AMERICA'S DISGRACE.

Mohammedanism, Polygamy and Slavery Protected.

Shall we abandon American civilization and protect the most barbaric minion of the unspeakable Turk? Americans and Christians everywhere will blush when they read the following dispatch from Manila:

Gen. John C. Bates, who went as special commissioner to conciliate the sultan of Sulu five weeks ago, has returned and reports complete success of his mission. Money and concession of details have brought about the recognition of American sovereignty in the southern islands, while the war still continues in the island of Luzon.

An agreement has been signed with the sultan and a number of his chiefs whereby American sovereignty over the Moros tribesmen is fully recognized. The conditions are as follows:

No persecution on account of religion.

The United States to occupy and control such parts of the archipelago as public interest demands.

Any person may purchase land with the sultan's consent.

Introduction of firearms prohibited.

Piracy shall be suppressed with the sultan's assistance.

American courts to have jurisdiction, except in cases between natives, the sultan to deliver up criminals.

United States to protect the Moros against foreign impositions.

Sultan's subsidy, formerly paid by Spain, to be continued by the United States.

General Bates took $10,000 when he went to see the sultan, and doubtless used the money with pacifying results. The United States, in agreeing to continue the Spanish subsidy, must annually pay to the sultan $2400, to the heir of the sultanate $700, to each member of the sultan's council of three $600, making a total annual payment of $4900.

In return for this the United States gains peaceable sovereignty over the numerous islands of the Sulu archipelago, lying to the south of the Philippines, and the large island of Mindanao, which is a part of the Philippine group, and tributary to the sultan.

This country now acquires its first Mohammedan subjects, for, rather queerly, the Moros, as the natives are called, are faithful followers of the prophet, having been converted by the sword of an Arab conqueror two hundred years ago.

Before Admiral Dewey smashed the Spanish power in the far east the sultan acknowledged the same kind of half sovereignty to Spain that he now gives to this country. The old agreement with Spain seems to have been reaffirmed, with the simple change of name of countries. No mention is made by General Bates of taxation, which is a sore point with the Moros. For the past twenty years they have not paid a cent of tribute to Spain. The last Spaniard who tried to collect taxes had his head split open.

The Moros are the fiercest and bravest of all the races in or near the Philippines. Their skill in the use of their curved knives, or barongs, is marvellous. They have defeated the Spaniards time and again with knives against guns. They are born warriors and have the Indian disdain for work. Wives and slaves provide the necessaries of life.

Absolute indifference to bloodshed is another characteristic. In many islands head hunting is almost a sport, and a game basket is carried, in which to drop the human heads that fall beneath the hunter's barong.

Running amuck is more frequent in the Sulu archipelago than in almost any other Malay country. There, however, it always takes on the cloak of religious devotion. The fanatical Mora believes that he who takes the life of a Christian is sure of heaven. When a fanatic wishes to take the shortest road to glory he bathes in a sacred spring, shaves off his eyebrows, dresses in white, and takes a solemn oath to die killing Christians. He is then called a juramentado. The amount of execution these fanatics can accomplish with the sword before being killed is extraordinary. Sometimes one man may kill or wound scores of people before falling.

Mahmoud, the sultan, is a shrewd young man, who maintains a large harem, and is learning some European customs. He is far from being an absolute ruler, as many of the tribal chiefs maintain almost independent sovereignty, merely paying him formal homage. The allegiance of these chiefs, which General Bates reports securing, is almost as necessary as the consent of the sultan to American control. The chiefs have been unusually friendly recently to Americans whom they regard as deliverers from the oppressions of the Spaniards and their own sultan.

The agreement with the sultan of Sulu is of the same type as that successfully used by Great Britain in dealing with the rajahs of India. It is cheaper than war. The Spaniards occupied but a few towns, where there are harbors or trading centers in the archipelago, and these will doubtless be the ones claimed by the Americans under the new treaty. The interior regions, especially in the large island of Mindanao, have been left entirely under native rule. But the treaty assures safety of life and property everywhere. Jolo, or Sulu, on the island of the same name, is the chief town of the archipelago. The natives number about 220,000.

REPUBLICANS MUST CALL A HALT.

The Party's Very Existence Endangered by the Trusts.

New York, September 10.—The "Tribune" will publish tomorrow an interview with former United States Senator William D. Washburn, head of an extensive flouring milling interest in Minneapolis, in which he says:

"The present situation to the citizen, the good Republican and the man who loves his country is really alarming, and it is more largely owing to the rapid formation of what is called the trust than to any other agency. "First, this trust craze has changed the whole matter of doing things. When I was a young man—I am now 68—I had the world before me and there was absolutely a fair field for me. Take all of our most successful business men of today and their experiences were like mine. They entered the race without a handicap, and their grit and capacity won. Now this building up of trusts puts a stop to fair and equal opportunities for the young men today. The young man just out of college has no opening. As a rule he cannot begin business on his own account against organized capital. He must join the procession. He must content himself with being a mere clerk, and the chances are he will never get any further, because there are so many in his class. This makes the situation a serious one, and I am sorry for the young man of today. I've studied the situation and I am sure of what I am saying."

