Improving the Kansas Cow.

The criticism is sometimes raised that the experiments carried on at our agricultural experiment stations are but little value to the average farmer for the reason that the stock used are either pure blood or high grades, and are not the kind with which the average farmer has to deal. On the contrary considerable criticism has been expressed by farmers and agricultural writers about the Kansas State Agricultural College spending its time experimenting with scrub cattle, when it might be spending its time to so much better advantage in testing blooded cows, Undoubtedly both criticisms are well taken. With most of our farmers it would be impracticable as well as unwise for them to sell off their common and grade cows and buy pure bloods.

The problem that confronts them today is how to make the most of what they have. The record of 25 Kansas herds show that a number are succeeding. But while a few of our best Kansas cows are yielding from 200 to 300 pounds of butter fat per annum the general average is far below. The average annual capacity per cow of the herds of 82 patrons investigated by the Kansas Experiment Station was 104 pounds of butter fat. In other states where the cow machine has been the object of prolonged and deep study we find whole herds that average over 350 pounds butter fat, and individual cows that yeild form 400 to 500 pounds. This with our best Kansas records gives us an idea of what we might expect with good dairy cows, and shows very plainly that there are great opportunities for improvement. The dairy interest of Kansas are demanding a dairy cow that has the capacity to transform our cheap raw feeds into milk and do it with such a degree of efficiency that there will no longer be any doubt about the unprofitableness of trying to squeeze milk out of a beef animal. If this great need of Kansas dairying is to be met, it will neccessitate the use of better sires in grading up our common herds.

A good grade cow may yield as much milk and butter as a pure blood, but a grade of any kind has not the power to transmit its qualities to its offspring as has the pure blood, for the reason that the latter has received the qualities for which the breed is noted through a long series of years of careful breeding and selection, and these qualities have become fixed or permanent.—Kansas Farmer.

Profit on One Cow.

F. H. Scribner of Rosendale, Wis., tells in American Cultivator how he managed and fed the Jersey cow Ida of Glendale, with the cost of food and record for the year. She came fresh Oct, 20, having been dry 52 days. About a month before she was due to calve he began to give her five pounds of bran a day, with all the hay and corn ensilage she would eat. As soon as he dared he began to increase her feed, adding to the bran a mixture of two parts ground oats to one part gluten feed until she was eating five pounds of bran, eight pounds ground oats and four pounds gluten. On this she did not seem to gain or lose any flesh. Having this ration 180 days, she ate 1,440 pounds of the oats, costing $10.80, and 720 pounds of gluten, costing $5.40. During the year she ate 1,825 pounds of bran, costing $12.75, one ton of clover hay worth $7 and six tons corn ensilage valued at $9. Add to these items 20 weeks in pasture at 25 cents a week, $5, and the cost of a year's keeping was $49.25. She gave 13,474.8 pounds of milk that made 740 pounds of butter worth 20 cents a pound, $148, leaving profit over cost of feed $98.75.

Smallpox at Yoncalla.

Editor Review: Smallpox has existed here for some three weeks or more. It has been in a mild form in most cases, but there have been four or five quite severe cases. There has been great differences of opinion among the people as to whether it was smallpox or not. The unbelievers have been principally among those who are oracles unto themselves, ready to set up their own opinions against the intelligence, experience and learning of others. No one who is acquainted with the symptoms of the disease and who has taken the trouble to investigate the nature of the disease as manifested here, has doubted that smallpox exists among us. Owing to the care and skill of Dr Vose and the prompt action of the city council, who at once established quarantine regulations at all houses where the disease manifested itself, it has been checked and at this time there are only two new cases. Dr. Vose deserves special credit for the untiring energy, perseverance and skill which he has brought to bear on the situation. In the face of adverse criticisms he has quietly gone ahead and done his full duty as a physician to his patients and to the community at large.—A. CITIZEN in Roseburg Review.

The Astoria Annual Regatta.

