Labor vs. Usury.

Labor cleared away the forests.
Labor opened the mines.
Labor built cities and towns.
Labor erected the schoolhouses.
Labor built all the shops, all the docks, all the steam engines, all the cotton gins and spinning jennies and all the looms.

Labor creates all the wealth that exists, all that ever did exist and will create all that ever will exist, "And the laborer is worthy of his hire."

USURY.

Usury never built a railroad.
Or a factory.
Or built a church.
Or a schoolhouse.
Or put up a telegraph pole.
Or invented an engine.
Or built one.
And never will.
Usury never opened a mine.
Usury never cleared an acre of ground nor planted a kernel of golden grain or erected a workshop.
Usury never produced or aided in producing a particle of wealth, but it has absorbed the earnings of laborers until the laborers beg for a chance to earn their bread in the workshops and factories and upon the railroads and in the marts of trade which their own hands have builded and upon the land which they have cleared of the forests, in the mines which they have opened.

THE USURERS

Own all the railroads.
And the telegraphs.
And all the mines.
And many of the workshops.
And the factories.
And the churches.
And have mortgages on one half of the homes of the town, city and country.—Exchange.

Waldo Cor. Grants Pass Journal: Last night while prayer-meeting was in session several men, stinking with whisky, entered the church in a boisterous way and sat down. Guns were fired in the public roads and across the street; two shots from the livery barn were fired directly across the street and road in front of the barn. There is a law against shooting on the public highways as well as against disturbing church services. Some of the elderly lady members of the church are getting very nervous about attending church here. The district attorney's attention is therefore called to these offenders. He can obtain the necessary evidence to secure indictments by subpoenaing almost any of our good citizens or he could come here now and arrest the perpetrators and bind them over.

McMinnville Reporter (Rep): A higher rate of taxation seems to be the rule this year, not only as regards the state levy, but in all of the counties. This is doubtless significant of the fact that we are progressing beyond our income, and that we must pay more attention to business details than to the glory of office-seeking. In some governments the office seeks the man, and imposes a penalty if he does not serve. For instance, if a citizen of Berlin, Germany, is elected to office and will not accept, he is disfranchised and his taxes are raised 25 per cent. It is different in Oregon; the man who is elected to office accepts and raises the taxes of the other fellows.

Medford Eye: The People party's of Jackson county are planning for a grand county reunion on the 22d of February—Washington's birthday. Committees are at work on the plans but have not made sufficient progress yet to announce details. A big time is anticipated on the occasion, as the entire day and evening will be occupied with exercises, including refreshments. Members of the People party's and their families are expected from all parts of Jackson and Josephine counties.

To give our readers some idea of the business transacted by the Pennsylvania railroad, we extract the following from our old home paper, published at the central station on the middle division of that road, as follows: "Tuesday of last week was the banner day for moving west-bound cars over the middle division, 3664 cars passing west with 2380 east, making a total of 6044 cars; but Sunday the total movement was still larger, reaching 6267 cars passing this point on that day."

A canvass of congress made by the New York Herald upon the question of the election of senators by direct vote of the people shows that the senate is much opposed to the proposition, while the house is in favor of it.

The last issue of the Medford Eye passed under the management and control or Mr. Horace Mann, formerly of Cottage Grove.

POLITICAL WAR IN KENTUCKY.

Senator Goebel, Democratic Leader, Fatally Wounded.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 30.—Senator Goebel was shot and seriously wounded at 10 minutes after 11 o'clock this morning. The shooting was done by some man at present unknown.

Goebel was walking up the sidewalk leading to the senate chamber, when a man in the second story of the building, immediately east of the capitol, fired upon him.

Goeble is fatally wounded. The ball struck him in the right side and passed through the right lung, coming out below the shoulder blade. At noon a report from Goebel's room is that the wounded man is resting easily.

Harland Whittaker, a farmer of Butler county, was arrested on a charge of shooting Goebel.