Mr. Washburn declared that the almost universal over-capitalization of trusts and the manipulation of prices to produce exorbitant profits must eventually result in a general collapse. He added:

"There is one thing that greatly disturbs me. The Republican party, whether justly or unjustly, is associated with trusts in the minds of the masses. As a party we have reached a crisis where we have got to call a halt. The Republican party has got to disconnect itself from trusts. It has got to do something more than adopt platform planks against trusts. It has got to put forth its full strength and legislate against them. The feeling against the trust idea is intense in the west. It is so intense in the Republican party that the party will break ranks unless something is done. The undertow of sentiment in the western Republican states against trusts is not understood in the east. The revolt may strike us as early as next year."

Senator Washburn suggested the removal of protective duties where such duties are of advantage to trusts.

The horse and buggy of Superintendent Bickets, of the reform school, was stolen from in front of the courthouse at Salem, on Saturday of last week, but was recovered Monday in Oregon City. Daniel Collins, an aged hobo, who did the stealing, was arrested there and brought back to Salem. He is in jail in default of $500 bonds.

An exchange says: There is no use walking the floor with a felon, says a gentleman who has had some experience in that direction. Wrap a cloth loosely around the felon, leaving the end open. Pour gunpowder in the end and shake it down until the felon is covered, then keep it wet with camphor. In two hours the pain will be relieved and a perfect cure will surely follow.

Capital Journal: Mrs. F. P. Norton, of Marshfield, arrived this afternoon to join her husband who came several days ago with a young trotter which he has entered in the fair races. Mr. Norton is one of Marshfield's successful business men, and he monkeys with fast horses for health and recreation.

"Sawdust" from Morgan's Buzz-Saw.

Prejudice lives in the dark.

In the game of love the dice is almost always loaded.

Empty heads usually give forth the loudest sounds.

Too much straight whisky will make a man walk crooked.

Marriage without love is like eating potatoes without salt.

Little voices would not be so bad if they did not grow so big.

The fool sayeth in his heart, "I will see what the 'boss' says."

A gossip is a person whom the devil has taken the bridle off of.

Some people's religion is so thin that it needs veneering every Sunday.

War is a sport which those who thirst for glory will be slow to give up.

An eloquent listener is a better companion than an egotistical talker.

The worst gossips in the world are the women who won't have babies.

If the church wants to prosper it must let go of the skirts of aristocracy.

The tongue of the gossip is a thousand times worse than that of the viper.

The spur of the moment is perhaps responsible for time passing so rapidly.

Civilization means to make things seem different from what they really are.

The man who keeps his temper will never be bothered with that of other people.

When a woman marries a selfish man she has a cinch on a whole lot of trouble.

Some people seem to think that all God has to do is to wait upon those who pray.

If you can't say something good of your neighbor it is best to keep your mouth shut.

Marriage is intended to make one of two, but it sometimes turns out a half a dozen or more.

Trouble, with some people, is like money; they have it to lend, yet are looking for more.

The manner in which a woman makes a man propose has not been improved on in 6000 years.

A Tramp's Eloquent Logic.

A tramp asked for a free drink in a saloon and the request was granted, and when in the act of drinking the proffered beverage one of the young men exclaimed: "Stop; make us a speech. It is poor liquor that doesn't unloosen a man's tongue."

The tramp hastily swallowed the drink and as the rich liquor coursed through his blood, he straightened himself and stood before them with a grace and dignity that all his rags and dirt could not obscure.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I look tonight at you and myself, and it seems to me I look upon the picture of my lost manhood. This bloated face was once as handsome as yours. This shambling figure once walked as proudly as yours, a man in the world of men. I, too, once had a home and friends and position. I had a wife as beautiful as an artist's dream, and I dropped the priceless pearl of her honor and respect in the wine cup and, Cleopatra-like, saw it dissolve and quaffed it down in the brimming draught. I had children as sweet and lovely as the flowers of spring and saw them fade and die under the blighting curse of a drunken father. I had a home where love lit the flames upon the altar and ministered before it and I put out the holy fire, and darkness and desolation reigned instead. I had ambitions and aspirations that soared as high as the morning star, and I broke and bruised their beautiful wings, and at last strangled them that I might be tortured with their cries no more. Today I am a husband without a wife, a father without a child a tramp with no home to call his own, a man in whom every good impulse is dead. And all swallowed up in the maelstrom of drink."

The tramp ceased speaking. The glass fell from his nerveless fingers shivered into a thousand fragments on the floor. The swinging door pushed open and shut again and when the little group about the bar looked up the tramp was gone. —New Orleans Picayune.

Not the Wisest Way.

