The Oregon Native Son.

That interesting historical magazine, the "Oregon Native Son," for January, is on our table. It is highly illustrated with pictures of scenery in the northwest and portraits of many of the early pioneers, among them being four of the pioneer Methodist missionaries. The following are the contents: Brooks of Oregon, poem, Valentine Brown; Lake Chelan and the Valley of the Stehekin, W. G. Steel; Bridge of the Gods, F. H. Saylor; The Pirates' Treasure Chamber, Thos. H. Rogers; Negro Pioneers; The Provisional Government of Oregon, Hon. Harvey W. Scott; Early Wrecks on the Oregon Coast, Silas B. Smith; Yakima War Reminiscences, Cyrus H. Walker; Oregon Historical Society, Geo. H. Himes, assistant secretary. Every article is from the pen of an authoritative writer, and is couched in language and style especially suited to evening reading around the home circle.

"Coin on Money, Trusts and Imperialism," is the latest publication from Coin Publishing Co., Chicago, and is sent out with the endorsement of the Democratic National Committee as the avaunt courier of the Democratic war cry in the coming campaign. "Coin" is worth following up on the issues of the day, for as a schollarly, thinking man, patriotic, aggressive and noble in his inspirations, which are prompted by sympathy for the masses of the people, for justice and right, hence this publication should be in the hands of every citizen. A strategic move, however, to reach these ills and eradicate them and many others from the body plitic, would be best reached by the Populist demand of the initiative and referendum. Give back to the people their authority and say-so on the issues that arise, and our belief is their action will be equitable and right, and the demagogue and party boss will be relegated to honest duty, or occupy with Satan while the millenium exists. The price of this book is only 25c; addresses "Coin Pub. Co.," Chicago, Ill.

Everybody likes berries; everybody ought to have them; but don't think of planting out a single row without first getting a copy of Biggle Berry Book. This book is written by a practical grower and will save you money, time and trouble from the start. Starting right is more than half way towards success. Market growers pronounce Biggle Berry Book one of the most helpful books ever written on the subject. Many of the leading growers have contributed their experience to its pages. The price is 50 cents, free by mail; address the publishers, Wilmer Atkinson Co., Philadelphia.

The "Free Press" is the title of a new, bright and earnest People's party paper started at Medford, Or. O. B. Allen, a good printer, is in charge as publisher and proprietor, and Hon. J. J. Howser as editor. It talks all right, and will certainly assure the good people of Jackson county and the state that the People's party is neither dead nor sleeping, and that the approaching campaigns—local, state and national—will be made quite interesting for the presence of the "hayseeds." We extend greetings and wish success.

Senator Butler, chairman of the national executive committee of the People's party, has issued a call for a meeting of that committee to be held in Lincoln, Neb., Monday, February 19, for the purpose of naming a time and place for holding the national convention of the party. The executive committee consists of three members from each state.

Roseburg Review: If Ex-Senator W. S. U'Ren is really working in the interest of the initiative and referendum in his tour of the state he is worthy of every encouragement. Every voter, who is honest and intelligent, it seems to us should be in favor of direct legislation, regardless of what his party affiliations may be.

Roberts issued a statement after his exclusion wherein he says he will obey laws of the Mormon church rather than laws of the United States.

Governor Geer estimates that 95 per cent of Oregon's people favor election of senators by a popular vote.

The Grants Pass postoffice issued $13,257.79 in money orders between November 1, 1899, and Jan. 20, 1900.

Good milch cows are said to be worth from $40 to $75 in the Kent neighborhood, Sherman county.

A man named Wilson has "worked" Wasco and Grass Valley, cashing a bogus check in each town.

Utah Roberts was excluded from congress by a vote of 268 to 50.

WARREN HAS TAKEN SPIONKOP.

Boers May Spring Another Trap—British Casualties Heavy.

London, Jan. 25.—The war office has issued the following dispatch from Spearman's camp, dated January 25, 12:10 a. m.:

"Gen. Warren's troops last night occupied Spionkop, surprising the small garrison, who fled.

"It has been held by us all day, though we were heavily attacked, especially by a very annoying shell fire.

"I fear our casualties are considerable, and I have to inform you, with regret, that General Woodgate was dangerously wounded.

"Gen. Warren is of the opinion that he has rendered the enemy's position untenable. The men are splendid."

LONDON IS UNEASY.

London, Jan. 25.—Though Buller's dispatch is dated today and speaks of Spionkop being captured last night, it apparently means Tuesday night. According to the dispatch, the "small garrison was surprised." The subsequent statement, "our losses were considerable," indicated that the British suffered greatly later from shell fire from a further Boer position.

The statement that there was only a small garrison at Spionkop came somewhat as a surprise, as it was imagined the Boers were there in great force, and it is taken in some quarters to indicate that the Boers were not so surprised at the assault as it appeared, but previously drew off their main body and left a small force to withstand the British advance. It is even suggested that the Boers inveigled the British to occupy Spionkop and have now surrounded them.

