The Funder-Man and Rain-Man.

"I know what makes the rain," said Ben To Little brother Will.
"I'll tell you all about it, if I'll let keep awful still.

"Y' see, 'way up above us—oh, So awful far 'n' high,
The Funder-Man 'n' Rain-Man lives, They lives up in the sky.

"They've got their houses in the clouds—Ist hid away somewhere, Y' can't go up to see 'em, cause They ain't got any stairs.

"The Rain-Man thinks he owns the clouds,
'N' fuses every day With Funder-Man because he can't Ha-e everything his way.

"But Funder-Man ist points at 'em
'N' shames 'em awful hard; Then Rain-Man's sorry—'vites 'em to Play over in his yard.

"Although they're friends, 'n' gets along Like all good neighbors should, Sometimes the Funder-Man gets mad 'N' whips the Rain-Man good;

"Growth 'im—'Rumble-rumble' (you Can hear it ist as plain), Then the Rain-Man cries, 'n' cries!
'N' that's what makes the rain."
—James Courtney Challis.

Mortgages.

A large share of the farms of the northwest are under mortgage.

One of the principal causes of this is the newness of the country and the great cost always attendant upon the bringing of the virgin soil into subjection. Another is that so many of our farmers had nothing except their energy when they went out to the wild land and must have something upon which to live while they were building for themselves a home. The past few years have shown how hard it is to get rid of one of these mortgages after it has once established itself upon a piece of land. We would therefore recommend our friends to cut out the following list of cruelties to be placed at its doors and paste them up where they can be seen every day for a month before the final act of placing the mortgage is consummated, and see if there will not be fewer homes lost:

The mortgage is a self-supporting institution.

The mortgage holds its own. It calls for just as many dollars when grain is cheap as when it is dear.

It is not affected by the drouth.
It is not drowned out by heavy rains. It never winter kills.

Late spring and early frosts do not trouble it.

Potato bugs do not disturb it.
Moth and rust do not destroy it.
It grows nights, Sundays, rainy days and even holidays.

It brings a sure crop every year, and sometimes twice a year.

It produces cash every time.
It does not have to wait for the market to advance.

It is not subject to speculation of the "bulls" and "bears" of the board of trade.

It is a load that galls, frets and chafes.

It is a burden that the farmer cannot shake off.

It is with him morning, noon and night.

It sits with him at the table.
It gets under his pillow when he sleeps.

It rides upon his shoulders during the day.

It consumes his grain crop.
It devours his cattle.

It selects the finest horses and the fattest steers.

It lives upon the fruits of the season.

It stalks to the dairy where the busy housewife toils day after day and month after month; and takes the nicest cheese and the choicest butter.

It shares the children's bread and robs them of half their clothes.

It is the inexorable and exacting taskmaster.

Its whip is as cruel and merciless as the lash of the slave driver.

It is a menace to liberty, a hindrance to progress and a curse to the nation.—N. W. Pacific Farmer.

Times Have Changed.

Other old citizens were telling us the other day how some things have changed since he was a boy, says an exchange. He said when he was a boy he read his lessons something like this: "See the cow. Is the cow nice? Yes; the cow can run.
Can the cow run as fast as the horse?" But the latest up-to-date style of reading by the average kid is as follows: "Get onto the cow.
Ain't she a beauty? Sure; she's a corker. Can the cow get a move on herself? Can she hum like a hoss?
No, she ain't in it with a hoss—nor a bike, either."

Capital Journal: Linn county, run by a lot of wild-eyed, woolley-eared Populists, has better schools and better country roads than Marion county, the lowest taxes in the state, and seems to have turned its back on old last century methods and politics.

Five thousand Indians, dissatisfied with conditions in the reservations of the Indian territory, left in a body for Mexico to establish a union reservation on a large lot of land near Guadalupe.

A FILIPINO PEACE SCHLAME.

What the Filipinos Will Ask of the Commission.—Desire Terms of Peace.

New York, April 18.—A dispatch to the Herald from Manila says: In an interview with General La-garda, he said that a committee of 22 Filipinos had been appointed to confer with the peace commission for the following purposes:

First—To obtain as large autonomous rights for the Filipinos as possible.

