Jack Fox left for Grants Pass a few days since, and now writes for his brother-in-law, W. T. Lewis, to join him with his family at the "Pass and make their trip to Santa Fe, New Mexico, where they expect to go and engage in mining. The company wants to increase its force, and Mr. Lewis has several parties who have consented to go, among whom we name Ben Holmbeck, Jake Hayes and Charley Fox, and possibly two or three others. We shall regret to lose these clever people, but good situations are said to await them.

The Model Steam Bakery, of Marshfield, has opened a branch here in Coquille City under the supervision of Mrs. Rose, where fine bakery goods can be had at all times. Mr. Canning, who is the proprietor of the bakery, is an old, experienced baker, and during his recent visit east has thoroughly posted himself to the latest up-to-date bread and all kinds of cakes. He uses malt extract, which is recommended by all physicians of the country, and has the only brick oven in this county. In just one month's time he has established a business of over one barrel of flour per day. Call on Mrs. Rose, and try some of the bread and you will be delighted with it.

The little steamer Ralph, taken from this river some months ago to run on the Umpqua, went ashore near the mouth of that river a few days ago, and all efforts to get her into the river again failed. The machinery will be removed and saved, but the hull is a wreck. The Ralph was built at Myrtle Point by the late Capt. Clark Bullard, in 1897.

Marshfield Sun: J. H. Giles and Wm. Page, Myrtle Pointers who went to Alaska with the party on the schooner Mizpah, returned today on the Arcata. They left the Cape Nome mining district on the 23d ult., where they have located several claims, which they will return to in the spring and develop. Together they brought back $2000 in gold dust.

Mrs. Sophia E. King, state organizer of the Women of Woodcraft, lectured to a good audience at Masonic hall last Saturday night, in the interest of that order and with a view to organizing a circle at this place. Mrs. King is an intelligent and pleasant speaker, and secured enough names to encourage her in the hope of instituting a circle here. By invitation she visited the order at Marshfield Monday and Tuesday, and will return to this place tomorrow and complete her work.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Martin, our general merchandise dealers, were greeted by the arrival of Mr. San Jose's brother, George, just arrived from the Philippines, on last Friday morning's train from the bay. The young man is hale and hearty, and though exposed to climatic diseases and participating in several battles, he has escaped wounds and sickness throughout. George F. J. Martin enlisted at Galena, Ill., in the 3d U. S. artillery, Co. G, in May, 1898, and was honorably discharged at Manila a few weeks ago, reaching San Francisco among the recent arrivals. He was stationed last at Ballowag, Luzon Island. He participated in the capture of Manila, and was in the battles and skirmishes of the 1st Calocoon, 2d Calocoon, Polo, Marlas, capture of Marlas, and at Pambong. The discharge pronounces his service "honest and faithful." He is 23 years old, past, and will doubtless visit over the holidays, and may continue with us if he strikes employment to suit him. Mr. and Mrs. Martin gave him earnest greetings, and the HERALD extends a welcome.

Coos County Apples and the Present and Prospective Markets.

BANDON, Oct. 21, 1899. EDITOR COQUILLE HERALD: Kindly permit me to offer a few suggestions on the apple question. Is it advisable for the farmer to sell here at 25, 35 or 40 cents per box, or is it best to ship to a market where such fruit is bringing from $1 to $1.25 per box, with every indication of an advance? Those men who have made the fruit question a special study, and who are familiar with the stock of apples throughout the United States, predict an advance in the price. H. B. Miller, ex-president of the Oregon Agricultural College, thinks they may go to at least $2.50 to $3 per box. The price in Portland now, according to the Oregonian of the 19th inst., were $1 to $1.25, while in San Francisco choice were the same, while the cheaper, worms and all, were as low as 30 cents.

Now, every one who is at all posted, knows that Coos county apples are free from those pests and are the equal to any that enter either of those markets. It will cost 10 cents for the box, and not to exceed 18 cents freight from any railroad depot to San Francisco or Portland. Now, suppose the farmer ships his apples and receives the lowest price for choice, i. e. $1, he will then receive much more net than here and then he has ten chances to one to get from 50 cents to $1 per box more, without any additional expense on boxes and freight.

It seems to me that the farmer can afford to take all such risks when they are only taking chances on getting from 50 per cent to 400 per cent more than he is offered here. It has been many years since apples were so high in Portland at this time of year, and the bulk of California apples are on the market in San Francisco and will soon be played out, and then a material advance is inevitable. FAIR PLAY.

P. S.—Best spuds are from 90 to $1.15 in San Francisco. F. P. [Roseburg Review.]

Thomas Blaine, of Coos county, is here on route home from a visit back in Missouri.

Ed Sherwood, W. H. Matheny and Frank Walker, Coquille stockmen, are in the city.

Jerry Thornton and family passed through town today en route to Coos county to reside.

That was a worthy compliment paid the memory of Mrs. Julia Abraham, by the Native Daughters of this city, in naming their newly instituted cabin for her. It is gratifying that the younger generation who grew up around her should thus make public recognition of the worth of one who was the author of innumerable kindly and noble deeds while among us.

