What Samantha Allen Says About War.

"I don't know how you feel, Josiah, but it looks bad to me to see the two great Christian nations of the world engaged in all the horrors and bloody agony of war, and each on 'em fightin' agin a smaller nation, and middlin' peaceable ones so fur as I know. If a great foe should rise against us, Josiah, and all efforts for peace should fail, then, mebbe the Lord would be willin' for us to drive 'em from our borders at the edge of the sword, but to fight for conquest, or greed, is different."

"I tell you, Samantha, you hain't got the right on't; America had to fight the Philippines to protect 'em and carry the gospel to 'em, and England had to see that them Outlandish men could vote, and they're bound to civilize Africa. The English do a good deal to advance the cause of religion; they're bound that this little nation of Boers shall be civilized and enjoy religion as they want 'em to."

"They trust in God, Josiah, if they are a little people, and they should triumph over a giant foe, as Israel did so many times, helped by the God of battle, would it not help the world to her faith in God? Sez I, read their battle-hymn:

"Our strength is in our God of hosts,
Our times are in His hand;
The wrath of man that idly boasts
We fear not in the hand.
From farming dale, from soil and loam,
We are coming, God of Might,
The ramparts of our mountain home
To shield. Guard thou the right!"

"Well" sez he, "all I meant wuz it hain't wimmen's spear (sphere) to talk about war."

"No, I know what wimmen's spear is in war time; it is to have her heart go to the front with them she loves; to suffer and die with 'em, only her'n is a livin' death, ten times worse to bear, to endure and suffer than all the calamities that follow war. To be taxed for money to carry on an undertakin' her soul loathes—I guess I know what wimmen's spear is in war."

Sez Josiah: "Wimmen can't understand such things; Samantha, their minds hain't built right."

Sez I, sadly: "Mebby that's so, Josiah; mebbe your mind hain't built right to see the beauty of two great nations, pledged to peace and enlightenment, waging bloody wars six months after a Peace Conference. They say they believe the Bible and want to carry it to benighted nations of the globe. But how are the savages goin' to believe 'em when they preach that the religion of Jesus is peaceable, long suffering, forgiving, and then pitched at 'em with cannons and swords?"

Josiah got right up and sez he: "They hain't no use argyin' with wimmen, they can't argue fair, it hain't in 'em." And he wound up the clock and went to bed.—Will Carleton's Magazine.

A Former Prisoner in the Famous Bull Pen.

Washington, March 5.—William Powers, former constable of Mullan, Idaho, who was a prisoner in the famous "bull pen," was a witness before the Idaho investigation committee today. Powers said the families of imprisoned men suffered until a commissary store was established at Mullan, and about $11,000 of charitable contributions from labor organizations and anti-trust associations were distributed. The military terrorized the people. Women complained that negro soldiers attempted to enter their houses.

On cross-examination efforts were made to get the names of the men who returned after the blowing up of the mining property. Lantz protested to this in line of "intimidation," as the information would be used to make military arrests. The witness did not give names, but said he had furnished them to the sheriff. He said the terrorization of soldiers gradually diminished. There were no actual outbreaks, but the witness had seen negro soldiers spying around houses at night. He was treated kindly in the "bull pen," and saw no outrages. He and the sheriff intended to arrest the ring-leaders of the crowd which blew up the mining property, but his own arrest prevented action on his part.

Representative Lantz said he had about concluded the direct presentation of the case, and after hearing one witness tomorrow would yield to General Merriam, Governor Steunenberg and others denying the charges. Several witnesses, including former Master Workman Sovereign, of the Knights of Labor, he said, would be reserved for rebuttal.

The Oregonian on the 1st inst. says: "Has the Republican party, through its representatives in congress, taken the contract to dig its own grave? In effect, it is working at that job with a wondrous, and ever what Burke called a "quadrumanous" activity. Congress every day is making material for the Democratic campaign."

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED.

Boer Raiders Are Stirring Up the Cape Colony Dutch.

London, March 6.—Mafeking is to be relieved as soon as the British force, already on the way to Kimberley, can raise the siege. The force is described vaguely as "strong." In view of the fact that the Kimberley light-horse is under the control of the De Beers Company, Lord Roberts' visit to Kimberley probably had to do with arrangements with Cecil Rhodes to use this company of troops.

Rhodes and Colonel Kekewich have had differences of policy, it appears, which did not end with the relief of Kimberley.

"What shall I do with him?" Colonel Kekewich is said to have wired to Lord Roberts, who half humorously replied, according to the story circulated at the clubs: "Put him in chains."

Fresh intelligence as to what Lord Roberts is doing has ceased again. This silence is taken to mean that something has happened or is about to happen. The Boer raiders are uncommonly active in the northwestern section of Cape Colony, where they are stirring up the Dutch. Martial law has consequently been declared.

MARTIAL LAW.

