First Touch of Winter.

There was a change in the weather last Saturday that made the oldest inhabitant scratch his head for a precedent. It started to rain and did rain all day and toward evening there was a change of the wind around to the west and north and after supper the rain turned into snow with the best indications that by morning winter would put in an appearance. The thermometer began to return toward mother earth and had a regular "Slide, Kelly Slide," gait as it went bulldward. In a short time all that was left of Indian summer was a pleasant reminiscence, and it was anything to beat off Jack Frost. The weather man turned on about 3,000 volts of currents weather and set down and smiled. In the meantime the people did the rest. The first thought in this neck of the woods was the spud. It had been basking in an Indian summer haze so long that the farmer and dealers little realized that winter was nigh. There were several cars on the track here at the time, but little damage was done by the frost as the cars were promptly looked after, excepting one which was left open all night but it was only partially loaded. Rines & Co., who had twenty-two cars on track in Minneapolis, did some lively work in getting the railroads to look after the potatoes and the telegraph and telephone wires were kept hot for a time. Many of the cars were placed in the roundhouse while stoves were placed in the other cars. There were over 200 cars of potatoes on the track in Minneapolis and St. Paul Sunday and the railroads and potato shippers had all they could do to save the precious spuds. A good many of the farmers were caught with their potatoes not properly protected. It is said that one farmer near town had 2,000 bushels out in the field unprotected and had refused to pay three cents a bushel to have them hauled.

The weather man says he will have some more Indian summer yet but probably means next year. The foregoing we give from the Princeton, (Minn.) Union, which paper was handed us by our new arrival, Mr. Varney, from that state, to which he calls our attention in contrast with the mild weather which we are enjoying. At this point we have only had one frost that was noticeable, and a heavy fog coming on that morning, prevented its doing any damage. There are several pear trees in town with quite a second crop of fruit on which is nearly grown, and judging from the looks of things, it may yet get ripe. Young second-crop potatoes stand a foot high in many gardens, presenting a real May-appearance, while the strawberry patch are almost white with bloom, and the evergreen blackberry vines have bloom, green and ripe berries in considerable quantities. Only a few kinds of trees are beginning to drop their leaves. These things look strange to persons from parts of the country on the same parallel with ours but inland.

Hymeneal Bonds.

Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, Miss Elva Leneva, of Bear creek, became Mrs. Walter D. Farrier, at the home of the groom's father, Mr. Geo. Farrier of Bandon.

The marriage ceremony was solemnized by Elder Chas. E. Crumley.

It was a quiet wedding attended only by parents of the bride and groom and a few relatives. The groom and his bride arrayed in garments to suit the occasion, presented a very pleasing picture of fresh young manhood and budding womanhood.

When time with its mutations their heads have silvered o'er may they be able to say that they have sought and won the great battle of life and still stand side by side.

After the ceremony all repaired to the dining room where a table was laden with good things.

A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all as evidenced by the smiles that shone through tears of sympathetic enjoyment in the eyes of those who loved them, and the smiles and blushes of the happy pair. Expressions of sentimental feeling and little bursts of merriment added to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrier will reside on the ranch belonging to Mr. Geo. Farrier near Denmark, Curry county.

The Recorder tenders its congratulations.—Bandon Recorder.

A ball will be given next Saturday night at the Masonic Hall, the proceeds of which will be presented to Geo. O. Leace, on account of his recent bad luck in getting his leg broken. This is a worthy cause and should be patronized.

MARRIED—At the residence of F. E. Scofield, Nov. 5, 1901, Clara A. Scofield and S. C. Bunch was united in marriage by Rev. F. E. Scofield. Again our neighborhood has been called upon to give up one of its fair daughters. They come from far and near and take them one by one to beautify other homes. But such is life, we can only enjoy the beauty and grace of those loved ones for a short time, when some one else thinks they need them worse and so they go to make other homes. The usual serenade party came with their tins, bells, etc. But after waiting until midnight and the lights not going out they concluded they could not wait any longer. As soon as their presence was made known they were invited in and treated to wedding cake when they went home after wishing the bride and groom all manner of happiness.

A Physician Testifies.

"I have taken Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and have never used anything in my life that did me the good that did." says County Physician Geo. W. Scroggs of Hall County, Ga. "Being a physician I have prescribed it and found it to give the best results." If the food you eat remains undigested in your stomach it decays there and poisons the system. You can prevent this by dieting but that means starvation. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. You need suffer from neither dyspepsia nor starvation. The worst cases quickly cure. Never fails.
