OUTLOOK FAVORABLE.

Present Management Higely Satisfactory.

The J. D. Sprsckels & Bros. Co. Are Here to Stay.

F. S. Samuels, representing the J. D. Spreckels & Bros. Co., who arrived here on the 13th, has completed a very exhaustive examination of the company's property in this section, and is throughly conversant with all the details relative thereto. He possesses the indispensable business qualifications necessary to fully comprehend the situation, and, as a result, his visit will redound to the interest of the county in general. An enormous amount of the company's money was squandered here under the former management, and many of the residents, pessimistically inclined, were under the impression that when the company assumed control all work would cease, as the vast expenditure already undergone, without any return from the outlay, would act as a deterrent factor, and that the J D. Spreckles & Bros. Co would shake the dust of Coos county from their feet as rapidly as posible. We are pleased to learn that Mr. Samuels doesn't see it in that light. On his present visit, when in company with Manager Chandler he had an opportunity to look into the matter thorougely, he was agreeably surprised at the great resources of this portion of the state, and considers that a bright future awaits it—one that will justify capital in investments under capable management, with every assurance that such investments will prove remunerative.

We were accorded an interview with Mr. Samuels, whom we found most affable and sociable, and pleased to impart information in which the public might be interested. In reply to our inquiries he said:

"I am well pleased with the condition of our affairs here. The railroad is in excellent order, and the Beaver Hill mine has all the earmarks now of a profitable proposition. Had the same economical, intelligent and honest management been imposed on the property in its early career, Coos bay would have had through rail connections by this time. Enough money was wasted and stolen by the former management to have nearly built the railroad to Roseburg.

"Our efforts now are being mainly directed towards preparing the Beaver Hill mine for a large output. The coal is in great favor in San Francisco, and its present quality, as shown in the face of the slope, is even better than we mined before.

"I am impressed with the posibilities for business in this county, and think that a proposition which is entitled to early consideration is that of building a steamship especially adapted for passengers and light freight service; one that could make the voyage to and from San Frascisco, in from 24 to 30 hours. With our facilities in San Francisco, and our railroad and coal mine connections here, such a steamship could be made to pay, and as she would be especially designed for passengers she would be up-to-date in every respect.

"As for the question of the extension of the railroad, we are not ready yet to talk, but I can say this—that we have a very large capilal invested here, and we certainly will do everything that good business policy demands to improve our position. We believe in keeping things moving. What we do, naturally benefits the community here, and we believe that we should have the good will and support of the people." —Coos Bay News.

The changes of text books recently made by the State Text Book Commission for the schools of Oregon, places additional duties and responsibilities upon candidates for certificates at the February examination. To meet these requirements, the State Normal at Drain will organize teachers' review classes at the opening of school, September 9th. Strong, practical work is assured. All review work is in the hands of the most experienced members of the faculty. The Normal being in touch with the school boards of several counties enables it to be of value in helping both teachers and schools. Write the President, Drain, Oregon, for information.

What to do with one's summer vacation is a perennial question. Most people have neither the money nor the wish to go to an expensive, overcrowded seaside or mountain resort and yet every man needs a few drys devoted to pleasure and a complete rest at least once a year. The Cosmopolitan for July gives a solution of the problem in a well-written, illustrated article, "A Houseboat—The Modern Palace." Undoubtedly a house boat offers a cheap and comfortable vacation, and the ranks of its devotees are constantly swelling.

Life in a Furnace.

Kansas City, Mo., July 22.—A veritable hot blast litterally scorched the southwest today, breaking all heat records in the history of the local weather bureau. Yesterday Kansas City experienced the hottest weather ever known here, the government thermometer reaching 104 and remaining about the 100 mark for seven hours. Two dozen prostrations, nine fatal, were the result. Today at 3:30 o'clock the weather bureau thermometer at the highest point in the city showed 106 degrees, with street thermometers in the business districts reaching as high as 128. The thermometer at 8 a. m. registered 90; was 101 at noon, and at 3 p. m., 104. Hardly a breath of air stirred. The suffering was intense, especially among persons compelled to work outdoors and in the poor districts in the bottoms. Seven deaths from prostrations were reported during the day in Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan., and over 30 people were overcome by the heat. This makes a total dead for two days of 16. Most of the victims were elderly people.

Farmers are still rushing their live stock to market because of the scarcity of water. Today the local receipts of cattle were the heaviest on record, amounting to 25,000 head. There was also a big advance in the price of grain, attributed to the heat. September corn rose almost 4 cents to 60⅝ cents, and September wheat went up 4½ cents to 69½ cents. Single car lots of corn sold as hige as 63 cents a bushel to go back to the country.

Heavy showers fell this afternoon in southwestern Missouri, in the vicinity of Joplin, the zinc district, and in Southeastern Kansas around Fort Scott. There is no prospect for a heavy fall, the only thing that will cause a permanent break in the drouth.

At 11 o'clock tonight a local thunder shower brought relief to the suffering people in a much lower temperature, but the rainfall was small.