Cape Town, March 5.—Sir Alfred Milner has issued the following proclamation: "Whereas, the enemy's forces have invaded the districts of Prieska, Kenard, Britstown and Barkley West and many British subjects have taken up arms; and

"Whereas, it is necessary to repel the invasion and suppress the rebellion, now, therefore, martial law is hereby proclaimed in these districts."

An Anglo-Saxon Alliance.

A Lion and an Eagle once met in solemn conclave and resolved that they were the natural protectors of all the weaker birds and beasts—in fact the great civilizing agents of the world. The Eagle gently scratched the Lion's stately neck, and the Lion uttered some maudlin sentiment about the tender love-light in the Eagle's eyes, which told of the natural bond of brotherhood between them. Suddenly the Eagle discovered an old hen bravely defending her chickens against a hawk, and immediately darted off to teach the hawk a lesson in humanity, and incidentally to eat the hen and chickens himself. The Lion watched the Eagle admiringly and uttered: "That just demonstrates my theory of the survival of the fittest." And to demonstrate his theory still further, he sprang upon a lamb and crushed it beneath his powerful paws.

This fable teaches that "fitness" to live does not consist in following any ordinary useful occupation, such as laying eggs or growing wool, but in brute force, and in the ability to kill somebody.—The Straight Edge.

Don't Neglect the Boys.

Rev. H. B. Swafford, formerly a citizen and pastor of the Southern Methodist church here, gives this item to parents and philanthropists in a late issue of "The Home Advocate," which he publishes at Colosa: "Good people could not do a better thing than to form themselves into a Boys' Friend Society. Such an association in each town could reach every boy in the place. Let literature suited to their needs be given each boy. Let employment be found for them. Let some sort of wholesome amusement be provided. It can all be done if undertaken in a systematic way. Nothing would do more for the country. "When the boys begin to see and enjoy the nice things provided for their pleasure, instruction and profit, and find they can have these and still be jolly, hotblooded boys, they will thank you. Don't fear that any boy who has anything in him, will not tumble in head and heels to co-operate with you."

"The only son of a prize-fighter who ever amounted to anything," says Victor Smith, "is the Right Hon. William Court Gully, speaker of the British house of commons. His father, John Gully, a afterwards a prize-fighter, grew rich and was a member of parliament for Pontefract in 1835. Speaker Gully incidentally receives a salary of $25,000 a year."

"Like Solomon and some others, President Kruger has a weakness," says M. A. P. "It is not for wives (of whom he has but one), but for green carpet slippers. These seem to be his besetting snare, for he is seldom seen in the house without them."

Jeremiah Curtin, translator of Sienkiewicz's novels, knows every language and most of the dialects of Europe, and is self-taught.

According to the Washington Times the Rev. Sam Jones' income for several years has been between $25,000 and $35,000.

J. P. Bryant, of Bardwell, Ky., is said to be the owner of the largest strawberry patch in the world. It covers 1700 acres.

Colonel S. A. John, of Topeka, is the oldest white native of Kansas. He was born at the Shawnee mission in 1832.

The archbishop of Canterbury is paid $10,000 a year more than President McKinley's salary.

"Flaming Sword" Thrusts.

The thin gauze of civilization covers a world of barbarism.

The Almighty filters the waters of life through the sands of the ages. As a man thinketh so is he, but he is not always what he thinks he is.

Modern worshipers are engaged in the service of the almighty—dollar.

No great thing is accomplished without effort; no reward without a struggle; no victory without warfare.

Telegraphing without wires suggests the possibility of conducting the government of a nation without wires—to pull.

The world is a great theatrical stage which needs elevating. When elevated, there will be new scenes and new actors in the drama of life.

The millionaire has come as a thief, and has stolen the products of labor, appropriated and enslaved the masses. The Almighty comes "as a thief," to take from the millionaire what he has gained fraudulently, and to give to the people their property and freedom.

Modern reform movements are but dams constructed across the stream of corruption. They may give seeming temporary relief; but the stream breaks ever in unlooked-for places. The danger point is reached when, after the flood accumulates, the dam gives way; then the sweeping tide destroys all in its path. Destroy the cause! Purify the stream.

The Best Food for Intellectual Thought.

No man can vote intelligently unless he thinks intelligently. In this time of "wars and rumors of wars" the greatest aid to intelligent thinking and the best food for intellectual thought is that newspaper which is greatest and best.

The Semi-Weekly Republic is the greatest and best of all newspapers. Its telegraphic and cable news service excels that of any other paper. It prints the news news fully; not imaginative occurrences, but domestic and world-distant, fully authenticated facts.

The policies of the great political parties are now being formed and the candidates discussed. Now is the time to subscribe for the best medium of keeping in touch with the whole world, The Semi-Weekly Republic.

No less worthy of attention is The Republic's Sunday Magazine. It is replete each issue with the best of special articles written by the best of literary talent. Its beautiful half-tone illustrations have already made it famous and their quality and quantity will be preserved.