Goebel, in company with Colonel Jack Chinn and Warden Lilliard, of the Frankfort penitentiary, was walking up the sidewalk leading from the street to the capitol building, Goebel being on the right of the three. When the three men were two-thirds of the distance from the street to the capitol, the shot was fired from the third-story window of the building occupied as the office of the governor, secretary of state and other leading officials of the state. The ball struck Goebel in the side, and he instantly dropped to the pavement. Goebel was then hastily taken to his own room on the second floor of the Capitol hotel.

TROOPS CALED OUT.

Nicholasville, Ky., Jan. 30.—Troops that were here guarding the Kendalls were ordered to Frankfort on a special train, and left here at 1 o'clock, leaving 10 men to guard the jail.

GRAVE FEARS FOR GOEBEL.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 30.—1:30 p. m.—Goebel's condition is not so good, and grave fears are entertained. He, himself, is calm, and insists that he will not die.

Governor Taylor Declares a State of Insurrection.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—It is not expected that Goebel will survive the afternoon. He has been slowly sinking throughout the morning. The noise and confusion in the streets and in the Capitol hotel have worried him greatly. His fever has increased and the doctors have about given up all hopes.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—Governor Taylor at 10 o'clock this morning issued the following proclamation:

"To the General Assembly, Commonwealth of Kentucky: Whereas, a state of insurrection now prevails in the state of Kentucky, and especially in Franfort, the capitol thereof, by virtue of authority vested in me by the constitution of Kentucky, I do hereby by this proclamation adjourn at once the general assembly of the state of Kentucky to meet at London, Laurel county, Ky., Tuesday, the 6th day of February, 1900, at 12 o'clock.

"Given under my hand at Frankfort, Ky., this 30th day of January, 1900, at 9 o'clock p. m.

W. S. TAYLOR,
"Governor of Kentucky.
"By Caleb Bowers, Secretary of State."

The Democratic members of the legislature declined to accept the adjournment and, not being permitted to assemble at the capitol, decided to meet in the operahouse. This was prevented by troops, who also chased members through the streets and prevented them from meeting at the courthouse. Manager Weitzel, of the Capitol hotel, has been notified that if he permits a meeting of the legislature in his hotel, the militia will take charge.

Republican members of the legislature will leave at once for London, pursuant to Governor Taylor's instructions for the legislature to meet there next Tuesday.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—The court of appeals has indefinitely adjourned, refusing to sit while the militia is here. One reason is the fact that letters were received from Middlesboro today stating that the appellate judges, Hazlerigg and Hobson, were also to have been killed yesterday.

GOVERNOR GOEBEL DEAD — CIVIL WAR THREATENED IN KENTUCKY.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 3.—The bullet fired by an unknown assassin last Tuesday morning ended the life of Governor Wm. Goebel at 6:45 o'clock this evening.

GOEBEL'S SUCCESSOR SWORN IN.

Exactly one hour after the death of Goebel, J. C. W. Beckham was sworn in as governor of the state.

A CRISIS

Is at hand. The civil and military authorities in Kentucky have come face to face, and unless the ministers of one or the other recede at once from the positions they occupy, there can be but one outcome, and that is civil war.

Medford Eye (Rep.): Congressman Tongue is informing the public quite fully and frequently these days about the work he has done in congress for the state of Oregon in general, and for many places and persons in particular. More particularly we suppose his relatives.

A Bloody Battle—Spionkop Occupied and then Evacuated.

London, Jan. 28—General Buller's dispatch to the war office states that Spionkop was abandoned on account of the lack of water, inability to bring artillery there, and the heavy Boer fire.

His whole force withdrew south of the Tugela river, with the evident intention of reaching Ladysmith by another route.

ENORMOUS LOSSES.

London, Jan. 28.—The war office does not give any idea of the casualties in taking and holding Spionkop, but the report from Boer headquarters, near Ladysmith, via Leurenco Marques says that 1500 British dead were left on the battlefield. This number is thought to include the wonnded.