Astoria, Ore., June 29, 1901.—The Astoria eighth annuel regatta will be held this year on Augurt 15, 16 and 17, at which time the tidal and weather conditions are expected to be as desired. When the Astoria regatta was first inaugurated it was a purely local affair, with fish boat races being the principal features. It has now outgrown this and is recognized as the leading event of the kind on the Pacific coast, carrying with it all coast championships for oarsmen and will this year find scullers and crews present from California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. With the growth of the regatta the social features have multiplied while the ceremonies surrounding the queen equal those in spectaular interest of the fiestas of California or the Mardi Gras of New Orleans. This year the executive committee has decided to permit the citizens of Portland to select the queen, and she and her maids of honor will be the guests of the city during the carnival. Last year Astoria spent $10,000 in preparing for the regatta and double that amount will be available this year if necessary to make it a greater success than in the past.

[Marshfield Sun.]

Mrs. Thos. Howard returned from San Francisco on the Alliance.

The new locomotive for the railroad will be placed on the steam schooner Dispatch in San Francisco on the 5th inst. and is expected here the first of next week.

The work on the schooner in the Marshfield shipyard is fast nearing completion and it will not be many weeks before she is ready for the water. The caulkers have finished work on the deck and have a good start on the hull, which is receiving the first coat of paint.

Thomas Howard, the jeweler, received by the last steamer a unique engraving machine of the latest model. Mr. Howard was particularly fortunate in securing this machine, as there are only three of its like that are out of the factory, one being on exhibition at Buffalo. The scope of work that can be accomplished with it is marvelous, one being able to engrave letters of the largest size to the smallest inscription desired on the inside of a ring. It is a piece of mechanism that is well worth seeing.

Albert Matson and H. H. McPherson returned last Saturday from an outing at Golden Falls, on North Coos river. This is almost an unfrequented spot by Marshfielders, but Mr. McPherson, who is a close observer of the grandeur and beauties of nature, and whose travels qualify him as a capable judge, says the magnificence of the sight of Golden Falls; the water precipitated over 380 feet of gorgeous rock, is unsurpassed and the beauties of the Grand Canyon of the Coloraeo pale into insignificance compared to these. The route that has been heretofore necessary to travel to reach the Golden Falls has been long and tiresome, but since the Alleghany wagon road to Douglas county leads within a mile of the Falls, and it has been improved and opened for travel with wagon, in the future this scenic portion of Coos county will be more easy of access to the sight-seer and one will be well repaid for the expense of the trip.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve should be promptly applied to cuts, burns and scalds. It soothes and quickly heals the injured part. There are worthless counterfeits, be sure to get DeWitt's. R. S. Knowlton.

Overflow at Morgue.

New York, July 3.—It was not as hot in this city this morning as it was yesterday, but the percentage of humidity was much greater. At 11 o'clock the thermometer had risen to 92. Up to 11 a. m. today the total number deaths from heat in Greater New York after 2 a. m. was 47.

The action of the Board of Governors of the Stock Exchange in voting to close the Exchange Friday and Saturday and the decision of the banks to restrict business as far as possible on these days were due entirely to the intense heat.

There were so many bodies in the morgue today that the compartment could not hold them all, and it was necessary to send the remains of 60 persons to the potters' field before the expiration of the five days usually allowed for identification or reclamation.

The extreme heat was broken temporarily at last in this city about 2:30 this afternoon when rains began to fall, accompanied by a 20-mile wind. Since the extremely hot weather began on June 28 it has been impossible to keep a complete record of deaths from the heat, but a careful estimate today places the total in Greater New York for the six days at 517. All of these were well-defined cases of heat prostration resulting from the high temperature.

Hottest Points Today.

Kans. City, Kan., July 3.—Kansas today was the hottest place in the United States. Leavenworth and Hutchinson each reported a temperature of 104 degress in the shade at 1 o'clock this afternoon with the mecuury still on rise; Fort Scott reported 103; Arkansas City 96 and Lawrence 96. Central Kansas is experiencing the nearest approach to "hot winds" encountered this season.

At noon today the Kansas City weather bureau reported a temperature of 97 degrees, four degrees hotter than at noon yesterday. No prostritions have been reported today, probably due to the fact that the humidity is lower than yesterday. Throughout the southwest the same conditions prevail with no relief in sight.

Much Reading for Little Money.

The New Work World has got the cost of printing down to a minimum. Its latest offer of its monthly newspaper-magazine is interesting if from no other cause than that it shows the acme of "how much for how little."
