When the mail driver was approaching Myrtle Point last Saturday morning down the mountain side, we learn that three horses, packing the newspaper mail, fell over the grade. The letter mail escaped accident and came through, while parties recovered part of the other and brought it in. We did not learn if the horses were killed, or any of the mail permanently lost.

Mamie Rebekah Lodge, No. 20, I. O. O. F., last Wednesday evening installed the following new officers for the ensuing term, Mrs. Judith Collier, deputy president, officiating: Mrs. Clara Landreth, N. We learn that milk freight to the creamery from the lower river will be much reduced the coming season; 6 cents per 100 will be charged for milk and 15 cents for cream.

WANTED—SEVERAL BRIGHT AND Honest persons to represent us as Managers in this and close by counties. Salary $900 a year and expenses. Straight, bona-fide, no more, no less salary. Position permanent. Our references, any bank in any town. It is mainly office work conducted at home. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. THE DOMINION COMPANY, Dept. 3, Chicago.

People say R. D. Sanford is a good talker and charms buyers is why he makes so many sales. The facts are, he charms by selling what you like, and his prices do the talking; and don't forget it when you are in quest of property. *

Rev. E. L. Fitch has been assisted in the conduct of his protracted meeting the past week, in the Southern Methodist church, by Rev. Mr. Hansen, of Myrtle Point. The interest is growing, and the attendance at both day and night services are good.

Prof. M. O. Hawkins spent last Saturday in Coquille, having taken that day's vacation of his school to attend to some business matters here. Prof. H. tells us his school now has an enrollment of 135 scholars; two-thirds of these are grown and includes a class of from 15 to 20 who hold teachers' certificates. He has three assistants.

We received no Bandon Recorder this week, hence know not what discussion of the question of the proposed ocean steamer received on the lower river. The Myrtle Point Enterprise made no allusion to it, we believe. But it is a matter of vital interest to our people and this valley, before we lose our grip on independent shipping facilities.

I want to let the people who suffer from rheumatism and sciatica know that Chamberlain's Pain Balm relieved me after a number of other medicines and a doctor had failed. It is the best liniment I have ever known of.—J. A. DODGEN, Alpharetta, Ga. Thousands have been cured of rheumatism by this remedy. One application relieves the pain. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

The news reaches us that the marriage of Miss Fannie Norton, formerly one of our charming young misses, and a Mr. Clyde Witter, was to take place at the home of the bride at Auburn, Cal., on the 6th inst. Our informant also spoke so highly of the young man as a splendid young gentleman, a good mechanic, enterprising, popular and strictly temperate. Miss Fannie's many young friends here, schoolmates and associates of several years, will be glad to hear of her merited good fortune and will join the HERALD in hearty greetings.

We understand the county authorities will establish a temporary ferry on the site of the late fallen bridge at Myrtle Point. A scow was to have been placed there last Saturday for the present use. The bridge was constructed, we learn, about 11 years ago, was 170-foot span combination truss, and cost about $6500. The cause of the collapse, too, was undoubtedly from the rotting of the cambre cord. The ruin was promptly viewed by County Commissioners Weekly and McIntosh, and provision made for the temporary ferry and action for reconstruction.

A choice stock of Ladies' Shoes, latest styles, at Hawkins'. *

Large stock of celebrated A. L. Bryan Shoes just received at Hawkins'. *

Grandma Schweers returned last Friday from her extended eastern trip.

Rev. W. Horsfall conducted services at St. James Episcopal church last Sunday, morning and night. The attendance at both services was good.

Rev. R. Ennis, Presbyterian, came up from Bandon last Friday to fill his appointment at this place Sunday, but only preached at the morning service, owing to an attack of la grippe.

Dr. E. E. Whittaker has taken Dr. Carter's dental practice at this place. The doctor comes well recommended, having had nine years' experience, and is a graduate, having spent three years in a dental college. *

Think fast on that new ocean steamer proposition. We have no later word from Capt. Barleson, but expect him on tomorrow's train in this valley to exhibit plans and specifications and to canvass the matter with our people personally.

