The Progress of the Dairy Test.

The dairy test at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo grows in interest as time passes. It has become a clear demonstration of the superiority of the specil dairy breeds for dairy purposes. There is a very satisfactory presentation of the fact that some cows produce much more butter than others from a given quantity of feed and that the cows which can do this are by far the most apt to be found in the breeds which have been developed specially for dairy purposes. The Jerseys are well known as stayers and hence it is not surprising to find them taking a higher relative standing as the test progresses. For the week ending August 13, the latest for which we have the complete figures the Jersey herd made more butter than any other breed; they made a larger aggregate profit than any other breed; they made a larger profit in proportion to food consumed than any other breed, and they produced butter at a lower food cost than any other breed.

The five Jersey cows produced $14.44 cents' worth of butter from $4.44 cents' worth of food, while the Shorthorns produced $12.69 worth of butter from $6.19 worth of food.

The food costs of a pound of butter for each breed was as follows:

	Cents.
Shorthorn	.12.2
Dutch Belted	11.0
Brown Swiss	10.4
Red Polls	9.6
Guernsey	9.0
Ayrshire	8.4
Polled Jersey	8.1
French Canadian	8.0
Jersey	7.8

The french Canadian cows made a strong showing on producing butter at low cost, but it was because of the low cost of their food. They made only 44.23 pounds of butter, as compared with 50.75 pounds made by the Shorthorns, but the latter ate $6.19 worth of food while the French Canadians ate only $3.55 worth. The Shorthorns ate relatively about as much more hay and silage as they did of grain, and as it is not probable that they ate an excessive quantity of hay and silage it appears that the French Canadian cows are much more capable of turning food into butter fat. It is probable, however, that all of the cows, except the French Canadians and Polled Jerseys, receive more grain than would be given them in well conducted dairies under ordinary circumstances.—Rural Northwest.

Water Cure for Chronic Constipation.

Take two cups of hot water half an hour before each meal and just before going to bed, also a drink of water, hot or cold, about two hours after each meal. Take lots of outdoor exercise—walk, ride, drive. Make a regular habit of this and in many cases chronic constipation may be cured without the use of any medicine. When a purgative is required take something mild and gentle like Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Eor sale by R. S. Knowlton.

Wherein do the good and poor cows differ? Merely in the apparatus for the production of milk; and in the possession of such organs, in a great er or less degree, hangs all the law and the profits.

Of what goes into the mouth, a percentage, be it more or less, comes out of the udder and the profit returned by the cow depends on what that percentage may be. It is useless to pour expensive food into the cow's stomach when she will only return 75 cents in milk for every $1 in food; fully to buy $16 worth of bran wherewith to make 4 cent cow beef; nonsense to fill the silo only to waste half its contents on poor cows; but it is probable that only when Gabriel blows his last trumpet will the mismated trio of poor cow, poor food and poorer farmer, cease to work together.—Hoard's Dairyman.

R. W. Pursell, Kintersville, Pa., says he suffered 25 years with piles and could obtain no relief until DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effected a permanent cure. Counterfeits are worthless. R. S. Knowlton.

The Springfield (Mo.) Record says: S. A. Haseltine has just refused an offer of $10,000 for the crop of an 89 acre apple orchard, the purchaser to do the picking and packing. Mr. Hrseltine expects to get a better price.

Prospective Demand for Dried Apples.

To the Editor: It is now well known that this year's apple crop in the apple-growing sections of the Atlantic and Middle Western States is going to be a light one, and in some instances almost a failure. Eastern buyers of both dried and green apples are lookidg to Oregon to supply their shortages. The demand for dried apples is going to be good, and no doubt the price will correspond with the demand. A very large percentage of the apples that could be used for this purpose go to waste in our orchards year after year. Our fruitmen should not allow this wasteful practice to be charged up against them this year, but take advantage of this opportunity prepare in time to take care of this raw product and convert it into a staple article of commerce. One buyer who is desirous of contracting for carload lots for October and November delivery writes, "We want choice and fancy apples; they must be bleached, well cut and trimmed, and well dried, so that they will keep color and not ferment or mould. They should be neatly packed in 50-pound boxes, handsomely faced. The highest market price can be had for carload lots of these goods that are white, clean cut, thoroughly well dried and packed."

