A Happy New Year

A nice line of dress goods just arrived at the Emporium.

A. B. Dean is doing a general hauling business in town.

Best mineral roof paint at the I. X. L.

Dayton Flour 75c per sack at Loreuz's.

Big bargains in underwear at the Emporium.

Mackintoshes and rubber Coats must go at Emporium.

Prof. J. H. Barklow, of Arago, was in town Saturday.

Hats 20 per cent below cost to close out at the Emporium.

The schooners May Flower and Corinthian came in Saturday.

Not the cheap shoes, but shoes cheap!—Kanematz's.

Mrs. M. C. Miller arrived at her old home at Myrtle Point by Friday's train.

See the beautiful Stereoscopic Views of Ernest Stauff at Lorenz's store.

Call and see those grand bargains offered by Miss Josie Lyons, the Milliner.

The place has been filled for which we have been advertising for a housekeeper.

A. D. Boone and daughter, Miss Ethel, of Sumner, visited friends in town last week.

Prohibition meeting at the Christian church Friday and Saturday nights. Don't miss it.

D. C. Randleman, of Bear creek, was in town a day or so last week, returning home Saturday.

Hats and trimmings of all kinds for sale below cost at Miss Josie Lyons, to make room for new stock.

Capt. Hans Reed, of Marshfield, came over Friday and paid his brother, Capt. O. Reed, of Norway a visit.

J. L. Jowett and Miss Jewett, sister of Mr. J., and H. Harrington, all of Myrtle Point, paid Coquille a visit on Friday.

Begin the New Year right by fixing it up with the HERALD for a good year's reading. We club with all the leading people.

Rev. Edward Donnelly, of Marshfield, came over Friday and proceeded down the coast. He goes as far as Port Orford this trip.

Earl Goodman and Julius Jacobson expect to go to Oakland, California, by next steamer, where they will attend business college.

WANTED—To trade for a good back, one new Studebaker wagon, size 24 inches heavy. Enquire of B. Feuton, Myrtle Point, Oregon.

The thanks of the HERALD are due Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Strang for a beautiful supply of Wedding cake. We extend our congratulations.

Rev. W. S. Holcomb will begin a protracted meeting at the M. E. Church next Sunday at 11 a. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

James Hervey, W. T. Brady and Albert Bright were down this way last week looking after business connected with their logging operations.

Wm. Cox, accompanied by his daughters, Mesdames Joe Grimes and J. W. Leneve, passed through from Myrtle Point to the bay yesterday morning.

F. A. White has on hand a lot of excellent waterproof boot and shoe dressing of his own manufacture. Just the thing for your foot ware this wet weather.

Dr. G. A. Churchman has arrived with his family and goods and is ready to occupy the new Golden building as soon as it is ready for them, which will be within a few days.

Chas. Collier has bought the residence of C. E. Strang, South of the M. E. Church, and will build in a short time. Mr. Strang bought the place of Gene Robinson at the mouth of Cunningham.

Do not fail to hear Frank E. Coulter, on the subject of Prohibition and W. A. Petveys, violin soloist, both of Portland, Oregon, in the Christian Church of Coquille Friday and Saturday nights.

The HERALD received a lot of the finest honey we have seen lately and a big, fat, nicely dressed chicken from our friend, M. C. Bingham, just in time for Christmas dinner. Mr. B. certainly knows our weakness.

160 acres for sale. 1/2 of a mile from river. Enough red cedar to cut 1,000,000 shingles, good grazing and fruit land with fine bottom land garden of about 3 acres, and 100 young fruit trees set, few bearing. Fine coal on place. Would take good team as part pay, and give time on part. Inquire of the HERALD.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—The large and commodious furniture factory near the little church, equipped with good engine, planer, band-saw, two large lathes, edger, sandpapering machine and other articles too numerous to mention. Will sell at a bargain or trade for city property. Inquire of J. W. Krewson, Coquille, Oregon.

Woodman Ball Tonight.

Special bargains in Ladies hats at Mrs. Suggs.

Miss Georgia Leneve is still improving nicely.

M. F. Costa, of Prosser, was in town Thursday.

The Schooner Albon arrived in the river on Sunday.

Get your masks at M. H. Hersey's for the Woodman ball.

For fresh fruits, nuts and candies for Christmas, go to the Clyde.

Go to Walkers' the photographers, on Front St. for good pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Loreuz spent Christmas with their relatives in town.

The Clyde is headquarters for fresh nuts, candies and tropical fruits.

The steamer Argo left San Francisco for this river yesterday. She is to run here regularly hereafter.

Mesdames Walsh & Balch keep the finest of fresh bread on hand at the restaurant on Front street.

Lates styles in dress goods just received. Come and see them; it surprises you to see how cheap they are—at Martin's Store.

Asa Albee came down from his home Saturday in company with R. L. Gualino, a late arrival from Missouri, who is looking around for a location.

S. C. Giles, of Myrtle Point, went to the bay by Friday's train. He informs us that his brother, J. H. Giles, is suffering severely from inflammatory rheumatism.

Special sale of hats and all kinds of trimmings will be made by Miss Josie Lyons, the Milliner, for purpose of closing out her present stock. Call and get prices.

The steamer Welcome will hereafter start from Myrtle Point in the morning and arrive at Coquille City about 10 a. m., and return to Myrtle Point in the afternoon.

FOR SALE—A first-class, fire-proof safe, of the Hall pattern with two sets of double doors, weighing 5,000 pounds, as good as new, for $150. Inquire at the HERALD office.

