"Whom the Gods Would Destroy They First Make Mad"

Is an old adage, and it seems to be a truism morally and politically as well, for the times run along just as the greedy, grasping, manipulating helmsman wishes, blindly, in a sense, but nevertheless with the purpose to make or break the machinery in that selfish interest, and woe be to him who opposes! Business men insist on intelligence in their line and that they understand "business principles" without being counseled, but like the masses of the people their confidence is sometimes misplaced and they themselves are made catspaws of to deceive and pervert their fellows, while they too are going to their ruin. The promoter of a scheme may choose his helpers, but does not necessarily make known all his secrets; he may have hireling helpers who will rivet the manacles on the innocent, unsuspecting brother, or even the schemer may lose control of the fashioning of his great design and be a victim of its rebound and counted with its slain. It is only when this general crash comes that most people will realize that if they will not intelligently and honestly avert these dire events, they will correct or cure themselves by wrecking all and affording a start anew, it may be at a cost of blood and treasure in addition to the agony and suffering in social life.

An exchange puts it plainly thus, just as we have viewed its prospects several years past:

"When the present epidemic of 'Trustomania' is carried to the goal it is intended to be carried by the trust promoters, then, and probably not until then, there will be a wail go up from those who now sneer at the newspaper or the speaker who throws a javalin at the salamander that is out to destroy all competition, to reduce all wage-earner's stipends and to rake into the maw of the moloch extortionate profits. When the plan now laid out, and which by the aid, assistance and cooperation of the Gold Standard Republican party will soon be perfected, every mill, manufacturing enterprise and business in the land worth having an interest in will be owned and controlled and operated on the trust or combination plan; and as soon as these arrangements are all completed, many thousands of commercial traveling men will be out of a job, the leading hotels in many small cities will find business so dull that they will be forced to close up, the livery business will stagnate, the passenger business on stub roads and main lines will be curtailed and the merchant will have no choice of who he may buy his goods from—he will have to send his orders and his cash to the nearest "branch house" of the trust, and pay just what the monster demands and sell at the price he is instructed to—or he can get no more supplies. This is the reward that the people of this great and glorious country get for allowing their prejudices to get the better of their judgment, and electing a nincompoop of the trusts to the highest office in the land. How much longer are they, the people, to be such damphools?"

Washington, April 22.—Senator McMillian, of Michigan, said today that while precedents are against seating Senator Quay, he was inclined to think the precedent will not be observed and that Senator Quay will be seated.

And why not seat Quay? Hanna would be lonesome without him, and a man who ought to be in the penitentiary is worthy(?) of a seat in the United States senate, even if precedents as old as the constitution itself have to be overridden. "Col." Dan Burns, of Mexico, is another legitimate offspring of our present political immorality, who ought to be—and probably will be—seated alongside Quay, the embezzler.—Exchange.

Col. Alex McClure, in his Philadelphia Times, says of the Quay trial on charge of conspiracy to use public funds: "Mr. Quay was not more guilty of a crime than nearly every prominent banker in Pennsylvania had been for years and years, up to two years ago, when the old system was changed and the commonwealth treasury put on a business basis, requiring its profits to inure to the state. The system was wrong, and Mr. Quay used his political power as others had done for fifty years. The acquittal was in the nature of a personal vindication of Quay."

It is reported that Great Britain has moved toward taking possession of the mouths of the Euphrates and Tigris rivers, in opposition to Russia.

Cecil Rhodes has failed to secure the aid of the British government in his Cape-to-Cairo railway scheme.

German papers are anxiously advising President McKinley to give up the Philippines.

Authority of Teachers.

Salem, Or., April 25.—Several questions with regard to powers of school boards, principals and teachers over pupils, are touched upon in an opinion rendered today by Attorney-General Blackburn, at the request of Superintendent of Public Instruction Ackerman. The questions presented to him were:

"Can a school board insist on a pupil pursuing certain studies against the wishes of the parent?

"Can a parent forbid a child from taking part in a public entertainment in a school building where no admission is charged? Where admission is charged?

"Can a board insist on a child taking part in an entertainment in a building other than a school building?"

Judge Blackburn quotes section 12 of the school law, which provides: "The board of directors of a district may establish rules and regulations for the government of teachers and pupils not inconsistent with the rules and regulations of the state board of education, such as the interests of the school require. It shall be the duty of the teachers, under the direction of the board, to determine what branches shall be pursued by each pupil," and holds that under it, "the board may compel a pupil to pursue a certain study against the wishes of a parent, if, in their opinion, such a course is necessary to protect and further the interests of the school."