Sec. State Board of Horticulture.

A Lesson.

Chas. Gibson, of Meadow, met with rather a peculiar accident recently by which he was laid up for a day or two. He awoke one night feeling very thirsty and rising from his bed went out to a spring to get a drink of water. On the way he stepped on an axe which split one of his toes, disabling him for work for a time. Moral—See that your wife places a pitcher of drinking water handy to your bed every night before you retire.—The West.

——Brother Weatherson, what would be the matter, with her sticking the ax in the chopping block, and he would not get onto the edge in case he went out for any purpose.

A Certain Cure for Dysentery and Diarrhoea.

"Some years ago I was one of a party that intended making a long bicycle trip," says F. L. Taylor, of New Albany, Bradford county, Pa. "I was taken suddenly with diarrhoea, and was about to give up the trip, when Editor Ward, of the Laceyville Messenger, suggested that I take a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I purchased a bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one on the route I made the trip successfully and never felt any ill effect. Again last summer I was almost completely run down, with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy and this time one dose cured me." Sold by R. S. Knowlton.

No Noxious Doses. No Weakening of the Nerves. A Pleasant and Positive Cure for the Liquor Habit.

It is now generally known and understood that Drunkenness is a desease and no weakness. Sufferers may now cure themselves at home without publicity or loss of time from business by this wonderful "Home Gold Cure," which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of inebriates. The faithful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how hard a drinker. Our records show the marvelous transformation of thousands of Drunkards into sober, industrious and upwright men.

The Corbin City wharf is making rapid advancement in the direction of China, and will soon be completed, although many predict that it will make a more rapid advancement toward America next winter.

The Southern Stock Company performed at Leneve's Hall last Wednesday and Thursday evening's and although greatly handicapped on account of the lack of a stage and their recent loss by fire of their scenery and wardrobe they gave much better satisfaction than any theatrical troupe that has ever passed through this place. The people of this vicinity have been so often humbugged that this very deserving company, composssed of ladies and gentlemen possessing high-class talent, did not receive the liberal patronage which their efforts and merits deserved, 'but they will be warmly welcomee should they return.

Engineers, surveying a line of railroad from Coos bay to Corvallis arrived Wednesday evening. They are at work on the line that is proposed to run from Corvallis south via Junction, Monroe and other points, and that which at various times past there has been newspaper mention. The preliminary line between Corvallis and Monroe bears three or four miles west of the old O. & C. right of way, and comes through the Thomas Cooper and adjoining farm and thence to Corvallis. A standard guage road is proposed.—Corvallis Times.

The story is told of a Eugene sport who went fishing and caught a fine salmon trout. He went to the telegraph office and sent the following message to his wife: "I've got one. Weighs seven pounds and is a beauty." In reply came the following signed by his wife: "So have I. Weighs ten pounds. He isn't a beauty; looks like you."—Plaindealer.

A Communication.

Mr. Editor—Allow me to speak a few words in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I suffered for three years with the bronchitis and could not sleep at nights. I tried several doctors and various patent medicines, but could get nothing to give me any relief until my wife got a bottle of this valuable medicine, which has completely relieved me. —W. S. Brockman, Bagnel, Mo. This remedy is for sale by R. S. Knowlton.

Notice to Debtors.

All persons knowing themselves to be indebted to me are respectfully called upon to make immediate settlement as I must have what is comming to me to enable me to carry on my business,

Yours, Respectfully,

City Under Water.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 1.—With the breaking of dawn this morning the citizens of Cleveland awoke look upon a scene of devastation and destruction caused by a raging flood. While the entire city was more or less affected, the great volume of raging water vented its anger over miles of the eastern portion of the city and caused an amount of damage estimated at $1,000,000.

The overflow was caused by a heavy rain that commenced to fall shortly after 2 o'clock, turning into a perfect cloudburst between the hours of 3 and 5, and then continued with great force until nearly 10 o'clock. The storm, according to the weather officials, was the heaviest that has swept over Cleveland since the establishment of the Government Bureau in this city, over 40 years ago. There was no loss of life.

There is more catarrh in this section fo the country than all other diseases and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses of 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials Address. F. J.
