Breathes There a Man?
Breathes there a man with soul so dead
That to himself he hath not said,
"My trade of late is getting bad,
I'll try another ten-ten ad."
If such there be, go mark him well,
For him no bank account shall swell—
No angel watch the golden stair
To welcome home a millionaire.
To such a man the noisy Jim
Of traffic may not lower in;
For bargain hunters by the score
Shall pass nor heed his dingy door;
For 'dix' his sign is on the wall,
And on some barway gate a scrawl,
No people who have cash or sense,
Go prancing round to read the fence.
The man who never asks for trade
By local line or ad displayed—
Cares more for rest than worldly gain
And patronage but gives him pain.
Tread lightly, friends, let no rude sound
Disturb his solitude profound.
Here let him live in calm repose,
Unthought except by men he owes.
And when he dies, go grant him deep
Where no rude clamor may dispel
The quiet that he loved so well.
And that the world may know his loss,
Place on his grave a wreath of moss,
And on the stone above, "Here lies
A clump who wouldn't advertise."

UNCLE SAM'S INTENTIONS.
Text of the Proclamation issued by the Philippine Commission at Manila.

New York, April 4.—The Journal's Manila correspondent cables the text of the United States Philippine commissioners' proclamation, issued today. It follows:
The commission desires to assure the people of the islands of cordial good will and fraternal feeling which is entertained for them by the president and the American people. The present aim and object of the United States, apart from fulfillment of the solemn obligations it has assumed toward the family of nations by its acceptance of sovereignty over the Philippine islands, is the well-being, prosperity and happiness of the Philippine people, and their elevation and advancement to a position among the most civilized people of the world.
The president believes this felicity and perfection of the Philippine people is to be brought about by the assurance of peace and order, by guarantee of civil and religious liberty, by establishment of justice, liberal and practical arts, by enlargement of intercourse with foreign nations, expansion of industrial pursuits, by trade and commerce, by multiplication and improvement of means of internal communication, and by the aid of mechanical inventions of the great natural resources of the archipelago, and, in a word, the unintermitted devotion of the people to the pursuit of useful objects and the realization of noble ideas which constitute the higher civilization of mankind. Unfortunately, these pure aims and the purposes of the American government have been misinterpreted to the inhabitants of certain islands, and as a consequence the friendly American forces have, without provocation or cause, been openly attacked.
What do the best Filipinos desire? Can it be more than the United States is ready to give? They are patriots and want liberty. In the meantime, the attention of the people of the Philippines is invited to certain regulative principles by which its relations with them. These are deemed to be points of cardinal importance:
First—The supremacy of the United States must and will be enforced throughout every part of the archipelago, and those who resist it can accomplish no other than their own ruin.
Second—To the Philippine people will be granted the most ample liberty and self-government reconcilable with the maintenance of a wise, just, stable and effective and economical administration of public affairs, and compatible with sovereign and international rights and obligations of the United States.
Third—The civil rights of the Philippine people will be guaranteed and protected to the fullest extent.
Fourth—The object of the American government is the welfare and advancement of the Philippine people.
Fifth—There shall be guaranteed honest and effective civil service to the fullest extent to which it shall be practical that natives shall be employed.
Sixth—Employment and collection of taxes and revenues will be placed upon a sound, economical basis. Local funds collected shall be used for local purposes and not devoted to other ends.
Seventh—A pure, effective and speedy administration of justice will be established.
Eighth—Construction of roads, railroads and similar means of communication and transportation and other public works will be promoted.
Ninth—Domestic trade and commerce, agriculture and other industrial pursuits shall be the object of constant solicitude and fostering care.
Tenth—Effective provision will be made for the establishment of elementary schools in which the children of the people may be educated, and appropriate facilities will be provided for higher education. Eleventh—Reforms in all departments of the government and all corporations closely touching the common life of the people will be undertaken without delay, and effected conformably with right and justice, in a way to satisfy well-founded demands and the highest sentiments and aspirations of the people.