The other questions are disposed of together, under rule 60 of the rules adopted by the state board of education, which provides:

"In all public schools in this state the teachers shall require of their pupils regular stated exercises in composition and declamation."

The opinion holds that "a teacher can compel a pupil to perform these exercises, but it would be necessary to have the exercises in the school building during school hours." Continuing, the opinion says:

"While public entertainments, such as are indicated by your queries, are very beneficial to those taking part, and the teacher who is so energetic and enterprising as to get them up merits encouragement and commendation, yet I am of the opinion that it is optional with the parent whether or not he shall permit his child to take part in them. Such entertainments are entirely without the requirements of the public school course of studies and are held after school hours. Neither would a rule requiring pupils to participate in public entertainments be such a one as would be indispensible to the good order of the school or absolutely necessary in order that good results might be obtained. In any case only a limited number of pupils of a school can participate in a public entertainment, owing to the fact that some are entirely inadapted to perform such exercises, through timidity, incapacity or other cause; and though exercises of that character are calculated to remove these difficulties, yet for a public entertainment the teacher will always select those who are most apt, and, as a consequence, those who most need the exercises are neglected. So it is seen that a rule requiring pupils to participate in exercises of this kind would at best include but a limited number of those in attendance upon the school. This in itself condemns the rule, for only such rules should be adopted as will further the educational interests of all those who are entitled to attend the school.

"If for any reason a parent does not desire that his child shall participate in a public entertainment, I can see no reason why he cannot prevent his child from so doing, for at the time the exercises are held the child is beyond the teacher's jurisdiction, and is entirely under the parent's control.

"Unless the exercises are held at stated times in the school building during school hours, and requiring all pupils of certain ages and advancement to participate therein, I am of the opinion that it would be optional with the parent to allow his child to participate in the exercises."

"Hello, Mr. Workingman, what are you doing?" "Digging potatoes." "What are you going to do with them?" "I sort them into four piles." "What for?" "The big pile of fine potatoes you see over there I give to the landlord as rent for his permission to allow me to live on earth; next to the biggest pile I give to the mortgages as interest for the use of the implements to work with; the third pile I give in taxes for the privilege of living in the country?" "And that pile of little ones, do you eat them?" "No, I feed them to the hogs to fatten them, and give the hogs to railroads for hauling the potatoes to the owners. This is a great country, though.—Southern Mercury.

Embalmed Army Beef.

Washington, April 28.—The report of Colonel Garlington, of the commissary department of the army, which was yesterday presented to the Wade court of inquiry, but not accepted as a part of the record, was made public today.

Colonel Garlington claims to have collected the opinion of 385 officers and 163 enlisted men, concerning the canned roast beef which, he claims, resulted as follows:

Twenty-three officers and one man pronounced it "good or excellent;" twenty-five officers and two men, "fair or good; with exceptions;" twenty-five officers and eleven men found it "mostly bad or unfit," and 302 officers and 149 men, said it was, "entirely bad or unfit." He said:

"Where cooking was possible, and vegetables were mixed with the beef, the complaints were fewer and modified, and some even praised it as a substitute for fresh beef."

Cables from Asiatic Possessions.

Washington, May 2.—The president has appointed Colonel Frederick Funston of the Twentieth Kansas to be a brigadier general of volunteers. The appointment was recommended by General MacArthur and supplemented strongly by General Otis in a cable dispatch yesterday.

Washington, May 2.—The following has been received from Dewey: "I cannot get any further information concerning Gilmore and party now. Information reached me today from Guam, dated March 20. The inhabitants there are quiet and contented under the United States flag."

Commercial Congress.

Gov. T. T. Geer has appointed the delegates to represent Oregon at the session of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, which meets in Wichita, Kansas, on May 31st, and continues in session to June 3d. The gentlemen named to represent Oregon at this year's meeting, are as follows: Chas B Moores, Oregon City, Rev G M Irwin, Salem, Willis S Duniway, Portland, B Van Dysen, Astoria, Chas Nickell, Jacksonville, Will R King, Baker City, W T Wright, Union, T C Taylor, Pendleton, W I Vawter, Medford, Clyde Evans, Portland, Jefferson Myers, Salem, George C Brownell, Oregon City.

Wadding from New England.

