

Church Directory.

M. E. church, south-regular services each Sunday morning and evening, by the pastor, E. L. FROST.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Hermann, of Myrtle Point, visited Coquille City last Thursday.

The Farm Journal for 5 years and the Herald at the price of one year's subscription to the Herald.

David McNair and family were visiting in Coquille from their home near Myrtle Point last Wednesday.

Uncle Sammy Shuck and son John of Lee found time to do some shopping in town last week. Farm work is occupying their time.

Mrs. Mabel Bean, and Misses Sara Lee and Daisy Tension were up from Riverton last Tuesday and included a visit at the Herald office.

Port Orford Tribune: The long defunct Southwest Oregon Reporter, it is rumored, will be resurrected and edited by J. K. Mack, recently from San Francisco.

Mrs. Wm. Benham returned last week from a visit to her father, A. Martindale, at Camas Valley, who has been very sick for some few months, but better and improving now.

J. P. Goodman went down to Prosper last week and put up a chimney in Webb Fahy's new house. Loggie and Gibson built the house, and it is very neat in design and finish.

Capt. Butler moved out of the hotel building last Thursday, and for the present domiciles in the "Watkins" property in Watkins' addition to the city, now belonging to the Lyons' estate.

Miss Edyth Howell closed her school at Roy's last Wednesday owing to the prevalence of an epidemic fever in several families. She expects to resume in a fortnight and complete the term.

Our friend Wallace Hammock, of the Arago shingle mill, last week kindly remembered the editor with a bucket of strawberries. This is a revival of old-fashioned recognition from appreciative friends—almost a lost art now.

Mrs. Cotton came down from her home on the North Fork last Friday to do some shopping, and at some point on the road dropped her purse and its contents, several dollars. Of course the lady was much worried at her misfortune.

Elder and Mrs. Hollenbeck were in from Fairview last Wednesday. Road Supervisor Hudson got a word of commendation from them as to the improved condition of the road, especially at Bullock mountain, generally notorious for its bad condition. The supervisor has put about 42 days of good work in that locality, but the clayey and spouty soil, together with almost impenetrable shade, are hard to overcome. Why not try a portable sawmill?

We will advise you once more not to waste your money on sewing machines. The Grange, Farmers' Alliance and labor organizations have for years been telling you that you were paying three prices for machines, and now the Herald can supply you with one, extensively tested in this county and with a written guarantee for 10 years, for only $18.50, freight added—the equal, if not the superior, of machines yet being sold in this county for $65 and $70.

Oregonian: State Fish Commissioner Reed is up from Astoria, and will probably leave shortly for Grants Pass, to meet John [R. D.] Hume, the Gold Beach canneryman, when the two will take a trip up Rogue river in search of a good site for a salmon hatchery, which Mr. Hume proposes to equip and the state will run. About $600 has been collected by Mr. Hume as license from Rogue river fishermen, and this sum will be spent in the Rogue river hatchery, though not this year, as it is now too late. The new hatchery, Mr. Hume thinks, will be located some distance below the old one, on Rogue river.

Last Thursday our young friends, Albert and Sam Johnson, both reached home, the former during vacation of the state university at Eugene, and the other on business connected with his marble works firm at Portland and a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. C. Johnson. H. G. Wright, partner of Sam Johnson, came also. They have a large number of orders for monuments, slabs, etc., completed, and to be delivered and put up, and this is the occasion of their presence, while they will undoubtedly receive many other orders while at hand. The Herald welcomes these two promising youths of our city, and wishes them success in their undertakings.

Coos Bay News.

Tim Seeley put in a raft of logs lately at Klondike, which averaged 1520 feet to the log. Big timber.

Bill Webster, formerly of Marshfield, who was reported dead a short time ago, is said to be living with his parents at Globe, Arizona.

Capt. Harts will receive bids for the removal of a log raft cradle, opposite Porten. For particulars, address Capt. Harts, U. S. engineers office, Portland, Oregon.

A raft of logs from Geo. Pike's camp, at Sumner, passed up the bay yesterday morning for Dean & Co's mill, and a raft from King & Noble, for North Bend, passed down yesterday evening.

J. G. Daly, formerly in the hotel business at Gardiner, was in town last week, and later went to the Coquille. It is said that he is endeavoring to purchase Matt Nystrom's hotel at Myrtle Point.

Jas. Cowan has received a fine new "bull donkey" for his logging camp on North Coos river. The donkey, which is a powerful one, is intended for the main road, and the drum holds a mile of cable.

Major Brown learned the sad news yesterday, of the death of his nephew, Lyman Kelsay, which occurred at Manila on May 27th. Mr. Kelsay was a member of Co. D, 2d Oregon volunteers. He fought in all the battles that the regiment engaged in except one, and escaped unhurt, and was taken sick at Manila just as his regiment was about to sail for home.

A Law and Order Society was recently organized in Port Orford, the object being to enforce the laws. The organization is a worthy one, and should meet with favor throughout the county.

Hon. J. H. Upton's many friends will be pleased to learn that he is steadily gaining in strength, and was carried out of the house, from which place he had not moved for several months, last week, and sat near the door of his home and enjoyed the warm sunshine. Mr. Upton says he will soon be able to walk out and take exercise again, and it is the sincere wish of all that his hopes may be realized.

Report comes that southern Curry is cursed with a fire-bend and that attempts have been made to burn the residences of R. Scott, A. H. Crook and others. A friend writes us that some villainous person set fire to the Irma postoffice, occupied by A. Hardenbrook and family, on the night of June 14, at midnight. Mrs. Hardenbrook, her two small boys and a small son of Ben Gardner were alone in the house at the time, and the fire had quite a start before it was discovered, and it was only by the greatest effort that the house was saved. No cause is known why such a dastardly act should be attempted.

Judge Woodruff sends us the following account of the wreck of the little schooner Danalless, which occurred last Friday: "Chas. Strahan started from Rogue river yesterday morning, on schooner Danalless, with 40 barrels of salmon, bound for Port Orford, and when opposite Euchre creek the schooner sprang a leak and went to the bottom, stern first. Strahan lashed the two hatches together the best he could, a mile from shore, and after a hard struggle for life reached shore, but was unable to stand. He is all right this morning, and starts for the mouth of Rogue river, where he says another 40 barrels await him.

Rev. Swafford's "Home Advocate." The trusts place fictitious value—double the actual value—on their stock, and tax the people so as to make profits large enough to pay dividends on the whole. So we will have to pay just double price for everything. These "vested rights" are but "vested wrongs," sanctioned only by the devil and our laws. But the people will soon rise like cyclones against this legalized robbery.