If the Boer reports are to be accepted, "the abandonment of Spionkop was due to the inability of the British to resist the Boer attack, the Boers carrying first trenches and taking 150 prisoners."

Buller Plans a Third Attempt.

Cape Town, Jan. 30.—General Buller still holds the Tugela drifts and will possibly renew his attempt to force his way through the Boer defenses before long. In any case, Ladysmith is capable of holding out for a considerable time.

A dispatch from the Associated Press representative at Spearman's farm, dated January 15, describing the fight and retirement from Spionkop, says:

"We filed down sadly, but in perfect order. The King's Royal Rifles colonel was struck down at the moment a heliograph message ordering retirement was handed to him. The enemy is holding a thanksgiving service tonight. Surgeons who ascended the hill were allowed to remove our wounded. The scene at the top of the hill was fearful, and a terrible witness to the destructiveness of artillery. All day our bodybearers were busy carrying down men."

A Hot Skirmish—Five Americans Killed.

Manila, Jan. 31.—Lieutenant Schrenk with a detachment of 40 men met the insurgents in force near Subig, Monday, and a hot fight ensued. The Americans were greatly outnumbered and forced to retreat, Lieutenant Schrenk and four men being killed. Later the Americans were reinforced and attacked the Filipinos, dispersing them with heavy loss.

Government of the Philippines.

New York, Jan. 31.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: President McKinley will soon announce the appointment of a civil commission to be charged with the establishment of civil government in the Philippines. There will be five members of the commission. Colonel Charles Denby, Professor Dean C. Worcester, and Dr. J. B. Angell, president of the university of Michigan, are mentioned.

Medford Free Press: We can now send mail matter in the United States for from one-third to one-tenth of what it cost twenty years ago. What has caused the reduction? The answer is, the government owns the postal service and charges only enough to pay actual expenses. Twenty years ago we paid five cents for a street car ride, and we pay the same fare today. Why have we no reduction in street car fares? The reason is the street cars are owned by private companies, and they charge as much as the public will stand.

Salem Statesman: The political affairs of Kentucky have assumed a most vexing shape. It is unfortunate that some crack-brained fellow has made matters worse by resort to an attempt at assassination. It will tend to make a hero and martyr out of very poor material for the purpose. Kentucky needs at this stage some cool-headed leaders with command and influence. She seems unfortunately lacking in this requirement.

Oregonian: Senator Clark, of Montana, seems to have paid out more money for the senatorship than it is really worth; and yet he may not be permitted to keep it. The "fixing" of everything, grand juries included, is said by men of Montana to have cost him $1,200,000; but as he has an income of $5,000,000 a year from mines he can stand this little extravagance.

The Salem Statesman utters this pet name for a contemporary: "The nasty little scrub and monumental liar who conducts the Roseburg Plaindealer is devoting a good deal of space to mendacity concerning the Statesman and its editor."

Capital Journal: When Senator Beveridge held up a gold nugget in the senate as an argument for taking the Philippines the true friends of expansion shuddered that a sane man would try to justify the war by the greed for gold.

An editor in a Tennessee town, who stated in his paper that the new century would begin Jan. 1, 1901, was ridden out of town on a rail.

Rev. Joe Waldrop, an old-time Populist, is now pastor of a Baptist church at The Dalles.

Riverton, Feb. 5,—Mr. Millsap, late of California, made our town a call last Wednesday. He was in search of a dairy ranch to buy or rent.

We were glad to see the smiling face of John Donnelly in our town last week. He bade his friends goodbye, as he is about to leave the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Bird Vowell were visiting friends in our neighborhood last week.

Mrs. Lou Marsden is now visiting relatives here.

W. W. Kight and family came up last Sunday.

[Myrtle Point Enterprise.]

Robert Ahr has purchased all that part of the old Lehnherr tract lying on the opposite side of the railroad track and reaching to the river as far up as the bridge.