Washington, May 2.—The postmaster general has directed the postmaster at San Francisco to take out of the mails for Manila three pamphlets issued by Edward Atkinson, of Boston, vice-president of the Anti-Imperialist league. The order does no apply to the circulation of the pamphlets by mail in this country, but bars their dispatch to the Philippines, discontent and even mutiny among the soldiers, being stated by the department to be the design of these publications.

More Fatal Canned Meat.

Bordontown, Pa. May 2.—Rev. Thomas O. Carman died today at Bradley Beach from the effect of poisoning, caused by eating canned meat about about a month ago. He was the pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at that place, and was a son of the late Thomas Carman, of Bordentown.

The verdict of acquittal of Quay of Pennsylvania had scarcely been announced till Gov. Stone appointed him U. S. senator till his successor was duly elected and qualified. And right on the heels of this, the legislature of California adjourned without an election and Gov. Gage at once appointed the infamous Dan Burns to be U. S. senator till his successor was chosen. You see, Collis P. Huntington hadn't adjourned yet, and he elected Burns, vice the legislature, flunked. And what are they—the people—going to do about it?

Since Spanish nor Filipino bullets, nor fever nor climate did not remove General Miles and Capt. Coghlan, we guess the beef trust and Alger and Long and McKinley can work the racket on them. Admiral Kautz, also, is called to task by Secretary of the Navy Long for writing a private letter and criticising some foreign princes and potentates. We suggest that we surrender our Americanism and independence at once, not by piece-meal, but in toto.

A point has been scored in favor of the practice of dipping prunes in lye. The German government has decided that prunes which have manifestly been dipped in lye can be admitted to that country as the lye-dipping would afford conclusive evidence that such prunes were free from live San Jose scale. About one-half of the dried fruit imported at Hamburg, Germany, from the United States consists of prunes.

Bills for Printing by the State.

Attorney General D. R. N. Blackburn has prepared an opinion, deciding what institutions and boards are entitled to have their printing done at the expense of the state. Following are those entitled to have printing under the law: Food and dairy commissioner; game and forestry warden; Fish commissioner; Soldiers' Home; Oregon penitentiary; Oregon insane asylum, reform school, blind school and deaf mute school.

Those not entitled to printing at the expense of the state are: State board of dental examiners; state board of medical examiners; barbers' board of examiners; state board of pharmacy.

The wheat fields of Sherman county are practically sown for this season. The acreage sown is the largest in the history of the county, and, with the present favorable weather, the yield promises to be far the largest ever known.

The majority of the immigration to Wallowa county so far this season seems to have gone to the north end of the county, as there is considerable government land in that section still subject to homestead entry.

Another Case of Rheumatism Cured by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

My son was afflicted with rheumatism which contracted his right limb until he was unable to walk. After using one and a half bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was able to be about again. I can heartily recommend it to persons suffering from rheumatism.—JOHN SNIDER, Freed, Calhoun Co., W. Va. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

The pupils in a school were asked to give in writing the difference between a biped and a quadruped. One boy gave the following: "A biped has two legs and a quadruped has four legs, therefore the difference between a biped and quadruped is two legs."

A poet says: "There is always a sunrise somewhere." This is comforting. To a man who is just going to bed, there comes the happy thought that somebody has to get up and go to work.

"She cried for succor and I went to her aid," he said as he pulled out his empty pocket. "Yes, and by the looks of things I should think she found one," was all the comfort he got.

Women in Business

Business men often express the opinion that there is one thing which will prevent women from completely filling man's place in the business world — they can't be depended upon because they are sick too often. It is true that many women are compelled to look forward to times when they are unable to attend to social or business duties. Their appearance plainly indicates their condition and they are reluctant to be seen, even by their friends. Read what a business woman says to such sufferers:

Mrs. C. W. Mansfield, 58 Farrar Street, Detroit, Mich., says:
"A complication of female ailments kept me awake nights and wore me out. I could get no relief from medicine and hope was slipping away from me. A young lady in my employ gave me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I took them and was able to rest at night for the first time in months. I bought more and they cured me as they also cured several other people to my knowledge. I think that if you should ask any of the druggists of Detroit, who are the best buyers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills they would say the young women. These pills certainly build up the nervous system and many a young woman owes her life to them.
"As a business woman I am pleased to recommend them as they did more for me than any physician and I can give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People credit for my general good health to-day."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are for sale by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N.Y. Our new book, PLAIN TALKS TO WOMEN, sent free to any address on request.

