De Windt's Big Trip.

Brownzed and tanned with the results of seven months' travel amid the ice and snow of frozen Siberia, to demonstrate that a railroad is practicable from Paris to New York via Behring Straits, Harry De Windt, representing the Daily Express newspaper, of London, England, arrived at the Portland Hotel yesterday morning, to enjoy a short rest until tonight, when he leaves for San Francisco, from which city he will board a train for Denver, Colo., where he will meet J. J. Frey, of the officials of the new Trans-Alaskan Railway Company, the capital stock of which is estimated to be $50,000,000.

Mr. DeWindt is a typical globe trotter. He is about 40 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall, and weighs about 145 pounds. He was accompanied in his strange and eventful trip by two companions, Visconte de Clainchamp Beileguarde, of Paris, and George Harding, of London, England. Briefly stated, Mr. De Windt's scheme of a railroad from Paris to New York is this: Build a railroad from Irkutsk, Siberia where the Siberian line of rails as presently constructed ends, to the southern part of East Cape, Asia; construct a 46-mile tunnel under the ice of Behring Straits, to meet the connecting railroad to be built at Cape Prince of Wales, Alaska. When that is done, Paris and New York will be linked together by steel rails. The main reason urged for the project is not because the promoters hope to realize large dividends from the influx of tourists eager to travel through frozen Siberia to the jumping-off place at the end of Asia, but they argue that such a railroad is absolutely necessary to take care of the commerce and undiscovered natural riches of the nother portion of Siberia. A railroad branching southward from Cape Prince of Wales, it is pointed out, is necessary to act as a feeder and distributor for the whaling trade and Alaska's growing requirements.

Some Simple Remedies.

When young chickens or turkeys are first taken from the nest grease thoroughly with cream or sweet milk, also the hen, and repeat when necessary; this will rid them of lice. Use freely as there is no danger of killing them unless they chill. Now put a little nux vomica in their food daily and your success will be the raising of nine-tenths of the chickens hatched, unless they have inherited some disease from the parent stock. To rid old fowls of lice put one or two drops of oil of sassafras in the feed of each dozen fowl twice a week. To cure cholera, make pills of coal oil and flour and give three large pills to each sick fowl. To cure scours in young calves give one-quarter to one half teaspoonful of castor oil; don't repeat too often, one hour apart if bad. Broken doses of castor oil are beneficial to hogs also. The above is drawn from actual experiences and I know the remedies to be good. -Mrs. W. R. Stinson, in Practical Farmer.

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED.

At Panama, Columbia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Chas. H. Utter a prominent physican, of Panama, Columbia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady sixteen years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better; inside of three days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

The premium list of the Oregon State Fair is now out and being distributed among the farmers and breeders throughout the state. It carries $10,000 in cash premiums on livestock and agricultural products. Every farmer and breeder in the state is invited to bring something to the State Fair this year and help swell the big exhibit that is already promised. The Southern Pacific Company hauls all exhibits to and from the fair free of charge, which enables everyone to send something to help the good cause along. To those who wish to take their families and spend a week at the fair, they will find one of the finest camp grounds on the coast, absolutey free. Any information regarding the fair will be gladly given by writing the Secretary at Portland Oregon. If you have not received a premium list, write for one at once.

The Little Things That Count.

The other day we met a man who was worrying about the great calamities that afflict mankind. "Now," he said, "if somebody should find a way to prevent cyclones and hailstorms and earthquakes and volcanoes, man would be happy."

That is where you are off wrong.

People worry about the great calamaties that strike the world. The papers are full of accounts of ruin wrought, but as a matter of fact, the little things are the ones that knock, after all.

The chinch bug doesn't seem to amount to much, as an individual. A man who wears a number 10 boot could crush 1000 chinch bugs under the sole of his shoe, but just the same the female chinch bug and her collective family, taken together with the other chinch bugs and their families, do the world more damage than all the cyclones and all the volcanoes put together. In a single year, as estimated by an expert entomogolist, the chinch bug destroyed 60 million dollars' worth of crops in the United States alone. During the last 30 years at a reasonable estimate the chinch bug has destroyed crops of the value of a billion dollars.