Frank E. Coulter, a Prohibition speaker of power, and W. A. Petveys, violin soloist, of Portland, Oregon, will hold meetings Jan. 3rd and 4th 1902 in the Christian Church, Coquille.

Our young friend, R. F. Garrett, of the Point, went to Marshfield yesterday with the finest carload of hogs ever shipped over this road. Many of them weighed upwards of three hundred pounds and were young, fine looking pigs. There were sixty of them, and they were fattened on the farm of Mr. G. near that place.

The Oregonian is out with another Landis story which claims that a body had been found in Polk county and identified as that of the Coos county murderer by a brother, but we fear it is a false report. It looks as though it might have been one of his victims, but we can hardly accept the theory of its being Landis.

Master Edmund Gallier, 10-year-old son of Deputy Sheriff Ed Gallier, had quite a fall from the high bridge between the Tuttle Hotel and Jacobson's furniture store on Thursday evening. He and some other boys were running in play when Edmund fell, sliding under the banister and off the bridge, a distance of about 16 or 18 feet, falling on a log which happened to be at that place. He was able to stand on his feet at once and while he suffered considerably, he is getting along nicely, no bones being broken.

It will be noticed that in this week's HERALD the account of the death of three of Oregon's pioneers is noted. A few years more and there will be but few left to tell the thrilling stories of the adventures met with in crossing the plains by team and wagon, and faced the dangers encountered in subduing the Red man of the plains and forests of the wild West. As a matter of course we will always have the flowery tales of the story writers of these days, but it is much more satisfactory to sit down and listen to what you know to be facts direct from the lips of those who have taken part in the those exploits themselves.

The administration says in effect: "Poor Cubans! We must help them," and many Senators and Representatives reply by saying: "Ungrateful Cubans! We have already done too much for them." Between the two opinions Cuban reciprocity is not breaking any records.

BORN.

BANNING—In Coquille City, December 23, 1901, to Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Banning, twins—a son and daughter.

HENNINGER—In Coquille City, December 23, 1901, to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Henninger, a son.

MARRIED.

CURTIS—HOTT—At the residence of the bride's parents, Bandon, Oregon, December 25, 1901. Mr. A. C. Curtis of Libby, Oregon, and Miss Pearl Hott of Bandon, Oregon. Rev. G. Gillespie officiating.

JENKINS—FOX—At the residence of J. B. Fox in Coquille, December 25, 1901. Mr. J. T. Jenkins and Miss Myrtle Fox, W. S. Holcomb officiating.

STRANKO—RUTLEDGE—In Coquille City, December 25, 1901. Judge L. Rutledge officiating. C. E. Strang and Rachel Rutledge.

Prunes, much better grade than those we offered at 2c per pound 2 1/2c. At J. S. Kenematz's.

R. S. Luttrell and S. J. Hartley, of the Myrtle Point section, were over to Marshfield last week, returning on Friday. The HERALD acknowledges a pleasant call by these young gentlemen on their return.

W. J. Lichty, C. A. Schroeder, A. Wright and E. J. Price drew the big prizes at the Emporium at the Christmas drawing. Mr. Lichty getting the gold watch and Mr. Wright the silver watch. The Emporium has made many friends and given big values during this winter's trading season.

Leroy Stottler, a late arrival from Philadelphia, while playing Santa Claus at the home J. B. Dye on Cunningham on Christmas eve, got his cotton whiskers on fire and sustained quite a badly burned face. Willie Crox had somewhat the same kind of an experience at his father's home the same evening, but was not so severely burned.

Christmas has come and gone. There were several services in town and the day was spent quietly except a lively game of foot ball was played by the Log Ears and Myrtle Nutters, in which the Myrtle Nutters got away with the laurels. It was an interesting game, creating much amusement for the many spectators, and the best of feeling prevailed throughout the game.

H. W. Dunham returned by the last Alliance from Portland. Hark was glad to get back with his family and friends. He has had a good time in some respects while in the northern seas, while at the same time he had some pretty rough experience. The steamer Elk, of which his brother, Robert, was captain and Hark was chief engineer encountered some very rough weather. Mr. D. is sure that he got outo Landis while up there, but was not in a position to bring him back.

COUGHS and COLDS in CHILDREN. Recommendation of a Well Known Chicago Physician.

Quite a Change.

Our townsman, J. J. Stanley, has sold his farm in town to his neighbor, B. H. Burns, and has taken in part payment the small tract and home of Mr. B. where he will reside in the future. Mr. Stanley has leased the Bulletin for the coming year, and will be our worthy contemporary in the future. We welcome Mr. S. into the field of labor for the upbuilding of this section.

(From the Coos Bay News)

A large black fish was seen in North slough, one day last week, but no attempt was made to capture or kill it.

Dr. E. E. Straw is fitting up an office in Sengstacken & Smith's building. The doctor is lately from Klamath falls, and has brought an X-ray machine with him—the first one seen in this section.

Mrs. Alice Kruse, with her children, Grace and George, were in a railroad wreck on the Southern Pacific last Wednesday morning. They were in the south bound train on their way to Whittier, when their train was run into by a north bound train, at Uplands. Four men on the north bound train were killed, and the injured on both trains amounted to 38. Mrs. Kruse and children escaped unhurt.

Death of Jos. H. Russell.

The relatives of Joseph N. Russell who has been an inmate of the insane asylum of this state since the 12th of September, 1893 received a telegram Wednesday that he had passed away on that day. His age was 67 years, 1 month and 23 days. He was born in Lincoln County Missouri and crossed the plains in 1852. He served in the Rogue River Indian war of 1855-6 and in the Rebellion for three years. The cause of his insanity was an injury received several years ago.
