A Most Interesting Letter.

By the kind permission of Mrs. Millard, we give a portion of a letter written from Cairo, Egypt, by Rev. K. V. Millard to his children, which will be so pleasing and interesting to other children, we gained permission to print it in the Redwood Christian.

Cairo, Egypt, Jan. 30, 1902.

My Dear Children: I will begin by telling little Paul that I saw more than 500 camels today; they were a caravan coming into the city. Some of them were white and some black, some grey and some brown, and they grunt and make a big fuss when their load is too heavy.

I saw two of the biggest monkeys also. A boy as big as Eddie had one of them dressed in nice clothes, and the monkey was as big as Eddie, and the smartest monkey I ever saw. I saw a dozen beautiful horses run a race at the fair grounds yesterday. These Arab horses are the most beautiful horses in the world; they are of all colors and their skin is soft and sleek as velvet and they are so proud.

I went into the zoological gardens and saw lots of lions, tigers, elephants, hyenas, buffalos and giraffes, and hundreds of all kinds of animals and birds. This wonderful park is on the electric car line in a splendid place on the bank of the Nile half way to the big Pyramid. I saw lots of boys and girls ride on the elephants and camels. I can count fourteen or fifteen large pyramids in sight at once. I walk about a mile and a half along one straight street and come to a very large hill or rock bluff and on top of it is a tremendous big stone fort called the Citadel. Here are lots of large cannons and thousands of British soldiers in fine uniforms. You would think there was a war some where near for the very streets of the city are full of soldiers on horses, and soldiers walking with splendid uniforms and fine guns. This city is a great deal larger than Boston, and more than twice as large as San Francisco. It has no public school and only two protestant churches and no newspaper in the English language, and only one poor paper, printed in the English language in Egypt. England has had all it could do to whip these people and build the big irrigating plants and build the railroads, and steam boats and start factories and has had no time to establish schools, churches and papers. Cairo is the most delightful, the most astonishingly beautiful and rich city I have ever seen. Palaces are here by the hundreds, and princes and nobles and great people of all kinds. The great hotels are just swarming with people from all over the world. Nearly all the houses are made of rock, some of beautiful marble and some of alabaster. You cannot imagine how lovely the park and lawns are. The date palm trees are perfectly lovely to look at besides the fruit. Joseph, when sold into Egypt, used to live right here and married his wife about five miles from where I am writing tonight, and used to walk about where I walk ever day. I walked today to the place where Pharaoh's daughter found the baby Moses in his little boat by the bank of the Nile. There are old stone steps down to the water and and the bulrushes are growing there now, and I have not seen them growing along the bank anywhere else. Moses lived in the king's palace in plain sight of where I am. Jesus (when he was a baby) used to live right near where I am for a year or more. It hardly seems as though I was in this world at all, the stars look bigger and brighter and more of them. The land is very rich. In the broad Nile valley the people keep raising crops the whole year round where they can get water to irrigate with. I can't see much difference in this climate and southern California. The oranges, grapes, figs and flowers, vegetables and berries are all here and of course there are a great many things here that do not grow in California. I have seen many different kinds of trees here and only recognize three varieties, the eucalyptus, the peper tree and the sycamore, all the others are strange to me.

The new part of the city is a perfect Paradise of palaces and lovely homes. The old part has houses 500 years old that are good houses yet. The houses are of rock and have few windows. The streets are very narrow so that I get brushed pretty hard when a camel comes along with a big load of clover hay on his back or a load of sugar cane.

They raise fine cotton all over the valley and very fine sugar cane, splended wheat and almost any thing that can be raised anywhere.