It is not always best to wait until it is needed before buying a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Quite frequently the remedy is required in the very busiest season or in the night and much inconvenience and suffering must be borne before it can be obtained. It costs but a trifle as compared with its real worth and every family can well afford to keep it in their home. It is everywhere acknowledged to be the most successful medicine in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

The Man Who Lost Hope

Mr. H. N. Warner, of Minden, Neb., said:

"In 1894 I was attacked with paralysis in my left side. You might stick a pin to the head into my left hip and I would not feel it. I was unable to do any kind of work and had to be turned in bed. I made up my mind that I could not be cured as I had used all kinds of medicine and had tried many doctors. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and commenced their use last September. Before I had finished my first box I felt better, and by the time I had used six boxes the disease had entirely disappeared, and I have not been so free from pain since I was a boy. The paralysis also disappeared, and although two months have passed since I finished my last box, there has been no recurrence of the disease."—From the Gazette, Minden, Neb.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, and all forms of weakness either in male or female.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are never sold by the dozen or hundred, but always in packages. At all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., 50 cents per box, 6 boxes $2.50.

The Improved New High-Arm Self-Threading "Arlington" Sewing Machine

NEW HOME STYLE — LATEST BEST CHEAPEST

STYLE No. 55. "ARLINGTON."

Shipped to anyone, anywhere, on 10 days' free trial, in your own home, without asking one cent in advance.

10 years' written warranty with each machine.

A strictly high-arm Sewing Machine, finished throughout in the best possible manner. It possesses all modern improvements, and its mechanical construction is such that it is guaranteed simple, easy to work, light running, free from liability to get out of order, durability, and making it impossible for the machine to be put out of order. Sews fast and makes a perfect stitch with all kinds of thread and all classes of material. Always ready for use and unrivalled for speed, durability and quality of work. Notice the following points of superiority:

The Head of the "Arlington" swings on patent pocket hinges, firmly held down by a thumb screw. Strong, substantial, neat and handsome in design, and beautifully ornamented in gold. Bed plate has rounded corners and is inlaid or countersunk, making it flush with top of table. Highest Arm—Space under the arm is 6½ inches high and 9 inches long. This will admit the largest skirts, and even quilts. It is Self-Threading—Absolutely no holes to put thread through except eye of needle. Shuttle is cylinder, open on end, entirely self-threading, easy to put in or take out; bobbin holds a large amount of thread. Stitch Regulator is on the end of the machine, beneath the bobbin winder, and has a scale showing the number of stitches to the inch, and can be changed from 5 to 22 stitches to the inch. Feed is double and extends on both sides of needle; never fails to take goods through; never stops at seams; movement is positive; no springs to break and get out of order; can be raised and lowered at will. Automatic Bobbin Winder—Positive, filling the bobbin automatically and perfectly smooth without holding the thread. Machine does not run while winding bobbin. Light Running—Machine is easy to run, does not fatigue the operator, makes little noise and sews rapidly. Stitch is a double lock stitch, the same on both sides, will not ravel, and can be changed without stopping the machine. Tension is a flat spring tension, and will admit thread from 8 to 120 spool cotton without clogging. Never gets out of order. The Needle is a straight, self-setting needle, flat on one side, and cannot be put in wrong. Needle Bar is round, made of case-hardened steel, with oil cup at the bottom to prevent oil from getting on the goods. Adjustable Bearings—All bearings are case-hardened steel and easily adjusted with a screw driver. All lost motion can be taken up, and the machine will last a lifetime. Attachments—Each machine is furnished with necessary tools and accessories, and in addition we furnish an extra set of attachments in a velvet lined metal box, free of charge, as follows: One ruffler and gatherer, one binder, one shirring plate, one set of four hemmers, different widths up to ⅜ of an inch, one tucker, one under braider, one short or attachment foot, and one tinseled cutter. Woodwork of finest quality oak or walnut, gothic cover and drawers, nickel-plated rings to drawers, dress guards to wheel, and device for replacing belt.

DON'T PAY HIGH PRICES FOR SEWING MACHINES. BUY DIRECTLY OF MANUFACTURERS AND SAVE AGENT'S AND DEALER'S PROFITS

OUR GREAT OFFER. $23.50 is our Special Wholesale Price, but in order to introduce this high-grade sewing machine, we make a special coupon offer, giving every reader of this paper a chance to get a first-class machine at the lowest price ever offered. On receipt of $18.50 cash and coupon, we will ship the above-described machine anywhere securely packed and crated, and guarantee safe delivery. A ten years' written warranty goes with each machine. Money refunded if not as represented after thirty days' test trial. We will ship C. O. D. for $19.00 with privilege of twenty days' trial on receipt of $1.00 as a guarantee of good faith and charges. If you prefer thirty days' trial before paying, send for our large illustrated catalogue with testimonials, explaining fully how we ship sewing machines anywhere to anyone at the lowest wholesale price without asking one cent in advance. The best plan is to send all cash with order, as you then save the $1.00 discount. Remember the coupon must be sent with order.