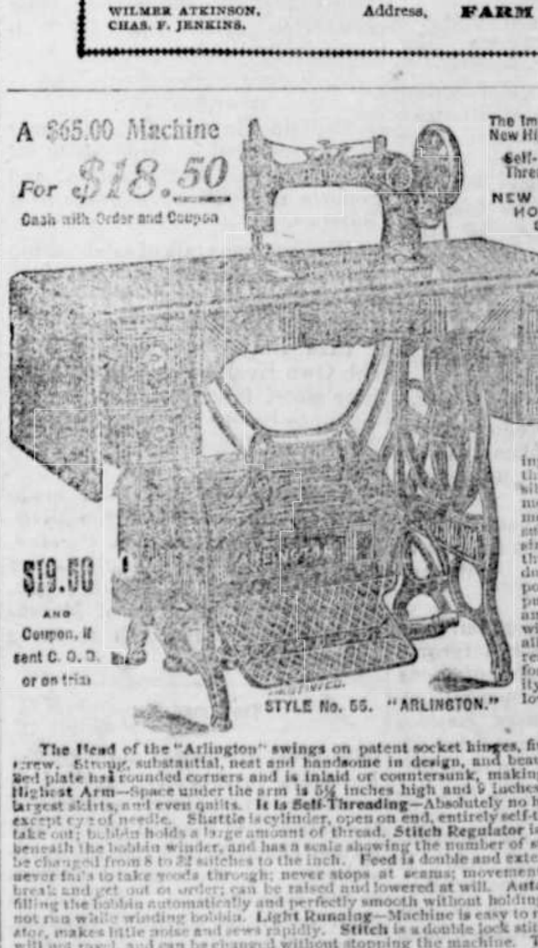
The Improved New High-Arm Self-Threading "Arlington" Sewing Machine
NEW HOME STYLE
LATEST BEST CHEAPEST



$19.50 AND Coupon, if sent C. O. D. or on trial

STYLE No. 55. "ARLINGTON."

Shipped to anyone, anywhere, on 10 days' free trial, in your own home, without asking one cent in advance.

10 years' written warranty with each machine.

A strictly high-grade Sewing Machine, finished throughout in the best possible manner. It possesses all modern improvements, and its mechanical construction is such that in it are combined simplicity with great strength, thus insuring ease of running, durability, and making it impossible for the machine to be put out of order. It sews fast and makes a perfect stitch with all kinds of thread and all classes of material. Always ready for use and unrivalled for speed, durability and quality of work. Notice the following points of superiority:

The Head of the "Arlington" swings on patent socket hinges, firmly held down by a thumb screw. Strong, substantial, neat and handsome in design, and beautifully ornamented in gold. Bed plate has rounded corners and is inlaid or countersunk, making it flush with top of table. Highest Arm—Space under the arm is 5½ inches high and 9 inches long. This will admit the largest skirts, and even quilts. It is Self-Threading—Absolutely no holes to put thread through except eye of needle. Shuttle is cylinder, open on end, entirely self-threading, easy to put in or take out; bobbin holds a large amount of thread. Stitch Regulator is on the bed of the machine, beneath the bobbin winder, and has a scale showing the number of stitches to the inch, and can be changed from 8 to 32 stitches to the inch. Feed is double and extends on both sides of needle; never fails to take goods through; never stops at seams; movement is positive; no springs to break and get out of order; can be raised and lowered at will. Automatic Bobbin Winder—For filling the bobbin automatically and perfectly smooth without holding the thread. Machine does not run while winding bobbin. Light Running—Machine is easy to run, does not fatigue the operator, makes little noise and sews rapidly. Stitch is a double lock stitch, the same on both sides, will not ravel, and can be changed without stopping the machine. Tension is a flat spring tension, and will admit thread from 8 to 150 spool cotton without changing. Never gets out of order. The Needle is a straight, self-setting needle, flat on one side, and cannot be put in wrong. Needle Bar is round, made of case-hardened steel, with oil cup at the bottom to prevent oil from getting on the goods. Adjustable Bearings—All bearings are case-hardened steel and easily adjusted with a screw driver. All lost motion can be taken up, and the machine will last a lifetime. Attachments—Each machine is furnished with necessary tools and accessories, and in addition we furnish an extra set of attachments in a velvet lined metal box, free of charge, as follows: One ruffler and gatherer, one binder, one shirring plate, one set of four hemmers, different widths up to ⅞ of an inch, one tucker, one under braider, one short or attachment foot, and one thread cutter. Woodwork of finest quality oak or walnut, gothic cover and drawers, nickel-plated rings to drawers, dress guards to wheel, and device for replacing belt.