I never saw finer farms or more carefully or thoroughly cultivated in California. Here is a good place to enjoy life and I never felt better in my life. I was talking with a Shiek yesterday. He says the English have been a great blessing to this country. Egypt is becoming the most prosperous country on this side of the Atlantic. The Bible prophecies are all to be fulfilled, and here is the most important spot of earth today. The whole country is far better than I expected it would be I expected to be disappointed in some ways. But I am agreeably surprised in many ways. However, rent is very high and ordinary board is $1 50 per day; all hotells charge from $3 to $5 a day, but food is cheap, fruit, vegetables, eggs, butter, flour, sugar and coffee are no higher than in Eureka, but fuel and lumber are high. Labor is cheap. These workmen know how to build lovely stone houses, the floors, stairs and roofs are all of stone. The people hang thir cloth to dry on the level roofs, and I find them nice places to sit and read.

I am learning the Egyptian language and find it very easy, and will soon be able to teach these people in their own language.

The Copts are the only people who are full blooded Egyptians, they are fine, intelligent looking people. I have made friends of two of them, one a relative and lives with the leading prince of all the Copts. He is called the Patriarch, he is now in Jerusalem.

Alexandria is a great city and a finer seaport than San Francisco, there is much more shipping and larger ships and all the lumber comes from Norway and Sweden. The city is destined to become a mighty one. I got up at 6:30 this morning and saw the sun rise up over the Mokattam bluffs just as Moses and Joseph and Pharaoh used to see it rise, except they did not hear the street electric cars rushing along the rock-paved streets at sunrise or the elegant steamers whistling at the Nile wharves as I do.

K. V. MILLARD.

The more one studies the bill before congress for the leasing of public lands, the more "fine points" he finds in it, placed there to enable the big cattle men to monopolize the public lands and hold them against homeseekers. The act might well be entitled "An act to prevent further settlement by home-seekers on public lands in Oregon, Washington, Idaho etc." If it is passed it will retard the growth of Oregon's farming population in the next ten years to an extent which is certainly not foreseen by the business men of Portland. The provision in the bill that home steaders may take lands which have been leased is chaff. The intending home-steader would be driven off the land as a trespasser before he could make a sufficient examination to select suitable homestead, or if he did succeed in getting one, what could he do, sorrounded by land under the control of some wealthy cattle man or company? Big live stock companies already hold the title to far too great a part of the best lands in the grazing districts and throw every obstacle in the way of the man who is trying to establish a home in the region they operate in Nevertheless the men who are founding homes are gradually working their way in, and the monopolists see that the only thing which will enable them to long continue their profitable control of the public range is a leasing system which will put a stop to further settlement on public lands by homesteads. There re inevitable evils connected with the free use of the public ranges and the time will no doubt come when some fair system of leasing can be adopted. That time has not yet come, and the efforts which have so far been made to secure leasing laws have all been in the interest of a few and against the interest of many.—Rural Northwest.

For the Complexion.

The complexion always suffers from biliousness or constipation. Unless the bowels are kept open the impurities from the body appear in the form of unsightly eruption. De Witt's Little Early Risers keep the liver and bowels in healthy conditions and remove the cause of such troubles. C. E. Hooper, Albany, Ga., "I took De Witt's Little Early Risers for billiousness They were just what I needed. I am feeling better now than in years." Never gripe or distress. Safe thorough and gentle. The very best pills. R. S. Knowlton.

The State Board of Agriculture of California is collecting statistics regarding the resources of each County in the State. The County Supervisors of each County have contributed their quota of the expense incurred for this purpose and the work in the State Board's hands will soon be the most complete ever undertaken by it. The value of this kind of a work can only be tested by the results which will undoubtedly come to it for many years.—Public Land.

Bordeaux Mixture.

