Long & Sons will have on hand a full stock of Rambler Bicycles for 1902, and also a full and complete stock of bicycle fixtures. Leave your order for the Rambler bicycles. In last week's issue we erred in giving the state treasurer credit with receiving $1800 salary in the article of Mr. Holden. This officer receives only the sum of $800 as a constitutional salary, thus making Mr. Holden's arguments all the stronger. The Herald force has all undergone vaccination lately, and hope all irregularities may be overlooked, and as the editor-in-chief has been bedfast for several days we would suggest to those having grievances to settle that they go to the "devil." Our townsman A. G. Bales, who accepted a position as general agent for the Oregon Fire Relief Association last season, and who was sent into Brittonia Columbia to operate, has had some experience with cold weather. He had the misfortune to fall on the ice fracturing one arm since which he has been fit to trans, fer to San Jose, California. Rev. J. M. Hunter, late of Coquille City, has accepted a call to the Christian church, of this city, and will begin his pastoral services next Sunday. Mr. Hunter has been preaching at evening services this week and has created a very favorable impression. He is a young man, having been in the ministry about five years.—Ashland Times. Captain J. M. Bright made his first trip up the North Fork with the new steamer, J. Warren, on Sunday. The trip was made to Gravel Ford from Myrtle Point in three hours against a strong current, carrying four tons of freight. The Captain would have made the second round trip that day only that the water was rising about a foot an hour and he knew that he could not have gone back under the bridges. When the river runs down, as it will do in a few days, the J. Warren will be able to demonstrate to good advantage her usefulness and convenience to the people of that branch of our river.

For valentines, go to Knowlton's. Large supply of fine Onion sets at Knowlton's Drug Store. The Alliance sailed from Coos bay southward on Thursday. Go to Walkers' the photographers, on Front St. for good pictures. See the beautiful Stereoscopic Views of Ernest Stauff at Lorenz's store. Surveyor Cathert did some surveying of county roads on the upper river last week. Master Arthur Sweet, of Lampa creek, paid our office a pleasant business visit on Friday. Very few people die in Coquille. No one would blame them after viewing the road to the cemetery. The enterprising citizens of Grants Pass have organized a board of trade; why not Coquille follow suit. W. M. Burgess is building a fine new residence at Carbondale and making other improvements on his ranch. County Clerk Hazard has turned over the 1901 assessment roll to the sheriff who is ready to receive taxes on the same. Attorney Lewis Roberts, of Myrtle Point, was in town yesterday on business connected with a suit mentioned in another column. H. P. Whitney, the pioneer market man and stock dealer of Marshfield, died at his home in San Diego, California, on the 31st ult. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bledsoe of this place, visited Myrtle Point last week. Mr. B is improving his Myrtle Point property with a new side walk. W. S. Chandler, manager of our railroad, went to San Francisco last week on business connected with the road. He was accompanied by Mrs. Chandler. Our late copious rains have raised the river to banks full and many logs are being brought down from the upper streams and our logging men are highly pleased. Ira Campbell, editor of the Eugene Guard, has been stricken with paralysis and his condition is causing alarm. Dr. Josephi, the Portland brain specialist, has been in Eugene to consult with Dr. Selover on Mr. Campbell's case. Editor Campbell is one of the best known valley newspapermen and his many friends hope for an early recovery. J. J. Carren, our popular and enterprising market and packing-house proprietor is making preparations to open a branch business at Myrtle Point, which will be managed by one Mr. Lewis, so well and favorably known by many of our people as an artist in this line, and Myrtle Point's good people may rest assured that this institution will be run on proper business principles. A case which created considerable interest was tried in Justice Cecil's court yesterday, in which Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas was plaintiff and Ed. Carter was defendant. The contention was over $100, which was loaned by Mrs. Thomas to Mr. Carter, he claims to defray his expenses on a mining tour to Alaska, with the understanding that he was to reimburse her in case he was successful, but she claims adversely. The following named jurors were called: M. Goodman, Bert Seal, P. Nichols, Ed. Jacobson, L. G. Simmons and David Fulton. Mr. Fulton was excused on account of sickness, and the parties to the suit agreed to proceed with the hearing before the five, who rendered a verdict for the plaintiff. Favorite Nearly Everywhere. All persons knowing themselves to be indebted to me are respectfully called upon to make immediate settlement as I must have what is coming to me to enable me to carry on my business. Yours, Respectfully, W. H. SCHROEDER.

