Petrified Veests Found on Mountain Side.

Dawson, March 11.—On a bleak and barren hillside of Arctic coast, near the headwaters of the Porcupine river, more than 4,000 feet above the sea level and a long way above timber line, where none save the Indian hunter has ever placed foot there lie complete hulls of two large ships, petrified. The find is so remarkable that the discoveries of remains of mastodons, which have been made from time to time, sink into insignificance by comparison.

Mr. Liskche, a printer of Seattle, Wash., who returned from the Koyukuk country last evening, brought the news of the find to Dawson. He says that Dr. Cleveland, who is known from one end of the territory to the other, has gone to investigate the matter, and all who know him say that he would not go on such an expedition if he were not sure of the fact.

The manner of the discovery was this: A party of Chandler Indians was hunting near the headwaters of the Porcupine river, which they had reached by following the Chandelar creek. One day while on the side of a mountain, whose slope in toward the Arctic ocean, one of the party, looking about for game, chanced to spy high on the mountain side above him, a rocky formation of a shape he had never seen before. He was about to continue his search for game, but changed his mind, and he toiled up the side of the mountain toward the strange object. It was not till he got to it that he discovered that there were two objects very much alike, and then it suddenly dawned upon him that there, more than 100 miles from the sea and high above it, were two ships, the larger, probably 400 feet long, turned to stone.

That night when the party was in camp the hunter told his story. It was not believed, but he was so persistent that it was true that next day several hunters went with him to see the wonderful ships, and their surprise and partial fear was as great as his own. They examined the hulls more closely than he had done, and the result of this examination was such that the story cannot be doubted. They went to the interior of the vessel and brought back with them some cups and plates made for table purposes, and of an ancient and ponderous description. Only a few of them could be brought out by the Indians.

It was only the recollection of the manner in which they had been disposed to treat the story told them by their comrade that induced them by their comrade that induced them to bring anything away with them. They knew they would not be believed if they had no evidence other than their words hence the tale.

The Indians also found a petrified forest of tropical growth even higher on the mountain, though in the immediate vicinity of the ships. They describe those trees of stone as having leaves as long as a man's body, and very broad.

Human knowledge is limited. A thing is not necessarily mysterious because we cannot understand it. No man with a popular idea need ever hope to write a popular song; original ideas are too almighty scarce to be popular, no matter how they are dished up to the public.

Is self government right? If so, the referendum and initiative follow.

Direct legislation means simply an actual instead of a mere theoretic sovereignty of the people. We are governed today, not by a democracy, but by an elective aristocracy holding for a term. The people are sovereign only at the moment of election—the men they elect become their masters for one, two, four six years, as the case may be. Self-government is one thing, the choosing of the men who are to govern you is a different thing. A child may choose its guardian; a slave might be given a voice in the selection of his master and yet be absolutely subject to his dominion after the choice were made.

Power will be used in the interests of its possessor. If the power of government is to be used in the interests of the people they must have continuous and effective possession of the government. We call our legislators "agents" and the people their "principal"—queer agents who can give away their principal's property despite his protest, and are not responsible to him during their term of service; queer principal that cannot veto his "agent's" plans, no matter how much he objects to them nor instruct his agents what to do when he sees fit, nor discharge said agents when they refuse to carry out his orders; queer principal who has to obey the commands of his "agents," instead of giving them orders.—Ex.

Wants To Help Others.

"I had stomach trouble all my life," says Edw. Mohor, proprietor of the Union Bottling Works, Erie, Pa., "and tried all kinds of remedies, went to several doctors and spent considerable money trying to get a moment's peace. Finally I read of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and have been taking it to my great satisfaction. I never found its equal for stomach trouble and gladly recommend it in hope that I may help other sufferers." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures all stomach troubles. You don't have to diet. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. R. S. Kuowltou.

Hon. John MacVicar (Republican), Mayor of Des Moines, Iowa: "Representative government at best can only roughly estimate the wants of a community, and too often party platforms and pledges are misconstrued or neglected, representatives influenced either by greed or gain or ambition; but the people cannot be corrupted." In the very nature of things, all classes and interests cannot be represented in our law-making assemblies.

Iowa municipalities appreciate the safeguard which our laws, providing limited direct legislation, have thrown around our city governments. Before a franchise can be granted or its term extended it must be submitted to the people for their approval. The people of the Iowa municipalities may also take the initiative and require that a proposition authorizing the city authorities to establish municipal water works, gas works or electric light works be submitted to the people.