The grasshopper doesn't seem to be a bird of wide spread of wing or symmetry of person, but in a single year the hopper destroyed crops in the states of Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Iowa worth 100 million dollars.

The codling moth is an insignificant looking thing, but it destroys 30 million dollars worth of fruit every year in the United States, to say nothing of the business it does in other countries. The cotton caterpillar does damage to the cotton crop of the South amounting on an average to 15 million dollars per year and in one of the recent years the damages amounted to 30 million dollars. The weevil, which is the greatest enemy of the stored and growing grain, damages the grain crop every year from 30 to 40 million dollars worth. A careful entomologist who has gone over the whole situation, says the insects that damage the crops of grain and fruit cost the people of the United States from 300 to 400 million dollars every year, or more than one-tenth of the total agricultural product of the country.

Let the earthquakes quake and the volcanoes boil. Don't worry about 'em; it will do no good. The benefactor of his race is the bug-ologist who will discover a way to circumvent the chinch bug and knock out the weevil. The man who will discover a way to eradicate the codling moth and pursue the curculio to her lair and wipe her and her family from off the face of the earth, will be a greater benefactor than any statesman or orator who veges the atmosphere with the sound of his voice or the figures of his rhetoric.

If some way can be found to do up the insects that go for the crops the saving to the people of this bully country will be sufficient to support all the school, build and maintain all the churches and care for most of the poor in the country.

Cyclones are unpleasant things to monkey with; volcanoes are bad for people who dwell in the immediate vicinity, but the things that really hurt us most in a business way are the little insignificant insects, the bugs and worms that do up the growing crops and chew up the grain in the bin.—Missouri Valley Farmer

To My Friend.

It is with joy I tell you what Kodol did for me. I was troubled with my stomach for several months Upon being advised to use Kodol, I did so and words cannot tell the good it has done me. A neighbor had dyspepsia so that he had tried most everything. I told him to use Kodol. Words of gratitude have come to me from him because I recommended it.—Geo. W. Fry, Viola, Iowa. Health and strength of mind and body depend on the stomach, and normal activity of the digestive organs. Kodol, the great reconstructive tonic, cures all stomach and bowel troubles, indigestion, dyspepsia, Kodol digests any good food you eat. Take a dose after meals. R. S. Knowlton.

Insane Asylum Report.

Salem, Aug. 5.—The State Board of Asylum Commissioners held a session yesterday afternoon, having under consideration the report of Superintendent Calbreath for the month of July which revealed the following statistics.

The average expense of each patient for the month is $9 26 6-10 or 29 86-100 cents per day. The payroll for the month is up $5,509.61 and the value of articles consumed amounts to $6,191.42. The population figures are:

Number patients June 30, male 880, female 380; total 1260.

Number received during July, male 24, female 12; total 36.

Number returned escapes, male 2.

Number under care and treatment male 906, female 392; total 1298.

Discharged, died and eloped, male 29, female 8; total 37.

Number patients remaning July 31, male 877, female 384; total 1261.

Number officers and employes, 159; total number, 1420.

The amount of each principal item of consumption is: Flour, $427 33; meat, $129 29; sugar, $312 96, syrup $222 90, butter, $316 98; fish, $113 20; poultry and eggs, $152 28; drugs, $200; dry goods, $410 53; blankets, $248 75; fuel, $892; oat meal, $36 32.

"The general health of the institution for July has been good with the exception of a case of smallpox which developed in the receiving ward July 27. This patient, together with room mate and nurses, was at once sent to the quarantine building, and the receving ward quarantined. So far there has been no futher developments. This case has progressed favorably and is considered out of danger.

"The work of harvesting and gardening is well up. The hay is cut and stored, and the grain cut and ready to be threshed this week. The field of hay and grain will be large."

