Mrs. M. L. Good and three children, after spending last fall and winter in California, in Glenn and Colusa counties, returned via this place to Bandon Wednesday of last week. She is quite satisfied with Coos county and climate, and the fresh green foliage of our fields and forests were a delight to her and revived her spirits greatly.

The Christian Endeavor, under the auspices of the ladies of the Presbyterian church gave a special program at the Christian church last Sunday evening, consisting of interesting recitations and musical numbers. The attendance was very good, and the service held afterwards by Rev. Eunis was augmented by Rev. M. Fitch, Methodist, holding no service. The church building was crowded.

Our baby has been continually troubled with colic and cholera infantum since his birth, and all that we could do for him did not seem to give more than temporary relief, until we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Since giving that remedy he has not been troubled. We want to give you this testimonial as an evidence of our gratitude, not that you need it to advertise your meritorious remedy.—G. M. Law, Kookuk, Iowa. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

Several families, who usually picnic on the 4th instead of going abroad to celebrate, took the usual social outing last 4th, and with one exception, when an accident intervened, enjoyed the day very much. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Perry and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sherwood and children, and Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Burns and children, went down the river a short distance in boats. Mr. Perry, ever ready to entertain, engaged in some fireworks display, and one of the large pieces, being slow about going off, exploded in his hand, breaking and burning the index finger, burning and bruising the thumb and second finger, of his right hand, and in its wildness cutting a gash on his neck and cheek—in all, some rather painful wounds, but, luckily, not serious.

Our gold-bug friends, W. Drane and George Stevenson, returned home Monday of last week from their trip to their mining claims on upper Coos creek. They were not absent long, but brought with them some drillings and pick-ups for assay, and will return about September to make further investigations.

The W. of W., Myrtle Camp, No. 197, of this place, held its semi-annual election of officers on Monday night, 3d inst., with the following result: George A. Robinson, consul commander; Peter Crow, adviser; Lieutenant; F. E. Schroeder, recorder; Jesse Simmons, manager; D. H. Johnson, watchman; L. P. Maury, sentinel; John G. Simmons, clerk, and R. S. Knowlton, banker, are hold-overs.

Justice of the Peace Cecil met with an accident on the 4th, which for his age was a severe test of his physical powers and a very close call to a serious injury or fatality. He was having, and on top of a load in the evening, the last one, when by a lurch of the wagon he was precipitated head first earthward, but his foot was caught and he was held suspended till matters were righted and he released from his precarious position. The result was a wrenched leg, from which he is fairly recovering.

Jack Wood, of the North Fork, was down at this place early last week, including the 4th, and as he neared the edge of town Thursday, on his return home, he became partially paralyzed and had to be taken care of. Peter Johnson and City Marshal Goodman were active in this latter Good Samaritanism. His daughter, Mrs. Frank Stillwell, and husband, living below town, were notified, and these came up Friday and on Saturday, as he had materially recovered, took him home and attended him. The paralysis was only light.

Prof. Van Scoy, principal of the State Normal School at Ashland, made his first visit to Coos county last week, reaching this place Thursday and continuing on to Bandon the same day. Friday he returned to Coquille City and made trips to various points in the brief time he had to make our acquaintance, but he was much pleased with his trip and expects to do better at another time. The Chataqua at Ashland opens today and he was obliged to be present, hence his short visit. The Herald was honored with a call, and regrets so much that we have no organized effort here to welcome and entertain visitors of such standing and utilize their presence to improve the educational and moral interests of our section by public lectures and words of wisdom.

First Honors in Scholarship at Corvallis. The Oregonian of last Saturday, besides giving a fairly good likeness of our young friend, Woodson L. Patterson, makes this special honorable mention of one of Coos county's best and brightest boys: Corvallis, July 7.—W. L. Patterson, son of Joel Patterson, Douglas county pioneer of 1848, was born in Tillamook county, Oregon, June 2, 1877, and has resided in Oregon almost continuously since that time. His home at present is at Empire City, Coos county, where he has lived during the past 11 years. He received his early education in the public school of the country districts and at Empire City. Mr. Patterson graduates from the agricultural college with the highest honors of the class of 34 members. He is one of a number of young men who have worked out their entire college course and graduated with honors. Mr. Patterson will probably complete his education in the east.

Prof. F. C. Kinnicut, of River-ton, was on our streets lately.

"Fatty" Leach is painting his house handsomely during the lull at the mill.

The red-coat Irishman, of the Mail notes only one "looper" from Coquille among our many citizens who attended at their celebration on the 4th, as his name looms up so and alone in the Mail recognizable as if that herd and his own set.

A rumor reached this place last Thursday that Roll Anderson, while working in Wheeler's camp below town, was badly crushed by logs rolling over him, but it turned out that while he was hurt, it was not near so serious as at first reported.

The Coquille creamery had payday on the 1st inst. for its month of May product, about 21,000 pounds of butter, and giving 16 1/2 cents per pound for butterfat. The payroll was nearly $3000. The increase of milk and product is very marked and gratifying to the management and patrons, and the creamery will meet every expectation as to quantity and quality of the product.

Government Lasp Stars Edwards and Fuller came down from Portland last Friday and inspected the new river steamer, Bismarck and Rets, and the Antelope. The Beta is Capt. McCloskey's new boat and takes the place of the Myrl in the upper river. She is a vast improvement in style and finish over the Myrl, and affords comfortable and neat cabin quarters. She is a faster boat, also, and of lighter draft than the Myrl, with screw propeller. The Bismarck is a large boat of 20 inches draft, and is booked for the entire run between Bandon and Myrtle Point, round trip each day. McAdams & Moore, both rustling, clever citizens, are the proprietors. Alva Lee and Gurley Boak are respectively captain and engineer, experienced and reliable, and will manage the craft.

ORIGON COAL & NAVIGATION CO. By SOUTHERN OREGON CO. AGENTS.

Death of Mrs. Spurgeon.

After a protracted and at times painful sickness, last Saturday our friend and towns-woman, Mrs. E. S. Spurgeon, yielded the battle of life.

Mrs. Clarissa Spurgeon, whose maiden name was Lammy, was born in Hocking county, Ohio, January 29, 1828. She moved to Grant county, Indiana, with her parents when quite young. Was married to E. S. Spurgeon, who survives her, in 1853. Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon then moved to Louisa county, Iowa, the same year, to Washington county in 1872, since which time these respected and worthy people have been residents here.

Mother Spurgeon was a motherly and charitable person, loved by all who knew her, and her taking off has grieved many. The burial took place Sunday afternoon at Masonic cemetery and was largely attended.