It is evident, in spite of the fact that the British hold Potgeiter's drift and the hills above, that the Boer's have succeeded in bringing up enough artillery to inflict considerable losses on the British force which seized Spionkop, although Lord Dundonald is supposed to have been scouting the country behind the ranges in order to prevent this very thing, and although Gen. Lyttleton ought to have got near enough to Spionkop to either intercept the retreating Boers or prevent a serious attack, once the British had taken possession of the hill.

Philippine War Now Believed to be at an End.

New York, Jan. 26.—A dispatch in the Herald from Manila says: The war in the Philippines is over. No further surrender can be hoped for. The danger in the present situation is that a bloody feud may arise between the American army and the Filipinos. The danger can be greatly lessened by action of congress, which is now imperative, outlining the policy of the government in the Philippines. It is very likely that many insurgents are still holding out for the very terms which congress will be willing to give.

The time is ripe for a conciliatory policy, allowing the Filipinos to have some say as to the nature of the government under which they will be obliged to live.

Armed Kentucky Republicans.

Frankfort Ky., Jan. 25.—Armed men from the mountains, bearing badges with portraits of Govenor Taylor pinned on their breasts, arrived in Frankfort today on special trains. The men numbering nearly 1000, contrary to expectations, on advice of the Republican authorities here left at 9 o'clock tonight. The concensus of opinion is that the visitors mistook this for the day on which the contest boards were to make their reports. The men were an hour getting aboard their trains and amused themselves during the delay by discharging their guns. The people of the city gave them a wide berth. They are expected to return when the contest ends.

Women Start for Cape Nome.

Dawson, N. W. T., Jan. 26.—A most heroic undertaking for womankind has been undertaken by Miss Gates, sister to Humboldt Gates, a Dawson character. She has set out from this city for Nome, over the ice of the lower river, and will have to travel 1000 miles or more to reach her distant Arctic destination. Some others are also starting on the same long journey, hoping to get to the great gold fields before the crowds of the spring rush.

"Soulless Commercialism."

Moscow, Jan. 26.—Count Leo Tolstoi, in an interview published in the Russki Listok, denounces the war in south Africa as showing the "sordid and soulless commercialism that rules the world." He says:

"I hope daily to hear of a fresh reverse. It is incomprehensible to me that England, boasting herself to be the land of freedom, should wish to crush small republics, which have never done her the slightest injury."

Cannibals Ate a Ship's Crew.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 26.—Details have been received of the killing of the captain and crew of the schooner Nikamarra on one of the islands of the Admiralty group by the natives, who are cannibals. It is said that all of the victims were eaten.

BULLER "REGRETS TO REPORT."

Colonel Buchanan Riddell was Among the Killed—General Woodgate Died from His Wounds.

London, Jan. 26, 11:10 a. m.—The war office has just posted the following dispatch from General Buller, dated at Spearman's Camp, Thursday, January 25, noon:

"General Warren's garrison, I am sorry to say, I find this morning, had in the night abandoned Spionkop."

London, Jan. 26.—General Buller reports that the British casualties on January 24 were:

Killed—Six officers, 18 non-commissioned officers and men.

Wounded—Twelve officers and 142 non-commissioned officers and men. Thirty-one men missing.

General Buller's dispatch is dated Spearman's Camp, January 26, 10:25 a. m., showing there has been no delay in communications passing between Buller and the war office. The killed include Colonel Buchanan Riddell, of the King's Royal rifles. He served in the Niger war of 1881. It is not clear whether the casualties include those at Spionkop, or only those resulting from fighting prior to the Spionkop engagement.

London, Jan. 26.—Probably as an immediate effect of the receipt of news of the abandonment of Spionkop by the British force under General Warren, orders have been sent to Aldershot to have the Fourth cavalry division in readiness to embark for south Africa early in February.

FEARS FOR LADYSMITH.

Military circles made no effort to conceal their chagrin, expressing the greatest fears as to the ultimate fate of Ladysmith. Such authorities as Major-General Carring, who is under orders for south Africa, and Lord Gifford, who won a Victoria cross while scouting for Lord Wolseley during the Zulu war, would not be surprised to hear of the capture of White's forces within the week.

The New Emperor.

Peking, Jan. 25.—The imperial edict issued yesterday says that, owing to the emperor's poor health, he is unable to conduct the business of the state, and appoints Put Sing, son of Prince Tuano, his heir. The emperor apparently has been compelled by the dowager empress to abdicate about Chinese New Year, though it is understood this will meet with considerable opposition in certain court circles. The dowager empress, however, intends to carry out the program which she had been planning for years.

Plant of Standard Oil Company Burned in Portland.

