The Cleveland Recorder is authority for the statement that 10,000 women are employed in that city at work done a few years ago by men only. Where are the men?

Large numbers of girls and women are being employed in the iron and steel works of this country. Thus the workers see their women folks becoming veritable beasts of burden.

Etchings from Eckley.

Christmas Home, April 27.—Sunshine, wind, rain, hail and frost have been the program the past few days. Seems to me that old Winter's pants would be worn turead-bare from sitting in the lap of Spring so long. I would suggest that a five-pound can of baking powder, or a stick of giant be placed under the old gentleman and see if he could not be persuaded to arise and depart.

The farmers hereabouts are plowing and sowing their grain as the weather permits. Very little gardening has been done in this vicinity up to the present. A week or ten days of warm sunshine would be very acceptable, as the farmers could finish their plowing and seeding in that length of time.

Bob and Ben Harrison have made another rich strike, being a quartz ledge, which shows free gold all through the quartz. The boys' latest find is situated in the head of Star Gulch, a tributary of the South Fork of Sixes. Several years ago Thomas Cornwall, an old miner and resident of this county, came very near losing his life in the above mentioned gulch. Having found some gold, he was tracing it up the steep mountain side, but losing his balance he rolled down the embankment several feet, bringing up against a tree which knocked him senseless. He has never entirely recovered from the bruises he received on that occasion.

Mr. Pembrook and son, of Catching creek, are prospecting on Ferris creek, a tributary of Middle Sixes.

Thomas Guerin took the mail down to Port Orford this week for his brother Harry. From Tom, who visited the Harrison boys' camp Tuesday, I learn that they have struck it richer than their first find and are taking out lots of money. These discoveries by the boys have stimulated others to try their luck, and no doubt when the dry season sets in the mountains will be full of prospectors, and if the prospecting is thoroughly done, there will be more rich strikes made.

Ed and Chip Haines killed a panther recently that had been making a little too free with Ed's sheep. This makes the second panther that has been killed in this vicinity this spring. Chip, while hunting re-[illegible] extensive the deposit is he does not know, but will investigate his find in the near future with a view of finding out as near as possible the extent of the borax deposit.

George Guerin, mine host of the Myrtle Point hotel, with four of his sons, went to South Sixes last week on a prospecting tour, but made no rich discovery. George Guerin, jr., is over there now and will prospect for a couple of weeks or more.

Fred Foster and Bert Wasson, of Salmon mountain, were visitors at the coal mine last week. The boys had a few days of prospecting on the South Fork, and visited the Harrison find on Rusty while there. The boys were told the following yarn by the Harrison boys: They had been out prospecting and becoming tired and hungry had come in for their noonday meal. Nearing camp, their ears were greeted by unearthly cries and a lively rattle of cooking utensils. Cautiously approaching camp, they were almost paralyzed at the sight that greeted them, there being a hirry animal that resembled a man in some respects, but which jumped around on its hind feet like a kangaroo. Its motions were swift and lightning-like, as it jumped about destroying everything in camp it could lay its hands on. The hair of its head reached far below its waist, and was of a brownish tint; the whiskers on its face were a foot or more in length; it had a bushy tail fourteen inches in length. After recovering from their amazement the boys held a council of war and determined on the capture of this strange man or beast. Separating, they proceeded to surround the camp, and had approached within a hundred feet before being discovered, the brute uttering a strange and peculiar cry. The animal made off like a flash of lightning. Passing within a few feet of Bob, he made a grab for its long flowing hair, but its motion was so swift that he grasped its tail, from which the hair slipped, leaving Bob utterly dumbfounded and gazing with wide distended eyes after its fast retreating form. Too bad, Bob. If you had succeeded in capturing that kangaroo man, it would have made you a fortune.

Clyde Gage and brother, of Coquille City, passed through Tuesday en route to the South Fork country on a prospecting tour. They were accompanied by a Mr. Miller and a gentleman by the name of Felter.

CONSOLIDATION OF TRUSTS.

Another Gigantic Combination With Half a Billion Capital.

Pittsburg, April 26.—The Commercial Gazette tomorrow will publish a story to the effect that negotiations are on foot merging the National Steel Company, capitalized at $59,000,000; the American Tin Plate Company, $50,000,000, and American Steel Hoop Company, $33,000,000, into a swell stock company. It is said by a leader of one of the interests that the deal will go through, and he states further that the ultimate object is to combine all iron and steel interests of the country, which will include the Federal Steel Company, the American Steel & Wire Company, the Carnegie Company, and the Union Steel & Chain Company, together with Rockefeller and other interests. A rough estimate of the capitalization of this vast combine is placed at $500,000,000.