Such is the spirit in which the United States comes to the people of the Philippine islands, and the president has instructed the commission to make this publicly known. In obeying his behest, the commissioners desire to join the president in expressing their good will toward the Philippine people, and to extend to the leading representative men an invitation to meet them for the purpose of personal acquaintance and an exchange of views and opinions.

Canteens May Sell Beer.

Washington, April 4.—The secretary of war recently requested the opinion of the attorney-general as to whether section 17 of the act passed at the last session of congress "increasing the efficiency of the army," prohibits the continuance of the sale of intoxicating liquors by the government in the canteen section of post exchanges which are organized and maintained at the various army posts and encampments throughout the United States.
The attorney-general in his reply holds that the section in question does not prohibit the continuance of the sale of intoxicating liquors through canteen sections, as heretofore organized and carried on, except that no officer or enlisted man can be detailed for duty in canteen sections to do the selling.
Last Gent's Touch of the Blizzard.

Des Moines, Ia., April 3.—It has been snowing here for 36 hours with no evidence of letting up.
Salinas, Kas., April 3.—The worst blizzard of the year is in progress today.
St. Joseph, Mo., April 3.—A blinding snow storm is raging here today.
Ottumwa, Ia., April 3.—The heaviest snow ever known here in April, falling fifteen inches since Thursday, is the record.

S. F. Star: Judge Lorigan, of San Jose, has appointed as directors of the United Savings bank, the notorious Jim Rea and three others, who own but a few shares of stock, yet are large debtors of the institution. This is like placing the sheep in the care of wolves; and the robbed depositors are justly indignant. Lorigan is the same "upright judge" who prevented the prosecution of ex-Justice Dwyer, the unspeakable scoundrel who was caught in the very commission of an odious and unnatural crime in the presence of school girls. The judge's reputation generally is that of a low-down politician. Therefore, it is but natural that he should favor such a man as Jim Rea. And the people of San Jose seem to like his kind of "judiciary," for they have elected him repeatedly.

The marriage of Miss Virginia Fair and W. K. Vanderbilt, jr., was to be the social event of the year. Fifty thousand roses were used in the decorations. The wedding gifts amount to millions. The groom's father gives the couple $10,000,000, and the bride has $5,000,000 in her own right. She will give much to Catholic charities the day she weds. Salt Lake miners are to give $350,000 in gold to have made into a statue of her of solid gold for the Paris fair.

S. F. Star: The quickest way to exterminate the "ten million niggers" (Shafter's language, not ours) in the Philippines, is for our government to send them a bountiful supply of the same kind of "beef" that was fed to our soldiers. It would be "rough on rats," but is sure death to men.
Rear-Admiral Charles C. Carpenter (retired) committed suicide Sunday in a sanitarium in Boston. Admiral Carpenter was called from the retired list to active duty in charge of the navy-yard at Portsmouth, N. H., during the war, while Commodore Remy was on duty at Key West.
There was a conference between Senator Quay, Senator Penrose and Attorney-General Elkins, of Pennsylvania, Sunday at Washington, at the home of Senator Quay, at which the senatorial situation was discussed.

Help Him Own His Home.
They do some things better in England than here. The dispatches, for instance, say that on Tuesday next Mr. Chamberlain will introduce a bill empowering local authorities to advance money to enable occupiers to acquire ownership of small houses on the principle of the Irish lands act and the small holding acts.
One of the most serious crimes to be charged up to the recent legislature is that it failed to pass a bill enacting a first-class building and loan association law, such a one as has been tested by years of experience in Minnesota and Pennsylvania, the home of building and loan associations. Such a law would have been worth more to the state than the bringing in of $10,000,000 of eastern capital to loan.
The home owner is always a good citizen. He takes an intelligent interest in municipal affairs and is always on the side of law and order. The city wherein the greater number of its inhabitants own their own homes is always a progressive and enterprising city. Hard times have little effect upon it.
Encouragement in home owning should be fostered in every legitimate way. If you know of a man who is struggling under a burden and is endeavoring to save enough money to pay for his home, help him. It is a good investment in good citizenship.—Tacoma Ledger.