Portland, Jan. 23.—The one story brick warehouse of the Standard Oil Company, located on East Water street, was totally destroyed by fire this afternoon, entailing a loss estimated at $150,000.

The fire started in the basement under the store-room, where a large amount of oil in cases was kept. The entire fire department of the city was called out, and their efforts were directed toward saving the oil tanks where 1,500,000 gallons of oil was stored. Every few minutes a case of oil would explode, and sheets of flame leaped hundreds of feet into the air.

There was no insurance on any of the property.

Indian War Pension Bill.

Senator McBride's Indian war pension bill, favorably reported, extends the privileges of the pension system to the veterans of the Cayuse Indian war of 1847-48, and of the wars in Oregon and Washington from 1852 to 1856, as well as to the surviving widows of such veterans.

The Webster Statue.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Exercises in acceptance of the statue of Daniel Webster, presented to the United States by Stilson Hutchins, of Washington, took place at 10 a. m. today in the Lafayette opera house. After the acceptance the unveiling ceremonies were celebrated at the site of the statue on Scott Circle.

Sheep Booming.

Pedee item in Independence Enterprise: One of our citizens refused $5 per head for his entire flock of sheep, and another refused $3.60 per head for last spring lambs. Frank Gilliam paid $5.50 per head for 50 head of sheep, and Joe Brown sold 50 head of goats for $5 each.

She will go to the city under schooner rig.

Married—Jan. 24, 1900, at Hotel Portland, Portland, Oregon, Miss Alice Rogers to Arthur S. Eldridge. The steamer Harlan is to make regular trips to this place and carry coal for the O. & N. Co.

Besides her cargo of coal, the Arcata took 300 boxes of apples and 700 sacks of potatoes at the Marshfield warehouse.

Steve Johnson, Ten-Mile rancher, was in town last week. He reports that outside cattle-buyers were in his neighborhood last week and purchased a band of 75 head of cattle which they drove to the valley. The prices paid were as high as $12 for calves and from $16 to $17 for two-year-olds.

There is talkof a brass band being organized by the scholars of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday-school to assist in the various services of the church, the order for a part of the instruments having been already placed with a New York firm. This will be an innovation and a surprise to many, but ought to add interest to the work of the church.

More Steamers.

San Francisco, Jan. 23.—At the annual meeting of the Oceanic Steamship Company, President John D. Spreckels reported that the new ships now being built for the company will be without peers in the Pacific, and will greatly improve the service. The total net earnings for 1899 were $374,747, an increase of $49,100 over those of 1898.

Were Approached With Offers of Money.

Washington, Jan. 23.—At the investigation of the charges of bribery against Clark, of Montana, State Senator J. R. McKay, a Republican from Custer county, Montana, said he was one of the four Republicans of the legislature who had refused to vote for Clark. He said he had been approached once or twice and asked to vote for Clark. Among those who had come to see him was Senator Phillips, who said he could get $15,000 for his vote. He had declined to enter into an agreement.

Major Logan's body is to be buried at Youngstown, O., the home of his wife and her family.

Honolulu Is Stricken With Bubonic Plague.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 25.—The steamer Miowera, of the Canadian-Australian line, although she did not make a call in the usual scene at Honolulu, and brought neither mails, nor passengers from that plague-ridden city, learned, while at anchor off that port, that the bubonic visitation grew more serious daily. There had been thirty-nine deaths to date, including one white woman. The inter-island trade is described as paralyzed, and Hilo, has so effectually barricaded its doors against the introduction of the disease that its protective force have orders to shoot any one attempting to dock steamers from the capital.

Immigrant steamers continue to arrive from Japan, and quarantine accommodations are taxed to more than their capacity. In Honolulu a panic prevails, and the danger is vastly intensified by the popular terror.

President Cooper, of the board of health of Honolulu, had ten blocks burned. Thirty-four hundred Japanes, at Honolulu, are in quarantine.

Bandon Recorder: In looking over the court proceedings it is gratifiying to see the amount of energy put forth by the upper-river people in their endeavor to have more and better roads. They appeal to the court and it will be noticed that their prayers are not unheeded. This end of the county needs more roads, roads changed and improved; we make a great cry amongst ourselves and there it ends. Our petitions are not presented and to the authorities our wishes are unknown. The Bear creek road for instance. There is not another piece of road in Coos county where a change of road or grade is so generally desired and which would be to the direct benefit of so great a number of people, but nary a step is taken, not even a petition presented.

Exchange: The editor of this paper is going to need a pair of shoes one of these days and is going to receive bids from the shoe merchants. It is also probable that if winter comes on anything like fiercely he will need a suit of underwear and bids might be sent in for these needed furnishings. We notice that our people are in the habit of getting bids when they want one or two dollars, worth of printing and if it is a good plan we don't see why it won't work in the matter of purchasing clothing.