Second—To bring about peaceful relations between the insurgents and the Americans.

Third—That the Americans and Filipinos shall occupy public offices.
Arvalo, a former aide to Aguinaldo, is now in Manila. He said in an interview that if the Americans send to Aguinaldo now he thinks a peaceful solution of the present troubles is probable. Influential Americans think that the commis-ion of rich Filipinos is eager to protect property, and has little influence with the insurgents.

Sidelights.

ED. HERALD: A favorable and refreshing zephyr is now about to succeed the prevailing foul weather of the past; and, a healthy, prosperous, but a financial innovation is going to wait its beneficial influence among us. The government is about to proceed with some public work in the rivers and harbors of Coos county; there is also to be some additional progress in shipbuilding. Excluding the Newport cotton mine and the North Bend establishment, the Bandon Woolen Mills, Pershaker's sawmill and shipyard, at Prosper, and the Golden Gate Handle Co., at Coquille City and Bandon, the employees of which always receive their pay on demand, the novelty in this instance will be that, men employed by the government or in the shipyards will receive what they earn; there will be a payday with some satisfactory results attached to it; men employed under the order of progress will not be running around the adjacent towns with time checks next to worthless, and, taken at the best figures, merely paid in dribs and drablets, trying the hands of the bank.

Poverty caused him to become a thief.

St. Louis, April 18.—Walter Gray, assistant bookkeeper in the United States sub-treasury, was arrested today on a federal warrant charging him with embezzlement. The amount specified is $700. Gray is 60 years of age, and has a large family. Gray broke down and admitted having taken money, saying he had done so to get medical attention for his crippled child, and intended later to repay the amount.

The Class Struggle: A racetrack owner, opposed the anti-pool-selling bill before the city council on the ground that the race-track furnished work for a large number of laborers. Thus the gentleman put himself in line with his brother profit-mongers of the business world, who justify most of their fat-frying schemes by similar arguments for the "poor laborers."

When the big factory lords want a little higher fence around the home market, it's the interests of the "poor laborers" that are at stake.
When the silver mine barons are seeking a dear market for a cheap product, the "poor laborers" are again paraded. So it is all along the line. Strange, isn't it, that a class that has so many powerful champions should be in such a bad condition?

has just started up everywhere and the social evil is said to be rampant.
It will require the utmost nerve on the part of commanding generals to keep their men from harm in the face of such danger. There is nothing acclimated men down like w. & w.

claims Uncle Sam forgot to muster him out at the close of the war, years.

Captain Jack Crawford Victim of a Scheme.

San Francisco, April 18.—The Chronicle says: Captain Jack Crawford, the "post-boy," left here one year ago to work the properties and look after the mining interests of the Klondike, Yukon & Copper River Company in the frozen gold fields of Alaska. Now he is sorry he went.

According to the letter received yesterday by General R. H. Warfield, the "post boy" has lost the little fortune he possessed, and has been turned adrift by the company because he has refused to send out fictitious and growing accounts of the richness of the company's claims.

The company is incorporated under the laws of Montana, with a capital stock of $12,000,000, divided into 1,200,000 shares of the par value of $10. Frank H. Vrooman, a Chicago clergyman, is president and general manager. Among the directors are United States Senator John L. Wilson, of Washington; Assistant Secretary of War McKeljohn; ex-United States Senator J. C. S.
Blackburn, of Kentucky; P. J. Murphy, former United States commissioner of pensions, and others of equal prominence. The directors and all the various stockholders, according to "Captain Jack," have been sadly victimized by President Vrooman, who, it is alleged, misrepresented the value of the properties.

Ex-Governor Lord Appointed Minister To Persia.

Washington, April 18.—The following important diplomatic changes have been announced as the result of the cabinet meeting today: W.
W. Rockhill, now minister to Greece, has resigned that post. Arthur Sherburne Hardy, of New Hampshire, now minister to Persia, has been promoted to succeed Rockhill.

William P. Lord, ex-governor of Oregon, has been appointed minister to Persia.

John M. Irwin, of Iowa, former Rheumatism Cured.

My wife has used Chamberlain's great relief, and I can recommend it as a splendid liniment for rheuma-