Relic Hunters in Santiago de Cuba.
Santiago de Cuba, March 29.—The arrival of the American line steamer Paris with 420 tourists on a relic hunting expedition, created a great stir. Boys and men who were able to gather up anything that could be termed a relic of the war, reaped a harvest. New machetes that had recently arrived from the United States, but had been kept in salt water for a few days in order to give them a coat of rust, were sold at from $5 to $15 each.
It is estimated that 1200 machetes were sold and to supply the demand even machetes used in the kitchens for cutting meat were brought into requisition. "Guides to battlefields," many of them young fellows who had never been there before, also reaped a harvest.
Evening Telegram: Oregonians, of course, sympathize with the denizens of the blizzard-swept middle-west who are now sweeping paths through the snow when they ought to be doing their spring plowing. But the railway fare from the Missouri river to Portland is only $25 and the people back there know what they can do if they do not like present weather conditions.
Filipinos Starving.
Seattle, April 1.—The Times prints a letter from a Washington volunteer at Manila, who writes under date of February 15 as follows:
"Native women and children in our neighborhood and beyond, as well as old men and sick, are absolutely starving to death. Their husbands and fathers have been killed, wounded, captured or driven back to Malolos, their houses burned to the ground, with all their earthly possessions, and they are left with no means of subsistence. They attempt to come into the American lines by thousands, but to be turned back. We cannot feed them."

Municipal Ownership.
Detroit, April 3.—The common council has by a vote of 21 to 11 appointed a commission, headed by Governor Pingree, to negotiate for the purchase and operation of all the street railways of Detroit under municipal ownership.
"Big Ben," the clock in the house of parliament in London, is said to be the largest clock in the world. The timepiece is twenty-three feet across, the minutes on the dial are a foot apart, and the numerals are two feet long and the minute-hand, with the counterbalance, is fifteen feet in length.
The Colorado lower house of the legislature, of 1st inst. adopted a joint memorial to congress against the seating of Congressman-elect Roberts, of Utah.
General Lee will be made governor-general of Havana and Pinar del Rio provinces, according to present plans of the war department.
England has begun the building of 110 new warships.
Husband—I had an awful dream last night. Wife—What was it, John? Husband—I dreamed that your mother was out riding and the horse ran away. Just as they approached a frightful precipice, with a sheer declivity of 500 feet.—Wife—Oh, John, that was awful! Husband—I woke up and found it was all a dream. It was terrible.

A March Snow.
Let the old snow be covered with the new,
The trampled snow, so soiled, and stained,
and sodden;
Let it be hidden wholly from our view.
By pure white flakes, all trackless and untrodden.
When winter dies, let at the sweet spring's feet,
Let him be mantled in a clean white sheet.
Let the old life be covered with the new,
The old that life, so full of sad mistakes,
Let it be wholly hidden from the view.
By deeds as white and silent as snow flakes.
Ere this earth life melts in the eternal spring
Let the white mantle of repentance fling
Soft drapery about it, fold on fold,
Even as the new snow covers up the old.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Warning to Farmers.
The Pennsylvania State College authorities send out warning against "creamery promoters." Those gentlemen induce the establishment of creameries without sufficient basis of patronage and the farmers who put their money into such enterprises are losers. The expert of the State College declares: "In order for a creamery association to be successful, it is necessary, above all things, to have the milk from 300 to 500 cows guaranteed to the creamery for nine or ten months in the year. A creamery to handle this amount of milk can be built and equipped for from $1800 to $2200. The price usually asked by 'promoters' is from $2700 to $4000."
Farmers who are about to go into creamery speculations would be well advised to communicate with the State College or the Dairy Division of the Agricultural Department at Washington.—Lewistown (Pa.) Free Press.