Capital Journal "X Rays."

After a man is killed it must be some satisfaction to know it was only murder in the second degree. ....The idea that a painter or mechanic should get over from $1 to $1.50 a day is preposterous to those opposed to labor organization.... "The mothers who are not on the firing line had better dry up about wanting their boys to come home." —R. A. Alger....It is interesting to know that Guggenheimer, Untermyer & Ladenburg have practically a monopoly of the copper deals, amounting to $400,000,000 consolidation, and all the rest of the world must pay tribute....Isn't it ridiculous that when the people have salaried public prosecutors, justice and peace officers, when an arrest is to be made, or a law enforced (as against nickle-in-the-slot gambling), private citizens must make the fight at their own expense? Administration of the law is a one-sided affair, with the criminal classes holding the long end of the stick.

Call for Volunteers.

Washington, April 27.—It was decided by president McKinley after a conference at the White House with General Miles and then with Secretary Alger, to call for the 35,000 volunteers for the Philippines as soon as it is known whether Aguinaldo escapes from McArthur and Lawton. If he does, the volunteers will be called; if not, and the rebels are crushed, the call will not be made.

"Army Beef" Victims.

Astoria, April 24.—The diligent search, which has been conducted for the missing members of the Heickman party since the finding of the body of S. H. Doty last Saturday, resulted today in the finding and identification of the remains of two other members of the illfated party—P. E. Heickman, of this city, and W. T. Radir, supposed to be from Portland—near Sugar Loaf mountain. It is supposed the men died from eating canned meats.

Coos County Gets There.

Salem, April 26.—Coos is the eighth county to pay its 1898 state taxes in full. A remittance of $14,-597.50, the total amount due from it having been received by State Treasurer Moore today.

The Spreckelses vs Graham.

San Francisco, April 26.—Judge Bahrs today virtually denied the application of R. A. Graham for a jury trial of the suit brought against him by John D. Spreckels Bro's & Co. to recover $722,000 on a promissory note.

Many old soldiers now feel the effects of the hard service they endured during the war. Mr. Geo. S. Anderson, of Rossville, York county, Penn., who saw the hardest kind of service at the front, is now frequently troubled with rheumatism. "I had a severe attack lately," he says, "and procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It did so much good that I would like to know what you would charge me for one dozen bottles." Mr. Anderson wanted it both for his own use and to supply it to his friends and neighbors, as every family should have a bottle of it in their home, not only for rheumatism, but lame back, sprains, swellings, cuts, bruises and burns, for which it is unequaled. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

Their Cause is Lost.

Filipinos' peace overture was rejected by Gen. Otis last Saturday, and the commissioners have gone back for new instructions. Otis promised full amnesty on their surrender, and will not recognize their congress or any governmental authority.

A temporary armistice rules for the present.

The reward of $100 for the finding and recovery of the body of the late State Senator Al Reed, who was drowned in the Umpqua a fortnight ago, offered by the Roseburg lodge, No. 326, B. P. O. Elks, has been withdrawn.

I told him it was Hood's Sarsaparilla that made it pure." GEORGE P. COOPER, Co. G, 25th U. S. Inf., Washington Barracks, Washington, D. C.

Confederate Memorial Day.

Vicksburg, Miss., April 28.—The confederate decoration day ceremonies today were probably the most notable which have ever occurred here, a detachment of 75 marines and sailors from the United States gunboat Nashville, fully armed and equipped, taking a leading part in the ceremonies. The blue jackets were heartily cheered by company 32, U. C. V. They wheeled into line just behind the old soldiers and received a tremendous ovation all along the line of march and at the cemetery. Several officers of the gunboat also took part in the exercises. The Nashville leaves early in the morning for Memphis.

AT SAVANNAH.

Savannah, April 28.—The feature of the Memorial day exercises here was the presence at the head of the procession of two companies of the Second infantry, under command of Lieutenant John Himes, and the firing by that body of the customary salute over the confederate dead in Forsythe Place. This is probably the first time in history when a salute in honor of dead confederates has been fired by regular troops of the federal army.

AT AUGUSTA.

Augusta, Ga., April 28.—The graves of the confederate dead were decorated here today with appropriate ceremonies. The Memorial day parade was headed by the band of the Third Nebraska regiment.