The city of Des Moines has already had occasion to take advantage of the initiative and referendum and believes it to be of immense value.—Ex.

A dispatch from this city to the San Francisco Chronicle under date of March 9th, says: "W. J. Gosselin and W. H. Hammond, brother of A. B. Hammond, owner of the Vance Redwood Company, the Eureka & Klamath River Railroad Company, and other large interests in this county, have about completed all arrangement for the proposed consolidation of all the redwood interests and combining of all the railroad companies centering on Humboldt bay. It is believed that just as soon as the railroad companies consolidate A. B. Hammond and his party will complete the construction of the gap of about 100 miles between Scotia, this county, and Ukiah, Mendocino county, which would give a railroad outlet from this city to San Francisco"—Eureka Standard.

The Rindge Syndicate of Los Angeles, California, recently purchased two tracts of land near Stockton, California, and paid $200,000 for them. The lands are to be used to grow celery and asparagus upon, and the tenants who are to farm the lands will be taken there from Los Angeles. The asparagus is to be canned either by a plant to be erected by the Rindge company or the four canneries near there.—Public Land.

E. G. D. Holden, P. G. M., of Coquille, Oregon, was made an Odd Fellow in Grand Rapids (Michigan) Lodge, No. 11, August 19, 1872, and held continuous membership therein until he withdrew to become a member of an Oregon Lodge. He became a Past Grand of the above Lodge January 1, 1875, and first took his seat in the Grand Lodge of Michigan as a Representative of his Lodge the next month and was continued as such Representative the following year. In 1877 he was appointed Grand Marshal of the Grand Lodge of Michigan; was elected Grand Warden in 1878, Deputy Grand Master in 1879 and Grand Master in 1880 and Grand Representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge for 1881 and 1882. For the last three mentioned offices he was the unanimous choice of the Past Grand of Michigan, there being no nominees in opposition against him. In Michigan Grand Officers are elected in the Lodges and a return of all votes made to the Grand Secretary. In 1875 and 1876 he served his Lodge as D. D. G. M. as also several new Lodges instituted by him in his county and parts adjacent. Prior to coming to Oregon he belonged to but one Lodge, and that the one in which he was initiated. He took a withdrawal card therefrom December 24, 1900, which on the 30th day of October, 1901, he deposited with Hecla Lodge, No. 111, located at Florence, Lane county, and is now a member of that vigorous Lodge. Bro. Holden became a member of Grand Rapids (Michigan) Encampment, No. 43, by initiation in 1874. He soon passed the chairs and was sent as Representative to the Grand Encampment of Michigan and was an officer in that body for the years 1882 and 1883, filling the chairs of Grand Junior Warden, Grand Senior Warden, and Grand High Priest for the above years respectively. He is now a member of Coquille Encampment, No. 25, and Mamie Rebekeh Lodge, No. 20, of the same place and a constant and regular attendant at all stated meetings. Bro. Holden is an Odd Fellow of nearly 30 years' standing. He never sought an office in the Order and never declined one. All the honors bestowed upon him came to him because he was an enthusiastic member, and he still continues to be, never missing a meeting and being always ready to take any place in any work which is before the Lodge or Encampment. As a speaker he ranks high and has spent much time during the years of his membership, giving good reason for the faith that is in him, and doing much to enlighten the world regarding the great humanitarian Order that he loves so well.—Pacific Odd Fellow.

A VALUABLE MEDICINE.
For Coughs and Colds in Children.
"I have not the slightest hesitation in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all who are suffering from coughs or colds," says Chas. M. Cramer, Esq., a well known watch maker, of Colombo, Ceylon. "It has been some two years since the City Dispensary first called my attention to this valuable medicine and I have repeatedly used it and it has always been beneficial. It has cured me quickly of all colds. It is especially effective for children and is seldom taken more than one bottle to cure them of hoarseness. I have persuaded many to try this valuable medicine, and they are all as well pleased as myself over the results." For sale by R. S. K. owl.

The Commoner.
(MR. BRYAN'S PAPER)
The Commoner has attained within six months from date of the first issue a circulation of 100,000 copies, a record probably never equaled in the history of American periodical literature. The unparalleled growth of this paper demonstrates that there is room in the newspaper field for a national paper devoted to the discussion of political, economic, and social problems. To the columns of The Commoner Mr. Bryan contributes his best efforts; and his review of political events as they arise from time to time can not fail to interest those who study public questions. The Commoner's regular subscription price is $1 per year. We have arranged with Mr. Bryan whereby we can furnish his paper and the Herald together for one year for $2. The regular subscription price of the two papers when subscribed for separately is $2.50.