Sympathetic Contagion.
St. Louis, April 1.—As the result of reading a sensational story about cerebro-spinal meningitis, Bertha Schreiber, of No. 1526 Elliott avenue, is dangerously ill at her home of that disease, according to the statements made by her physicians.

Here is what is known in the medical world as a case of sympathetic contagion. The young woman is lying at the point of death. She is attended by three physicians, who declare the case most peculiar, although similar cases have been chronicled in the medical records.

Hope For the Sick

The strongest desire of the sick is to get well. Nobody in good health can realize the intensity of this longing. It is so strong that unless relief comes it turns to hopelessness—and hopelessness kills. Certainly no one can afford to neglect a remedy that brings hope to the hopeless, strength to the weak, health to the sick; a remedy that, like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, gives absolute proof that it has cured every form of disease. It is advertised to cure upon application, stating your troubles and giving your address. No sufferer from any disorder of the blood or nerves should fail to write us.

(Recommended by Nurses.)
Mrs. L. E. Browning, of Pueblo, Col., says: "About two years ago I was very sick with blood poisoning, caused by an abscess that had not received proper treatment. The disease for a time settled in my throat, causing intense agony. Then I had temporary rheumatism, and the swelling in my feet and ankles made walking impossible. After considerable treatment, my physician brought me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. 'You need a tonic,' he said, 'and this is the best medicine I know of for that purpose.' I had not taken a dose when I noticed a great improvement. Soon my rheumatism was gone, I grew stronger each day, and now am in the best of health."
The genuine package always bears the full name. Sold by all druggists or sent direct by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N.Y. 50¢ per box.

Shipped to you, any where, on 30 days' free trial, in a neat carrying case, home, without paying cent in advance.

10 years' written guarantee on every such machine.

A strictly high-grade Sewing Machine in the best possible construction. It possesses modern improvements, and is made of the best materials, and is so constructed that it is combined simplicity with great strength, thus insuring ease of running, durability, and making it impossible for any machine to be put out of order. It sews fast and uses a plain, all-steel, all-iron, and all-steel material. Always ready for use, and well-adapted for special, durability and quality work. Makes the following points of superiority:

- The Head of the "Arlington" swings on patent socket hinges, freely held down by a thumb screw. Strong, substantial, neat and handsome in design, and beautifully ornamented with gilt. It is held in position by a self-acting device, making it difficult to turn up. Highest Arm—space under the arm is 5 1/2 inches high and 9 inches long. This will admit the largest skirts, and even quilts. It is Self-Feeding—Absolutely no holes to put thread through, except eye of needle. Shuttle is cylinder, open end, and entirely self-acting, easy to put in or take out; bobbin holds a large amount of thread. Shuttle Regular is on the left of the machine, and can be changed from 8 to 8 1/2 stitches to the inch. Feed is double and extends on both sides of needle. The Needle is a straight, self-setting needle, flat on one side, and cannot be put in wrong. Needle Bar is round, made of case-hardened steel, with cup at the bottom to prevent oil from getting on the goods. Adjustable Bearings—all bearings are case-hardened steel and easily adjusted with a screw driver. All lost motion can be taken up, and the machine will last a lifetime with a screw driver.
- Attachments—Each machine is furnished with necessary tool and accessories, as follows: One rubber and gatherer, one binder, one shirring plate, one set of four hemmers, different widths up to 7 1/2 inches, one tucker, one under binder, one short or attachment foot, and one thread cutter. Workwood of finest quality oak or walnut, gaiter cover and drawers, nickel-plated rings to drawers, dress guards to wheel, and device for repairing belt.

OUR GREAT OFFER. $23.50 in our Special Warehouse Price, but in order to introduce this machine, we make a special coupon offer, giving every reader of this paper a chance to get a first-class machine at the lowest price ever offered in the world—$18.50 in cash and coupon.
