the water is running; then go back on the west side of said mountain and do likewise, as there are several places almost impassable.

Since our last communication to the Herald, our Dankard friend, Mr. Roberts, sent to this neighborhood a history which was said to prove that trine immersion was apostolic. I would like to give it for the benefit of some of your readers. The name of the book is "Baptism of the Ages and Nations." On page 15, beyond Tertulian (who lived about the end of the second century), no record in literature of men in the Bible or any symbol known to man is there one word about three immersions in baptism. It also says, in another place, that the Greek church sprinkles three times, immerses three times and anoints with oil. Wonder which one of these places we are to accept? Surely anything can be traced back to its origin. NIX.

She had an opening last Wednesday, and yet during a very severe storm, and the restraints imposed by the quarantine, she had many callers and sales. Now is the time for the ladies to select something new, seasonable and stylish in the way of hats.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON, FOR THE COUNTY OF COOS: S. H. HAZARD, Plaintiff, vs. William A. Welch, and Niel Munroe, Defendants.

To William A. Welch, one of the above named defendants: You are hereby notified that you are required to appear and answer the complaint of the plaintiff, now on file against you in the above entitled Court and Cause, within six days after the date of the first publication of this summons, to-wit:

Harlock, as County Judge of said Coos county, dated the 28th day of February, 1899, directing that service thereof be made by publication of the same in the Coquille City Herald, a newspaper published at Coquille City, in said Coos county, once each week, for a period of six successive weeks.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER. ABSOLUTELY PURE. Makes the food more delicious and wholesome.

FOR SALE.—In Bandon, one of the choicest locations, a pleasant home, new, unique in style, and with a splendid view of the town and ocean. Sheltered from the north winds. For particulars, apply to the HERALD.

The river steamer Bismarck is undergoing a thorough overhauling at Bandon, by Peter Loggier, and will be ready for the inspectors on their early arrival. She will be finished and launched, it is said, in about two weeks. This is the fine boat our former townsman S. H. McAdams is interested in, and will make the daily run from Bandon to Myrtle Point and return.

We acknowledge a delightful serenade and social visit at our home last Friday night by Frank Emory and sister, Miss Anna. The music was from two beautiful guitars, the handiwork of Frank, who is a genius at fine wood work and a good musician also. The instruments are made from our beautiful myrtle, ash, yew wood, etc., all hard woods, varying in color and grain, and susceptible of high polish. Besides they are resonant, clear, deep and pure in tone, and being of firm construction, without the usual smothering and breaking of the tone by inside bracing and piecing, give forth really dulcet sounds. Miss Anna handles the instrument well and, besides, is musically gifted. Frank has inlaid these instruments at various points with mother-of-pearl, and the finger-board, frets, etc., are neatly and skilfully placed. Mr. Emory has been so successful, and found woods so peculiarly adapted to this line of craft, that he is now in correspondence with music firms to place his instruments in the market and will then proceed to the manufacture of such musical instruments for the market as our woods are so peculiarly adapted to make in utility, beauty and substantial quality. It would be encouraging for our home musicians to patronize this "home industry," for it would not only tend to encourage the artist to establish the business, but would be a guaranty to outsiders that we placed confidence both in the workman and material of which we boast so much.

The Woodmen at Myrtle Point gave a greeting and supper in honor of their old consul commander, Capt. A. J. Walker, at their hall in that place on the night of the 18th. Capt. Walker will soon return to Alaska again, where he holds a position as collector of customs. He is an old resident of Myrtle Point, well and favorably known here also, and bears the respect and well-wishes of all.

Cattle buyers are still roaming over our county, says a Myrtle Point friend; and he adds: "Although thousands of head have been driven out, yet there seems to be an inexhaustible supply hidden away somewhere. Every new buyer finds a drove awaiting him, while our ranchers are having new pockets made which strike them just below the knees. They are all free silver men, and get their share of it, too."

