Rev. R. Ennis, Presbyterian, filled his appointment at this place last Sunday, preaching morning and evening. A meeting of the church session and other officers was held yesterday. Rev. Ennis also announced that synodical missionary, Rev. Dr. Holt, would be present in Coquille City next Monday, March 19th, and at 2 p. m. meet the elders of the several Presbyterian churches in Coos and Curry counties at the little church for the transaction of business. There will be the choice of a delegate to the presbytery, soon to meet, and a possible change of ministerial rounds, owing to the importance of the work at Coquille and its central location.

The Herald joins in greetings to our young friend, Will Drane, who last Saturday evening was the central figure of a birthday surprise from a host of neighbors and friends. This was the 21st birthday anniversary of Will, and the neighbors rapped at the door of the parental home about 8 p. m. in strong force and Father and Mother Drane received and welcomed the friends till the house was crowded and Will's breath was almost gone from surprise at the numbers and occasion. About 40 persons partook of an oyster supper and there was cake and delicacies enough brought in for another such a host of well-wishers. The crowd included Uncle Sol Spurgeon, Comrade Wilson, Comrade Hite and wife, Mrs. Lawhorn, Mr. and Mrs. Pinkerton, and other of the older people, and a jolly array of young people. The greeting was a very complete surprise to the young gentleman and an entire social success.

Rev. C. M. Bryan came up from Bandon today and will spend most of the week in Coquille in the interest of his church work. He expects to meet his daughter, Mrs. Shellabarger, of San Francisco, and son-in-law, Richard I. Helm, just returned from service in the Philippines, on tomorrow's train from the bay.

New Firm.—W. Drane has associated with himself G. E. Sparbeck, of Douglas county, in the blacksmithing and wagonmaking business, at the old stand. The latter comes highly recommended in all kinds of blacksmithing, manufacturing and repairing, with horseshoeing as a specialty. Drane & Sparbeck solicit your work, guaranteeing satisfaction.

As we go to press about 1200 of the voters of Coos county have registered—about half the total number. Voters had better attend to this at once, for court is coming on and the officials will have an unusual run of duties, besides, if you do not register now, you will be cut off from either local, state or national elections for two years. Better attend to this matter at once.

Richard I. Helm, of troop H, 4th U. S. cavalry, in the Philippines, is expected by tomorrow's train on his way home to Bandon, where he will join his wife and children—Mrs. Helm being a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Bryan. Accompanying him is also expected a sister-in-law, Mrs. Jennie Shellabarger, also a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan, whose husband is in the U. S. postal service in the Philippines.

E. S. Sperry, representing the Examiner while out on a "sketching" expedition for that paper, has called on us. He has spent a couple of days in Coquille City, during which time he has made several sketches which will appear in that popular coast journal, perhaps in the Sunday editions. Mr. Sperry will sketch other prominent features of our section and industries—sawmills, logging camps, creameries, woolen mills, fish canneries, coal mines, shipyards, etc.—before leaving the county.

Marshfield Sun: Captain V. Perry is making preparations to attend the Forester's ball at Bandon on St. Patrick's Day, and in course of a conversation was heard to remark that on this date it would be just 41 years since he attended his first ball in Coos county, which occurred at Mrs. Long's residence, 2 miles south of Bandon, and among the gay dancers present were Major Brown, of Marshfield, and Judge Lowe, of Bandon. Captain Perry came to Coos county in '58. He first arrived in Oregon in '42, crossing the plains and locating at Oregon City on the 26th day of September. Captain Morse, of Oregon City, was the head man in the company crossing the plains.

The Herald joins in greetings to our young friend, Will Drane, who last Saturday evening was the central figure of a birthday surprise from a host of neighbors and friends. This was the 21st birthday anniversary of Will, and the neighbors rapped at the door of the parental home about 8 p. m. in strong force and Father and Mother Drane received and welcomed the friends till the house was crowded and Will's breath was almost gone from surprise at the numbers and occasion. Marshfield Sun: Work is progressing nicely on the new steamer being built by Arthur Ellingson for Thos. White, J. C. Moomaw and Alex. Snyder. The boat has five line—77 feet long and 15 feet beam—and is staunchly put up. She will have engines of 100 horse power and ought to be a "cracker-jack" for speed. She will be ready for the July inspection.

The Star Comedy Co's splendid entertainment, comedy-drama, "Uncle Hiram," was greeted by an overflowing house last Saturday evening. Everything was in good order, and with the new scenery made the occasion a special attraction. We have not space to note the characters, but give just this general assurance, that the parts were all well sustained and the play mirth-provoking and entertaining.

Our friend, W. F. Disher, expects to return to Coquille the present summer and put up a fruit dryer. Mr. D. is now a practical fruit man, with the experience of several years in a fruit section and the handling of fruit, and would therefore be a very proper person to take the matter in hand. Besides, we all know Mr. Disher as a neighbor and fellow-citizen, and would be pleased to see him sustained and encouraged by our people. We need the industry, and would like to see it developed right here if possible.

Capt. H. L. Burleson, whom we had hoped was settled among us as a citizen and would take a hand in working up a steamer enterprise for our river and city trade, has taken the Cape Nome fever and that leaves us out of his mind. We do not know what his intentions are as to returning to Coos county, or if he has cut himself loose from us for good. But, be that as it may, why does not friend Pershaker, Col. Rosa (now since he is again of us), or some other of our citizens who hold the confidence of our people and are familiar with our needs, take the work in hand and get a steamer for our deep sea traffic?

Creeping Consumption

You first notice that you cough less. The pressure on the chest is lifted. That feeling of suffocation is removed. A cure is hastened by placing one of

In Memoriam

On the death of Lydia Haskin, aged 94 years, 10 months and 6 days. She left these earthly cares and joined the spirits of the realm above on Feb. 26, 1900, at 6 o'clock and 55 minutes in the morning. She passed peacefully away, as if only going to sleep. Grandmother—as she was mostly called—was born in Crawford county, Pa., April 20, 1805. In the year 1830 she moved with her parents, James and Rhoda Sutton, to Fulton county, Ill. She was there married to Harvey B. Haskin, Nov. 20, 1831; removed to Buchanan county, Iowa, in 1846, and remained there until 1874, in which year she removed to Coos county, Oregon.

There were six children, as follows: Jesse T., Andrew J., James C., Isabella J., John W. and Francis M., of whom only one is known to be living, Jesse T., who lived with his mother at the time of her death and who is past 67 years old. Harvey R. Haskin, husband of deceased, died Sept. 22, 1898—thirty-one years prior to her death. Her many friends and relatives in Iowa and Oregon will mourn her loss. She was a great help in sickness, was always ready and willing to help all who were in need.

"Rest in peace" will be the voice of all who knew her. She has left us with only the past good deeds and kindnesses bestowed on us to keep her fresh in our memory. In this last sickness she said she would never be well here again, and only prayed to the Superior Power to remove her spirit and take it home. She waited with all patience until the time came, then, when she could not speak, she motioned to be raised up and seemed only to be in a calm and peaceful sleep. Only sleeping, calmly sleeping. Till the Lord shall come to claim. Then why do we not cease weeping? For we know He'll call her name. She has only gone before us, and we know not now how soon We'll be called to join her shore. In that bright and happy home. Do not mourn for the departed. Though we cannot see her face; She has left us broken-hearted, But will fill her heavenly place. Soon she said, I'll pass away; Soon I'll stand on yonder shore; There is no night, but all is day; Meet me there to part no more. Geo. W. MARTIN, Fairview, Or., March 4, 1900.