A Cure for Cholera Infantum.

"Last May," says Mrs. Curtis Baker, of Bookwalter, Ohio, "an infant child of our neighbor's was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions In two days' time the child had fully recovered, and is now (nearly a year since) a vigerous, healthy girl. I have recommended this Remedy frequently and have never known it to fail in any single instance." For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

The Drug He Wanted.

In a small town in Kansas the other day Mr. Taylor, the proprietor of the drug store, happened to be called away from his store and left his wife in charge. A large Norwegian who spoke English with difficulty entered and said:

"Hi owe de firm 10 cents,"

"Very well," replied Mrs. Taylor, "just pay it to me and it will be all right."

The Norwegian made no attempt to produce the coin, but gazed steadily at Mrs. Taylor and repeated:

"Hi owe de firm 10 cents."

"Yes, I heard you say that before. Now if you are afraid I will give you a receipt for it."

In astonishment the man from Norway looked at her and walked out without a word. Pretty soon he returned with a fellow-countryman, whose command of English was a little better and who interpreted the remark to Mrs. Taylor by explaining: "He wants 10 cents worth of iodoform."—Chicago Chronicle.

There is nothing like being born lucky. Some months ago three men Rathbone, Neeley, and Reeves, were convicted of stealing large amounts from the Cuban postal funds and sentenced to pay heavy fines and long terms of imprisonment. There does not seem to be much doubt that the men were guilty, but President Palma felt so kindly toward the United States for fixing up a nice little government for him to preside over, that he concluded to turn all prisoners who were citizens of the United States, loose. This let out Mr. Rathbone, Mr. Neeley and Mr. Reeves and saves them from 10 years imprisonment each and fines that ran up to about $50,000 each. Mr. Rathbone is making a talk now about demanding a trial to vindicate his innocence—but we hardly think Mr Rathbarn means it. He may be a thief but he is not a blamed fool.—Ex.

A Gentleman Among Beasts.

Representative Lacey, of Iowa, has contributed to the Congressional Record the following essay on the buffalo:

"The buffalo was the noblest of all the wild animals that inhabited this continent when America was discovered.

"The ages in which this wonderful creature was evolved into his peculiar form and size are inconceivable in duration. How admirably he was adapted to life upon the Western plains! When he had fed he traveled with his fellows in long lines, single file, to the favorite watering place. The herd did not spread abroad and trample down and destroy the glass in such a journey, but in long and narrow trails the journey was made, and when the drinking place was reached and thirst was sated the buffalo never defiled the pool in which he drank.

"He was a gentleman among beasts, just as the game hog is a beast among gentlemen."

Mr. Lacey's composition entitles him to take the head of the class.—Washington Post.

Drain Normal.

The manufacturers and distributers of food products are reported to be organizing a pure feed association with the object of securing favorable action by Congress on the pure food bill reported at the past session. The bill was crowded out by matters considered more important last session, but doubtless this association will be succesful if it is energetic.

HOUSEWORK

Too much housework wrecks women's nerves. And the constant care of children, day and night, is often too trying for even a strong woman. A haggard face tells the story of the overworked housewife and mother. Deranged menses, leucorrhœa and falling of the womb result from overwork. Every housewife needs a remedy to regulate her menses and to keep her sensitive female organs in perfect condition.

WINE OF CARDUI

is doing this for thousands of American women to-day. It cured Mrs. Jones and that is why she writes this frank letter:

Glendeane, Ky., Feb. 10, 1901.

I am so glad that your Wine of Cardui is helping me. I am feeling better than I have felt for years. I am doing my own work without any help, and I washed last week and was not one bit tired. That shows that the Wine is doing me good. I am getting fleshier than I ever was before, and sleep good and eat hearty. Before I began taking Wine of Cardui, I used to have to lay down five or six times every day, but now I do not think of lying down through the day. MRS. RICHARD JONES.

ARE YOU DEAF? ANY HEAD NOISES?

