Get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets at R. S. Knowlton's drug store. They are easier to take and more pleasant in effect than pills. Then their use is not followed by constipation as is often the case with pills. Regular size, 25c. per box.

If you want to buy a farm or other property in the Coquille valley, our advice may save you more than the commission, though you had to pay it your self, which is seldom the case. You will find us posted on locations and environments. R. D. Sanford.

Rev. J. M. Hunter has resigned his position as pastor of the Christian church at this place, to the regret of many warm friends. He expects to do some canvassing work or something of that nature for a rest. We regret very much to lose these good people from our community.

A. J. Sherwood, of this place, returned yesterday from a week's visit with R. C. Dement, of Myrtle Point. They took a run up into the mountains to the stock ranch of Mr. Dement and Andrew succeeded in getting one deer. Mr. Sherwood enjoyed the trip exceedingly and is loud in praise of Mr. Dement's herd of cattle, remarking that he had just seen the largest and fattest band of beef steers he had seen for many years.

Miss Rose Ferry, of Riverton, suffered a real painful experience last week by running a needle almost through one of her fingers which happened to be left in a garment which she was washing. The needle passed through the finger nail and broke off so close to the nail that no hold could be gotten to pull it out, and the plucky young lady showed her nerve by cutting around the needle with a knife until a pair of tweezers would take hold, and extracted the needle herself.

In another column we mention meeting of the Fraternal Aid Association at which 21 new members were installed, and on yesterday evening another meeting was held at which 10 more were led into the mysteries of this order. State Organizer Frederick is doing a land-office business for this order and will doubtless have other councils organized in a very short time.

The Coast Mail gives its people a bicycle talk last week, a thing which is not often out of place. While there are a very few people on both sides of the question who intend to be mean, the one claiming more privilege than would be just, while the other would be unwilling to accord any at all, there should be a reasonable view taken by the people generally and our state law strictly obeyed and such regulations adopted in our cities as will serve the best purpose to the least injurious possible. We should judge from the Coast Mail that the editor rides a wheel sometimes, and while his advice may be good in Marshfield, we think it could be improved on so far as we are concerned. The Mail advises the pedestrian, when approached suddenly from behind by a wheel and rider "not to jump to one side. If you must jump, jump straight ahead, or straight up in the air, not to one side." This may be all right in Marshfield, but our city ordinance on this subject provides that the wheelman steer for the outer edge of the walk, and the pedestrian take the inside of the walk. If all would keep this in mind and use proper care at corners, there is little danger of collisions.

STROKEN WITH PARALYSIS. Henderson Grimett, of this place, was stricken with partial paralysis and completely lost the use of one arm and side. After being treated by an eminent physician for quite a while without relief, my wife recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and after using two bottles of it he is almost entirely cured.—Geo. R. McDonald, Man, Logan county, W. Va. Several other very remarkable cures of partial paralysis have been effected by the use of this liniment. It is most widely known, however, as a cure for rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by R. S. Knowlton.