Bandon Record. There is to be a masquerade ball at Dairyville, February 22. Superintendent Kronenberg, of the Coquille Mill & Lumber Co., of Parkersburg, has gone to San Francisco, on a business trip. It begins to look as though Cape Bianco will get a new lighthouse building, a bill having passed the senate appropriating $4,500 for that purpose. The schooner Monterey is loaded with about one hundred and twenty cords of matchwood which W. C. Salderson is shipping to San Francisco. Dr. Kime was called to the Bennett ranch, opposite Prosper, last Monday afternoon, the three-year old daughter of Andrew Hansen having received a fractured arm by falling. Teachers' Examination. February 12-14, 1902. Owing to the prevalence of infectious diseases in many parts of the county it is decided to hold their examination in three different parts as follows: At Myrtle Point conducted by C. H. Nosler, at Marshfield conducted by W. D. Reddy and at Coquille by the undersigned. The classes at Myrtle Point and Marshfield will meet at the school-house or at some other place selected by conductor. There will be no examination of manuscript during the time assigned to writing on the questions. But the board will meet at Coquille, Feb. 17, and pass on the work of the applicants. W. H. BUNCH. R. W. Airey of Gravel Ford is the father of a bouncing baby girl. The most of the farmers have been plowing during the last few days of fine weather. C. W. Hall, of San Francisco arrived at this place last week and is looking the country over securing myrtle timber. Mr. Wall has gotten out several fine samples of myrtle which he will ship to San Francisco, and will introduce the wood for making fine furniture and fancy wood work. He will purchase all the available timber and will put in a mill near this place and expects to ship a large amount of this beautiful wood to California. Valentines at Knowlton's. Severe storms have been raging along the Atlantic coast and great loss of life and property is reported. Our eastern mail failed to reach us today on account of the rough weather. We have not the full particulars. Hi Wright, mail carrier between this place and Marshfield, was a couple of hours late yesterday on account of an accident on a bridge over Marshfield. On our first page will be found an article on growing apples in the Willamette valley which we took from the Northwest Pacific Farmer, which by the way was not properly credited, which should be read by every Coos County fruit grower. This section is yet, to a great extent, within the good old days mentioned, and with proper vigilance can remain so for many years to come, but with a little carelessness on the part of a few, it will be a matter of but a short time till it will be a fight to a finish or eat wormy apples in Coos county, a thing to which we would all seriously object. We are anxious to see as many as possible of the best varieties of fruits imported, but too much pains cannot be exercised in their inspection for insect pests and total destruction when found. Mr. D. L. Alberts, of Johnson's Mill, near Coquille City, passed through Drain on his way home from San Francisco, Monday. He is also secretary of the Contenteva Lumber Co., of Mendocino county, Calif., and it was to attend to his official duties there that he made the trip. From his personal inspection of the lumber trade in our neighboring state and from what he could learn otherwise he believes there will be a lively lumber trade throughout the coast this year, and especially for the Coquille mill, and he states even at this early date in the season the trade is picking up everywhere. Mr. Alberts is also of the opinion that the day is not far distant when Coos county will have an outlet to the trunk line, through Oregon and to California by rail—before a couple of years have passed. He called attention to the work being done on the Spreckels line of road to Coquille. It is of the substantial order, the equipment employed first-class, and all work is being done to stay there. It is the belief that this railroad will come out to the Southern Pacific's line up the north fork at the Coquille, and if that is Spreckels' intention he has the means and will build it, or get somebody else to help him. It is also possible he is looking to the time when some of the conflicting railroad interests in the East may desire a separate outlet to the Pacific Ocean, and then he will be in a position to supply the demand with the good road and right of way which he now owns and can extend at will.—Drain Nonpareil.

(Coast Mail.) James Glover has gone to Empire to take care of R. Murray, who is reported to be very sick with the smallpox. C. R. Rollinson who has been putting in a camp of Modern Woodmen of America is highly pleased with the situation in Gardiner, having sent in a charter list of 55 from that place. He is a record breaker in the organizing business, as he has succeeded where four or five other organizers have failed to meet with results. Joe H. Yoakam will start from Coos river Sunday morning with a band of 20 head of dry cows, for J. M. Wise, of Perrydale, Polk Co. The cattle were bought of J. B. Davis. Mr. Yoakam will go out and come in over the Coos Bay wagon road. He has been through Myrtle Point once, and says he would rather travel the old road, as there is less mud. In a letter received Tuesday by Dr. W. A. Poye, Rev. Edw. Donnelly wrote from Portland that he was about to start for Washington, D. C., and would be back in about four weeks. He reports that he has been authorized by the archbishop to go ahead with his project of establishing a Catholic hospital in Marshfield. Alfred Johnson, Jr., of Johnsons mill near town; now holds an important position in the Marsh field round house and Machine shop of the rail road company. On Friday night we had one of our extraordinary hard thunder storms for this section but Mr. Morse, our electric light man seems to be the only one worsted so far as we have been able to hear of, except his patrons in an indirect way. It seems his wires became too heavily charged and burned out some safety plugs, necessitating a shut-down till new parts are received from the city, which will be in a day or so. The store of Kent & Bridges was broken open Saturday night or Sunday morning. Entrance was effected by prying open both doors in the rear end of the store. During the night, Mrs. Joe Lyons heard the burglars, and supposed it was some one after Mr. Lyons for medicine, and called him. He got up; but heard nothing and went back to bed. The burglars first tried to force open the window, but came to the conclusion the doors were easier. The first door was bolted, and the bolt was burst off the lock on the second door was until the facing split, and the door strained gave way. An ordinary chisel was used, and evidently a strong man did the prying with it, for the tool was badly bent. Strength was required to do this, and the chisel was too small to permit of more than one man using it at a time. The instrument evidently had been stolen from some shop, since the handle was battered from long usage on the bench, and the chisel was an old one. It is impossible to say how much booty the burglars secured. There were two fine watches with extra, gold filled cases, missing, about four dozen pocket knives probably a couple suits of clothes, other articles; amounting in value to about $100. Only an inventory of the stock could tell exactly how much was taken. It is supposed the burglars jumped the train going south. Sheriff Parrott telephoned, Monday, to Mr. Kent, of the arrest at Roseburg of a couple of young men who had new suits of clothes in their possessions but nothing was found in their valises to show that they were the parties wanted. The tracks in the back yard prove that two men were engaged in the burglary. Twice, when Mr. Kent was in business with his father, they were robbed, and this is the second experience of the kind, to befall the new firm.—Nonpareil.