ALL CASES OF

DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE

by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable.

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

BALTIMORE, Md., March 30, 1901.

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to sing, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours, F. A. WERMAN, 730 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation.

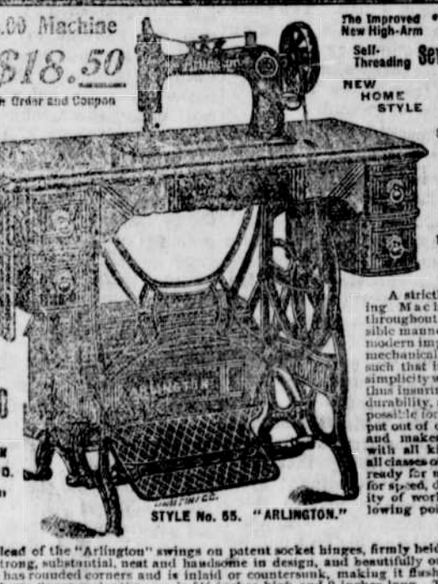
The Improved New High-Arm Self-Threading "Arlington" Sewing Machine

NEW HOME STYLE LATEST BEST CHEAPEST



STYLE No. 65. "ARLINGTON."

Shipped to anyone, anywhere, on 10 days' free trial, in your own home, without asking one cent in advance.

10 years' written warranty with each machine.

$19.50 AND Coupon. If sent C. O. D. or on this

A strictly high-grade Sewing Machine, finished throughout in the best possible manner. It possesses all modern improvements, and its mechanical construction is such that in it are combined simplicity with great strength, thus insuring ease of running, durability, and making it impossible for the machine to be put out of order. It sews fast and makes a perfect stitch with all kinds of thread and all classes of material. Always ready for use and unrivalled for speed, durability and quality of work. Notice the following points of superiority:

The Head of the "Arlington" swings on patent socket hinges, firmly held down by a thumb screw. Strong, substantial, neat and handsome in design, and beautifully ornamented in gold. Bed plate has rounded corners and is inlaid or countersunk, making it flush with top of table. Highest Arm—Space under the arm is 5½ inches high and 9 inches long. This will admit the largest skirts, and even quilts. It is Self-Threading—Absolutely no holes to put thread through except eye of needle. Shuttle is cylinder, open on end, entirely self-threading, easy to put in or take out; bobbin holds a large amount of thread. Stitch Regulator is on the bed of the machine, beneath the bobbin winder, and has a scale showing the number of stitches to the inch, and can be changed from 8 to 32 stitches to the inch. Feed is double and extends on both sides of needle; never fails to take goods through; never stops at seams; movement is positive; no springs to break and get out of order; can be raised and lowered at will. Automatic Bobbin Winder—For filling the bobbin automatically and perfectly smooth without holding the thread. Machine does not run while winding bobbin. Light Running—Machine is easy to run, does not fatigue the operator, makes little noise and sews rapidly. Stitch is a double lock stitch, the same on both sides, will not ravel, and can be changed without stopping the machine. Tension is a flat spring tension, and will admit thread from 8 to 150 spool cotton without changing. Never gets out of order. The Needle is a straight, self-setting needle, flat on one side, and cannot be put in wrong. Needle Bar is round, made of case-hardened steel, with oil cup at the bottom to prevent oil from getting on the goods. Adjustable Bearings—All bearings are case-hardened steel and easily adjusted with a screw driver. All lost motion can be taken up, and the machine will last a lifetime. Attachments—Each machine is furnished with necessary tools and accessories, and in addition we furnish an extra set of attachments in a velvet lined metal box, free of charge, as follows: One ruffler and gatherer, one binder, one shirring plate, one set of four hemmers, different widths up to ⅜ of an inch, one tucker, one under braider, one short or attachment foot, and one thread cutter. Woodwork of finest quality oak or walnut, gothic cover and drawers, nickel-plated rings to drawers, cross guards to wheel, and device for replacing belt.