While "Bordeaux mixture" has become a standard insecticide with fruit raisers, there are, no doubt, many of the readers of this paper who do not know the constituents of it. This mixture has proven to be a specific for the prevention of mildew and black rot of grapes, and is the best aplication yet discovered for all fungoid and parasitic diseases of plants. It has also proven useful in killing the smut spores of wheat and other grains, and should always be used for steeping the seeds. It is made as follows: One pound of sulphate of copper is dissolved in two and one-half gallons of water; twenty ounces of lime is dissolved in half a gallon of water; after the lime has slacked and got cold mix the two liquids together and stir the mixture gently. It should stand at least three days before it is ready for use. Wheat and other grains and seeds to be treated with it should be sprayed with the solution or dipped in it for a moment and then spread out to dry. The seed should be planted immediately after application. It has also been used with good success on cut seed potatoes as a prevention of rot. Do not steep the seed in the liquid, but merely dip in, as its caustic nature might destroy the vitality of the seed if left in the liquid any longth of time. The principal use of Bordeaux mixture, how ever, is in spraying fruit trees, and many complain that they cannot make a solution that will work well from the original formula as given above. Those having this trouble are recommended to use the following: Take a can of concentrated lye dissolved in water, and three pounds of sulphate of copper, also dissolved. Put the lye solution in ten gallons of water, and then pour togather in a barrel and add the Bordeaux mixture. It is effective, and sprays, better, although a little higher in price than the original mixture.—Pacific Homestid.

Prince at Home

Plymouth, March 17.—The steamer Deutschland, with Prince Henry on board, arrived here today. The voyage from New York was uneventful. All on board are in good health.

The Prince is very much fatigued by his hurried trip through the United States and kept by himself during the early part of the voyage. He spent most of the time in resting and was seen only at meals Admiral Von Sickendroff said the Prince was thoroughly satisfied with his visit to America, and was greatly pleased with the arrangements for his receptions everywhere.

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.
F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:
BALTIMORE, Md., March 30, 1901.
Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.
About five years ago my right ear began to sing, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.
I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.
I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours,
F. A. WERMAN, 730 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.
Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation.

STYLE No. 55. "ARLINGTON."
A strictly high-grade Sewing Machine, finished throughout in the best possible manner. It possesses all modern improvements, and its mechanical construction is such that in it are combined simplicity with great strength, thus insuring ease of running, durability, and making it impossible for the machine to be put out of order. It sews fast and makes a perfect stitch with all kinds of thread and all classes of material. Always ready for use and unrivalled for speed, durability and quality of work. Notice the following points of superiority:
The Head of the "Arlington" swings on patent socket hinges, firmly held down by a thumb screw. Strong, substantial, neat and handsome in design, and beautifully ornamented in gold. Bed plate has rounded corners and is inlaid or countersunk, making it flush with top of table. Highest Arm—Space under the arm is 5½ inches high and 9 inches long. This will admit the largest skirts, and even quilts. It is Self-Threading—Absolutely no holes to put thread through except eye of needle. Shuttle is cylinder, open on end, entirely self-threading, easy to put in or take out; bobbin holds a large amount of thread. Stitch Regulator is on the end of the machine, beneath the bobbin winder, and has a scale showing the number of stitches to the inch, and can be changed from 8 to 32 stitches to the inch. Feed is double and extends on both sides of needle; never fails to take goods through; never stops at seams; movement is positive; no springs to break and get out of order; can be raised and lowered at will. Automatic Bobbin Winder—Fills the bobbin automatically and perfectly smooth without holding the thread. Machine does not run while winding bobbin. Light Running—Machine is easy to run, does not fatigue the operator, makes little noise and sews rapidly. Stitch is a double lock-stitch, the same on both sides, will not ravel, and can be changed without stopping the machine. Tension is a flat spring tension, and will admit thread from 8 to 150 spool cotton without changing. Never gets out of order. The Needle is a straight, self-setting needle, flat on one side, and cannot be put in wrong. Needle Bar is round, made of case-hardened steel, with oil cup at the bottom to prevent oil from getting on the goods. Adjustable Bearings—All bearings are case-hardened steel and easily adjusted with a screw driver. All lost motion can be taken up, and the machine will last a lifetime. Attachments—Each machine is furnished with necessary tools and accessories, and in addition we furnish an extra set of attachments in a velvet lined metal box, free of charge, as follows: One ruffler and gatherer, one binder, one shirring plate, one set of four hemmers, different widths up to ¾ of an inch, one tucker, one under braider, one short or attachment foot, and one thread cutter.