Estimates of the probable corn yield have fallen to a quarter of a crop. Many counties report a total loss of all the grains. From nearly every town in the state, except Topeka, come complaints of the scarcity of water.

City in Alaska is Swept Away by Flood.

Seattle, July 18.—The steamer Roanoke, which arrived from Nome today, brought full particulars of the terrible flood on Fish river, which occurred on June 15th, causing a loss of over $50,000. The flood swept down Fish river, demolishing building, sweeping away stores and houses and carrying general devastation in its wake. The damage was almost entirely confined to Council City and when the Roanoke departed from Nome that place was said to be in ruins. Only one house in the whole town was left standing. Most of the buildings at Council City were located on the flat.

On June 17th at midnight the ice broke, and, sweeping over the flat at Council City, utterly demolished and destroyed every building but one, the Dauntless hotel, run by Joe Dexter. That was saved by a heavy log cabin, the property of Harry Koetz, and although the cabin was demolished, it turned the ice and thus saved the Dauntless. The North American Transportation and Trading Company's buildings were located on the flat and all were demolished and about ten tons of freight damaged.

The people are living in tents on the hills. The Roanoke brought with her over $1,000,000 in gold and sixty passengers. It was four years ago that this same ship arrived from St. Michael with treasure on board which started a stampede for the gold diggings which must forever stand unequaled in the history of the world. Nome was not even thought of at that time and the treasure was obtained from the interior of Alaska. As it was then, so it is today, for the mines of the interiar continue to contribute their yellow treasure to the marts of the world, while a backward season prevents any fair estimate being made of the wealth of the newer country.

Increase in Value of Red Cedar.

A well posted Puget Sound log buyer prophecies that within the next five years cedar stumpage will be worth $4 per 1000 feet. He bases his prediction on the fact that the consumption of timber in the manufacture of shingles is so enormous, as compared with the amount available, that the growing scarcity will force the price to the figure named. There may be a great deal of truth in the statement. The government estimates place the amount of standing cedar at 16,309,453,000 feet. The annual shingle production is not far from 4,000,000,000 shingles; or at 10,000 pieces to 1000 feet of log, 400,000,000 board measure is a fair estimate of the amount used by the shingle manufacturers annually, and the cedar lumber production is estimated at 100,000,000 feet in round numbers per year.

Eliminating, however, the great damage done by forest fires, the inaccessibility of a good deal of the timber, and the fact that some of the most valuable tracts are being held for the distant future by large holders, it is fair to assume that within fifteen years red cedar as a shingle wood will be a comparatively scarce commodity in this state. As it is, there are practically no locations available in this state where cheap timber is to be had, and on the whole we are inclned to believe that the estimate referred to is based upon facts—Pacific Lumber Trade Journal.

During the past month $10,000 has been refused for 160 acres of choice cedar along the South Bend branch of the N. P. R. R., estimated to cut 12,000 cords of bolts.

The only cedar accessible to the Columbia at the present time is tributary to the Cowlitz river, which is passing rapidly into strong hands, and held at stiff prices. The supply of cedar in Oregon is not large. The opening up of the Nehalem valley would make accessible quite a body, but the big cedar belt of Washington, with its wealth of fine cedar, can never be duplicated in this state. The only regrettable feature of Washington's cedar output has been the fact that comparatively little profit, either to the manufacturer or the state, has been realized. Shingle making until recently has realized little more than "overalls and bacon" for the manufacturer. From now forward, cedar will be more carefully lumbered, and the experience of Washington will serve this state well. The only thing that has saved the cedar of Oregon has been its remoteness.—Oregon Timberman.

NEW HOPE FOR MANY.

The Altruist Industrial Association, A Mutual Co-Operative Brotherhood to Redeem and Purchase Homes, Lands, Provide Employment and Pensions.

A charter has been granted by the superior court of Wilcox county, Georgia, authorizing $10,000 capital stock for the aforesaid purposes, looking to combining labor and small investors who shall be paid a reasonable interest on shares of stock convertible into insurance or Home benefits. Why not form branches of one great Federation, all paying what they can; weekly, monthly or yearly to a fund for that purpose only?

Out of 100 men one dies yearly; it would follow that if each man pays $12 for the year, $1200 will be received, and to pay one beneficiary $10 per month, we would have a large amount to invest. If ten men can provide the pension, what could millions do who now furnish the money to the large Life Companies who never put up a dollar except the premiums received. All go in, get your friends to form a branch and pay in what you can. Each $1 guarantees you a life pension of 10 times that amount, should you become disabled or die during the month so paid for; if you live, pay again for the benefit of another.

It is now generally known and understood that Drunkenness is a desease and no weakness. Sufferers may now cure themselves at home without publicity or loss of time from business by this wonderful "Home Gold Cure," which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of inebriates. The faithful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how hard a drinker. Our records show the marvelous transformation of thousands of Drunkards into sober, industrious and upwright men.