George Wickham and John Morris made an inspection of the source of our city's future water supply, returning Sunday evening. Prof. Kanematz, C. E., was with them. This work was done under authority of the town board, City Recorder McDuffee some time since having posted the claim for the city's supply for fire protection and household purposes, of which the HERALD made note at the time. Messrs. Wickham and Morris assure not only an abundance of pure, cold water, but at a proper elevation to maintain force and accessible at a distance of hardly over half a mile from the northeastern limits of the town. However, the mains may cover a distance of two or three miles, though this will not be known till the survey is made by Prof. Kanematz. City ownership of this franchise is a most popular one, now adopted or being adopted by towns and cities everywhere, even boss-ridden g. o. p. communities leading off. Harrisburg and Erie, Pennsylvania, are very boastful of the success in those cities, not only furnishing a liberal supply, and a purer and better service, saving many thousands of dollars annually to the consumers, but having a treasury excess of $30,000 to $40,000 with which to force a reduction of taxes.

Road Supervisor Hudson tackled a bridge that threatened trouble last Thursday during the heavy rain that prevailed and whooped up the work to a successful climax. A bridge on the Coquille-Merchfield road, near McAdams', was dangerous, and Uncle Joe scanned the horizon in that direction to be ready at moment's notice, and the moment came and he was ready for it. Himself, Abraham Higley, J. W. Sugg, Matt Goodman, Zenie Strang and "Petite" Hudson (young Joe) took away the old and replaced it that day with a span of about 30 feet of a good, safe structure.

Robert Dean placed an apple on our desk last Friday morning which has more history than most apples, at least so far as age is concerned, to say nothing of passing through its risks of dying young, or from neglect and exposure, from the apple-butter kettle, the cider press, pie-pan, or some other violation of being flayed alive to appease the appetite of an apple fiend. The apple was picked by Mr. Dean from the orchard of Mr. Barrows, near town, and is one of several he has yet on hand, in October, 1897, and is therefore now 17 months—or nearly 1 1/2 years—old from date of attaining to maturity. It is of the Grindstone variety—of course a good, solid variety and a good keeper—but nevertheless a good flavored fruit and splendid for cooking.

We are asked by a good citizen, Why not, under the quarantine ordinance, carry out the domestic quarantine section of the ordinance in letter and spirit, where new cases of scarlet fever exist, disinfect the persons, clothes and homes of the convalescent ones, and turn loose the well portion of the community and let business go on unhampered and unrestrained? Well, that's just where the HERALD stands, exactly. Let the quarantine be enforced for the purpose for which they are established, firmly and impartially, and then the health of our people will be unhampered and free, and harmony will reign among the people and prosperity will be ours. As it has been to this time, the general public is not protected in health, business is driven away from our town, new-comers are dissatisfied and will refuse to invest and locate in our midst, our schools and churches are quarantined and suspended and the general welfare is made to suffer.

Section 5. Any person refusing to observe the regulations of any quarantine ordered under the above ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction of the same shall be punished by a fine of not less than five ($5) dollars nor more than twenty ($20) dollars or by imprisonment in the town jail not more than 20 days.

Section 6. Any person violating the above ordinance by calling a public meeting or attending the same after being notified that said meeting and all public meetings have been prohibited shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction of the same shall be punished by a fine of not less than five ($5) dollars nor more than twenty ($20) dollars or by imprisonment in the town jail not more than 20 days.

Section 7. The provisions of this ordinance shall not extend to hotels or boarding houses, but in case any contagious disease shall be found in either, the person so suffering may be removed to other premises under the directions of the health officer or the quarantine established to the room or rooms occupied by said patient, and the above regulations shall apply thereto.

Adopted March 20, 1899. Ayes, Rich, Cecil, Johnson. Nones, none. Absent, Nosler. Approved March 20, 1899. W. S. PERRY, Chairman. W. E. McDuffee, Auditor and Clerk.

Look out for the steamer bringing Hawkins' stock of gent's farthing goods, the like of which were never in this market before.

Ed Moran has his new barber shop and bath-rooms in running order.

McDonald is at his post in the barbershop after his sick spell.

J. L. Roy was in town yesterday again, he now having made several trips with his new gasoline launch, which he is getting the mastery of by practice. It is of his own construction, is the largest launch on the river and supplied with a 5-horse power engine, thus making a very useful addendum to his ranching needs in the absence of horses, wagons and roads.