See the new ad of the Fair Store, The HERALD is glad to mention the specially large trade received during the holiday season by its advertisers, and takes pleasure in recommending them to the public as working in the general interest and not selfishly.

Rev. Dr. Ford, presiding elder, is announced to be at Myrtle Point next Friday evening, Saturday and Sunday, during the quarterly meeting exercises at that place. He will be in Bandon tomorrow and Thursday on the same mission to the church there.

The grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shields, who died at the home of the grandparents on the west side of town last Thursday, died of meningitis. This is the first case of this disease in this neighborhood since our residence here, nine years, and calls forth the best efforts of all to resist its approach.

As required by a law passed by the legislature of 1899, the road districts of the county have been changed to conform to the election precincts. All roads in each precinct constitute a district and there is one supervisor in each precinct. At the June election, and thereafter the road supervisor will be elected as a precinct officer.

Attorney J. S. Coke, jr., who was in town from the bay side last Friday, informs us that his brothers, James and Hugh, now residents at Honolulu, are well and doing well. Hugh holds the position of bookkeeper for a large firm there, and James is practicing his profession of the law. Both are known to many of our citizens here, and were studious, aspiring young men.

"A young man came into our store yesterday suffering from a severe attack of cramp colic," writes B. F. Hess, miller and general merchant, Dickey's Mountain, Pa. "He had tried various home remedies without relief. As I had used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I gave him a dose and it soon brought him out alright. I never saw a fellow so rejoiced." Sold by R. Kowlton.

The establishment of a hospital at this place, by a reputable and experienced physician and surgeon is a move in the right direction, and places Coquille City to the front with other communities in the line of providing a convenient, central and reliable dispensary and sanatorium for at least ordinary cases for medical or surgical treatment. Dr. Moore, of the Pharmacy, has fitted up nice rooms, and will supply qualified nurses for cases placed in his care. See card, on first page, and consult or address him for rates and information.

Last New Year's eve, at Eugene, Or., our Judge J. H. Nosler took to himself a bride, a widow lady, a Mrs. Henrietta Sovereign, of that city. The lady is highly spoken of, and after awhile may be looked for to become a resident of our city. We understand the judge contemplates building a residence in the spring, on his place in the north part of town. The news was slow reaching us, but nearly everything for the press is censored now; still we rounded up this social event and give it to the many friends of the groom in this section. We congratulate, also, sincerely.

Ernest Stauff, our Arago scenic photographer, has returned from the bay where he has been engaged for some time in taking views, several of which will compare in style and beauty with those taken anywhere. He has one particularly unique one, a very handsome view of Reed's ship-yard and the large steamer Santa Ana on the stocks, nearing completion, with unusual surrounding effects. The calmness of the water and point of focus make the water line exactly in the center of the view, and the reflection is so perfect that it looks the same right-side up or reversed.

RAILROAD MEN PAID.

The railroad boys now have money to burn and were never before so "flush" with coin of the realm. Last evening W. S. Chandler, according to his promise, paid off all labor claims against the road up to the time he took charge for the Spreckels Co. Reports were rife that the appointment of a receiver would complicate matters in the payment of claims, but this did not "cut any ice" in the matter whatever. The payment aggregated many thousand dollars.

Biggle Poultry Book is the most comprehensive and helpful poultry book ever gotten out. In addition to the vast amount of valuable information covered in its seventeen chapters, there are sixteen beautiful colored plates, showing, true to color and shape, twenty-three varieties of poultry. Chickens, ducks, turkeys and geese are all shown in their proper plumage, and with comb, beak and shanks as true to nature as it is possible to produce. Also, forty-two handsome engravings in half-tone and sixty-one other helpful illustrations of houses, nests, drinking vessels, etc. The price is 50 cents, free by mail; address the publisher, Wilmer Atkinson Co., Philadelphia.

Among the salaried officers recognized by the American military governor of the Sulu islands in keeping up the royal court of the sultan of Sulu it may somewhat astonish Americans to encounter the duly recorded title of Raja Mura, keeper of the royal harem, who is to receive from Uncle Sam's representative a stipend of $40 per month for looking after his master's many wives.

