Hodgings-Grinegar.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
 L. H. Heisner, Wednesday evening, Nov. 6, at eight o'clock, when Arthur H. Hodgins and Miss May L. Grinegar were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, the Rev. Irvine, of the Baptist church, officiating.
 The parlors were beautifully decorated in honor of the occasion with a profusion of Autumn foliage, ferns and choice flowers. The bride and groom stood under a large bell, which was suspended in the center of the room, while the ceremony was being performed. The bride was most winsome in a beautiful gown of nun's veiling, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.
 Mr. R. McCoon acted as best man and Miss Ollie Davis as bridesmaid.
 After the many congratulatory expressions had been voiced, the guests, about forty in number, set down to a sumptuous repast, which concluded the nuptial festivities.

The happy couple were recipients of many nice and useful presents, of which the following is a partial list:

 well and popularly known in Marshfield, and will make their future home in West Marshfield, where Mr.
 Hodgins has lately fitted-up a dwelling house.—Sun.

Now that Andy Carnegie is back home, a boom in the library industry may be confidently looked for.

PRETTY WEDDING.

Mr. Fairman and Miss Knott Made Man and Wife.

Mr. C. S. Fairman and Miss Nola F. Knott were united in the bonds of matrimony last evening.
 Rev. B. F. Clay performed the ceremony at the Christian church parsonage. A few intimate friends were there.

Both the contracting parties are well known here, Mr. Fairman having for a long time been with the Bos Butcher company, and Miss Knott having had charge of the millinery department of the Golden Rule store.

The newly wedded pair left last evening on a short honeymoon trip to Payette, where they will visit relatives.—Idaho Daily Statesman.

Riverton Pick-ups.

Last week Messrs. Price and Cavanaugh, having all the steam connections complete fired, up and tested the engines of the Riverton saw mill. It sounds like old times to hear the hum of the mill and the blast of the whistle.

James Vowell and family have moved on the Devilsish place. He has purchased a piece of land of his father-in-law, W. T. Knight, which gives him an outlet to the county road.

Mrs. Ed. Rose, of Parkersburg, spent a day in Riverton.

N. C. Medley came down from Coquille on a visit. He returned the next day.

Mrs. Clementine McCue, of the lower river, made our town a business call. She sold her Riverton property to James Vowell.

Steve Steward is now a land holder of Riverton. He purchased the D. H. Campbell lot.

Frank Morgan came down from Roslyn, Washington, a short time ago. He is now employed in the Riverton Coal Mine. We have good grounds to believe that there is a greater attraction for him in Coos county, than coal digging.

DONNA ANSA.

School teachers are not exempt from fool-dangers, as was shown by the death of the principal of a Kansas City, Kans., school, who tried to start a fire in a stove with coal oil.

Ex-Senator Pettigrew seems willing to lead a crusade in favor of public ownership of railroads, which indicates that rumor was wrong when it put him on the road to becoming a railroad magnate.