News features are illustrated and enlarged upon in a manner equal to the high-priced magazines. Events of current interest are set forth in entertaining style. There is humor in its pages, too, and for the benefit of the ladies the latest Paris fashions are each week exquisitely illustrated and described. The Republic's Sunday Magazine is standard.

The subscription price of The Semi-Weekly Republic is $1 per year.—with HERALD—both one year—only $2.25.

The Republic Sunday Magazine is $1.25 per year; with The Semi-Weekly Republic—both—$1.50 per year. Both the Semi-Weekly and Sunday Magazine, clubbed with the HERALD, three papers, $3.

Biggle Horse Book is as full of good sense as an egg is of meat. Its motto: "Always speak to a horse as you would to a gentleman," is the keynote of its treatment of the whole subject. There are twenty-five chapters, including advice on feeding and watering, stable management, whims and vices, ailments and their remedies, harness hints, about stables, colts' education, care of the feet, etc. many of the illustrations have been made from life. The book is handsomely printed and substantially bound in cloth. The price is 50 cents, free by mail; address the publishers, Wilmer Atkinson Co., Philadelphia.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) dairyman called at a drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctors should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. Pale People are Nervous People

Miss Maud Bemis, of Scipio, Ind., says:
"Something over three years ago, I became affected with nervousness and neuralgic troubles. This continued until a year ago, after which time I was almost constantly confined to my bed. The neuralgia gradually grew worse; nervous debility set in, and I was completely run down, and my blood was impure, watery, and was almost completely helpless. The doctor finally advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.
"Father bought a couple of boxes of the pills and after taking the first box I was much improved. I think I must have used about a dozen boxes with the result that I was entirely cured, and have since had no symptoms whatever of my old trouble."
From the Sun, North Vernon, Ind.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood, and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, all forms of weakness either in male or female.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are never sold by the dozen or hundred, but always in packages of 40 pills, or direct from the manufacturer, Dr. J. C. Williams, Medical Department, W. F. 80 cents per box, 6 boxes $2.50.

A $65.00 Machine For $18.50

Cash with Order and Coupon

The Improved "Arlington" Sewing Machine

NEW HOME STYLE LATEST PATENT CHEAPEST

Shipped to anyone, anywhere, on 10 days' free trial, in your own home, without selling one cent in advance.

10 years' written warranty with each machine.

A strictly high-grade Sewing Machine, finished throughout in the most desirable manner. It possesses all modern improvements, and its mechanical construction is such that it is combined simplicity with great strength, thus insuring ease of running, durability, and making it impossible for the machine to be put out of order. It sews fast and makes a beautiful stitch with all kinds of thread and all classes of material. Always ready for use and unrivaled for speed, durability and quality of work. Notice the following points of superiority:

- The Head of the "Arlington" swings on patent socket hinges, firmly held down by a thumb screw. Strong, substantial, neat and handsome in design, and beautifully ornamented in gold.
- Bed plate has rounded corners and is inlaid of counterpane, making it flush with top of table.
- Highest Arm—Space under the arm is 10 1/2 inches high and 9 inches long. This will admit the largest skirts, and even quilts. It is Self-Threading—A sliding bar on holes to put thread through except eye of needle. Shuttle is cylinder, open end, and entirely self-threading, easy to put in or take out; bobbin holds a large amount of thread. Stitch Regulator is on the bed of the machine, beneath the bobbin winder, and has a scale showing the number of stitches to the inch, and can be changed from 8 to 32 stitches to the inch. Feed is double and extends on both sides of needle; never fails to take goods through, never slips and never lowers at will. Automatic Bobbin Winder—Feeds the bobbin automatically and perfectly smooth without holding the thread. Machine does not run while winding bobbin. Light Bearing—Machine is easy to run, does not fatigue the operator, makes little noise and sews rapidly. Stitch is a double lock stitch, the same on both sides, and will stand up to the hilt. Tension is a flat spring tension, and will adjust from 8 to 150 spool cotton without changing. Never gets out of order. The Needle is a straight, self-adjusting needle, flat on one side, and cannot be put in wrong. Needle Bar is made of case-hardened steel, with oil cup at the bottom to prevent oil from getting on the goods. Adjustable Bearings—All bearings are case-hardened steel and easily adjusted with a screw driver. All lost motion can be taken up, and the machine will last a lifetime. Attachments—Each machine is furnished with necessary tools and accessories, and in addition we furnish an extra set of attachments in a velvet lined metal box, free of charge. These include: a ruffler and gatherer, one binder, one shirring plate, one set of four hemmers, different widths up to 3/4 of an inch, one tucker, one under braider, one short or attachment foot, one and three thread cutter. Woodwork of finest quality oak or walnut, gobbler cover and drawers, nickel-plated casters, dress guards to wheel, and device for replacing belt.