Not a Calamity Howl. But the Same Kind Just the Same.

ED. HERALD: In the Oregonian of January 5th they speak of Carnegie's great wealth, and in concluding the article they make this statement: "Yet Carnegie, who has devoured and continues to devour the labors of tens of thousands, poses as a philanthropist and attempts to support the claim by giving away to libraries part of the enormous sums he has succeeded in extortidg from others; while at the same time he exploits himself in the magazines as a great champion and defender of democracy. There is no tyrany on earth equal to that of the man who makes profits amounting to $40,000,000 a year."

Well, now, that's just what I say; and it seems to me that I have been hearing the long-haired, wooly-eyed Populists talk about that way for a long time. They're stealing our thunder; but we'll not get mad about it. Let them bay; they're on the right track, running in the right direction, and its been so long since we first run over those tracks they will not notice that we've been there ahead of them. We'll keep still and let them bark along as far as they will, as they will turn tail very soon anyway. There is nothing surer than that all this tyranny they speak of has grown up under the fostering care of the Republican party; and it is another thing very sure that there will be no legislation by the Republican party that will hamper these great trusts in continuing to work out their designs. So long as representative legislation and party fealty are cherished by the people, just that long will the trusts continue to flourish. Legislation enacted by representative bodies will always have to be interpreted by the courts, and that interpretation is too easily influenced by the will of the trust managers to be of any permanent value to anybody but the trusts. What the people want more than anything else is, first, to have confidence in their own ability to know what they want; and, second, the means to make their own wants available to themselves through the Initiative and Referendum mode of making laws; and, lastly, they want no court to finish the matter up by telling the people what it is they think they want, as their opinion of what the people might want and the actual wishes of the people would be liable to be wide apart. For every person who owns a million dollars worth of property there must of necessity be a thousand persons in destitution to balance the equation, and the law that secures the right to the one individual to legally claim one million is just as imperative in holding the thousand in their state of destitution.

An income of $40,000,000 in a year represents a startling amount of labor that has not been properly paid for; but why Andrew Carnegie should be singled out as the only great rascal guilty of tyranny worth speaking of I can hardly see. We will admit that he is, no doubt, as bad as they make him out, but that there should be such a crowd of others fully as guilty as he is, yet entirely undiscovered by the gazers from the watchtowers of our American freedom, is something of a conundrum. Possibly the position Andrew Carnegie has taken in regard to the Philippines has something to do with his condemnation, and if it has, it robs the statement made of a good deal of its sincerity. Yet I am glad to see the statement made in the Oregonian, as there are so many who will take it as straight goods from the Oregonian, but had they seen it in some reform paper they would call it Populist rot.

Myrtle Point Bridge Falls.

Quite a stir of excitement was created in this place Wednesday evening be the sudden collapsing of the suspension bridge spanning the south fork of the Coquille river at this place, and what seems most peculiar is that there was no weight on it at the time of its falling, although the Myrtle Point-Port Orford mail carrier had crossed over it about 10 minutes before, and 75 head of sheep were driven over it on Monday, and why it did not fall under this is hard to account for. J. C. Brown was standing on the hill near the bridge and witnessed it fall. At about 20 minutes to 6 the top cord on the right hand side of the bridge gave way, this being followed by a general cracking and breaking of the timbers and irons supporting the structure, which continued for about a minute, when the whole structure, excepting the piers and approaches, swung to the right and collapsed, the fall jarring near-by houses and making a loud report. The bridge was built by the Pacific Bridge Company, of California, in 1889, at a cost of about $6000, and was considered the best bridge in the county. It was repaired and repainted about two years ago, but the upper timbers were evidently not inspected, as an examination of the timbers after the wreck shows one main cord to have become nothing more than rotten shells.

County Commissioners Weekly and McIntosh came up Thursday to examine and make necessary arrangements for saving the irons, etc. They inform us that the county court will at once establish a free ferry near the site of the bridge, and at the April term will let the contract for another bridge to be built as early in the summer as the water will permit.—Enterprise.