Through R. D. Sanford the Herald Land and Loan Co. this week sold the George F. Long property in the Spurgeon addition to Mr. A. J. Wilson.

WANTED—A lady, not over middle age, good cook and housekeeper without children, to cook and keep house. $12 per month. Apply at this office.

Lester Smith, the livery man, has moved into the property occupied by Little's as a boarding house for two or three years back, and just vacated. It brings him close to his business.

A very large quantity of cannery material arrived at this place from the city on yesterday morning's train, and was here transferred to the river steamer and sent below to the cannery.

G. W. Canning, the steam bakery man of Marshfield, visited this place, returning home yesterday. Mr. C. is expanding his business in this valley at a lively rate, having an agency here, and will be represented also at Bandon and Myrtle Point.

The HERALD has an interesting letter from California from a late Coquiller, who gives us some items a-wheel from San Francisco to Santa Rosa and intervening points, across to Napa county, thence to Vallejo, Mare Island, down to San Jose, Morgan Hill, thence to Palo Alto and return. He met several familiar faces of former Coquillers.

CONSTIPATION

"I have gone 14 days at a time without a movement of the bowels, not being able to move them except by using hot water injections. Chronic constipation for seven years, placed me in this terrible condition; during that time I did everything I could to induce a movement, but was my case until I began using CASCARETS. I now have from one to three passages a day, and if I was rich I would give $2000 for such a movement. It is such a relief." ATLYNER L. HUNT, 202 Russell St., Detroit, Mich.

Letters from the Jail's Cells. We have received the following statements through the postoffice, which we give for what they are worth. One is from S. C. Gillespie, occupying a cell in our county jail under charge of the murder of old Mrs. Edson, in Curry county, recently; and the other is signed by Percy Allen, also occupying a cell held on a charge of rape:

COQUILLE CITY, Oct. 21, 1899. EDITOR OF THE HERALD: I wish to say that some of the items in the paper about Coalman Gillespie are true, while others are false. Items taken from the Tribune say I made a confession before Sheriff Turner. That is a lie. And the Tribune states Deputy Sheriff Miller heard it, too. Turner was in the jail at Roseburg once while I was in there, and Miller was not in there at all, and I made no confession outside of what I said there.

The Tribune says I plead guilty at Justice Anderson's court. That is not so. I wish my examination, so that is how I plead guilty. People must remember that the editor of the Tribune is Sheriff Turner's father-in-law; that is why he makes so many mistakes.

The HERALD speaks of *D. C. Gillespie. I have no relative by that name. Yours, respectfully, S. C. GILLESPIE.

*[It was a typographical error made us say "D. C.", instead of S. C. Gillespie.—ED. HERALD.]

PERCEY ALLEN SPEAKS. COQUILLE CITY, Oct. 21, 1899. MR. EDITOR: I wish to say to the people of Coos county I understand from the paper that all who had conversed with me said they thought that I was a high-toned tramp, but I think they are a little off in their base. There is not a house in Coos county that I ever stayed at over night but what I always offered to pay them before I left. As far as my character is concerned I do not think they can find anything wrong with it, any place else but here. As far as references are concerned, I can give just as good ones as anybody would need to ask for. It's hard for a man to be put in prison for nothing. Yours, truly, PERCEY ALLEN.

Miss Eunice Dement closed a term of school in the Beaver slough district last Friday. A pleasant and profitable term is reported.

D. McNair and wife, of the South Fork, departed by Wednesday's train for California and will spend a part of the winter in that state.

Ed Weekly and Lou Ross drove 70 head of fine beef cattle to Roseburg from this county last week.

R. J. Garrett, of Humboldt county, California, has purchased the large dairy farm of Joe Ferry two miles south of town. The place consists of over 200 acres and the price paid was $5500. The sale was made through the real estate agency of J. L. Lewellen.

[Marshfield Sun.] August Eickworth arrived home today on the Arcata on his return from the Philippines. August is in the best of health and war life was more than agreeable to him.

T. C. Reed, state fish commissioner, was in this vicinity Monday and examined both North and South Coos rivers with a view to ascertaining the most suitable location for a salmon hatchery.

J. D. Garfield, who has been in Alaska since the first gold excitement was on, returned to his home in California about a month since. Parties who met him when he was coming out say he is considerably broken down in health. Mr. G. was one of the most industrious individuals that went into the Yukon, but fortune did not favor his energies.

The schooner Mayflower, which left this place for the city with a load of lumber about the 3d inst., was caught in a gale north of the Farallones on the 13th, the worst in the experience of that vessel and of Captain Olsen. After beating the storm and waves two or three days and nights, and the captain being knocked overboard and nearly losing his life, the storm abated and the ship reached port with cargo and crew all safe.

'It Hangs On

If it was only health, we might let it cling. But it is a cough. One cold no sooner passes off before another comes. But it's the same old cough all the time. And it's the same old story, too. There is first the cold, then the cough, then pneumonia or consumption with the lung sickness, and life trembling in the balance.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

loosens the grasp of your cough. The congestion of the throat and lungs is removed; all inflammation is subdued; the parts are put perfectly at rest and the cough drops away. It has no diseased tissues on which to hang.

Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plaster draws out inflammation of the lungs.