The Myrtle Point Packing Co. this week received from Norway about 35 dressed hogs, averaging 222 pounds. They were at once packed to help fill the several orders that the company is pressed with.

G. W. Peek, who was to meet our citizens this Friday evening regarding the establishment of a furniture and broomhandle factory at this place, was expected on today's train, but failed to arrive. He is expected to come on this evening's boat.

Just as we go to press we are informed by reliable authority that a bill has been made out for 90,000 feet of lumber to be used in erecting a fine large hall in this city. The building will be 40x95 and 36 feet high, making it one of of the largest halls in southwestern Oregon.

Ed Orr killed a panther in Pleasant Valley near this place Monday evening, and came near having a hand-to-hand fight with the animal. He was out hunting and a small dog which was with him treed the panther, at which Orr fired twice without effect, but the third shot brought it to the ground slightly wounded, when it pounced upon the dog and would have soon made mince meat of him had not Mr. Orr placed his gun to the animal's head and blew its brains out. The last shot fired was a lucky one for Mr. Orr, too, as it was the last load he had in his gun.

(Bandon Recorder.)

Evan Morgan came down from Siuslaw yesterday to move his family to that place.

D. H. Johnson, of Coquille City, was in this vicinity a day or two ago hunting beef cattle.

The fishing season is on and the fishermen are in their glory. They are bringing in large strings of trout, and the catch of ocean fish from the rocks during the past few days has been good.

Wm. Sugg and T. J. Martin, were Bandon visitors from Coquille City this week. Mr. Martin served 14 months with the Oregon boys at Manila, and is visiting his brother at Coquille City.

S. T. Malehorn, a prominent citizen of Northern Curry, died very suddenly Tuesday morning. His death is supposed to have resulted from heart disease. Mr. M. leaves a wife and four children and many friends to mourn his death.

Jack Winkler drove into town Monday and exhibited a cougar, which he had killed that morning in the vicinity of John O. Bates' house. The animal was not a very large one, but would have proved a tough customer in a rough and tumble fight.

W. T. Clark, during his visit to San Francisco, closed up the Bandon Woolen Mills Co's office at that place, and hereafter the company will run its business independently of such office, also curtailing considerable expense. Mr. Clark took a contract while in the city to manufacture $25,000 worth of goods.

The greatly improved condition of the Coquille bar is due to a bank of sand that has been thrown up in line with the north jetty. Teis has done more to demonstrate what can be done to the channel than anything that could have happened. It is fortunate that Engineer Carroll is here, and that Engineer Hart's visit took place at this opportune time.

The Coquille bar has maintained a greater depth lately than has ever been recorded since vessels run into the river. Last Sunday the tug crew found 24 feet of water when they crossed the bar. This is encouraging and it is to be hoped that this river will soon have the proper steamer transportation with San Fraccisco and Portland.

A rumor was current on our streets, this week, that J. W. Bennett and J. B. Hassett, of Marshfield, and T. R. Sheridan, of Roseburg, were locked up at San Francisco, in connection with the Coos Bay, Roseburg and Eastern railroad. We presume they were only closeted with Spreckels. However they were directors of the railroad and are subpoenaed to appear at Portland on February 14th.

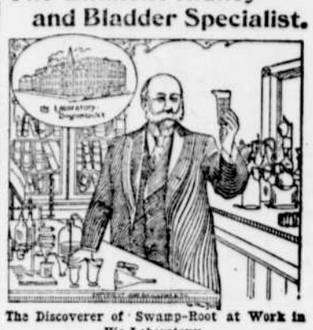
The Eminent Kidney and Bladder Specialist.



The Discoverer of Swamp-Root at Work in His Laboratory.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Then the richness of the blood—the albumen—leaks out and the sufferer has Bright's Disease, the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root the new discovery is the true specific for kidney, bladder and urinary troubles. It has cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases, after all other efforts have failed. At druggists in fifty-cent and dollar sizes. A sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling about Swamp-Root and its wonderful cures. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N.