Good For Rheumatism.

Last fall I was taken with a very severe attack of muscular rheumatism which caused me great pain and annoyance. After trying several prescriptions and rheumatism cures, I decided to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I had seen advertised in the South Jerseyman. After two applications of this Remedy I was much better, and after using one bottle, was completely cured.—Sallie Harris, Salem, N. J. For sale by R. S. Kuowltou.

There are always new fields for the stationer to conquer. The latest comes from England where it has been calculated that the average lead pencil will write about 100,000 words.

Would it have been more wicked to let 2,000 census clerks slip through the civil service gate than to close the gate after 700 got through?

ANNOUNCEMENT.
In another column of today's issue appears the advertisement of the wonder book of American publications—of the acme of the compilers' and printers' art, where mechanical excellence, literary perfection and the zenith of accuracy of detail are combined in a volume of over 60 pages that sells at the popular price of 25 cents.

We refer to the 1902 New York World Almanac and Encyclopedia; better known as "The Standard American Annual."

And so it is. It is more to Americans than is "Whittaker's" to the British.

By special arrangement with the publishers of the World Almanac we offer it in connection with one year's subscription to this paper at $1.65.

The New Features enumerated in the advertisement published today are alone worth the price of the book. Besides the features announced there are more than 1,000 facts touched upon.

Read the announcement and send in your subscription.

ARE YOU DEAF? ANY HEAD NOISES?
ALL CASES OF
DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE
by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable.
HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.
F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, MD.
Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.
About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.
I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that, only temporarily, that the best noise would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.
I then saw your advertisement, accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noise ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain
Very truly yours,
F. A. WERMAN, 730 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

A $65.00 Machine For $18.50
Cash with Order and Coupon
The Improved "Arlington" Sewing Machine
NEW HOME STYLE LATEST BEST CHEAPEST shipped to you, on 30 days free trial, in your own home, without asking one cent in advance.
10 years' written warranty with each machine.
A strictly high-grade Sewing Machine. It is a life-long investment in the best possible manner. It possesses all modern improvements and its mechanical construction is such that it will stand up to the most severe use with the greatest simplicity and great strength, thus insuring ease of running, durability, and making it possible for the machine to be used by the most inexperienced operator. It is a simple machine, and makes a perfect stitch with all kinds of material. Always ready for use and unrivaled for speed, durability and quality of work. Notice the following points of superiority:
The head of the "Arlington" swings on patent socket hinges, firmly held down by a thumb screw. Strong, substantial, and handsome in design, and beautifully ornamented in gold. The plate has rounded corners and is inlaid or counter-sunk, making it flush with top of table. Highest grade—each under the arm is 35 inches high and 18 inches long. This will admit the feet of tall and stout people. It is self-threading—absolutely no holes to put thread through except eye of needle. Shuttle is cylinder, open on end, entirely self-threading, easy to put in and take out; bobbin holds a large amount of thread. Safety Regulator on the bed of the machine, beneath the bobbin winder, and a scale showing the number of stitches to the inch, and can be changed from 12 to 22 stitches to the inch. Feed is double and extends on both sides of needle; never fails to take goods through; never stops at seams; movement is positive; no springs to break and get out of order; can be raised and lowered at will. The machine does not fatigue the operator, makes little noise and sews rapidly. Stitch is a double lock stitch, the same on both sides, will not unravel, and can be changed without stopping the machine. Tension is a flat spring tension, and will admit thread from 8 to 100 pound cotton without changing. Never gets out of order on the line goods. Adjustable Bearings—All bearings are case hardened steel and easily adjusted with a screw driver. All lock motion can be taken up, and the machine will last a lifetime. Attachments—Each machine is furnished with necessary tools and accessories, and in addition we furnish an extra set of attachments in a velvet lined metal box, free of charge, as follows: One rubber and gatherer, one binder, one shirting plate, one set of four hemmers, different widths up to 7 1/2 of an inch, one locker, one under buttoner, one stout or attachment foot, and one third cut foot. Work of finest quality. For material, gobble cover and drawers, nickel-plated rings to drawers, one garnish to sheet, and a cover for replacing belt.
